

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., December 26, 1890.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As I contemplate a change in my business, by the 1st of March, I now offer my entire stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods regardless of cost. This is no humbug, but a straight offer.

SIMON LOEB,

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

—As it is our custom to omit an issue of the WATCHMAN on the holidays there will be no papers sent from this office next week. The printers must have a chance to enjoy the festivities of the season. They extend their compliments to the readers of the WATCHMAN and hope that all may have a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

—Remember the "Two Thieves" in the Opera House on Tuesday evening, Jan. 6th.

—Forty incandescent lights have been put into the Lock Haven Democrat office and composing rooms.

—Mr. William Dukeman, of Bellefonte, is being spoken of as the Deputy of Recorder Morrison.

—The Trinity Reformed church, of Altoona, was dedicated with imposing ceremonies on Sunday.

—The "Two Thieves" will not steal you but they will please you if you go to see them at the Opera House on Jan. 6th.

—In some parts of this county, particularly on the mountains, the snow which fell last week was three feet deep.

—The temperance organization of this town have their weekly meetings in rooms neatly furnished in the Crider Exchange building.

—A free fight, between a party of Slaves and Hungarians, at Portage, near Johnstown, resulted in several fatalities. They were all miners.

—The roof of the large skating rink in Clearfield caved in under the weight of snow which fell on it on Wednesday evening of last week.

—Mr. Wm. Singer, a highly respected citizen of Eagleville, and an uncle of Wm. Singer, esq., of this place, died on Saturday last and was buried on Monday.

—The performance by Peck and Turman's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co., on Tuesday night, was very good, but the thing is getting beyond the appreciable state.

—Much good ice will be harvested this year before Christmas. Already last week butcher Frank Stover, of this place, stored in his house with ice six inches thick.

—On Tuesday evening, Jan. 6th, the "Two Thieves" will be played in the Opera House here. It is a strictly first class show and no one will be disappointed if they go.

—Col. J. S. Spangler and wife now occupy their handsome new home on Allegheny street. They have not invited us around to see it, but "the people" say it is a marvel of beauty.

—The first public effort of the Milesburg Dramatic Club was its rendition of "The Border Land," on Saturday night last. Those who saw the play say that it was a very good amateur performance.

—Capt. William D. Harper, a native of Centre county, died at Renovo last week, in the 68th year of his age. His disease was a complicated affection of the bowels and lungs. A wife and eight children survive him.

—Judge Furst has appointed P. B. Zentmyer, of Clearfield county, receiver for the Clearfield Creek Coal Company, of which Hon. William A. Wallace is principal owner and director and Judge Krebs, of Clearfield, is President.

—On Friday night, the 26th, the youths of Bellefonte will dance in Bush's Arcade to the strains of Frank Dieillo's orchestra, and the Terpsichorean muse will clap her hands with delight at the sight of so many pretty young people.

—Father McArdle's health has been impaired by his arduous duties and it is intended to relieve him by the co-operation of an assistant. He has for years been the faithful pastor of the Catholic church of this place and gives the school connected with it much of his attention.

—Nathan A. Swope, an industrious citizen of Coalport, was killed in the mines at that place some days ago. He was at work in Ironva mine No. 1, when caught by a fall of perhaps a ton of rock, which fell on him and crushed his body across the hips and broke his back. He was extricated from his awful position as speedily as his fellow workmen could remove the massive stone that had him pinned firmly to the ground. He was removed to his home but died before reaching there. His age was about 38 and he leaves a family.

BELLEFONTE'S NEW STEAMER A SUCCESS.

—The new Steam Fire Engine, which the citizens of this town purchased for the Logan Hose Co., No. 1, arrived on Friday last and was taken directly to the Hosa house on Howard street. It is a small size class 5 engine, weighing 4500 pounds, made by the Sibley Fire Engine Company, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., and is a model of beauty in construction. Everything about it is finished in nickel except a small portion of the running gears which is painted in red and black, the Logan colors.

The trial was made on Saturday afternoon at the race bridge on West High street. The suction hose was thrown into the race and the fire lighted. A 5 pound steam pressure was gotten up in five minutes and enough to run with in about seven. Taking into consideration the fact that the water in the boiler was perfectly cold when the fire was lighted this was remarkably quick. At first one stream was tried, and from the Spring Creek bridge it threw water onto the roof of Finkbinder's building, a distance of about 250 feet, and to a height of about twice that of the Bush Arcade, which is the tallest building in town.

Two streams were then tried with about the same result in force, and the head was but slightly decreased when four nozzles were brought into play. The next trial was made at the N. E. corner of the Diamond, from which point, with a fire plug feeder, it threw water clear over the Court House to Garman's Hotel. It was then taken up East Linn street and tried. It will be remembered that during the fire which destroyed Mr. Morris Cowdrick's large stable last spring, the town force would not throw a stream of over 25 or 30 feet, but when the engine was used a solid column of 135 feet was thrown.

In every way the steamer surpassed its guarantee and the Logan boys were very highly pleased with it. We might say right here that the Council has been considering the advisability of erecting a public building for Bellefonte for some time, and we believe that the lot on east Howard street, now used by the Coronet Hook and Ladder Co., has been purchased for that purpose. In the Spring a handsome building will, probably, be erected on it in which will be a police station, council chamber, a hall for the firemen, an engine house with stables for the horses which will be bought and worked on the streets. By this arrangement the town will save the expense of keeping up a number of small buildings, will have an efficient fire service and a public building to which we can all point with pride. We hope that the new project will be favorably acted upon by Council and that the work of improvement will go on without any interruption.

A LUCKY RAILROAD CONDUCTOR.

—The Penna. Railroad Company has handsomely treated Conductor Samuel F. Keller, who has so long been favorably known to travelers on the P. & E. and N. C. railroads. Mr. Keller was the Democratic candidate for Sheriff in Dauphin county at the last election and was elected by a majority of between 800 and 900, notwithstanding that the county usually gives about 2000 Republican majority. During the campaign the Company gave him one month's leave of absence. After the election Mr. Keller went back and resumed his duties on the road. His official duties will commence on the first Monday of January and will last three years. Mr. Keller was preparing his resignation as conductor when an order was issued giving him three years leave of absence. This is one of the longest leaves ever known to have been given by a railroad company.

The office is worth from $7,000 to 10,000 a year, and if Mr. Keller, after the expiration of his term, shall want to resume his old place on the road he will find it open for him.

A KOCH PATIENT.

—Mr. Frank Beardsley, a resident of Lock Haven, was the first man in Pennsylvania to receive an injection of Dr. Koch's wonderful lymph. The operation was performed at the University Hospital, in Philadelphia, on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 17th. Mr. Beardsley is suffering from bone tuberculosis and decided to undergo the treatment with the hope of being benefited thereby. At the present writing he is doing very well and other injections will soon follow. The patient manifested a slight nervousness when Dr. White inserted the lymphatic needle under the skin between his shoulder blades, but he soon gained confidence and stood the operation, which however is not at all painful, very nicely.

The coal war which is being waged in Bellefonte is quite a blessing to the poor people of this vicinity.

—The Electric Light Co's linemen commenced wiring for the arc light on Tuesday. Supt. Kitson hopes to have the streets lighted some time in the early part of January.

—The search which has been kept up for several weeks for Mr. Newton Graham, the gentleman who is lost somewhere in the mountains near Clearfield, has thus far availed nothing. It is feared that he lies dead under the snow.

—If you saw the handsome new steamer on Saturday, help pay for it by buying a ticket to the Logan Hose Ball in the Arcade on New Year's Eve.

—There is a letter in the Altoona post-office addressed to Dear Old Santa Claus, North Pole. The post-master is in a quandary as to which route it should take.

—We regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Eliza J. Bartholomew, which occurred at her home at 23, Bluff street, Pittsburg, on Sunday, Dec. 21st. The deceased was the wife of Allen Bartholomew, formerly of Walker township, this county, and was 61 year of age.

—We are indebted to Mr. Harry W. Tibbens, the editor of that spicy little journal, Chat, published at Altoona, for a Christmas number of the same. It is a neatly gotten up, 20 page, illustrated magazine, and is the only publication of the kind in Central Pennsylvania. Its editor is but a young boy who formerly attended the High School here. We wish you success, Harry.

—From the Freeport, Ill., Daily News of recent date, we learn of the death of John Bair a former Centre county man. He died in the village of Dakota, near Freeport. His illness was of short duration and it was not thought that it was dangerous until shortly before his death. When here the deceased was a veterinary surgeon and as such was quite successful. He went West in 1885 to practice his profession. The deceased was 65 years of age and leaves but one daughter, Mrs. Dr. Mingle, of Dakota, to mourn his loss.

—Much complaint has been heard of the disorderly character of the County Institute last week. Much of this was due to the unruly conduct of many of the spectators, but a large percentage of the teachers were equally ill behaved. Frequently the proceedings presented a scene of disorder of a discreditable character. Some of the teachers, male and female, seemed to think that the occasion was particularly designed for flirting and levity of that kind. It is getting to be questioned whether County Institutes are worth the time and money expended upon them, and if such conduct becomes an established feature of their proceedings, public opinion will come to the conclusion that they are not worth the time and expense.

—The energetic and successful merchant and P. M. at Port Matilda, Mr. S. R. Pringle, is not often caught napping, but when he was called into the parlor to adjust the stove pipe on last Saturday evening, and on hurrying in was confronted by a gay party of his friends and neighbors who had assembled to do honor to his fifty-first birthday anniversary, his amazed look and surprised ejaculations were genuine. After a short time he set to work to entertain the company and all passed a very pleasant time. The edibles had been prepared by Mrs. Pringle and daughters, and consisted of all the delicacies of the season. The guests did ample justice to them. One of the appropriate gifts much prized by the recipient was a gold ring from his children. We join the guests in their best wishes, and hope Mr. Pringle may see the return of many happy birthday anniversaries.

—We call the attention of the people of Bellefonte and vicinity to the last entertainment which will be given under the Star Course. It will be the Redpath Concert Company, "composed entirely of solo artists of national reputation." The company includes Miss Chamberlin, the original whistling soloist, Miss Clara Hunt, soprano, Miss Edith Christie, violinist, Mr. Ed. K. Hood, humorist and Mr. J. Francis Gilder, piano soloist. The concert will be given in the court house, Tuesday evening, Dec. 30th. This will be the last of the Star Course series, and the ladies have selected an unusually fine one to leave the farewell impression. Miss Chamberlin is a concert in herself, which will be worth any one's time to hear. We append a brief press notice of each member of the company and feel that you cannot but be struck with its excellence:

Miss Chamberlin's whistling is remarkable for its varied expression. She performs difficult operatic airs, changing the expression from the piquant brilliancy of the piccolo to an exquisite flute-like softness with perfect ease.—Philadelphia Telegram.

The solo singing by Miss Clara Hunt was fine. She captivated the audience completely.—Eric Pa. Dispatch.

Mr. Hood's readings and impersonations were among the happiest efforts that have been heard on a Detroit stage.—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Gilder's brilliant pianoforte solos produced the usual enthusiasm, and each was redemanded. This accomplished performer is fast becoming more and more a favorite with concert audiences.—Philadelphia Press.

The gem of the evening was the violin solo by Miss Christie. Never was sweeter music made from this, the most wonderful of all instruments.—The Syracuse, N. Y., Standard.

DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET I. GREGG.

—The death of this most estimable woman occurred at her residence in Milesburg on Saturday, Dec. 20, 1890. She was a daughter of John Irvin, once a prominent citizen of Harris township, who built the mills and kept store at Linden Hall, where Mrs. Gregg was born, Oct. 11, 1803. She was married Dec. 2, 1824, by Rev. Wm. Stuart, to Hon. Andrew Gregg, a well known iron-master in Centre county and active business man, who represented the district composed of the counties of Lycoming, Clinton and Centre in the State Senate in 1856-1861, and who died in Milesburg, May 15, 1869.

Her whole long life of eighty-seven years was spent in Centre county; a life fragrant with the memory of her good deeds; a life of constant blessing to her family and the communities in which she lived; a life which closed in a triumphant departure. Her latest thoughts and anticipations were of the renewal of the kindred tie in Heaven, and of blissful communion with those who had preceded her to the eternal world.

"The night is gone, and with the morn those angel faces smile Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile."

In early life she dedicated herself to God and never broke her vow. For many, many years she was a consistent member of the Baptist church and died in that communion; and from her sweet face, calm in death, a voice of love seemed to come, bidding all cease to weep in gloom for her who had exchanged earth's toil for Heaven's rest.

The funeral took place from her home in Milesburg on Tuesday at 2 p. m., the officiating minister taking for his theme very appropriately, Rev. 14 chapter, 13 verse. "And I heard a voice from Heaven saying unto me, write, blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, from henceforth: yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

Mrs. Gregg leaves to survive her two sisters, Mrs. Eliza I. Curtin and Mrs. W. W. Potter, of Bellefonte. Her surviving children are Gen. John I. Gregg, of Washington City, Andrew Gregg, of Penns Valley, and Misses Annie, Julia, and Susan Gregg, of Milesburg.

A DESPICABLE ACTION.

—On Tuesday morning last a two horse bob-sled was passing the Bush House and a poor, frail looking little girl, with the hope of getting a sled ride, jumped on it. No sooner did its driver discover her on the sled than he struck at her with his heavy whip-stock. Fortunately the stroke fell slightly short of its mark or the little girl would have received a blow on the head. When we take into consideration the fact that the fellow—we can't call him a man, for it would imply manhood which is certainly foreign to him—had no load whatever on his sled and that the little one could not have weighed more than sixty pounds, it was one of the most contemptible things we have ever witnessed on a Bellefonte street.

COAL.—Messrs. McCalmont & Co., who conduct the Peoples' Coal Yard, of Bellefonte, on the popular plan of the lowest price, as well as one price to all, whether they buy large or small quantities, propose to give practical force to their appreciation of the large and liberal patronage that is now being extended to their coal yard by friends and customers. They will donate ten tons in one-half ton lots of Snow Shoe coal, during the ensuing holiday week, to such meritorious persons as are incapacitated from earning a competency, or those who make an honest effort, but fail in so doing. Applications will be considered and decided on their merits.

—Charles Cleary, the Renovo murderer, will have another trial at the January term of the Clinton county court. The young man is fast enlisting the sympathy of the people of that county, and it is believed that the outcome of this trial will be different from that of his first which was murder in the first degree. He shot chief-of-police Paul, in Renovo.

—Pine Hall will have a Musical Convention soon. Prof. J. A. Weaver has just completed arrangements for holding a grand convention in the Lutheran church at that place beginning on Monday evening Jan. 12th, and closing Saturday evening the 17th. If you have an opportunity of attending and don't, you will miss a rare chance.

—During the heavy snow last week a young man was found at 12 o'clock at night lying in the street at Lock Haven helplessly drunk and almost snowed under. He would have been entirely covered up and perhaps frozen if a policeman hadn't discovered him in time.

—The explosion of the torpedo in "Fogg's Ferry" and saving of the steamer by "Chip" is considered one of the most realistic scenes of the stage. The company carry scenery for this entire act. Miss Lizzie Evans will appear in her most famous character of "Chip," supported by a very strong company, at Garman's Opera House next Tuesday night. Seats are now on sale.

THE COUNTY SCHOOL DIRECTORS' RESOLUTIONS.

—At the school Directors' convention last week the executive committee reported the following resolutions, which were adopted: 1.—That we urge upon the Legislature at its coming session, the passage of a law authorizing the several school districts to pay the actual expenses of the several directors from each district in attending the annual and tri-ennial conventions of directors. The annual convention held for the sole purpose of devising and discussing measures for the advancement and promotion of public school work, and the tri-ennial convention for the purpose of electing a county superintendent of public schools, it is but just and wise that at least the expenses of the directors while engaged in such work should be paid by the respective school districts.

2. That the directors of Centre county, in convention assembled, do hereby request the representatives in the Legislature from the county, and the Senator from the senatorial district, at the session of the Legislature to be held in 1891 to do whatever in the discharge of their duties they can, to support and bring about the passage of such a law.

3. That it would be a great help to the directors, and result in building better lighted, heated and ventilated school houses, if the department of public instruction should have prepared and published, at the expense of the State, for the use of school boards, a work on, as well as containing plans and specifications, for the proper construction, heating, lighting and ventilating of rural school houses. For the advancement of this purpose and for the health and happiness of the pupils in our schools, we would press upon the department the great need of such a work.

4. We would again call the attention of the directors to the fact that a more abundant supply of apparatus and help in outline maps, tables, measures, dictionaries and books of reference will be of great advantage to both the teachers and the pupils, and do much, indeed, to advance and promote the efficiency of the schools of the county.

5. That in view of the fact that teachers are, under the law, paid for the attendance upon the session of the county institute, the directors emphatically condemn the practice of those teachers who answer "present" at roll call and then leave the institute and spend their time running about the town. We insist that it is their duty to be present at the sessions of the institute, and if they are not, the County Superintendent should not certify to their presence, and the directors should not pay for their time.

6. That the Directors' Association of Centre county make overtures to the Department of Public Instruction to prepare and issue to school directors proper books for making the records of the advancement of individual pupils through the proper graded course of studies adopted for ungraded schools, or adapt the present series of teachers' reports to such purpose.

7. We would renew the suggestion made in our last annual report that the several boards of Directors in Centre county subscribe at the expense of the district for a copy of the Pennsylvania School Journal for each member of the board.

D. F. FORTNEY, Chairman.
HENRY TIBBINS,
WM. GROVE,
WILLIAM WOODRING.

—At a regular meeting of Bellefonte Lodge, No. 268, A. Y. M., held on Tuesday evening last, the following officers were elected, and installed: L. A. Shaffer, W. M.; Geo. Johnson, S. W.; A. C. Mingle, J. W.; Geo. B. Weaver, Sec.; H. Y. Stitzer, Treasurer; W. L. Steele, S. D.; Jas. D. McKee, J. D.; John Noll, Per.; John Olewine, S. M. C.; Robt. McKnight, Jr. J. M. C.; W. I. Fleming, Chaplain; Robt. Gilmore, Tyler. After which the members refreshed themselves on turkey and accompanying delicacies.

—Manager Garman has secured Miss Lizzie Evans in her neat comedy-drama "Fogg's Ferry," for Tuesday evening, Dec. 30th. He tried to get Miss Evans to open the House in the fall but failed, as Miss Evans had her dates all full. Now she has this one off night and he has secured her. She is a great favorite in the cities, having played all last week at the "Peoples" in Philadelphia.

—There will be a musical convention at Shiloh church, on the Boalsburg pike, on Monday evening, Jan. 10th to Saturday evening, the 24th, when they will conclude with a grand concert. Every one should attend and make it a success.

—If you miss Lizzie Evans, in "Fogg's Ferry," you will miss the treat of the season. She is a first class actress with a first class company. Give her a good house so that we can get her back again if we want her.

—The finest and largest line of Foreign and Domestic woollens for suits and overcoats ever shown by us. Full assortment of Ready Made clothing Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods. MONTGOMERY & Co. Tailors.

—Read the Cash Bazaar's advertisement of holiday goods.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

—We have made arrangements with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) to Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., ENOSBURGH FALLS, Vt. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity to obtaining a valuable book.

It is necessary to mention this paper in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open for only a short time.

Pine Grove Mentions.

To all a happy Christmas and prosperous New Year.

Prof. G. W. Weaver, one of Clearfield county's stalwart Democrats was amongst the throng in our town last week.

Mrs. Lucretia Musser is offering her household goods at public sale, next Saturday p. m., the 27th.

Our porly young friend, Curt Musser, after spending several years among the wild western scenes, is now greeting his associates here.

Lieut. Wm Reed, one of the gallant 49th, for the last ten years, resident of Saline, Kansas, is spending the winter in old Centre.

Wedding cards are out for the marriage of C. M. Johnson, son of D. I. Johnson, to Miss Marion Miller, daughter of D. L. Miller, both of this vicinity. The nuptial ceremonies are to be performed by Rev. C. T. Aikens on Christmas Eve at the home of the brides parents.

Our band boys are making extensive arrangements for a sample festival, to commence on Christmas evening and continue all week.

The Bazaar, under the auspices of the ladies, will be conducted during the three first evenings of the holidays.

Quarters are being engaged at Harrisburg by some of our Ferguson township Democrats who expect to be among the inauguration sights seers on the 20th inst. We shouldn't wonder if Governor Biss might not find some cabinet tumbler in our vicinity.

The union musical convention, to be held in the M. E. church, beginning on Jan. 12th under the instruction of the boss of convention leaders, Prof. P. H. Meyers, promises to be the largest class of songsters yet heard in our town. It will be accompanied by a grand orchestra. Then peace and harmony should reign.

At the last regular meeting of Capt. J. O. Campbell Post, 272, G. A. R., the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Commander, Wm H. Fry; S. V. C., W. D. Port; J. V. C., J. H.
