Both men were wealthy. Both men were cousins, and while unknown to them the busy hand of fate was now at work. It only seemed to the curiosity seekers that in deciding that life would be misspent unless they saw the land wpon which this cabbage grew, they were only obeying the idle whim of idle gentlemen in going to San Bernardino to do so. And so they went.

Englishmen as a rule are not garrulous, and these two friends were no exception. Once in San Bernardino they were directed to the farm where the cabbage grew. They remained two weeks. At the end of that time one of them said to

"I want so much of your land in a mertain section. How much is it worth ?" "Four hundred thousand dollars"

It was paid for. The other friend said to the rancher:

"Your daughter is very beautiful, and I love her. I want to make her my

Wives Who Are Breadwinners

Women who have husbands to support them often take it as a matter of course, and perchance even complain that they are not supported in ease and affluence. It might be well tor such to look at another side of the matter sometimes. It has been estimated by an employe of the United States bu-geau of 1 bor that there are 27,000 married men in the city of New York who are supported by their wives, less than 7,000 of whom are in menial serwice. The modistes are in the majority. This includes dressmakers and millimers, many of whom own property, some being very wealthy, and all well to do. The boarding house keepers rank next in number; the professional women, who embrace doctors, lawyers, dentists, aurists, writers, teachers, musicians, lecturers, designers, painters and embroiderers, come third. Then there are the shopkeepers, who, it is said, make the best providers .- Rural New Yorker.

AN ARKANSAS INVENTION .- Opposite Memphis, on the Arkansas shore, and about ten miles inland, I asked the owner of a cabin for a drink of water, says a tourist, and went to the well with him to get it. He didn't have to go down over ofteen feet in the hole. It was reither stoned up nor was there a curb around it, and as there were several children around and the well was near the door, I said : "I should think you would have a curb around this well. "What fur ?" he asked." "Don't the children run a risk of fall-ang in ?" "I reckon," "And wouldn't a curb lessen the chances ?" "It mought, but 'twould take a heap of lumber and time. I've got a cheaper way. Look at that."

He pointed to a pole stuck on end in the well, and while I was trying to make out what it was for he said : "That's fur 'em to climb out on when they tumble in, and it beats a curb all

Rothschild's Wish .- A story is related of one of the Rothschilds which may never have been said by him, but which neverthless is true, as every successful business man will testify. "I hope," said a friend to Rothschild, "that your children are not too fond of money and business. I am sure you would not wish that" "I am sure I should wish that," replied Rothschild. wish them to give mind, soul, heart, and body to business-that is the way to he happy. It requires a great deal of boldness and a great deal of caution to make a great fortune, and when you have got it, it requires ten times as wit to keep it."-Scientific American.

A VALUABLE CURLY WALNUT-A seurly walnut tree valued at $5,000 is said to have been recently cut on the side of Big Black mountain, about ten miles from Big Stone Gap, Ky. Even the roots were taken out. It was between five and six feet in diameter at the base, and five eleven-foot logs were cut, the diameter of the fifth being four feet. A New York man bought the tree for $40, and paid $300 to have the trunk moved six miles to a railroad, it is said, -Prairie Farmer.

Teaching Manners.

There is another branch of culture which for many years has been greatly neglected, but which we are glad to see is beginning to receive the attention it deserves in most of our first class schools for girls. We refer to the cultivation of the graceful movements of the body, the walk, the carriage, the uprising, the down sitting, entering a room, the introduction-all of the easy, quiet man-

For many years that part of a young person's education once deemed so important by our grandmothers, or rather greatgrandmothers, has been utterly wedding.

Eighteen months ago, according to society had become weary of the extent the unquestionable statement of Granwille W. Alexander, a grain merchant in days had been carried, the bowing and this city, there stood in front of the door courtesying and lofty politenes. But a fone of San Francisco's real estate dealness and of chivalric masculine politeness was lost when the period of "no said to be the largest ever rai-ed. While frills," set with the hail fellow well met manners of the young people of our on exhibition the Oregon express time, which, although perhaps honest, are not always considerate and well

> A MINISTER'S MISTAKE -A city minister was recently handed a notice to be read from his pulpit. Accompanying it was a clipping from a newspaper bearing upon the matter. The clergyman started to read the extract and found that it began: "Take Kemp's Balsam, the best Cough cure." This was hardly what he had expected and, after a moment's hesitation, he turned it over, and found on the other side the matter intended for the reading.

-The gypsies are the most mysterious race on this earth. No one knows exactly where they came from and no one knows what is to become of them. It is absolutely impossible to tell whether they are dying out or increasing in numbers. Some persons, learned on the subject, say that there are no organized band of gypsies in the United States; and others equally learned, say that the disappearance of great numbers of them from the United Kingdom can only be accounted for by their immigration to this country.

To the milk diet so often recommended for invalids, should be added Mellin's Food. By its aid, the difficulgesting milk alone is entirely overcome

-Nearly every building intended for the trical performances is called an opera house. If it is over a rich man's store in a swell little town the snow hall will be called the grand opera house, though its patrons may never see grand opera nor any other kind of opera.

-The most obstinate cases of catarrh are cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm, the only agreeable remedy. It is not a liquid or snuff, is easily ar plied into the nostrils. For cold in the head it is Magical. It gives relief at once. Price 50c.

HARPERS MAGAZINE.

Illustrated.

The important series of papers on South America, by Theodore Child, will be continued in Harpers Magazine during the greater part of the year 1891. The articles on Southern California, by Chaeles Dudley Warner, will also be continued. Among noteworthy attractions will be a novel by Charles Egbert Craddock; a collection of original drawings by W. M. Thackeray, now publi hed for the first time; a novel written and illustrated by George du Maurier; a novelette by William Dean Howells; and a series of papers on London by Walter Resant.

In the number and variety of illustrated papers and other articles on subjects of timely interest, as well as in the unrivalled character of its short stories, poems, etc., Harper's Magazine will continue to maintain that standard of excellence for which it has been so long distinguished.
