SIMON LOEB.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

George Ulrich has been appointed Notary Public at Millheim.

Associate Judge Clark, of Lock Haven, who is a printer, gave an entertainment to the Lock Haven printers last Friday evening.

It is claimed that the post office at Aaronsburg is over a hundred years old, it being the senior establishment of that kind in the county.

The county auditors completed the work of auditing the county accounts last Saturday, after being engaged in their important labor for sixteen days.

Mr. Charles W. Cowher, a well known resident of Worth township, died at his home on the 17th inst., in the 44th year of his age, leaving a wife and seven children.

Shiloh had a musical convention last week under the direction of Prof. Meyer, assisted at the organ by Miss Annie Keller, which was attended by over a hundred singers.

The Daily Gazette made its first appearance Saturday, from the office of the Keystone Gazette. It is small in size but neat in appearance, and well filled with local news.

It is said that Dr. Van Tries intends to have a dwelling house erected on the lot adjoining his residence on Spring street, the work to be commenced when Spring opens.

The Musical Convention which was advertised to be held at Aaronsburg, February 16th, will not take place owing to the committee being unable to procure a suitable building.

The wife of Mr. Gall Herb, an aged lady of Woodward, while attending the funeral of a neighbor's child one day last week, was taken with an attack of apoplexy, from which she died next day.

Among the first official acts of Governor Pattison was the attaching of his signature to the commission of Dr. H. W. Buckingham, Coroner of Centre county, which act was done on Thursday, the 22d inst.

The most elegant, classic, highly furnished and durable pictures, from the cabinet up to life size crayons, are now being produced at Moore's Gallery. Although these pictures possess higher qualities than before, they are now, cheaper than anything of the kind made elsewhere.

Communion services will be held in St. John's Reformed church, Boalsburg, Pa., Sunday February 8th, 1891. Service every evening during the preceding week, except Monday. Preparatory service on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. All are invited to these services.

The new fire alarm signals for this town, adopted by the Fire committee of council, to be given by the steam whistle at the electric light works, are as follows: North ward— one long, one short blow; South ward, two long, one short; west ward, two short, one long.

In an experimental mood Hayes Solt, employed at a saw mill near Tusseyville, some days ago tried to discover by touching it whether a circular saw was hot while in motion, and the result of the experiment was that the ends of these fingers were sawed off. A circular saw is a dangerous thing to fool with.

Mrs. Isaac Milberger, an old and much respected resident of the neighborhood of Milesburg, died at her home near the toll-gate last Saturday evening, in the 78th year of her age. Two sons survive her, Samuel, at whose residence she died, and William, who lives near Bellefonte. She was buried at Shiloh church on Tuesday morning.

Mr. John Nolan, an old resident and well known citizen of this place, died last Saturday morning from a heart affection which had troubled him for a long while. He was 58 years of age, and left a wife, a daughter and two sons. Pleasant in his manners, he was well thought of by his numerous acquaintances and friends. His funeral took place on Monday with service in the Catholic church.

The Woman's Relief Corps of Milesburg have elected and installed the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Lavina Wyland; S. V., Lucy Watson; J. V., Nancy Kreps; Secretary, Sarah Watson; Treasurer, Annie Stonerode; chaplain, Sarah McKinley; conductor, Mary McCollum; Asst. Commander, Harriet Derr; Grand, Helen Drake; Asst. Grand, Mattie Oswald.

THE FLOOD SWEEP BRIDGES.—Of course all of us who live in the part of Pennsylvania through which the disastrous flood of June, 1889, swept are in favor of the bill introduced in the Pennsylvania Legislature to appropriate enough of the State's money to cover the amount spent by each county in the reconstruction of the bridges washed away by the flood. It is human nature. But it is a pleasure to note the fact that beyond the flood swept district there is no opposition to the proposed legislation. On the contrary the press and the people wherever heard from seem to think that it is the proper thing for the State to do. Everyone seems to recognize the fact that where bridges were swept away the individuals lost heavily, and to recover private losses they will be kept busy enough without the affliction of increased taxes to meet the enormous bridge expenses. Our saying that the measure is just one and should have the support of every member of the Legislature might sensibly be taken as an interested and partisan view of the bill, but the press and people beyond the flooded districts are coming forward now as generously as they came after the flood, and their voices are for the appropriation to help the afflicted counties recover from the great flood losses.

TEMPORARILY SUSPENDED.—The controversy between the miners and operators of the Clearfield coal region concerning the demanded advance in wages has not yet been settled, but has been suspended for further consideration, at the meeting at Clearfield last week at which both sides were represented. On the side of the operators it was contended that with the present state of the market and in the face of the contracts taken a year ago it was impossible to concede to the demands of the miners. The latter thereupon agreed to take no further action until the first day of next May when the contracts now filled will have terminated, and the present plea of the operators will have lost its force. The men will therefore continue their work during the balance of the winter and the early part of the spring, and it is hoped that in the interval the differences, real and imaginary, will be satisfactorily adjusted.

PROPOSED BAND ASSOCIATION.—We have received a communication from a committee appointed by the three bands of Renova, Clinton county, Pa., in which is proposed an organization of the bands of Lycoming, Centre, Clinton, Cameron, Clearfield and Elk counties. A meeting has been called for Renova, on February, 25th, and all bands in the above counties are requested to send one or two delegates. At this meeting a permanent organization will be effected and business transacted which will be of importance to all musical organizations within the district. The object of the association is to promote the individual interests of the bands represented, through the combined efforts of the whole, and for mutual instruction. All bands are requested to correspond with M. Doyle Marks, acting Sec. of the organization, at Renova, Pa.

WEDDING BELLS IN NITTANY VALLEY.—On Tuesday evening of last week there was a pleasant assemblage of guests at the residence of Mrs. J. W. McClintic, of Cedar Run, Clinton county, to witness the marriage of her daughter Armina to Mr. W. L. Grenoble, of Zion, Centre county. Rev. M. P. Crosthwaite, of Williamsport, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony in presence of about sixty guests. The bridesmaids were Miss Bessie Wasson, of Cedar Run, niece of the bride, and Miss Alice Grenoble, sister of the groom. The groomsmen were Messrs G. B. and E. E. McClintic, twin brothers of the bride. After the ceremony all present repaired to the dining room where supper was served. The wedding was followed by the usual bridal trip.

AN UNFORTUNATE FUNERAL.—At the funeral of Mrs. Henzie at Chatham's Run on Sunday, the undertaker, John Strausser, received a severe kick from a horse, whereby one of his legs was broken and his place was taken by another person. It is also reported that in lowering the coffin into the grave one of the straps broke or slipped in some way, by which accident the casket was precipitated to the bottom. The occasion seems to have been one of misfortune all around. —Lock Haven Democrat.

AN APPLICABLE FAMILY.—Fred Lamade was out with a sleighing party on Thursday night and had the misfortune to fall and break his right arm near the wrist. His brother Louis, at Altoona, is suffering with a broken arm, his brother Dietrick has just become the father of a new baby, and his mother is suffering with a bad attack of rheumatism. —Phillipsburg paper.

PLENTY OF RAW MATERIAL.—Bellefonte is to have a mammoth brass works that will employ from 700 to 1,000 men. Most of the brass used will be extracted from the countenances of the leading Republicans of that place. The supply is inexhaustible. —Lock Haven Democrat.

Mr. David Butts, of East Linn street, has recently been seriously ill.

Rumor has it that the Centre county temple of justice is used as a place for card playing.—Is it true, your Honor?

W. R. Smith, esq., of Pine Grove Mills, was one of the crowd that represented this county at Governor Pattison's inauguration.

The recent musical convention held at Pine Grove Mills netted one hundred and seventy-five dollars for the Lutheran church of that place.

The children's savings bank, in the Phillipsburg public schools, is swelling in deposits right along. The little ones have already laid away $389.02 for safe keeping.

W. I. Fleming has sold his tailoring establishment in this place to Mr. Chas. Levan, an employe of the establishment. We wish both parties unbounded success in their new ventures.

Wm. E. Gheen's cash grocery is nicely fixed up in his new quarters next door to this office. Ed. Powers is back again in his handsomely remodeled room and now all we want is a first class dry goods store down here and this end will be fixed.

A well known lumberman of Williamsport predicts that in four years there will not be enough logs run into that city to pay for the hanging of the boom. He says that the pine in this country is about exhausted and that whatever timber is to be cut will be done by portable mills on the tracts worked.

The butchers of Ocoala, Phillipsburg, Morrisdale, Kylesport, Munson's Mill and Peale, held a meeting at Phillipsburg on Thursday night and organized a "Butchers' Protective Association," being compelled to take some measures to stop the indiscriminate credit system which has become such a nuisance as to almost ruin some of them.

The marriage of Miss Carrie M. Quigley, of Blanchard, to Wm. Dodge Horne, of New York city, will be celebrated in Beech Creek on Feb. 10th, at high noon. A reception will be given at the bride's home. Miss Quigley is the eldest daughter of Capt. J. A. Quigley, one of the most influential citizens of the Bald Eagle Valley.

Last Saturday night Villa, a two year and a half old child of Mrs. Samuel Musser, formerly of Bellefonte, but now a resident of Altoona, died at the residence of Mr. Joel Johnson, of whipping cough. Mrs. Musser came here some time ago to visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, and was taken with a very serious attack of illness, from which she recovered. The death of her child is a great affliction in which she has the sympathy of her friends.

On Tuesday morning we received a communication, which had been mailed at Hubersburg Post Office, but as no name was signed to the article we could not publish it. We might say right here that all communications must be accompanied by the full name of the writer and then if he or she does not want the article published over a full name, we will withhold it. We must know to whom an article can be ascribed before we will publish it.

On Wednesday afternoon as one of Bellefonte's young business women was driving to her work she found it necessary to stop at a stationery store, whereupon a gay young knight jumped into the unhitched fairy gig and made away with it. Upon his return the whip was missing and of course the young woman couldn't drive without a prop, so the boy is stuck $3 for a ride round a square. The girl laughs significantly when asked if she had a whip in her cart before he started.

Mr. P. S. Burrell, proprietor of the Clement House at Sunbury, and manager of the Cameron House at Lewisburg, deserves the great popularity he has attained as a landlord. He has the qualities necessary for a successful manager of a public house, and to them is to be attributed the extensive patronage of the two hotels which are under his management. He is attentive as to the wants of his guests, kind, good natured and gentlemanly. Parties who attended the funeral of Hon. A. H. Dill, at Lewisburg, were the recipients of his hospitable attention, and greatly appreciated it.

The amount of money that passed through County Treasurer Goss's hands during his three years term of office gives an idea of the financial resources and expenditures of Centre county. Of county funds he handled $129,682.91, and in addition to this there came into his hands $51,253.54 of township funds for poor, road and school purposes. Other sources of revenue brought the following amounts into the treasury under his charge: Liquor licenses, $3,400; mercantile licenses, $3,853.15; breweries and distilleries, $1000; billiard and pool tables, $910; peddlers, $200. From these various sources the total amount that came into his hands was $193,381.59, all of which was faithfully applied to its lawful purpose and correctly accounted for.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AT PINE GROVE MILLS.—The Institute, held by the State Agricultural Board, at Pine Grove Mills, on Monday and Tuesday, the 19th and 20th of this month, was a gathering of which the people of that vicinity have reason to be proud. An able body of instructors and a large and highly entertained number of attendants at every session, were the requisites that made up an Institute at which the instruction received was almost invaluable and the entertainment highly beneficial to the farmers of that district.

The Academy Hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the artistic effects having been produced by the Ladies' Committee, and at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, when the speakers, headed by Hon. Jno. A. Woodward, made their appearance, the old Hall certainly presented a very attractive spectacle. W. H. Fry, chairman of the Local Committee on programme, called the meeting to order and Mr. Woodward was immediately chosen as permanent chairman. The new presiding officer took the chair and made a neat little talk on the responsibility of presiding over an assemblage in which the "bone, muscle and intellect of our farmer friends" were so largely represented.

On motion Wm. E. Meek, J. B. Mitchell and A. J. Tate were elected Vice Presidents, and W. H. Fry, Secretary.

Rev. A. L. Miller made the opening prayer. Rev. C. T. Aikens delivered the address of welcome. The reverend gentleman in his earnest and pleasant style bade and made everybody feel welcome and share the hospitality of the town during the Institute meeting. The response was made in a few well chosen words by R. S. Searle, member from Susquehanna county. The rest of the morning session was taken up by J. K. Murry, member from Montour county, who delivered a most able and instructive lecture on "Systematic Farming." He urged the necessity of good education and enforced his ideas with a pleasing eloquence.

The afternoon session was opened by a chorus and then Dr. Wm. Frear, Prof. Agr. Chemistry and Vice Director of the Exp. Station at the Penna. State College, was introduced. His talk was on "Commercial Fertilizers," and being an experimenter in all grades of fertilizing and thoroughly acquainted with the needs of Centre county soil, from frequent experimental observations, his remarks were appreciated. Two spicy little talks on the way farmers should live and what should be their aim were then heard from R. S. Searle, member from Susquehanna county, and Mrs. M. A. Miller, representing the Centre Grange. Rev. Geo. Elliott then told the people the kind of a farmer he would like to be, and the afternoon session was over.

The crowded session of the evening was opened by Rev. A. S. Miller with an earnest exhortation, "Boys don't leave the Farm," in which he portrayed the life of a husbandman as the most enviable of lives. "Economy as applied to farming" was the theme discussed upon by A. P. Young, of Columbia county. Mr. Young is not a believer in luck as a producer, but thinks if one would put a p before it and then use the word as a motto, a large and well paying harvest would be garnered. The next speaker was Ex. Rep. and Grand Master of the State Grange, Leonard Rhone, whose talk was upon "Taxation as it affects Farms," and a very able effort it was. "Dates and privileges of Township officers," by D. F. Portney, from a legal stand point. From this platform Dave made his maiden speech and very naturally too he reminded his hearers of the many associations of his school boy days together with his associates, when President Lincoln called for men and he was one of the boys who left his Mary Jane and Pine Grove Mills to answer to Uncle Sam's roll call.

The principal officers to whom he addressed his remarks were the Supervisors of roads and the District School Board, all the members of which should have been present. In the strongest language he set forth, in detail, the duties of the various township officers. His speech, though it struck sore points in many instances, was one of the traits of the Institute. The session was closed with "the old Yellow Pumpkin," a funny little song, sung in a funny little way by Mr. A. C. Sisson, and the audience was dismissed, bearing with them pleasant thoughts of the first day's work in agricultural education at Pine Grove Mills.

On Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock the work was continued, and it seemed, from all appearances, that people must have been gathering all the night before to hear Col. Wm. Shortridge, of Bellefonte, Pres. of the Centre county Agr. Society, talk on the "Growing and Making of Hay." The Col. is a pleasant talker and caught his audience from the start with the practicability of his statements on hay farming. "It is and can be made the most profitable crop of the farm," said he, "and good hay is always in demand at good prices." Mr. Shortridge is a great friend of the farmers of Ferguson twp. and they always welcome him warmly, but it appears that some old maids in the meeting wanted to interrupt his address and talk themselves on "Woman's rights." The chairman, however, not recognizing their rights, one of their number immediately began to wreak vengeance by "spooning" a helpless old bachelor, who, as fate would have, was sitting near.

Prof. Geo. C. Bultz, Ass. Prof. of Horticulture at the Penna. State College, followed with an interesting talk on "Among our Fruits." And A. C. Sisson, of Lackawanna county, continued the line with "Small fruits, from planting to eating," a subject that in every way was well handled and expounded. Mr. Sisson being a practical fruit raiser, his remarks had the ring of assurance that adds so much to their acceptance as facts. Adjournment until 3 o'clock.

Promptly Chairman Woodward called the house to order for the afternoon session and the choir opened with a pretty rendition. Mr. J. F. Ailman, of Juniata county, lecturer of the State Grange, addressed the meeting on the "need of better educational facilities within reach of farmers' sons." His was a practical talk in which he urged the adoption of the graded school system in the country districts. The theme was continued by Prof. Hunt and Dr. Groff in very instructive talks.

Joel A. Herr, member from Clinton county, concluded with "Wastes on the Farm," a practical talk of interest to every one.

The evening session was taken up by J. W. Carter, "How farmers' sons obtain an education;" Dr. G. G. Groff, President of the State Board of Health, "Causes of sickness on the farm;" and the chairman concluded the work of the Institute with a breezy little speech, on general principles. Every one laughed and was happy. Not because the end had come. Oh! no, for all regretted that the end of so pleasant and instructive a meeting was so near at hand, and were unanimous in declaring it to have been the most enjoyable two days gathering that Pine Grove had ever had. The chairman extended the hearty thanks of the Board to the kind people of the community who had been so hospitable in their manner, and then the following resolutions were read and adopted:

Resolved, That we highly appreciate the value of this first Farmers' Institute held in our community, and render our thanks to the State Board of Agriculture for having provided the same, and hereby request the Legislature to increase the appropriation for this purpose in order that Farmers' Institutes may be held in all parts of the State. Be it further

Resolved, that we tender our most hearty thanks to the choir for the very elegant music rendered on the occasion. Also to the District School Board for the use of building for holding the Institute.

Resolved, that we hereby request the general assembly to so amend the dog laws that they shall effect the destruction of useless animals and protect valuable ones, and more effectually provide for the payment of losses by the destruction of sheep by dogs. Be it further

Resolved, to request the Legislature to provide State aid for the building of permanent roads in the several districts of the State without creating an army of State officials whose salaries would absorb the funds thus appropriated.

WHEREAS, the present tax laws are grossly unjust to the agricultural interests, therefore

Resolved, that we demand of the State Legislature such revision of the tax laws as will require personal and corporate property to contribute on an equality with the real estate and farms of Pennsylvania.

The above are but extracts taken from a most comprehensive report of the Institute made by our staff correspondent. We are sorry that want of space prohibits the publication of his article in its entirety.

TWO WESTERN VISITORS.—Mrs. Anna D. Roller, wife of Mr. J. S. Roller, of Prairie Home, Ill., is visiting old Centre county friends for a few weeks.

Mrs. Roller will be remembered as a Miss Dale, but has lived in the west for many years, her husband having made a complete success of business in their far away home. She says she thinks it is the nicest place in the world to live. Strange to say, when she left her home, only two weeks ago, there had been no snow there and the roads were dusty, but since arriving a letter from Mr. Roller informs her that they had a slight fall of snow, which soon disappeared however. We wish her a pleasant visit and a safe journey home.

Another westerner, who is spending a few days with his brother, in this place, is Thomas Kirk, who has lived in Barr Oak, Kansas, for quite a number of years. At one time he was interested with his brother Dr. Miles Kirk, of this place, in the drug business here, but not liking the location he went west, where every venture he made has been successful. He returns to great Centre county friends as a physician of repute, a bank director, and a blooded stock raiser, having gained quite an enviable position since leaving here. The Doctor is accompanied by his little son, and they stay with his brother on West High st. He has been a very pleasant one.

The finest and largest line of Foreign and Domestic woolsens for suitings and overcoats ever shown by us. Full assortment of Ready Made clothing Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods. MONTGOMERY & Co. Tailors.

KILLING DEER OUT OF SEASON.—It is stated on reliable authority that Centre county parties have been killing deer on Beech Creek, this county, near the county line. A deer, minus the hind quarters, was found a few days ago near where these violators of the law had been camping, and the heads of several other deer were discovered in the woods. Who are the guilty parties? If discovered they should be prosecuted. —Lock Haven Express.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Clarence W. Bowen, Secretary of the Committee on the Centennial of Washington's Inauguration, 251 Broadway, New York, desires information regarding the portraits of Thomas Fitzsimons, Thomas Hartley and Thomas Scott, Members of Congress from Pennsylvania. These portraits, for the Memorial Volume, are particularly desired, to complete the list of portraits of the Pennsylvania delegation in Congress at the time of Washington's Inauguration.

DESTRUCTION OF A VALUABLE BARN.—The mammoth bank barn belonging to Mr. David Mease, living near Blue Ball, was totally destroyed by fire at about seven o'clock on last Saturday evening. There was also about one thousand bushels of grain of different kinds lost, together with a lot of hay, straw, farming implements, etc. We have not learned the origin of the fire, or whether there was any insurance on the barn and contents, or not, but the loss to Mr. Mease will be very heavy. The reflection of the blaze could be distinctly seen at this place. —Phillipsburg Journal.

Elias Keys, a flagman on the depot shifter, in Tyrone, was accidentally killed, while switching some cars there, on Wednesday noon. He leaves a wife and nine children.
