

FIFTY YEARS A LAWYER.—Our neighbor James H. Rankin, Esq., was admitted to practice in the courts of Centre county at January term, 1841. He is the senior, in years, of all the practitioners at our bar, and with the exception of Ex-Governor Curtin, who was admitted to the bar in 1837, is the sole survivor of his contemporary members of the bar down to the year 1854.

He very properly concluded to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his admission by inviting the Judges and members of the bar to meet him at his house last Saturday evening. Some thirty guests assembled at 6 p. m., and partook of an elegant collation prepared by his good wife and their excellent daughter, Mr. General Hastings.

After the refreshments had been enjoyed the guests resolved themselves into a meeting over which Ex-Governor Curtin presided. Wilbur F. Reader, with a capital off-hand address, greatly surprised Mr. Rankin by presenting him with a magnificent gold watch and chain as a token of esteem from the members of the bar. Mr. Rankin was disconcerted by this unexpected demonstration of his friends, but he succeeded with a few feeling remarks to express his surprise and grateful acknowledgments. Then Governor Curtin took a hand and in an hour's talk related many interesting reminiscences of Bond Valentine, James Blanchard, John Blanchard, James M. Petriken, James McManus and other older members of the bar. He was followed by Governor Beaver, Judge Furst and others of the guests in happy congratulatory addresses, after which the company departed with many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Rankin for the very delightful entertainment.

The following was one of the regrets which Mr. Rankin received:

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Jan. 22, 1891.
JAMES H. RANKIN, Esq.
My Dear Sir—I have your card of invitation to your home on Saturday, 24th inst., on the 50th anniversary of your admission to the bar. If I could come I would surely do so, for I remember vividly yourself as a young and rising member of the bar both of Centre and Clearfield counties. I remember too with great clearness my experience as a scholar, with yourself as tutor in the Clearfield academy when you helped my fathering steps to a clearer knowledge of Euclid, of algebra and of Cæsar's Commentaries.

The pathway of life has since been dotted with many changes, sad and joyful, upward and downward, for both of us, but I feel, as I do not doubt you do, that a conscientious effort to do right under every situation in life, has been and is the most consoling thought that now revisits us.

With the kindest of memories and the heartiest of greetings in memoriam
I am very truly yours,
WILLIAM A. WALLACE.

GOVERNOR BEAVER AND GENERAL HASTINGS WELCOMED HOME.—The public meeting that was held in the court house Thursday evening of last week was a proper expression of welcome on the part of the people of Bellefonte, irrespective of party consideration, to Governor Beaver and Adjutant General Hastings, to their old home office. It was a spontaneous meeting including members of both political parties, the court house being crowded by both Republicans and Democrats.

Upon motion of Mr. Isaac Mitchell, J. L. Spangler, Esq., was chosen President of the meeting, with the following assistant officers:

Vice Presidents.—C. M. Bower, E. C. Humes, J. P. Gephart, Daniel Rhoades, J. A. McClain, John Nell, J. D. McClure, W. C. Heinle, Thomas Donachy, J. L. Runkle, C. T. Gerberich, Wm. Harper, P. G. Meek, Wm Shortridge, Jos. W. Gross, of Bellefonte borough; H. T. Lucas, B. Weber, Jno A. Woodward, D. W. Schenk, Howard; O. E. Miles, E. H. Carr, Milesburg; A. J. Grist, J. W. Barton, Unionville; W. A. Ishler, J. W. Marshall, Benner; C. P. Stonerode, T. F. Adams, A. C. Moore, Boggs; J. G. Bottorf, Theo. S. Christ, Wm. Thompson, Jr., College; Daniel Irwin, J. C. Henderson, Huston J. A. Quigley, J. I. Delong, Liberty; Geo. F. Stevenson, Patton; A. V. Miller, Thos. A. Shoemaker, M. F. Riddle, A. nos Garbrick, Spring; B. W. Stailey, Union.

Secretaries.—John Youngman, J. A. Fiedler, Chas. Kurtz, Chas. L. Gates, Fred Kurtz, N. S. Bailey, O. M. Meek, G. T. Bush, J. R. Hughes.

Governor Beaver and General Hastings were conducted to the court room by a committee consisting of Ellis Orvis, esq., J. A. Aikens, L. T. Munson and Dr. J. L. Seibert. The expression of welcome was made by J. L. Spangler, President of the meeting, to which Governor Beaver and General Hastings replied in speeches in which they told with what satisfaction they returned and again became residents of the old town between whose citizens and themselves the friendliest feelings had always existed, and from whom they had received so many assurances of regard and favor. The remarks of both were in excellent taste and happily and feelingly expressed. Speeches were also made by Messrs. J. C. Meyer, E. C. Humes, D. F. Fortney, D. S. Keller, John Blanchard and James P. Coburn, after which the hands of the two distinguished gentlemen were heartily shaken by their old friends and neighbors who had assembled to welcome them home.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—The regular January term of the Centre county court convened last week with the smallest criminal calendar that a grand jury had to deal with in this county for many a term.

Mr. J. A. Aikens of Bellefonte, was appointed foreman of the grand jury. Application was made by D. F. Fortner, Esq., for the appointment of commissioners relative to the sale of the Centre Iron Company's real estate. The court deferred action. The various county constables were called forward and their reports taken.

The criminal cases tried were as follows:

Com. vs. Samuel Cooper, surety of the peace. The defendant was charged with making threats against his wife. Mrs. Cooper claims that she obtained a divorce from her husband some time ago, and ever since he has been in the habit of making threats against her life. He followed her to Williamsport and then to Phillipsburg. He threatened to burn the house down. Cooper says that his wife is living with another man named Griffin and was thus untrue to him. The trouble was caused by Mrs. Cooper's having one of their children testified in his own defense denying that he made threats against his wife, claiming that all he desired was to recover possession of his little girl for the purpose of giving it to his parents for good raising. The Court sentenced each party to pay half the cost and the defendant to enter bail in the sum of $100 to keep the peace toward his wife for a period of one year, and to stand committed until the sentence was complied with.

Com. vs. Robert Darstine—Assault and battery. The prosecutor, I. G. Nubani, charged the defendant with having struck him on the streets of Phillipsburg. The defendant testified in his own defense, claiming that he did not commit an assault, but merely took hold of the plaintiff on authority of the constable, who was somewhat disabled and desired assistance in arresting Nubani, for whom he had a warrant. Mr. Barr, constable from Philadelphia, corroborated the testimony of Mr. Devlin. Verdict not guilty and prosecutor to pay costs.

Com. vs. Henry Pennington.—Assault and battery and indecent assault. Georgiana Beck, prosecutrix. Defendant pleaded guilty to two counts and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, cost of prosecution and imprisonment in the county jail for one year.

Com. vs. Arthur Rothrock, F. and B. Bella Heverly, prosecutrix. Defendant pleaded guilty and received the usual sentence. The Court said that hereafter all defendants under 25 years of age guilty of this crime, who may be brought before it, will be sentenced to the Reformatory at Huntingdon.

Com. vs. Charles Stewart and Peter May, Larceny. The bill ignored and county to pay costs.

Com. vs. Frank Ingram. Assault and battery. The defendant was charged with striking his wife. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of one dollar, and enter into recognizance in the sum of $100 to keep the peace toward his family for the period of one year, and stand committed until sentence is complied with.

The Grand jury in their report condemned all the water closets in and about the public premises and recommended making better arrangements for the accommodation of ladies. They recommended the removal of the iron fence from in front of the court house yard; the removal of the telephone pole down which Wilson escaped; the putting of a bath room in the jail for the convenience of prisoners, and condemned the practice of allowing visitors to go in the jail at any and all times, recommending that two days a week be set apart as visiting days. They further recommended some needed repairs in the court house.

L. F. Wetzler, for use of Wm Harper vs. C. M. Bower, administrator of John Fetzer. Without going to trial a verdict was found for plaintiff in the sum of $2013.67.

C. M. Sellers vs. Buffalo Rm Railroad Company. This was an action to recover the value of a colt that had been killed some time last spring on the road of said company. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $80.

R. V. Weaver vs. J. A. Cooper. This was an action for damages involving parties in the Phillipsburg region. On the 1st of August, 1889, Mr. Weaver, the plaintiff, drove from Osceola to Phillipsburg. While he drove up Second street and as he was turning the corner into Beaver street, he was run into by the defendant, Cooper, who was driving very fast and had his wife with him in his conveyance. Weaver also had a lady with him. In the collision both buggies were wrecked and the harness damaged. Both Cooper and his wife, and Weaver and the lady who was with him, were hurt. The horses were badly cut and sprained. Mr. Weaver claimed damages sustained to himself, to his horses, buggy and harness. He claimed that Cooper was driving at such a speed that he could not avoid being run into. Verdict for the plaintiff for $61.60.

The court finally adjourned on Wednesday, the jurors being discharged at 5 p. m., it being the shortest term the court has had in this county in a long while.

THE CENTRE IRON CO'S PROPERTY SOLD.—After a number of postponements, involving much legal intricacy, the property of the Centre Furnace Co. at this place has been sold. The purchasers being the Fidelity Insurance Trust and Safe Deposit Company Trustees, of Philadelphia, and the consideration $195,000. The purchase was made through Messrs. Weaver, Gephart and Dale, attys., of this place, Mr. Gephart acting, and the sale was consummated in two bids. First the Furnace property, proper, with appurtenances and tenements, was sold for $100,000, and then the balance, including the ore rights, etc., was knocked down at $95,000. This puts the property directly under the control of all the bond holders, as the purchasers are merely agents. Speculation has been running free on the probability of the early resumption of the plant, but Mr. Gephart would not express an opinion on the matter further than to say that by this sale a number of legal difficulties were gotten over, and, of course, in this way the condition of the Furnace affairs is put upon a much better basis.

There will be a meeting of the bond holders, in Philadelphia, on Feb. 6th, and not until then will anything definite be known. We view the sale of yesterday as most conducive to the early starting of the plant, for the bondholders now have a full and unimpeded option over the property, and their interests will be best subserved by an immediate starting up.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Following is the list of marriage licenses issued during the past week: Harvey L. Ginter and Lida Waite, both of Bellefonte; George Harvey of Poe Mills, and Nathan Nevel, of Tusseyville; James E. Poorman and Emma Walker, both of Boggs twp.; Sapirosius Reifnyder of Spring twp.; and Annie Decker, of College twp.; William Cole and Mary Meese, both of Loveville, Pa.

—Britain Steel, esq., of Tyrone, spent the fore part of the week with his many friends in this vicinity. We understand that Brit. is making quite a success of his contracting business in his new home and he deserves it too, for he is a good, honest, mechanic and knows how to handle his work with effect.

Honor to a Deceased Brother.

At a meeting of Progress Grange, held at Centre Hall, January 24, 1891, the following resolutions, relating to the death of James C. Ruble, whose sudden and unexpected demise occurred Jan. 3, 1891, were adopted:

Resolved: It having pleased the Grand Architect of the Universe to summon to a stateless and duration our worthy brother, James C. A Terrible Mine Horror.

One of the Most Destructive of Pennsylvania Accidents.

PITTSBURGH, January 27.—A special from Scottsdale, Pa., says: By an explosion of fire-damp in the Mammoth shaft of the H. C. Frick Company today eight sturdy miners were ushered into eternity, and a number seriously injured.

The explosion occurred this morning shortly after 9 o'clock and it is supposed was the result of the igniting of a miner's oil lamp. The after-damp which followed the explosion suffocated nearly every one of the workmen.

A few men realizing the awful situation fell to the ground, thereby preventing the gas from striking them. There is not a soul left to tell the story of the calamity.

The persons not killed are in such a critical condition that their deaths are hourly expected. Up to this writing forty bodies have been discovered, all without any sign of life.

The fire which broke out after the explosion was extinguished by the immense fans which were put in operation. The gas has about been driven from the pit and the work of recovering the remaining bodies has been commenced.

The Mammoth plant embraces 500 ovens, one of the largest plants in the coal region, but hard of access. It is situated near the United well, where an explosion recently destroyed the entire shaft.

The coffins have already been ordered for eighty people. Only one man escaped from the fatal mine.

It appears that there are sixty whose families are left wholly dependent on the charity of the world for support by this disaster. In fact they are almost penniless, as the plant has not been running full force for some time, owing to a decrease in the demand for coke.

Every means possible will be resorted to in order to supply the widowed mothers and children with the necessities of life. The Frick company will be liberal in this direction and it is understood that a subscription paper will shortly be started to obtain money to support the unfortunate families.

MAMMOTH, Pa., Jan. 27.—One hundred and six men were killed in the explosion. Sixty bodies have been taken out. The mine is on fire and it is feared the bodies will be cremated.

—Count von Moltke compels all the members of his household to spend at least an hour each day in the open air, even if the rain be pouring.

—The trade has hubbed the skeleton overshoes that are bound by a band about the heel as "foot-holds."
