Farm Notes.

How about the wood pile? It won't help on the breakfast cold mornings to have to dig the wood out of a snow drift.

Many abandoned farms have been given up because they were too large to be profitably cultivated. It is very seldom that a small farm is abandoned. No remedies should be attempted for black knot on plum trees until the affected branches are removed. Black knot also affects some varieties of cherries.

Cold milk will chill the pigs as quickly as cold water. On severe days give warm milk to the hogs and pigs early in the morning as an invigorator.

When cold, freezing weather is anticipated, green tomatoes should be picked and placed under covers in a warm, sunny place, where they will ripen up in a short time.

Growing trees of any kind is growing a crop. Now, if we will use the trees as we use other crops, given them good rich soil and decent care, we shall act wisely, and likely successfully grow one crop of trees.

Market gardeners and dairymen are particularly well situated to permit of their handling poultry with profit. The former have spare time in winter; the latter go among the best customers in the towns every day.

Farmers get many valuable hints from one another in the discussion about farming that they naturally fall into when they get together and away from work. Let us have more neighborhood gatherings, and more institutes.

A domineering cow in the herd will sometimes prevent a weaker one from securing its share of feed. Hence every cow should have her ration in the trough, morning and night, where she cannot be disturbed. Cows should not be fed together if it can be avoided.

No young animal will grow faster than a young lamb of the mutton breed of sheep, if it is given plenty of ground grain, with a variety of succulent food, as soon as it begins to eat, and it will give good results for the food consumed.

To feed young lambs, after they begin to eat, make a pen, and have a trough in the pen. The opening into the pen should be only large enough to admit the lambs, which will prevent them from being robbed by the adults.

One of the most important matters for the farmer to look after is the insurance on his buildings. It is often deferred until the very day it is due, and many instances are known of losses a few hours after the policy had expired.

Feed your turkeys in your sheep, and the ewes will be in better condition at lambing time. Too much grain may cause the ewes to have milk fever. Bulky food should also be given liberally. Clover hay is excellent for ewes.

It is necessary to teach an incubator-hatched chick to eat; they will soon learn. They never require food for the first twenty-four hours. Afterward they will generally obey the instincts of nature and pick around for a morsel.

Secure better highways—highways upon which your products can be taken more cheaply over the first stages of your journey to the consumer. After you have done this you may engage in the reform of railways and commission men.

At a meeting of the Committee on Markets of the Board of Aldermen of New York the representatives of various branches of trade opposed, without exception, the proposed ordinance directing that all fruits and vegetables be sold in that city by weight.

A ewe that raises two lambs besides the wool clipped from her will pay 200 per cent. on the money invested. Besides, they bring in money from April to August, a time when farmers have nothing else to sell and when there is the greatest strait to meet debts.

According to an English exchange, the custom of tree-planting by school children on a certain day in each year known as "Arbor day" has been imported from America into Australia, in accordance with the decision of the Minister for Public Instruction.

Before frosts catch bedding plants secure some cuttings for next spring's use. It is often left till too late for fear of spoiling the plants for display now, but it can be but a few more weeks before the cold will finish them for the season in most places, and stock should be preserved now.

Delaware raised an enormous quantity of tomatoes this year, the number of cans prepared for market exceeding 5,000,000. A ton of tomatoes, as they come from the field, will fill 400 to 450 cans. Calling it 425, a product of 5,000,000 cans means that 11,700 tons of tomatoes were purchased by the canners in that State this year.

Thomas R. Ballentine has a truck farm of 350 acres near Norfolk, Va., from which he sells on an average $50,000 worth of vegetables a year, of which $20,000 is profit. He says he is a truck farmer because he loves the business, and makes it pay because he gives it close attention. This year he has shipped between 17,000 and 18,000 barrels of spinach to New York.

Horses have been dying by the scores in Richwood and about Sikeston recently with a disease something like blind staggers. The horse affected becomes vicious, kicking and pawing wildly at everything, and has other indications of delirium till it is exhausted. James P. Raney says he has cured two of his by bleeding at the nose, drenching with epsom salts and making them inhale ammonia.—Record.

HEAVY BREAD.—Mr. Charley Young, husband—Why, what's the matter.

Mrs. Younghusband—(in deep anguish)—I gave—a—a—tramp—a piece of my fresh home made bread and—saw—he gave it to Rover. Mr. Charley Younghusband (consoling)—Well, I wouldn't cry about a little thing like that. Mrs. Younghusband—You don't understand, I'm crying about Rover—he is dead—boo—hoo—hoo.

PLAYING AT STORE.—"Mamma" asked the next to the youngest girl, "Edie and I are going to play grocery store. Won't you give us something to start business with?" "Here's my spool of thread and the button bag and—"

"Oh, we don't want them," interrupted Edie, "why don't you give us pie or something so if trade is bad we can eat up the stock and keep it from going to waste?"

A healthy, robust child has a better chance of escaping or of resisting disease than a sickly one. It is therefore the duty of every mother to obtain such a food as will insure the life and health of her little one. Mellin's Food promotes in infants a healthy growth, a full development and a vigorous constitution.

APPLE TAPIOCA.—Pare and core enough apples to cover the bottom of a pudding-dish, put a little sugar and lemon peel on them, and bake till tender, putting a little water if needed; soak one-half pint tapioca in one quart lukewarm water and a little salt over night; pour over the apples and bake one hour; eat cold, with cream and sugar.

"A God-send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed. I thought the sores would never heal. Your Balm has cured me."—Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

FRUIT PUDDING.—One cupful of milk, one-third of a cupful of butter, two-thirds of a cupful of raisins, one-third of a cupful of currants, two cupfuls of flour, one-half of a teaspoonful each of soda, cinnamon and nutmeg. Steam 1 1/2 hours.

It speaks for itself what a lady said of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup the other day. A single bottle had cured her child of a most dreadful cough. It never fails to give speedy relief and permanent cure.

Effie—Mamma, why does the boat make that dreadful noise? Mamma.—That is because she is just going to start. Effie.—If I was as sorry as that I wouldn't go.

One application of Salvoit Oil well rubbed in cured me of rheumatism in the arm, of two months standing. I never intend to be without it. H. B. KRAMER, Washington, D. C.

"I want the library," said Mr. Gaswell to the architect, "to be the largest and aired room in the house." "I don't see what you want with a library," interposed Mrs. Gaswell, "you know very well you don't smoke."

"It leads them all," is the general reply of druggists when asked about the merits of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Chicago paper reports that Savannah has a flock of red-headed geese. Their favorite resort is probably beneath the shade of a white horse-chestnut tree.

Medicinal.

A BAD HUMOR CURED

EXPENDED ON DOCTORS AND MEDICINE WITHOUT AVAIL, GAVE HIMSELF UP TO DIE.

GOOD WIFE SUGGESTS CUTICURA REMEDIES. USES THEM 7 MONTHS, AND IS ENTIRELY CURED.

I was in the war during 1863-64, and took a heavy cold at Gettysburg, from which I never fully recovered. In 1875 I broke out in sores all over my chest and shoulder, which seemed impossible to cure. I tried all the famed doctors I could find, and to no avail. I expended some five thousand dollars trying to find a cure, but could not, and finally giving myself up to die, my good wife suggested to me, one day, to try the Cuticura Remedies, which were so extensively advertised and used. I followed her suggestion, and am happy to say by diligent application of your Cuticura Remedies for seven months I was entirely cured, after spending five years of time and money without avail, and am a sound and well man to-day. You may refer to me if you wish, as I will tell anyone who may call on me my experience. C. L. PEARSALL, 1 Fulton Fish Market, New York, April 18, 1890.
