

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., December 12, 1890

To Correspondents.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As I contemplate a change in my business, by the 1st of March, I now offer my entire stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods regardless of cost. This is no humbug, but a straight offer.

SIMON LOEB,

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

—We are glad to learn that Dr. Farland is recovering from a very serious attack of pneumonia.

—The fall session of the Pennsylvania State College will close on Thursday, Dec. 18th, for a three week's vacation.

—It is said that Snow Shoe is to have electric light in the near future through the enterprise of John G. Uzze.

—The Tyrone Times is now being published semi-weekly. Its first appearance was made on Saturday last. We hope the new venture may prove successful.

—Mr. John Alexander, of Unionville, will sell a lot of household goods, platform scales, rifle, wagon and other articles at public sale, on Tuesday December 19th, at 1 o'clock.

—Mrs. Thomas Kelley, who is supposed to have been insane, committed suicide by hanging at Kane on Friday night. She was the mother of six children and her husband is a railroad employe.

—Bellefonters will be interested in knowing that Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Hoffer, formerly of our town, but now of Philipsburg, are the happy parents of a young daughter. It arrived one day last week.

—Mr. Harry Cooke, one of Bellefonte's finest looking and most affable young gentlemen, who is now engaged in extensive coal operations at Woodland, Clearfield county, is at home for a few days.

—This is the last time we shall be able to tell, the people of Pine Grove Mills and vicinity what they will miss if they let the opportunity of attending the Musical Convention, which will be held in their town next week.

—What human beasts and fiends there are in this world. On Monday one Thomas Clark, of South Williamsport, was arrested for an outrageous assault on his own little daughter and brutally attacking and beating his wife.

—A serious freight wreck occurred in the Renovo yards on Saturday morning last. The failure of a switchman to tend to his business caused one train to crash into the front of another wrecking about eleven cars and injuring three men.

—At Williamsport one day within the last week in the blacksmith shop of M. McMillan, that tradesman, with a boy to help him, shod ninety-six horses. This reads like pretty big work, but we find it so recorded in the morning journal of that city.

—Bob Daily, of Renovo, built a fire in his cook-stove on Sunday morning by saturating the wood with an extra quantity of coal oil, and the way his hair stood on end when he saw the stove-lids on their way to the ceiling, was wonderful to behold.

—Mr. Chas. F. Berwind, president of Berwind, White & Co., who operate some of the largest coal mines in our county, died at his home in Philadelphia, on Friday morning, Dec. 5th. Mr. Berwind was only 44 years old and was actively interested in many of the largest enterprises in the Keystone State.

—We have received and will publish next week the very able and eloquent address delivered by Rev. Dr. R. A. McKinley, of Clearfield, on the occasion of the unveiling of the Clara Price monument at Karthaus on the 29th. It would have appeared this week but for the fact that it reached us too late to get into type.

—In the Beech Creek R. R. station at Lock Haven there is a notice addressed to young ladies only. It notifies them that "all loafing about the station strictly prohibited." The girls of that town are in the habit of congregating about the station to have a giddy time catching "drummers," but the agent is going to stop it. Would not an enforced notice of the same nature be a blessing to the traveling public at our station also?

—While we deplore the turn that the business condition of our town has taken, we do not advise the rash steps which our little contemporary, the Daily News, sets forth in its issue of Monday. Instead of telling live energetic people to leave Bellefonte, if they wish to succeed, it should encourage them to battle against the evils which it cites as striking the death-blow of Bellefonte's prosperity.

A FATAL BLOW.—On last Friday afternoon a party of four persons from Philipsburg, including William Kane, and Kate Long, colored, and Mrs. Syson (known as Maggie McCann) and Myrtle Hunter went over to Houtzdale and entered the restaurant of the Arlington Hotel at that place. Kate Long gave orders for oysters for four. The order was taken by Wm. Gray, the colored porter of the house, who had charge of the bar at the time, the bar tender having gone to his supper. There was delay about serving the oysters, whereupon Kane began to make a racket. He was then told by Gray that he could have nothing in the hotel and that he had better take his party and get out. Kane swore that there was not a nigger in Houtzdale who could put him out and that he wasn't going out either. At this juncture Gray went behind the bar and picked up a club, supposed to be a handle from a shovel, with which he struck Kane a blow over the left ear. Kane was assisted out of the place by Kate Long and upon reaching the pavement he fell. Upon hearing of his laying there in the snow, Mrs. Anaby the proprietor's wife, ordered the man carried into the sample room of the hotel. She thought that he was in a drunken stupor, but instead it was his death sleep, for he never awoke.

Whether it was murder or a blow rendered in a quarrel is a question which will only be decided by the court. The murdered man was employed by liveryman Paul, at Philipsburg, as an hostler, and bore a rather "shady" reputation about the town. His home was in Hagerstown, Md. Wm. Gray, his assailant, is a tall, slight colored man about 25 years of age. He hails from Greensburg, this state, and is said by those who know him to be an inoffensive, quiet fellow, and it is generally supposed that the provocation must have been very great or he would never have committed the crime, though the evidence at the inquest was exactly the contrary.

THE COLUMBIA CYCLE CALENDAR.—A very valuable business calendar for 1891, and entirely unique in design, is the Columbia Cycle Calendar and Stand, issued by the Pope Mfg. Co., of Boston, Mass. The Calendar is in the form of a pad containing 866 leaves, each 5 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches, each leaf containing blank for memoranda, and as the leaves are only fastened at the upper end, any leaf can be exposed, no stub being left when the leaves are torn off. The pad rests upon a stand, containing pen rack and pencil holder, and made of stained wood, mounted with raised letters in brass, thus forming an ornamental paper weight. The day of the week and the day of the year, together with the number of the days to come, are given, and each slip bears a short paragraph pertaining to cycling and kindred subjects. These paragraphs have been carefully collated from leading publications and prominent writers, the larger number having been specially written for this purpose. Although this is the sixth issue of the Calendar, all the matter is fresh and new, comprising notable events in cycling, opinions of physicians and clergymen, hints about road making, and numerous other topics.

A GIRL ROBBED OF HER HAIR WHILE ASLEEP.—The Newport Ledger is responsible for the following: A most dastardly deed was perpetrated on Miss Annie Miller, a 16-year old daughter of Davidson Miller, who lives about two miles above Newport on the south side of the Juniata, in Juniata county, on Sunday night. The family had retired to bed as usual, leaving the door unlocked to allow a son, who is watchman on the railroad track, to have free ingress and egress. Miss Annie was possessed of a luxuriant head of light colored hair, which when flowing reached below her knees. Monday morning when her father called her to get up, she discovered that some fiend had been to her bed during her sleep, cut her tresses off and carried them away. Who did the deed has not yet been discovered.

STAND RIGHT BY HIM.—There is an architect in Bellefonte by the name of Robert Cole and the Bellefonters appear to stand right by him. Among the buildings latterly planned by him are Col. Wilkinson's new house, Dr. Seibert's, the new United Brethren church, the remodeling of Colonel Spangler's, the remodeling of others, and all superior specimens of architecture. This patronizing of their own townsman is a commendable feature in the Bellefonte property owners who have buildings to erect.—Lock Haven Democrat.

A SINGULAR FATALITY.—For the past few years a singular fatality has attended the leading members of the Berwin White Coal Company. First, Allison White, then Harry Frank, followed by H. G. Fisher, and now Charles F. Berwind, all within the space of two or three years—members of the most prominent and leading coal company of this section—and the majority of them young men in the prime of life.—Altoona Tribune.

—The authorities of Lock Haven have forbidden coasting in that town.

—Read the Cash Bazaar's advertisement of holiday goods.

—"Cabinets" at Moore's gallery for $1. This does not mean inferior work. It means the very best.

—Hattie Ader, tried at Williamsport last week for the murder of her infant child, was acquitted.

—The death of Hon. S. S. Blair, of Holidaysburg, leaves a vacancy which will be hard to fill in the Blair county bar.

—The poles for the Brush lights which are to illuminate the streets of Bellefonte at night are being put in place.

—The Huntingdon car shops are in trouble again. Attachments requiring $20,000 surety have been served against them by two Philadelphia parties.

—George Lamb and Sol Roach of Philipsburg last week shot a 350 pound bear on Six Miles Run, and his hide a splendid one, is now exhibited as a trophy.

—A Hopewell, Bedford Co., parent compelled his son to leave home while weakened by sickness. The same father was sent for to remove the son's body from the house where he died two days later, and yet this is supposed to be a christian country.

—It is learned that quite an extensive wagon manufactory is to be started at Driftwood, and that the work of erecting the buildings will be commenced at once. The names of those at the head of the movement have not been ascertained.

—The great musical event in Pennsylvania this season will be the entertainment to be given at Milheim to-morrow, Saturday evening, at which the Cantata of Esther will be given. It will be well worth hearing and promises to draw a very large crowd.

—Aiden Benedict's rendition of Marie Corelli's novel, the "Vendetta," in the Opera House, on Wednesday night, was witnessed by a small, though highly pleased, audience. The acting in the last two acts was strong and specially praise-worthy.

—Dr. J. F. Hedley delighted a fair sized audience, in the Court House on Monday night. His lecture on "the Sunny Side of Life" was very much enjoyed by all who were present. The Dr. seems to possess the happy faculty of keeping his audience in an roar all the time.

—If you are asked to buy a ticket to the Logan Hose Co's masquerade ball, which will be held in Bush's Arcade on New Year's Eve, Dec. 31st, do it. The dance will be given for the benefit of the new Steam Fire Engine and it should receive the hearty support of our citizens.

—Col. Wm. McFarlane, the hardware dealer of this place, has been taken by his brother's horse near Boalsburg. The Col. we are sorry to say, is broken down with heart trouble and other complications. His friends consider his condition dangerous, but we hope it will not prove as bad as reports make it.

—Ex-Governor Curtin, when visiting New York last week, was taken with chills and was indisposed for several days. He is now at the Stratford Hotel, in this city, and although yet somewhat enfeebled by his late illness, is free from all suffering and will be about again when pleasant weather shall return.—Philadelphia Times.

—Samuel Weaver, of the German Settlement, a young man about 18 or 19 years old, met with a bad accident while out hunting rabbits. He was leaning on his shotgun, or rather had the gun leaning against his breast, muzzle upward, of course, when it went off, discharging a part of the load into his body and a number of the shot into his face and forehead.—Lock Haven Democrat.

—Bellefonte Lodge No 236 A. O. U. W. has elected the following officers: P. M. W.—George Buchanan; M. W.—George Taylor; Foreman—Thomas B. Johnston; Overseer—M. A. Kirk; Recorder—W. E. DeSylvia; Financier—James Whittaker; Receiver—C. M. Garman; Guide—J. H. Hoffman; J. W. Charles Schroyer; O. W.—R. S. Brouse; Rep. to G. L.—W. T. Fitzerald; Medical Ex.—Dr. M. A. Kirk; Trustees—George Kase and Charles Schroyer.

—The Coal Trade Journal of last week says the Beech Creek railroad is to pass to the direct management of the New York Central railroad company, the road extended to the Chest coal field in 1891, and a direct connection with the Vanderbilt system to the west will be made, and the Beech Creek will be generally understood that the Beech Creek road will this year build a branch road from Kermoor, via Bell's landing, along the river to Mahaffy, thence up Chest Creek to Carrolltown in Cambria county.

—We call the attention of our readers to the new advertisement of the Rochester Clothing House, which is to be found on the fifth page of this paper.

—Mr. Fauble tells the buying public in concise phrases the exact conditions under which they can buy at his store, and you can rest assured that they are the best and that he lives up to them. Mr. A. Fauble has just returned from Phila. and Baltimore, where he has purchased a new line of winter over-coats. This is their third trip to the eastern markets, this fall, and by going often they are able to keep their store full of the latest style goods. Nothing gets old at the Rochester for the simple reason that it is closed out before it gets the chance, and stylish new goods takes its place. If you want bargains in all kinds of clothing, the Rochester Clothing House is the place to get them.

AN ADVANTAGE OF BEING INSURED.—A short time ago Mr. Wm. F. Tipton, of Howard, this county, died. He held an insurance policy on his life for one thousand dollars. On Thursday Mr. W. H. Musser, the agent of the Union Central Life Insurance Co. of Cincinnati, was in this office and showed us a check, payable to Rebecca J. Tipton, Mr. Tipton's mother, for $1000. By having been insured in a reliable and prompt paying company, Mr. Tipton left his mother a nice little legacy.

—The young men of our county are not doing their duty. So far this week but two marriage licenses have been granted, viz: Thos. Barnes, Jr., and Miss Martha Alice Ramsdale Parker, both of Philipsburg, and David P. Solt, of Lemont and L. May Houser of Houseville. We suppose our young railroad friend, the conductor on the B. B. & C. R. R., will be swelling the list before long. Well, the sooner the better. Single blessedness ain't the best thing in the world after all.

—On next Thursday evening, Dec. 18th, Moore and Vivien's Comedy Co. will play "Old Jonathan Coburg" in the Opera House. This is considered to be one of the best comedy companies on the road and has been giving entire satisfaction wherever it has appeared. This company at one time delighted a Bellefonte audience with the laughable comedy "Our Jonathan." A brass band and orchestra are attractive features.

—Two would-be cow-boys, at Philipsburg, frightened the good people of that place almost out of their senses on Monday night last. The untamed braves were Sam Gillam and Nicky Gorman, who drove through the streets shouting and firing revolvers until the police hauled them in. A night in the lock-up was substituted for a tent on the plains, and $7.50 each was all it cost them.

AN ACTRESS AS A THUMPER.—May Davenport, the leading character in a somewhat "dizzy" show that played in Lock Haven one night recently, was arrested and fined in Renovo, on Monday, for assault and battery upon Miss Daisy Sapp. Daisy, it appears, had made some condemnatory remark about the vulgarity of the show's bills, whereupon the Davenport proceeded to do her up.

—Mr. Emanuel Garbrick, a very pleasant gentleman, from Walker, was in town on Thursday transacting business. Mr. Garbrick strained his back lately, but his misfortune was our good luck, in this case, for not being able to do anything at home he concluded to come up to town and call on his many friends.

—The employees of Hoover, Hughes & Co's planing mill, at Philipsburg, presented their retiring Superintendent, Mr. C. E. Kemp, with a handsome gold watch and a massive gold Knight Templar's ring. They were marks of appreciation for ten years' conscientious work as a just director of men.

—Mr. Zachariah C. Miles, one of Milesburg's oldest citizens, and at one time post master of that town, died at his home on last Friday night. His death was from general debilitation and old age. The funeral was held on Monday.

—The young men of Bellefonte propose holding an Assembly, in Bush's Arcade Hall, on the night of Dec. 26th. Many guests from a distance are expected, and the boys are trying to make it the swellest thing of the kind that has ever been given here.

—We noticed Mr. Benjamin Beaver and wife, of State College, in town on Thursday. They went home laden down with bundles. We suppose they were Christmas presents, but not for Ben's children, for he don't possess any of those luxuries.

—If you are in a quandary as to what to give your father or mother as a Christmas present, come in and subscribe for the WATCHMAN a year for them. It would make the nicest and most profitable present you could give them.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Ayres, of Philipsburg, died, of paralysis, at her home on Monday night, Dec. 8th. She was in her 84th year and was the wife of Daniel Ayres, dec'd., who at one time lived in Bellefonte.

—The glass at the Bellefonte Glass Works is improving and now a much better quality is being turned out.

—From the number of poles that are being planted in the streets of this place one might infer that the town is about to be fenced in.

—Mr. Samuel Phoust, of Poe valley, had his leg badly broken and his body crushed by a log rolling on him while he was working in the woods.

—The Philipsburg papers, of Wednesday, announce the death of Thomas Benton Holt, eldest brother of D. W. Holt, of that place, which occurred near Stewartville, Mo., on Sunday night last.

—A novelty in shaving is the Delicent preparation used by Mr. L. C. Green, the barber. It is gotten up by Colgate, the Perfumers, and is an extremely pleasant application for the face. It facilitates and eases the shaving. Try it.

—Manager A. S. Garman went to Altoona on Monday to book the Bennett and Moulton Opera Co., for his house. This Company is playing to crowded houses, every place, and is receiving highly commendatory press notices.

—The next Star Course entertainment will be the Ariel Concert Co., consisting of a quartette of young ladies and Mr. John Thomas, humorist. They will sing in the Court House on Wednesday night, Dec. 16th.

—It is said that foxes are more plentiful in the vicinity of Holidaysburg than they have been for years. One lucky Nimrod discovered an old fox and seven young ones in the nest, and he got $8 for his find.

—Mine host Brandon, of the Brockerhoff House, had the misfortune to upset with his horse and sleigh at the trestle of the N. V. R. R., over on the Lewistown pike, on Tuesday last. Other than a broken shaft and a good shaking up no serious injury was done.

—We clip the following from the Lock Haven Daily Democrat of Monday evening: Miss Mary McCumpey, of Bellefonte, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Klapp. Miss McCumpey delighted the congregation at Trinity M. E. church yesterday by her singing.

—Wm. Garis, policeman of this place, now 44 years old, celebrated the 25th anniversary of his marriage on Friday. He is the father of twelve children. Chief Garis was a soldier in the war of the rebellion and entered the army when only 16 years old, serving two years and a half.

—The late falls of snow have made sleighing quite good, but it requires more than snow to give you solid comfort while you are out. It takes a good comfortable sleigh to make your enjoyment complete, and the place to get such sleighs is at McQuiston & Co's. They have a line of beauties, including the celebrated "old comfort" sleighs. Call and see them.

—Will Cassidy, the foreman of the Gazette office, went out gunning on Tuesday and came back with several pheasants. He was so much excited over his good luck that when he got on the train to come home he sat down on a passenger's silk hat. When a printer's in luck he never knows which end of him is up.

—The finest and largest line of Foreign and Domestic woolsens for suits and overcoats ever shown by us. Full assortment of Ready Made clothing Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods. MONTGOMERY & Co. Tailors.

—Central Pennsylvania soft coal miners in the countries of Centre, Clearfield, Cambria, Blair, Bedford, Huntingdon and Jefferson, are in session at Altoona to-day to consider the proposition to establish a fund to pay the wages of checkweighmen of the mines and to vote on the advisability of demanding a general advance in the price of mining on January 1. The convention will be one of the most important ever held, as a strike, if ordered, would affect 20,000 men. It is not probable, however, that a strike will be ordered.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The following of the Scotia Mines School, District No. 5 Patton township, Centre county Pa. for the month ending Nov. 25th, 1890. Number pupils on roll, male 36, female 36, total 72; average daily attendance male 26, female 29, total 55; per cent of attendance, male 80, female 84, average 82; Those not missing a day were Huey Malone, James Malone, Arthur Dick, William Daywalt, Amos Reeder, James Reeder, George Saxton, Harry Miller, Nellie Gummo, Minnie Daywalt, Roxie Dick, Laura Dick, Nora Love, Laura Powley, Lyda Johnston, Augie Malone, Minnie Miller, Clara Fitzsimmon. Those missing one day were Frank Williams, William Murlif, Abram Hicks, George McBride, Sam'l Scot, Charley Scot, Annie Daugherty, Bertie Daywalt, Rosie Sigel, Alice Reeder, Nannie Powley, Annie Rudy, and Lyza Farley. J. W. BLAIR, Teacher.

A SAD DEATH.—Friends in this county will be grieved to hear of the death of Mrs. Edward Krumrine, which occurred at her home, in Milton, on Saturday morning last. Her case is a particularly sad one from the fact that while laboring under a weakened mind, caused by prolonged sickness, she hung herself to the transom of her bed-room. Mrs. Krumrine was Miss Kerlin, a daughter of Mr. W. A. Kerlin, of Rudd, Iowa, who at one time operated Reynolds' Mill in this place, and was a woman admired by all who knew her for her loving traits and womanly goodness. Her husband was formerly a resident of Spring Mills and he, with one daughter, mourn the loss of a faithful wife and a fond mother.

FATAL CHILD'S PLAY.—Two little children were left in the house by themselves at Hantersville, near Hughesville some days ago, during the temporary absence of their mother, and as the consequence one of them was burned to death. The elder of the two undertook to amuse the younger by putting a stick in the fire, it ignited, and then poking the latter with it. This funny business set the little one's clothes on fire, and when the mother returned she found her baby a blackened corpse, all the clothes having been burned from the body. This was a Sunday occurrence and the name of the family was Rinsarson.

THE CLEARLY CASE.—In regard to the long suspended Clearly murder case, the Lock Haven Democrat says: Petitions are out asking the Court to accept the plea of "guilty of murder in the second degree" from Charles Clearly, and thus save the cost of a new trial, which is set down for the coming January term. This seems like a curious and is certainly a very unusual proceeding, and we do not know whether the Court would have any right to or would even contemplate the acceptance of such a proposition. Of this the Court itself must be its own adviser and we have no doubt that it will do what is right in the premises.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.—We have made arrangements with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) to Dr. B. J. KENDALL CO., ENOSBURGH FALLS, VT. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity to obtaining a valuable book. It is necessary to mention this paper in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open for only a short time. 35 49 ct
