

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., October 3, 1890.

SATURDAY NIGHT.

Placing the little hats all in a row, Ready for church on the morrow, you know, Washing wee faces and little black fists, Getting them ready and fit to be kissed; Putting them into clean garments and white, That is what mothers are doing to-night.

Calling the little ones all 'round her chair, Hearing them keep their soft evening prayer; Telling them stories of Jesus of old, Who loves to gather the sheep to his fold. Watching, they listen with child-like delight—That is what mothers are doing to-night.

Creeping so softly to take a last peep, After the little ones all are asleep; Anxious to know if the children are warm, Tucking the blankets round each little form; Kissing each little face, rosy and bright—That is what mothers are doing to-night.

Kneeling down gently beside the white bed, Lowly and meekly she bows down her head, Praying, as only a mother can pray, "God guide and keep them from going astray."

No Dodging.

It was a trick of ancient warfare, when it was intended to divert attention away from the real object of a military movement, to send a detachment of men to the mountain top with instructions to place themselves that, catching the reflection of the sunlight upon the burnished faces of their shields, they might cast it into the eyes of the enemy "marshalled on the plains below."

Thus the enemy, while endeavoring to discover the meaning of the demonstration on the mountain top, would have their attention attracted away and their vigilance relaxed in guarding the pass that led to the gates of the citadel, and the first warning they had of the near approach of the danger which had threatened them was the thunder of the invaders' battering ram upon the inner defenses.

The managers of the Republican campaign of Pennsylvania manifestly adopt this same plan of operation. Ignoring entirely the issues which are really existing between the parties in Pennsylvania, the great issue of honesty in conducting governmental affairs, they are endeavoring to arouse the prejudices of the people and to divert their eyes with a brilliant presentation of the national issue. Their journals are filled with able editorials upon questions which relate to national politics alone, and soon from the rostrum in every part of the State will be heard the eloquent voices of the orators of their party of best repute in the nation discussing the tariff, the condition of political affairs in the south, and the various other matters which are intended to keep alive the prejudices and fire the zeal of the partisan Republican. Their purpose is plain; they are endeavoring to dodge the issue, but it is the mission of the Democratic organization in the State to force this issue. When the charge is made against the Republican candidate for Governor that he is simply the tool of an autocrat; that he is simply the mouth-piece that voices the utterances of a corrupt "boss"; that his political record is that of a monopolist and an aristocrat; that he has nothing in common with the masses of the people of the State—then the answer comes, not in specific denial of these charges, but in an attempt whatever to refute them, but in brilliant efforts to arouse the partisan feelings of the Republicans by eloquent despatches upon the fearful effects that will follow the election of a Democratic Governor, on the tariff and the condition of political affairs in the southern States. When it is charged that the Republican candidate has been guilty of bribery of voters, of perjury, of falsification of records; when he is charged with being guilty of a misdemeanor under the statutes of the State in that he has, as a member of its General Assembly, received at the hands of its treasurer funds belonging to the State to be used and profited by in his own private business, the plea of confession and avoidance is entered and the journals of the party and the campaign orators still continue to talk in flowery language of the dangers of interfering with the policy of the Republican party, of the great wrong that is being done to the Republican voters in the South, etc.

Stand up like men, Republicans, and answer these charges. It will not do for Mr. Delamater simply to say "I am not guilty," the people demand something more than this when the matter of bribery and perjury and falsification of public records is in question. They demand something more than the purile defense that his lawyer told him he might do it, when he is specifically charged with violation of the statute of the Commonwealth by using, as a State Senator, the funds of the Commonwealth in his own private business. When it is charged that he is simply a tool of Quays and the exponent of the policy of the policies of Pennsylvania, it will not do for him merely to privately deny his allegiance to the great Republican boss in quarters where he believes the knowledge of that allegiance is harming him, and still profit by the assistance of that boss and to depend for his election upon the machinery which is controlled in all its movements by that same power.

Do not dodge the issue, gentlemen of the Republican party. Stop talking on the tariff and kindred subjects and tell the people of Pennsylvania the truth about the matters in which they are interested. Deny, if you can, the charge that the controlling purpose of the Legislature which backed Delamater in the late Legislature of Pennsylvania was directed against every measure presented which had for its object the betterment of the condition of the laboring and the farming and the other bread winning elements of the people of Pennsylvania. Instead of attempting to weaken the prejudices of the old soldiers of the State by garbled presentations of Governor Pattison's record on military legislation, answer if you will why it is that you have given "promise to the ear to be broken to the hope" to the veterans of the late war concerning the service pension and other national assistance and have given them only a law upon the

There Was One Present.

"Is there a man in all this audience," demanded the female lecturer on woman's rights, "who has ever done anything to lighten the burdens on his wife's shoulders? What do you know about woman's work? Is there a man here," she continued, folding her arms and looking over her audience with superb scorn, "that has ever got up in the morning, leaving his tired wife to enjoy her slumbers, gone quietly down stairs, cooked his own breakfast, sewed the missing buttons on the children's clothes, earned the family stockings, scoured the pots and kettles, cleaned and filled the lamps, swept the kitchen, and done all this, if necessary, day after day, uncomplainingly? If there is such a man in this audience, let him rise up. I should like to see him."

And away back in the rear of the hall a mild-looking man in spectacles, in obedience to the summons, timidly arose. He was the husband of the eloquent speaker. It was the first chance he had ever to assert himself.—Chicago Herald.

The Disadvantage of a Bald-headed Lover.

Why so many bald-headed men are bachelors is thus explained by a recent writer: "There is a good deal of capillary attraction in love. Girls adore a handsome suit of glossy hair; it is lovely. And when a lover comes to woo him with the top of his head shining like a greased pumpkin he is at a disadvantage. Just as the words that glow and thoughts that burn begin to awaken in her bosom a sympathetic thrill she may happen to notice two or three flies promiscuously over her phenological organs, and all is over. Girls are so frivolous. She immediately becomes more interested in those flies than in all his lovely language. While he is pouring out his love and passion she is wondering how the flies manage to hold on to such a slippery surface."

Burglars Take Safe and All.

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 22.—At a late hour last night a party of burglars broke into the Georgetown station on the Erie and Wyoming Road, Wayne county. They carried off the safe and iron box belonging to Wells-Fargo Express Company by loading them on a hand truck. The safe and box were blown open after a secluded spot in the woods had been selected, and their contents, amounting to $600, were taken. A part of the amount was postage stamps and registered letters, which were deposited in the safe, post, ticket and express office being combined.

Tomato Ponds.—Allow one pound of sugar to two pounds of tomatoes, which must be the small round or egg-shaped tomato, either dark red or yellow. Scald them and remove the skins, being careful not to break them. Put them into a preserving kettle, and sprinkle the sugar (having reserved one-third of it) between the layers. Stew them slowly until transparent, lift them out very carefully, one by one, and spread on large dishes in the sun to dry, sprinkling them with the reserved sugar and turning several times while drying. It may take several days for them to dry; and you will have to be very careful not to leave them out in the dew, or when it is cloudy, as the dampness will injure them. When they are perfectly dry, pack them away in boxes or jars, with a layer of sugar between each layer of tomatoes.—Table Talk.

Banquet Out of $5000.

WHEELING, W. Virginia, Sept. 19.—William Burris, aged 70 years, a wealthy and leading farmer of Jefferson County, O., was banqueted out of $5000 yesterday by two members of the gang of confidence men who have been operating so extensively during a year past in Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, and Western Pennsylvania, during which time they have obtained over $100,000.

Soap Enough for All.

Philadelphia Record. There's a boodle in the air for the floaters. Under the gospel of Republicanism the party chiefs rely no longer on good work; but pin their faith to 'soap.' There are forty-five close Congress districts, and there's a boodle enough for all; or will be if the Patryners sell properly do their duty. We congratulate the floaters in these forty-five districts, and hope that they will have some and "sand" enough to raise their price heavily when the voter buys shall make his rounds. The Grand Old Party is desperate, and will pay, no matter what the cost. Now, as in 1888, the refrain is ringing through the land: Soap, soap. Their only hope is soap.

A BURNING SORE LEG. ULCERS FORM. HOSPITALS AND DOC. TORS USELESS. CRAZED WITH PAIN. CURED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES.

About eight years ago I wrote you from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., describing how your wonderful remedies completely cured me of a terrible case of eczema or scald rheum. I must now tell you what CUTICURA Remedies have again done for me. On the 22d of last September, I had the misfortune to bruise my leg, and I put a piece of sticking plaster on it. Inside of a day I got a terrible leg. My wife became frightened and advised me to go to a surgeon. I went, and doctored for two months, but no good was done. I had a terrible leg. My leg had by this time formed into a hard, and got worse every day. I could not stand it any longer, and made up my mind to go to a hospital and see if I could be helped. I went to several here in the city, in turn, but none could do me any good. I had a terrible leg, with a hole in it as big as a dollar, the pain and determined to try CUTICURA Remedies. I obtained a set, and inside of five weeks my leg was healed up as well as I ever was, except the terrible scar it left for a reminder of what was once a terrible sore leg. These Remedies are worth their weight in gold. JOHN THEIL, 117 E. 8th Street, New York.
