

A GREAT ELECTRIC SYSTEM.—One of the most attractive places in Philadelphia, especially at evening, is the store of Baily, Banks & Biddle. This vast establishment is lighted at night by 700 incandescent electric lights, a system of lighting which it has taken an expert Electrician six months to perfect. It is certainly as near perfection as the art of illumination has so far reached, and the effect is what might be termed entrancing.

Bursts of bright yellow light come from numerous overhead Electrolights, while ingeniously hidden globes light up with startling brilliancy the case devoted to silverware. Along one side of the store effulgent beams of light shoot out from behind single slips of flowers, being reflected by the glittering plate glass mirrors. In the art room the various objects of beauty have, in addition to their own charm, received the benefit of this system of artificial lighting. Apparently carelessly displayed shafts of light, sometimes perfect floods of it, are brought to bear in the most harmonious manner on the articles to which its splendor is more easily lent. The charm of it all lies in the studied carelessness and in the artistic manner in which the glow lamps are hidden, giving to the whole store an appearance which recalls a page of a fairy tale.

Obituary.

Geo. B. McClellan Whiteman, of Snow Shoe, Pa., who was so badly injured while coupling cars at Bellefonte, on Dec. 27th, ult., that death ensued a few hours afterward, was aged 27 years, 10 months and one day. He was a single man, the support of his aged parents who have reached the top of the mountain of life and are descending the other side into the shadows beyond. It was sad news for them that told that Clell, as he was familiarly called, was hurt unto death. Clell was an honest, upright young man, and had a host of friends. Here he spent his boyhood days, first in attendance at school, at the old school house on the hill; next a young man in his teens doing whatever his hands found to do, sometimes in the mines with pick and shovel, again as brakeman on the railroad.

The stamp of manly character and principle was imbedded in him in his devotion to and looking after the welfare of his aged parents in the declining years, making their pathway as smooth and comfortable as he could make it. It is the true test of manhood, of love and affection, of a dutiful son looking after the wants of his aged parent, which so many sons lack in this age. The funeral took place from the residence of his parents on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 30th. The services were conducted by Rev. Jackson. The funeral was largely attended from this immediate section of country and a distance. The family desire to extend their thanks to the people of Bellefonte for the kindness shown and rendered to their son and brother, and also to the people of Snow Shoe and vicinity for their kindness and sympathy in their time of affliction.

A FRIEND.

The Richest Colored Women in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 5.—Judge Leake this morning rendered a decision, which, if not set aside by the Supreme Court, makes Bettie Thomas Lewis the richest colored person in Virginia. The suit has been pending for two years, and involved the estate of the late dry goods merchant, W. A. Thomas, estimated to be worth from $200,000 to $250,000. Bettie Lewis was the natural daughter of Mr. Thomas by a colored woman. He made no will, but told friends he intended to provide for Bettie. Before his death he gave his bank book and the key to his box in the bank containing all his stocks and bond to her. The legal fight turned upon the question whether this constituted the gift of all property. Judge Leake today held that it did.

The great closing out sale at the Union Clothing store still goes on with wonderful success. As the stock diminishes the bargains increase; prices lower than ever. We have only four more weeks to stay and in order to close out the balance of our stock, we offer still greater inducements than ever before.

It is to your advantage to come and secure anything you need in our line before it is too late. Remember we are the originators of low prices and as soon as we move you will have to pay full price for goods you can buy of us now for one half their actual value. Will you be there? Some body will.

"YOU CAN FOOL SOME OF THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME; ALL THE PEOPLE SOME OF THE TIME, BUT YOU CAN'T FOOL ALL THE PEOPLE ALL THE TIME."

—LINCOLN.

The above words, uttered by one of the greatest men the world ever saw, are particularly true when applied to the manner in which some of the concerns in Bellefonte are attempting to do business. On one line you will see large "Closing Out Sale" advertised; on another, "All Goods to be Sold at Cost," and on down further you will see suits advertised for "$9, formerly $18." Now just stop for a moment, look at it carefully; an $18 suit for $9; was this business legitimate? or is it legitimate now? Is the man treating you right when he charges you $18 for a suit that cost him only $9? You will say at once, no. If he abused your confidence once, will he not do so again? Read this carefully, consider well whether it is to your interest to buy your goods from a man who has treated you squarely and honestly in the past, and who, intending to remain in the same business and in the same place, has his own interests to protect by treating you the same in the future.

If you need anything in the clothing line, give me a call and I will promise you good, honest value for your money.

CHEAP COW, CATTLE AND HORSE FEED. COTTON SEED MEAL.

GLUTEN MEAL. LINSÉED MEAL. PRATT'S FOOD FOR CATTLE & HORSES. The best and lowest priced food for cattle and horses. Owing to the high price of Corn and Oats, Cotton Linséed Meal cost less per hundred pounds than mixed chaff; notwithstanding that, it has been demonstrated by W. C. Patterson, Sup't. at the State College farm, that one pound of Cotton Seed Meal is worth as much as two pounds of Corn meal and Linséed Meal is worth as much as a Cotton Seed Meal for feeding stock. One pound of Cotton Seed Meal, one pound of Gluten or Corn Meal, and four pounds of Wheat Bran make a most excellent feed for milk cows; and one half of Linséed Meal fed to horses and mules twice a day, promotes digestion and prevents colic and other sickness and makes them sleek in their coat. We have recently sold W. C. Patterson, Sup't. of the State College farm, for feeding purposes, 6 1/2 tons of Cotton Seed Meal and we are quite sure that he would not buy it in such large quantities, unless the use of it proved to be profitable; therefore, we can recommend it for feeding stock, with the full assurance, that we are furnishing more value for the money received than is offered in any other class of feed. We have a large stock of this feed on hand, and are prepared to furnish it in large or small quantities at the lowest price. Orders left at our office in the Hale building, Bellefonte, Pa., will receive prompt attention. 35 48 3m McCALMONT & CO.

BARGAINS We always have a number of good second-hand Pianos and Organs or careful and economical buyers. We cannot print lists of them as the stock is always changing. Prices range from $25 to $300, on easy monthly payments when desired. Please write us and we will mail a list of those now in stock.
