Bellefonte, Pa., February 27, 1891.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As I contemplate a change in my business, by the 1st of March, I now offer my entire stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods regardless of cost. This is no humbug, but a straight offer.

SIMON LOEB,

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

—Thomas R. Benner, of this place, has been granted a pension.

—The settlement at State College is taking legal steps to be converted into a borough.

—Seven thousand young trout were put in the Nittany valley streams last Friday.

—Philip Steiner, of Lock Haven, has been granted arrears of pensions amounting to $3,000.

—The streams in this part of the State are being plentifully stocked with trout from the State hatcheries.

—Dr. J. W. Rhone is slowly recovering from the effects of the fall by which he was injured some weeks ago.

—There are several cases of scarlet fever in Bellefonte. It is to be hoped that this scourge of the children may not spread.

—The annual encampment of the G. A. R. at Altoona this week was attended by a number of Bellefonte Grand Army men.

—Dr. P. S. Fisher, of Zion, on Monday lost a horse which he valued highly, it having died in consequence of an accident.

—Musser & Son will continue their closing out sale of shoes through several weeks in March. A special sacrifice sale this Friday and Saturday.

—There is some talk of buying the Greenoble hotel building at Spring Mills and converting it into a classical school with Prof. D. M. Wolf at the head of it.

—It is said to be the intention of the borough authorities to widen Water street from Potter's livery stable to Lamb street, and provide it with a board walk.

—Miss Mary H. Bishop, of Williamsport, one of the lady teachers sent to Europe last summer by the Philadelphia Press, is raising a dancing class in Bellefonte.

—J. W. Gephart, Esq., and family are moving from the residence they have occupied for several years on Allegheny street, to the house of A. G. Curtin jr., on Curtin street.

—Miss Gertrude Gheen, who recently made a great hit as a dramatic reader in Philadelphia, is a niece of Mr. L. C. Brinton, of Phillipsburg and has visited at his house in that place.

—The Glee Club of Franklin and Marshall College will appear in Garman's Opera house on Thursday evening, April 25th, in the interest of the Reformed church choir of Bellefonte.

—Mr. Miles Kephart and wife have moved from Unionville, to Bellefonte and occupy two rooms in Orler's Exchange. This movement was rendered necessary by Mr. Kephart's large pension business.

—The remains of Edward Casett, who was killed in the railroad accident at Milesburg, were buried at Lock Haven on Wednesday morning by the Knights of the Golden Eagle, of which order he was a member.

—A war play entitled "From Sumpter to Appomattox," will be performed at Howard on Saturday evening (tomorrow) by residents of that neighborhood for the benefit of the P. O. S. of A. of that place.

—Prof. Bonbright and wife, of Philadelphia, who have been connected with Bellefonte for the past year as teachers of elocution and music, are going to change the scene of their usefulness to Washington, D. C.

—The County Commissioners of Clinton county have brought suit against W. K. Hogan and E. L. Gallagher to compel them to refund the money alleged to have been overpaid them on the contracts for stone work done on the Island bridges near Lock Haven.

—Mr. James Scurfield, of Phillipsburg, mine boss at Coaldale No. 5 colliery, has suffered greatly by the hand of death. About two years ago three of his children died within two weeks, and another died some three weeks ago, followed by his wife who died last week, leaving him with five children to take care of.

—A little boy in Lewistown thought it would be pleasant amusement to play being a letter carrier. He accordingly secured a bundle of old love letters that his mother had kept since her courtship days, and distributed them from house to house through the neighborhood. What befell Tommy when his enterprise was discovered can be readily imagined.

SUDDENLY KILLED ON THE RAILROAD.—Last Monday morning Edward Cassett, a resident of Lock Haven, and fireman on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, was suddenly killed at Milesburg by an accident to the 530 passenger train coming from Lock Haven. As the train was coming to the Milesburg station the front wheels of the engine struck a stone that was wedged in the frog of the switch at the crossing, and immediately left the track, going to the left, smashing several freight cars that were on the siding. The fireman Cassett at the time was engaged in putting coal on the fire. The jar occasioned by the engine striking the stone and leaving the track, threw him out against a coal car and his body, rebounding, got under the engine. It required some work to extricate it from the wreck, but when it was recovered life was entirely extinct, the head being badly cut, the body almost cut in two with the intestines protruding. The remains after being taken in charge by undertaker Harris, of this place, were sent to the family of the unfortunate man at Lock Haven.

The engineer, James Hensley, stuck to his post until the train came to a stop and was not injured. The passengers were severely jolted but none were injured. From appearance the stone was put in the frog intentionally by some malicious person, as from its situation it could not have gotten there by accident. It was a hard blue limestone about the size of a man's head. As the road is level it could not possibly have rolled there. It was taken to Tyrone and the company will investigate the circumstances. Cassett was a young man of about 28 years of age, having a wife and one child. He had been firing on the Tyrone division for about two years. He is spoken of as having been a very reliable employee.

THE LEHIGH VALLEY RAILROAD.—The opinion of most people who are posted on railroad affairs, is that there is likely to be considerable railroading done in this section in the near future. The decision of Judge Metzger, of Williamsport, giving the Williamsport & North Branch Company the right to enter that city leads to the supposition that the Lehigh Valley Company which is in reality the backer of the W. & N. B. R. Company, will now push on towards Pittsburg. The Williamsport Sun says: "The Lehigh Valley Company have their eyes on Bellefonte and it is generally understood that when they once get their eyes on an objective point they never rest until they reach it. Aside from the immense advantages which would accrue to the company from a through line to Pittsburg, which is by no means a small consideration, the Lehigh have interests along the line which are anxious to develop. They own some 14,000 acres of valuable coal land in the Snow Shoe region and about 7,000 acres in the vicinity of Punxsutawney. They are now operating the Snow Shoe mines, and are compelled to pay the Pennsylvania company for hauling the coal to the eastern market at the latter's own figures."

A GALA WEEK AT BOALSBERG.—The last musical convention of the season was held at Boalsburg the week beginning February 9th and ending with a grand concert on Friday evening. The attendance exceeded all other conventions of the season. It was well attended by strangers and was considered by all a grand success.

There were three sessions each day with one hundred and sixty singers, and each session was crowded. The proceeds amounted to one hundred and seventy-six dollars and twenty-five cents.

The people of Boalsburg know how to entertain strangers and make them comfortable, and our friend Adam Hess deserves praise for making things comfortable for all who attended the convention. Prof. Meyer is one of the best musical directors in this part of the State, and when he takes hold of anything in the musical line it is certain to be a success, as this and all other conventions in different parts of the county are evidences.

THE STORY OF A CAPTIVE.—The court house was filled by a large audience on Saturday evening to hear General B. Frank Fisher, of Philadelphia, tell the story of his captivity in Libby prison. Although an old story, the incidents with which General Fisher was personally connected were interesting, and would have been thrilling if he were more of an elocutionist. Judge Furst presided over the meeting, and ex-Gov. Curtin, James Milliken, esq., Mr. Edward E. Humes and General Hastings were prominent in the audience. Col. McCauley sang the "Sword of Bunker Hill" with great effect, and an interesting feature of the exercises was the presentation of a flag to Gregg Post by the Women's Relief Corps, General Hastings making the presentation speech and D. P. Fortney receiving it on behalf of the Post.

Judge A. O. Furst has purchased the old Weaver farm located on the Jacksonville road. The sale was made by Mr. J. C. Weaver of this place.

Fish Warden Naugle at Phillipsburg received from the Erie hatchery last Friday morning four cans of trout fry, numbering about six thousand. They were deposited in Cold stream, near Bean's dam.

—The high water of last week seriously interfered with the mining operations around Phillipsburg. The mines on the B. C. R. R. were entirely flooded, requiring some time to get them in working order again.

—A fellow named James Brennan, from Phillipsburg is in the Bellefonte jail for beating his wife and children and driving them out of the house. The law is defective in not providing whipping posts for such brutes.

—Reuben C. Hale, son of Mr. W. W. Hale, of Phillipsburg, died last week at Reading where he was being educated at Bishop Howe's school. He was nearly 21 years of age and was taken with a malignant attack of diphtheria.

—Among the speakers at the reception of the Christian Endeavor in the Presbyterian chapel last Friday evening was Prof. Batts, of State College. An interesting play was performed by a number of young folks. The evening wound up with refreshments.

THIRTY-SIX COWS BURNED TO DEATH.—The barn on the dairy farm of Mrs. Young, near Williamsport, was destroyed by fire Saturday night and the building and contents were valued at $9,000. Thirty-six cows and five horses perished in the flames. There was $5,000 insurance.

—A great many of the cellars in town are flooded, caused by the recent rains, some having from four to five feet. It illustrates very forcibly that Phillipsburg is sadly in need of better drainage and sewers to carry off the water.—Phillipsburg Journal.

—Mr. Evan Thomas, who recently died at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. George Williams, near Lehigh, at the age of 82 years, was a widely known citizen of the county. His father, Thomas Thomas, was one of the earliest settlers of this county.

—The Methodists of Lock Haven have determined to arrest the loafers who make themselves obnoxious by hanging around their church doors during services. Something of the kind should be done in Bellefonte, particularly to those who make nuisances of themselves on the sidewalk at the United Brethren church.

—The first rats of the season arrived yesterday, and last night there were five rats tramped up at the Lockport shore. The first pair came in at half past nine o'clock in the forenoon. They were "spars" owned by A. W. Patchin, and came from Patchinville, thirty-six miles above Clearfield.—Lock Haven Express of Monday.

—The 72d birthday of Mr. Henry Harmon, of North Thomas street, was celebrated last Friday by some twenty-five of his neighbors and friends calling on him and his excellent wife, bringing with them a number of presents and the material for a sumptuous feast. The visit was as unexpected as it was gratifying to the old people.

—The license court will be held on the first Tuesday in March. There are 29 applicants for license to sell liquor in the county, and the anti-license people are preparing for a vigorous fight against their liquid enemy. Bellefonte is being scoured for signers to petitions protesting against the granting of licenses. During the past year there were nineteen places licensed to sell liquor.

—A correspondent, formerly a resident of this county but now residing in Washington, writes us as follows: "Mr. Kerr's chances are very bright for being selected as the clerk of the next House. He is very popular and has made a host of friends during his short time here. Congress will soon adjourn, then peace will reign in Warsaw. You meet so many from Centre county here that I sometimes think I am back on my native heath."

—The United Brethren congregation of this place were delayed in getting the pews for their new church for which they had contracted with a firm in Michigan, and when they did come they were found to be the wrong ones. It was an intention not to accept them, but the agent came on and upon an agreement that certain alterations would be made, the congregation has agreed to take them.

—Owners of cows and horses have realized during the past winter that Cotton Seed, Gluten and Linseed Meal are more valuable, according to the cost, for feeding stock, than any other supplies for this purpose. Messrs. McCalmont & Co. have received a liberal patronage for these meals, and consumers are convinced that they receive more value for their money than is realized out of any other class of feed. We refer our readers to the advertisement of Messrs. McCalmont & Co., which more fully explains the advantages to which we refer.

FURNACE MATTERS.—News that will interest those who are interested in Bellefonte.—In the last issue of the WATCHMAN we promised to give our readers something definite about the condition of the two large iron furnaces which are now idle in this place. Ever since their closing down, the one at the hands of the sheriff, the other forced to do so by the exorbitant freight tariffs, conjecture has been running rife as to the prospects of resumption.

THE CENTRE IRON COMPANY.—When the large furnace of this company was closed by the sheriff about the 15th of last November, with judgments against it aggregating about $24,000, and when later the Fidelity Insurance, Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of Philadelphia, sued out the $600,000 mortgage which they issued in 1885, the business aspect of our town met a severe blow, and when we remembered that the indirect cause of the company's difficulty was attributable to an article which appeared in the Philadelphia Times and whose authorship is accredited to one of our own citizens, the failure seemed especially disastrous.

When the property went into the hands of the receivers, who held it in trust for the bondholders, immediate steps were taken to effect a reorganization. The litigation involved in so large a transaction has now been about cleared up and on Friday last there was a meeting of all the bondholders, held in Phila., for the purpose of electing a permanent board of directors. Nothing definite was done, however, further than to appoint the temporary board which has been in session here every day since last Tuesday. The capital stock has been increased to $650,000 and the bondholders of the defunct Centre Iron Company are to receive stock in the new Valentine Iron Company to the extent of the bonds held by them. The permanent board of directors will undoubtedly be Hon. Jas. H. Campbell, of Wayne, O. H. Reighard, of Williamsport, Chas. W. Whigham, of Reading and Hon. Daniel Rhodes, Rob't Valentine and J. Wesley Gephart, Esq., of this place. This board will outline the future policy of the company, and as their powers will be practically absolute it will bring the business into good working shape.

Our informant would not say anything definite as to when a resumption could be looked for, but he left us to infer that it is the policy of the company to put the works in operation just as soon as the arrangements are completed and the time will be not far distant.

THE NEW RAILROAD.—The closing of the Bellefonte Furnace Company awakened the business people of this town to a realization of the fact that she can not prosper without a cheap means of transporting her products to the eastern markets. Consequently the "new railroad" bill was set rolling, but this time so great has been the momentum given it that it is beginning to assume very substantial aspects. The leaders of the movement are most sanguine of the result and though not prepared to make definite statements as yet, they have informed us that everything is in a very promising condition. The trend of such gigantic movements is naturally slow; so all we can do is wait a little while and if reports be true we will see our extension of the Beech Creek & Reading system materialize.

There is one thing definite we can say about the proposed extension, and that is, if the road is built it will give us a competing line, for it was thought by some, at first, that even should the road go through, the desired competition in freight tariffs would not be had as the articles between the P. R. R. and the Vanderbilt system, which were signed last fall, would not permit a cut in freight. We have positive assurance, however, that this will not be the case and if the Buffalo Run and Beech Creek Roads are connected we will have all the competition we want.

THE BELLEFONTE FURNACE COMPANY.—We had expected to be able to give something definite on the condition of affairs out at the Bellefonte Furnace Company's Works, but information was not forthcoming and we prefer to say nothing rather than news that is not fact. All statements published above are from the most reliable sources and have been gleaned by our correspondent from interviews with those who are in positions to make statements that can be counted on as authentic.

A HANDSOME MILLINERY.—A growing trade and a desire to better her accommodations for her many customers has prompted Mrs. Robt. Gilmore to move her millinery store into the room in the Aiken's block next door to Bunnell & Aiken's music store. She is handsomely fixed up in the new quarters and now presides over the finest establishment of its kind in Bellefonte. The new room is much larger and better lighted than the old one was, and the facilities for displaying the many pretty things in the millinery line are of the best. Mrs. Gilmore opens such a line of hats and bonnets for the spring trade as has never been seen in our town.

—Messenger Waddle now drives a new express horse.

—Look up the ad. of muslin underwear sale at the Cash Bazaar.

—The United States Fish Commissioners, in a visit to this part of the State, passed over the Bald Eagle Valley railroad on Monday.

—Mrs. J. A. Aikens returned from a week's visit to the State Capital on Tuesday morning. She was accompanied by Mrs. A. A. Witter, of Tyrone.

—The Evangelical church at Unionville will hold a chicken and waffle supper this Friday evening. Ice cream and cake will also be served. Proceeds for benefit of Sunday school and to help pay pastor's salary.

—It is the intention of the W. C. T. U. to have the famous Lambeth's Scotch Choir to appear as the last entertainment in the Star Course, on the evening of March 6. Their Scotch music is highly spoken of.

—Last Friday afternoon the old and faithful horse that for a number of years has drawn the Adam's Express Company's wagon through the streets of Bellefonte died suddenly on East Linn street. The horse during the morning had fallen twice on the street from spells, from which he recovered. After taking his feed heartily at noon he was taken out again by Messenger Waddle, and opposite E. T. Tuten's house on Linn street he fell again and this last attack proved fatal. He is said to have died of heart disease.

—The lumbermen of Clearfield lost a great deal of timber which went adrift in the flood of last week and have sent men down the river to arrange for the care and delivery of all lost timber to market. They have had notices printed and sent out to this effect. Senator W. W. Bets thinks that one half the lost timber will lodge before it reaches Lock Haven, and about one fourth of the logs will do likewise. The losses will not be as great as was at first reported, and will be generally distributed over the county.

Plows.—Plowing was almost one of the last acts until the celebrated South Bend Chilled Plow was invented and brought into practical use. Franklin said: "He that by the plow would thrive, Himself must either hold or drive."

When Franklin penned the above lines he certainly did not anticipate that the South Bend Chilled Plow would ever exist, for the reason that, with the South Bend Plow, a boy who can drive the team can man the plow and execute the best mechanical plowing.

This plow is certainly a great boon to the farmer, because his boy can fulfill the place of a man. Another good feature in this plow is that it costs less money. Notwithstanding Messrs. McCalmont & Co. are sole Agents for the sale of this celebrated plow in Centre county, Pa., they have voluntarily reduced the price of the plows, as well as cut at least one-fourth off the price of the repairs,—certainly farmers will be pleased with this announcement.

They have a large stock on hand in their capacious warehouses where they take great pleasure in explaining to farmers the great advantages embodied in these plows,—in short, they have no competitors.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Monday last young little Gross Mingle, the bright young son of Wm. B. Mingle, Esq., Cashier of the Centre Hall bank, was playing with some powder which he and one of his playmates had in a bottle, it exploded, burning Gross's face in a painful manner. Fears for his eyesight are entertained. As he has not opened them since the accident occurred it is not known whether they are seriously injured or not. We sincerely hope that the fears may be unfounded. His face was so badly burned that most of the skin came off, but this was rather fortunate, for had it not been thus he would probably be powdered marked for life.

SEEDS.—Messrs. McCalmont & Co., are now receiving a full assortment of choice field and garden seeds. They purchase the most of their garden seeds in bulk, such as beans, peas, sweet corn and many other seeds, which enables them to sell at much lower prices than those put up in papers by the seedsmen.

This firm has had long experience in the seed business and they certainly enjoy an enviable reputation for selling what they represent, as near as possible for those to do who are engaged in the business.

Their Choice Re-cleaned Clover Seed always bears the sharpest inspection, which is a recommendation to them as being competent judges of seed as well as trustworthy dealers.

Small onions or Onion Sets are now in demand for which this firm pay cash. 4t

—There are over two hundred and fifty applications for licenses filed in Cambria county; twenty-five more than the county now has licensed horses.

—Appropos of the temperance movement it might not be out of place for us to say that the lady who carried the petition out on Methodist Hill did not get a single man to sign against the granting of licenses.

THE FIRST PATIENT.—John Janahko of Houtzdale, was admitted into the new hospital, at Phillipsburg, on Monday last, he being the first patient. Through the falling of coal in the mine he received a compound fracture of the left leg, and it is a bad case. Drs. Allport, Lytle and McGirk treated the case, and through them and Miss Fisher the patient is progressing favorably.

—The finest and largest line of Foreign and Domestic woollens for suitings and overcoats ever shown by us. Full assortment of Ready Made Clothing, Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods. MONTGOMERY & CO. Tailors.

—William Derstine, son of John Derstine, of Bellefonte, is now making arrangements to join Forepaugh's circus which will soon start out on its summer tour, and with which he was last season in the capacity of advance trumpeter.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT. We—have made arrangements with Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., publishers of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," which will enable all our subscribers to obtain a copy of that valuable work free by sending their address (enclosing a two-cent stamp for mailing same) to Dr. B. J. Kendall Co., ENOSBURGH FALLS, VT. This book is now recognized as standard authority upon all diseases of the horse, as its phenomenal sale attests, over four million copies having been sold in the past ten years, a sale never before reached by any publication in the same period of time. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity to obtaining a valuable book. It is necessary to mention this paper in sending for the "Treatise." This offer will remain open for only a short time. 35 49 10t
