

Democratic Watchman

Bellefonte, Pa., January 9, 1891.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As I contemplate a change in my business, by the 1st of March, I now offer my entire stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods regardless of cost. This is no humbug, but a straight offer.

SIMON LOEB,

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

Sheriff Ishler moved into the jail on Tuesday.

Many of our citizens are suffering with a malady which in attack resembles la grippe.

Lock Haven boasts of having had a good Uncle Tom's Cabin show in its Opera House, lately.

The remains of the late Dr. P. T. Musser were interred at Aaronsburg last Saturday. The funeral was largely attended.

Mr. and Mrs. John Odenkirk, of the Old Fort, celebrated the twenty fifth year of their married life on the day following Christmas.

A sled load of Lock Haven people came up to help J. Kyle McFarlane and his estimable wife celebrate the incoming of '91.

Last Friday morning the fine residence of C. S. McCormick, esq., at Lock Haven, was completely destroyed by fire. The loss was about $10,000, mostly covered by insurance.

On New Year's day the shifter crew at this place, took a rest and the trainmen on the Snow Shoe passenger did their work for them. No one gave the Snow Shoe men turkey, but they got the work done up in good shape, all the same.

The young gentlemen of Bellefonte gave quite a delightful dance in Bush's Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 20th. Quite a number of young people from a distance were present and added to the enjoyment of the affair.

During his three years term Register Rupp issued 1043 marriage licenses. The first year of his term, for 1888, he issued 345; the next, year 1889, he issued 356; and the last year, 1890, there were issued 342, the smallest number of the three years.

James Ruble, of Potter township, was taken with an attack of paralysis last Friday afternoon while he was at a neighbor's barn. He was taken home, but had another stroke in the evening from which he died the next morning, at the age of about 45. A wife and five children survive him.

Over a hundred persons were in daily attendance at the musical convention held in Rebersburg last week, which was one of the largest and most successful ever held in the county. Two concerts were given, one on Friday and the other on Saturday night. District Attorney Meyer was in attendance from Bellefonte.

Post Master Fiedler tried the rapidity of the northern and southern mail routes recently by starting two letters to San Francisco. The northern route proved one day quicker than the southern on the out going trip, but they both came back on the same time, a distance of six thousand miles having been traversed in ten days.

There is a rumor of a reorganization of the Centre Iron Company under a new company to be called the "Valentine Iron Company." Messrs. Robert, Abram S., George and Jacob D. Valentine, Daniel Rhoades, J. W. Gephart and Jno. M. Dale have signed the certificate of incorporation and made application to the Governor for a charter.

On Wednesday of last week a plane was filed in the Recorder's office, of this county, by which the Beech Creek Railroad, with all its appurtenances, was leased to the New York Central and Hudson River Railroads for the period of ninety-nine years. By this transfer the Vanderbilt system will be brought in direct competition with the P. E. R. Co. and by the building of about eighty miles more of road it will have a direct route from New York to Chicago.

We clip the following from the L. H. Daily Democrat of Jan. 3rd. It shows what brutes some people are capable of making themselves: Jacob Workman, who lives near the passenger station, came home yesterday very drunk in honor of the New Year, and at once proceeded to abuse his family, whipping a 12-year-old son so severely that he fainted three or four times. The lad's lip was cut and one of his little fingers was dislocated at the knuckle. The doctor did not know whether he was internally hurt or not, and the fainting may have been caused by the shock. It is said that the brute threw the little fellow down and kicked him. He should have been arrested, but hasn't up to this writing. Such outrages should be punished by the severest penalties.

DEATH OF DOCTOR MUSSER.—The life of one of the oldest and most reliable physicians of Pennsylvally closed with the last day of 1890, in the death of Dr. Philip T. Musser, who left the scene of his usefulness at Aaronsburg on the 31st ult, at the age of 62 years, 1 month and 20 days. He was a native of Gregg township, this county, where he was born, November 10, 1828. He was of a substantial German family who settled at an early date in Northampton county, his grandfather Philip Musser being among the early emigrants to the wilds of Centre county about a century ago, settling in Pennsylvally and being among the pioneers in bringing that region to a condition of cultivation.

Dr. Musser's father was also named Philip who after the death of his first wife married Mrs. Catherine Stover, a daughter of Joseph Richard who had settled at Milheim. From this marriage the Doctor was born on the place lately owned by Samuel Musser, two miles east of Spring Mills. He was but six years old when his father died. Upon this bereavement he went to reside with his older brother Samuel. When about 16 years old he attended school at Millinburg, Union county, where he remained several years and in 1850 commenced the study of medicine with Dr. Yanvalzah at Millheim and was graduated at Jefferson Medical College in 1853. He commenced the practice of his profession in partnership with his preceptor with whom he continued until 1861, and in 1866 he removed from Millheim and located in Aaronsburg in 1866 where for many years he was the most prominent physician, retiring some four years ago on account of the impairment of his health, which took the form of acute rheumatism which confined him to his bed for the past year.

Dr. Musser was married in 1857 to Mary J. Mumbauer, daughter of Peter Mumbauer, of Millheim, who survives him, having faithfully and affectionately attended him during his last and painful illness. His children are Ella, wife of Rev. A. J. Iroy, a Baptist clergyman of Wheeling, West Virginia; Dr. C. S. Musser, who practiced with his father, and Harvey Musser, Esq., an attorney of Akron, Ohio.

Starting in early life with few advantages and forced to struggle for his advancement, Dr. Musser may be said to have been a self-made man. But to a resolute disposition and good moral qualities was added the advantage of excellent mental qualifications, and with these success was assured in the arduous profession he had chosen as his life-calling. His humane disposition as a man equalled his skill as a physician, and the community in which he was so long professionally useful mourn the loss they have sustained in his death.

SNYDER COUNTY RATS.—The Middleburg Post says: "Jacob Hassinger of this town was the owner of two very fine hogs the beginning of last week. The animals were so fat that they couldn't get up any more. On Tuesday morning upon entering his stable Mr. Hassinger found one of the hogs lying on her stomach and stone dead. He turned her over when he discovered a hole eaten into her throat by rats and one of the large arteries cut from which she had bled to death. The rats had gnawed a hole through the floor of the stable and approached the hog from below. He dragged the dead porker to the mountain and turned the other hog out of the stable into the outside pen. Wednesday morning the animal had big notches eaten out of her ears, but was otherwise unharmed. He killed her to save her from the 'varmints.'"

MRS. HARRY SEIBERT DEAD.—We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Harry Seibert, which occurred at her home on Second street, Phillipsburg, Pa., on Wednesday morning, Dec. 31st. She deceased was formerly Miss Mary Heine of this place, but after her marriage to Mr. Harry Seibert, who was then a Bellefonter, she went with him to Phillipsburg where she has lived for some time. She was about twenty-eight years old and had been ill for two weeks. Her husband and one little daughter mourn the loss of a wife and mother whose sweet life went out with the dying old year. The interment was made in this place on Friday morning.

DISSOLUTION.—The partnership, which has heretofore existed between Messrs Amos and John Garbrick, in the ice business, has been dissolved, Mr. Amos Garbrick continuing the business. He is busy now harvesting as pretty a crop of crystal ice as has ever been taken from his pond at Coleville, so that with the coming of summer he will be able to supply all his customers with clean, pure ice.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.—On Friday evening Bellefonte Council, No. 270, A. O. U. M., installed the following officers elected to serve during the next term of six months: Councilor—David Barlet; V. C.—Howard C. Yarger; R. S.—M. Stover; A. R. S.—W. S. Sholl; F. S.—E. O. Struble; I.—Wm. S. Rhinesmith; Ex.—E. Robb; I. P.—Ellsworth Sunday; O. P.—W. W. Sunday; Trustee—E. W. Barry, Representative to State Court—Thos. Donachy; Proxy—H. D. Yarger.

Many College students passed through town on Tuesday and Wednesday on their way back to school.

It will be to your interest to call at Power's shoe store, early. Such bargains as he is offering can't last long.

The people along the river above Lock Haven are beginning to be frightened at the probable results of a large ice jam that has been formed at the mouth of Queen's Run.

The public schools of Phillipsburg have organized a savings bank and on its opening day it had 196 depositors with $106.77. The highest deposit being $6.50 and the lowest 0.1

The stained glass windows have been put in the new United Brethren Church, on the corner of High and Thomas sts, and they add much to the appearance of that, already, pretty little structure.

Mrs. Prescilla Jane, wife of J. S. Furst, of Water street, Lock Haven, died at her home in that place on Wednesday morning. She was 79 years of age at the time of her death and had been sick about ten weeks.

Ed Powers is offering unprecedented bargains in boots and shoes, for the next three weeks. He intends to decrease his stock before he returns to his remodeled room and he is bound to do it at the prices he gives.

Most of the school going young people of our town have returned to their books. The College boys to learn more than their past ever knew, and the school children to worry their teachers and parents.

Postmaster Fiedler, of this place, received a pleasant surprise on New Year's morning in the shape of a handsome gold chain, presented to him by the clerks and carriers in the office. This is a proof of the good feeling existing between the parties all round. Mr. Rees made the presentation address. An appropriate response was made by the recipient. It is a valuable gift and we congratulate Mr. Fiedler on the sentiment which prompted the gift.

At the last meeting of the Board of Pardons clemency was extended to Edward C. Loveland, the young man of Lock Haven who betrayed a young woman and then caused her death by subjecting her to malpractice. He was sentenced for twelve years and has been pardoned after serving about 18 months. This action of the Board is believed to have been on account of the illness of his father, T. P. Loveland, whose illness is of such a character that he cannot live long.

In speaking of the experiment of a school savings bank in Phillipsburg, the Journal of that place says: "It is gratifying to the promoters of the banking system to be introduced into our schools, that it is being anticipated by the scholars and parents with so much pleasure. On Wednesday many of them were prepared to make deposits, but Prof. H. H. Weber considered it better to postpone the receiving of deposits until Wednesday next. While on his holidays Mr. Weber visited Principals at Williamsport from whom he gleaned much information on the subject. Everything is now complete and it is hoped the parents will encourage providence in their children, and assist them in the saving of the cents; the dollars will take care of themselves."

The home of William Lewis, Sr. of Port Matilda, was the scene of mirth and festivity on Wednesday evening of last week. Mr. Lewis had just reached the seventy-sixth milestone on his journey of life and his neighbors and friends called in to properly celebrate the event. His immediate family, several of his married children and quite a number of grandchildren were present and also some twenty-six guests representing Blair, Huntingdon and Centre counties. He now sports a fine new hat as a souvenir of the occasion. Other appropriate presents were made. The company had a merry time and all went away pleased with their call. Mr. Lewis is the personification of "old Democracy" of the strongest kind and we hope that he may continue as hale and hearty as he is now, for many years to come.

MCLELLAN WHITEMAN KILLED.—On Saturday morning, Dec. 27th, an accident, which took the life of an honest young man and deprived two aged parents of a dutiful son, occurred on the railroad just below the freight depot at this place. While McClellan Whiteman was trying to make a coupling his foot slipped and he was caught between the dead-woods of the cars and his whole left side crushed in. The unfortunate young man was picked up and taken to the Bush House where he died shortly after two o'clock. He was about 28 years old and had been on the railroad but a short time. A blind father and an aged mother, dependent upon their son's resources for a livelihood, mourn for one who was their stay and their all. His remains were interred from his home in Snow Shoe.

A FAREWELL BANQUET TO RECORDER HARTER.—On Monday evening, Jan. 5th, ex-county Recorder J. P. Harter, Esq. was the recipient of one of those handsome tributes which so beautifully define a man's standing among men and show the marks of appreciation which honest endeavor so richly deserves.

On that day the terms of the old county officers having expired, the new ones were sworn in, and as Mr. Harter wasn't "in it" last fall he found it devolving upon him to vacate also. However he was requested to remain over night in Bellefonte in order to hold a last practice with the Band, which he has had the honor of leading ever since its inception; so he decided to remain and give the boys the benefit of one more night's instruction before his return home to Millheim. About eight o'clock the members of the band began to assemble in their room, in the Court House, for practice. Dr. Harter was there and we fancy he looked a little sorrowful; probably it was the thought of leaving so genial a crowd that brought the sad expression to his eyes, but he played on with his usual grace and excellence. Several selections were rehearsed and then manager Al. Garman, to whom Bellefonte is indebted for the organization of her band, proposed that they go out and play a couple of pieces on the portico. The proposal was accepted and several pretty selections were rendered. When the instruments had about frozen up Mr. Garman called "come on boys" and they went, everyone knowing whither but the leader.

Upon reaching Cedar's Ice Cream Parlor the column turned in, and here everything was given away, for the sight of the beautiful banquet tables in the hall immediately foretold what was to come. After all had been seated, Mr. Garman requested District Attorney J. C. Meyer to explain the object of all the strange maneuvers that had been made during the evening, whereupon he arose and in a neat little address tendered the respects of the band to its leader and complimented him on behalf of our citizens for the success he has made of it. Mr. Meyer's language was couched in the highest eulogiums of praise for Dr. Harter as a gentleman, as an officer and as a musician. To this the Dr. responded, feelingly, in a few well chosen words and expressed his great gratification at this manifestation of esteem. The speech making over, for the time being, all eyes were turned to the tables and what visions of loveliness they were.

Running our eyes hastily over them we saw covers laid for twenty-seven and they were all raised. Elegantly did the deft hands of the waiters serve the various courses of the menu and swiftly did the merry banqueters stow-away the delicacies. The finest of everything was on the list and everyone did justice to the most sumptuous fete. Cigars were the last number, they being presented by our jolly new Treasurer, Mr. Granley. As the party sat and watched the curling smoke rise to the ceiling, jokes were cracked—nothing else—and the different politicians, victorious and defeated, were rigged about their campaign promises. Altogether it was one of the nicest affairs we have ever had the pleasure of attending. One of the happy coincidences was the fact that it was the celebration of Dr. Harter's 34th birthday. The party was composed of members and ex-members of the band, all the county officials who were in town, and four representatives of the Press.

After the banquet was ended the band played a farewell piece to its leader and every one wished him health and prosperity upon the return to his private life. Long shall Monday night be remembered, and though everything was bright and gay we did not fully realize that we were celebrating the departure from our midst of one who has labored unceasingly to give us a musical organization of which we all have a right to be proud.

THE LOGAN BALL.—On new year's eve the Logan boys gave their twenty first annual masquerade Ball. It was held in Bush's new Arcade Hall, which was artistically decorated for the occasion and presented a very pretty and striking appearance. At nine o'clock the grand march was begun, the Zion band furnishing the music. About fifty couples took part in the march and for gorgeous and unique designs we have never seen their equal. Representatives of most all nations were there. Fairies, Angels, Devils, Clowns, Firemen, Bad Boys, McGintys, and Desperados in abundance each vying with the other to make fun for the party. After the march was over the orchestra took the place of the band and the dance was continued until early in the new year. All who were present are unanimous in their praise of the dance and say that it was the best one ever given by the Logans. Much credit is due the committee, Messrs Jas. Bayard, Chas. Heisler, Rash, Williams, Kirk Tate, and Joseph Gross, for the successful manner in which they conducted the ball.

News and politics are equally features of the WATCHMAN.

TWO NOTABLE EVENTS AT HOWARD.—The entertainment which was held in the Evangelical Church, by that Sunday school on Christmas evening, surpassed anything of its kind given in this community, we are told. It was attended by a very large and attentive audience, many being compelled to stand during the entire exercise, but they were amply repaid for so doing as the entertainment progressed. The church was very beautifully and tastefully decorated with flowers and banners, and the Christmas table, which was heavily laden with confectionery fruit, &c., went a great ways toward beautifying it, especially to the eyes of the young folks, who expected to enjoy some of the good things which were soon to be distributed among them. The children under the management of Mrs. S. E. Hensly did their part exceedingly well. It is useless to comment upon the singing for (under the instructions of Prof. Z. T. Weirick) it would be prevaricating to say that it was anything but very fine, as could be easily judged upon hearing the opening anthem song. During the exercises Mrs. S. E. Hensly had the pleasure of presenting a very handsome book to Rev. Koontz. After distributing the treat the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Koontz.

The social oyster supper which was given by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at the Syracuse House on New Year's Eve, was very well conducted and managed. There were about eighty ladies and gentlemen present who partook of the delicious bivalves prepared by Mrs. J. L. DeHaas, who is an expert at that business. Quite a number of the ladies and gentlemen present came over from Hubersburg. The supper was not alone for the Odd Fellows but for all who felt disposed to go.

THE NEW COUNTY OFFICERS.—Last Monday the new Democratic county officers were sworn in and assumed the duties of their respective positions. Mr. Ishler took possession of the Sheriff's office and on Tuesday moved his family into the jail, his predecessor having vacated the day previous. He temporarily retained the service of Deputy Wilson, and is also assisted by ex-Sheriff Woodring. The Sheriff has not yet determined who shall be his permanent Deputy, and we can speculate upon this subject no further than to say that we have no doubt he will select an efficient assistant. Sheriff Ishler goes into office with the full confidence of the people that he will make an excellent officer.

The three new Commissioners, Messrs Adams, Goodheart and Strohm, also took the oath of office and assumed charge of the county affairs. The responsibility of administration will of course devolve upon the Democratic majority of the Board, but the Democratic members are gentlemen whose intelligence and ability promise a careful, economical and efficient management of the county business. Mr. Strohm, the Republican member of the Board, is also a gentleman of ability and integrity, and we trust will harmonize with his colleagues in the performance of their official duties. They are all good looking men and have the distinction of being unusually young men for so important a position. They have appointed Mr. Robert Hunter, of Benner township, Commissioners' clerk, a gentleman who is abundantly able to perform his duties in a satisfactory manner, which we warrant he will do.

The other officers sworn in were Register Rupp, Recorder Morrison, and Treasurer Granley. It was a great satisfaction to see Mr. Rupp retained in the position which he filled so well during the past three years. Mr. Morrison assumed the duties of his office fully equipped for the competent discharge of his trust, and no county officer was ever installed under better auspices. He has appointed Mr. Wm. Dukeman as his Deputy. Mr. Granley completed the list of Democratic officials who on Monday affected the revolution in the county offices. The county treasury in his keeping will be in good and safe hands and he gives promise of making one of the most satisfactory Treasurers the county has ever had. We welcome the new officers to their official positions, and wish them prosperous terms of office and a Happy New Year.

FIETTA WEAVER PARDONED.—For some time W. E. Gray, esq. has been working for a pardon for Fietta Weaver who was found guilty of the murder of Andrew Weaver Sr. Fietta has been in the Western Penitentiary less than a year and will come home just as soon as the weather permits, as she is in very poor health. Her attorney, Mr. Gray, obtained letters from the president and associate judges of this district, as well as from ten of the jurors who sat on the case, and went before the pardon board with a well worked up plea. His efforts were rewarded by the pardon.

Mitchell I. Gardner, the popular young insurance man, of our town, has moved his office from the Bush Arcade into the new Hall building opposite the Court House. We will be prepared to insure you or your property better in his new quarters than he has ever done before. Call on him.

GRANGE MEETINGS.—Centre County Pomona Grange has arranged for a series of meetings among the subordinate Granges of the County, as follows: Jan. 9, Leonard Grange 9.30 a. m. " 9, Halfmoon " one p. m.
