

A LICENSE THAT SHOULD BE GRANTED.

The licenses granted thus far by the Court were filed in the Prothonotary's office on last Monday. All the old applications were granted and two new licenses were awarded to Phillipsburg. We have no desire to find fault with the court in this matter, but are of the opinion that if the traveling convenience of Phillipsburg requires five hotels Bellefonte should surely have four. No doubt Phillipsburg needs all the licensed houses it now has, to accommodate the traveling public, and we feel safe in saying that the farmers and people of our county generally, who need hotel accommodations, are strongly in favor of a hotel license for the Cummings House, applied for by Gottlieb Haag. This application was held over, but we still hope the court may see its way clear to grant this license.

That this hotel is a public necessity is shown by the sentiment of the farmers of this county. It is a public necessity, and private prejudice and personal pretensions should have no weight.

Bellefonte is the county seat; people come here to transact their business from all over the county; they are drawn as jurors; they must come and should have hotel accommodations convenient for them.

The farmers and people of Centre county should be made welcome in Bellefonte. They should be induced to bring their produce here and be made feel that it is their county seat and should take an interest in it. They will not disturb the peace and quiet of any of our streets, and if there should be a little more stir and business in our town no good citizen will object.

DEATH RECORD.—On Monday the 9th inst. Mrs. Jane E. Wasson died at her home near Lemont. Deceased was about sixty years of age and had been a constant sufferer for several years. Her interment was made on Wednesday.

Henry Gares, father of chief of police Wm. Gares and an old man who at one time figured as a local expressman, died at his home below the Nail Works at four o'clock Wednesday morning. He had suffered with dizziness for about four years and his death was caused by that dread disease. Aged sixty-six years and eleven months, he leaves three children to mourn his loss. The funeral took place on Thursday at two o'clock. His remains were buried in the Union cemetery.

The two year old son of Mr. John Hull died at his home on Tuesday night about eight o'clock. The little boy had been sick for some time with a disease which entirely baffled the skill of the four physicians who were called in. None of them could find out what was the matter with him, even up to the time of his death. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of a large circle of friends. His funeral took place on Thursday at 2 o'clock.

On Wednesday night between 12 and 1 o'clock, all that was mortal of Mrs. Jno. Roan, of Coleville, departed this life and took on immortality. She had been sick for several years and death was caused by something like consumption. Five children and a husband will mournfully follow the remains of one whom they loved and honored to her grave on Saturday at 10 o'clock.

Mr. John Miller, an aged citizen of Loveville, this county, died, at the residence of Mr. John Wilson, on Friday last. Deceased was 82 years of age and had been a consistent member of the Methodist church.

ANOTHER WILSON.—The "Day Express" on Wednesday afternoon brought officers P. F. Mann, of Punksatuney, and R. R. Chambers, of Big Run, Jefferson county, who had in charge a man whom they thought to be the escaped murderer Wilson. The bird they had with them bore a slight resemblance to our "Billy," but he was not he—ain't this last expression funny? It's English though—dressed in a frayed out suit, a full (?) back overcoat and a silk hat of a somewhat questionable style. He presented a rather grotesque appearance as the escort conducted him jailward, where he registered as Mr. P. F. Burnett, tight rope walker, trapeze performer and maker of lamp chimney cleaners. The officers who had him in charge were somewhat disappointed at their mistake. However, they deserve the thanks of Centre county for their efforts to return a convict to justice.

TWO FOREIGNERS COMING.—Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Lyons of Bishop street, are preparing for the arrival of Mrs. Lyons, two brothers, Frank and Edward Green-slade, who are expected to-morrow, Saturday. They are both distinguished English gentlemen, the one holding a responsible position in London, while the other acts as one of the Queen's high functionaries, in the Bank of England, in New South Wales, Australia.

Phillipsburg is up in arms against a fellow who the Ledger says "is living with two wives under one roof." Why, you dear souls, we have lots of fellows over here who live under the same roof with a dozen or more wives, and stranger we haven't a single married man.

Lock Haven is already beginning to make preparations for the firemen's convention to be held there in September next.

Mr. Will L. Furst, of Princeton College Class '91, is one of the editors of the college paper, "Red and Blue," University of Pennsylvania.

There will be services in the United Brethren church on Sunday the 14th. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. All are invited to attend.

Frank Braden, the Cambria county man who murdered his wife in Johnstown, on the 20th of last August, is now on trial at Ebsenburg. Judge Furst is presiding.

The composing room of the Lock Haven Express office was scrubbed out on last Saturday and the Democrat says it is now fully four foot further to the ceiling than it was last week.

Mr. Sol Peck, one of Nittany's best citizens, was in town on Wednesday and gave us a call. He is anxious to see the Beech Creek road extended, but he wants it to go down Nittany Valley.

Bellefonte is not the only place which is suffering from the lack of trade. We hear the wail of newspapers, all over the land, as they deplore the depressed business conditions of their towns.

What has become of Bellefonte's Board of Trade? Why don't it waken up and do something for the town? Invite new industries to locate here and offer inducements that cannot be resisted.

Mr. Harry Seibert, a former Bellefonter who was identified with several of our meat markets, has purchased a half interest in an establishment in Clearfield. Harry has been working in Phillipsburg for some time.

Among our many pleasant callers this week were Messrs. J. S. DeHaas, of Howard, Edmund Sunday, of Penna. Furnace, Edmund Poorman, the merchant of School House crossing, Mr. J. H. Gates, of Warrior's Mark and G. D. Hoover, of Snow Shoek Intersection.

While workmen were engaged in making the improvements on the Hepburn House, in Williamsport, the walls fell burying five of them under tons of brick, wood and mortar. Fortunately none of the men were fatally hurt, though their escape was miraculous.

Mrs. Royer, wife of Jacob Royer, who lives near Centre Hill, while laboring under temporary dementia took a dose of "Rough on Rats" from which she died on Monday morning last. The deceased leaves a husband and seven children to mourn the sad loss of their mother.

According to the Millheim Journal commissioner Goodhart is about to embark in the implement business. The skating rink in that place has been rented for a store room and the new firm of Kline & Goodhart will soon be before the public with an extensive line of farming implements.

According to a German statistician there are 3,985 paper mills in the world, and of the 1,904,000,000 pounds of paper turned out annually, half is used for printing—600,000,000 pounds being required for newspapers alone, the consumption of which has risen by 200,000,000 pounds in the last decade.

The Misses Sterrett, two Minneapolis young ladies who have been attending the school of design in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Robinson, of Westport, are visiting at the home of Col. Wm. Shortridge on South Thomas street. They are here only for a few days and the Colonel's family are making their short stay very enjoyable.

Spring, the season which causes nature to decompose and absorb all accumulated waste of the winter's frost, is severely trying the constitutions of humanity. To provide against these radical changes and for one's own comfort and happiness, go to Seehler & Co. and purchase your groceries, as he keeps none but the best and purest, therefore the healthiest.

The Zion Normal and Classical Institute, under the Principalship of Prof. S. H. Ditzel, of Lancaster, Pa., will open April 13th, 1891. From present appearances there will be a large class and quite a number of students from other sections will be attendance. We congratulate our friends down at Zion in the enterprise they display. Catalogue can be had by addressing Dr. P. S. Fisher.

Among the attractive features which the ladies will present at the entertainment in the Y. W. C. T. U. rooms in Crider's Exchange this Friday evening, will be a winter symphony, a sleigh-bell carnival, banjo solos, and vocal music of all kinds. Ice cream will be served and a "Jack Horner" pie cut for the occasion. Admission only 10 cents. It is worth the price of admission to hear Frank Morrow, the renowned banjo soloist.

A GREAT FARMERS' PROJECT.

The Farmers' encampment and exhibition at Mt. Gretna, Lebanon county, last summer, was generally acknowledged to have been a great and gratifying success, and it was not open to the objection of having interfered with the success of similar enterprises in the state. Such a favorable result has encouraged the determination to enlarge its features as a great farmers' gathering and jubilee, and for this purpose its promoters held a meeting at Lebanon on Monday of last week in which the interests of the Farmers' Alliance, Patrons of Husbandry and Agricultural Implement Exhibitors Union were jointly represented.

After permanent officers were elected it was resolved that the exhibitions should be continued and it was agreed that a Farmers' encampment should be held at Mt. Gretna some time during next summer. Col. William Shortridge, of Bellefonte, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the following which were unanimously adopted:

That the name of the organization shall be known as the Mt. Gretna Farmers' Encampment.

That the officers of the organization shall consist of a president, three vice-presidents, one secretary, one general manager and an executive committee of nine persons who shall be chosen annually as the encampment may direct; in addition to whom the president and general superintendent of the Cornwall & Lebanon railroad shall be members ex officio of all committees.

In compliance with these resolutions the following officers were chosen:

President—James G. McSparran, Lancaster county.

Vice President—H. C. Snavely, Lebanon; Col. James Young, Middletown; J. R. McFarland, Dauphin county.

Executive Committee—E. E. Kent, Lancaster; J. R. McFarland, Dauphin county; Wm. Shortridge, Centre county; Dr. S. P. Heilmann, Heilmannville, Lebanon county; John Britton, Dauphin county; E. O. Hassler, Dauphin county; J. A. Eppler, Lancaster county.

Ex-officio Officers—James G. McSparran, D. F. A. Correll, Ned Irish.

It was decided to open the encampment on Sunday, August 16th, 1891, with religious exercises, and all farmers and organizations of farmers are invited to participate in the encampment.

It is not the object of this organization, as some may imagine, to in any way antagonize the Williams Grove or any properly conducted Grangers' picnic. On the other hand, it is intended to build up and sustain all branches of interests represented, such as the Patrons of Husbandry, the Farmers' Alliance, agricultural implement manufacturers and dealers in the same, as well as manufacturers of all kinds. Instead of attempting to tear down any particular organization this new venture will use all its efforts to build it up. With this object in view it should and without a doubt will succeed in doing great good to farmers and their best interests all around. No friend of agricultural advancement will withhold his favor from such a project.

AN OLD PAPER AND FRED. WARD.

In glancing over "The Critique," a little paper which was issued by the students of the Bellefonte Academy, of the date, June 19th, 1873, we noticed on the list of students the name of Ferdinand Ward, Genesee, N. Y. Our readers will remember him as the junior partner of the great Wall street firm, Grant, Ward & Co., who figured so extensively in the finances of the United States during the years 1883 and 1884. We wonder if he ever gives his academic alma mater a thought or draws a contrast between the halcyon school boy days spent here and the ones he is now spending in Sing Sing. At one time Bellefonte took pride in the fact that Ferd had designed to attend one of her schools, but where is the glory now since the Napoleon and bank wrecker has fallen?

Pine Grove Mentions.

Indications now are that the coming first of April will bring about the usual change of residents in our town and township.

Mr. Wm. Clover, of Marshall county, S. D., formerly well known here, is now paying a hurried visit to this section. He first located in Michigan, from where he went to his present home seven years ago and is now the owner of a large farm, where he expects to stay. He boasts of a good wife and two bright children, a girl and boy of nine and seven years.

One of the most pleasant and joyous entertainments was the one at the home of Robert Meek last Friday evening where all the young folks of the vicinity assembled to show the high esteem in which Mr. Meek and family were held by their old neighbors. All present were royally entertained and during the evening refreshments were served. The occasion will long be remembered as one of social enjoyment to all who had the pleasure of being present.

Last week when sleighing was in order and mirth reigned every where, two of Millin county's prominent stock men put in their appearance and for a time had a rollicking good time. One of them while enjoying a sleigh ride in company with two young ladies, and while shoring on the lines to exhibit the speed of his horse, the trio were overtaken in a snow bank. The driver threw up his hat and the horse and sleigh were soon out of sight. Thomas could have made good use of a telephone to ascertain the whereabouts of his horse and sleigh in the darkness of the night. The following day they returned to Millin county and reported stock scarce.

The generous hearted citizens of our town and vicinity assembled at the Lutheran parsonage last Wednesday noon. After some arranging the line of march began, with Rev. C. T. Aikens at right of column. Calling a halt at the residence of Mrs. Lucretia Musser, on Main street, to the surprise of the old lady they unceremoniously entered and for a time it seemed as though her tables would break down with good and useful things. The wood house was also well filled, and bags of potatoes and sacks of flour were stacked in the pantry. The gifts were not limited to any congregation, but were participated in without regard to church or creed. Occasions of this kind are of frequent occurrence when some family is made glad by the charitable people, not so much an account of the intrinsic value of the gifts, but because of the expression of kindness and good will.

Mr. James Oliver, one of the best known men of Snow Creek Valley, died of paralysis on the fifth inst., at his home, surrounded by his family. Two daughters and two sons and an aged sister survive him. Mr. Oliver was a native of Ireland, born in 1815 in the county of Derry. In 1830 he set sail for America and landed in Millin county, where he found employment as a farm hand with Mr. Campbell. In 1841 he married Margaret Campbell and located on the Campbell farm in this township, now known as the Forting farm. In 1844 he bought a farm near Graysville where he had accumulated considerable wealth by his untiring energy and industry. He was a most devout member of the Presbyterian church and was always a shining example of faithfulness and consistency. For the last fourteen years he was blind, but was well enough to go about and was always doing something for the cause of christianity and suffering humanity. He had a wide connection and the name of his friends was legion. His was a character pure and elevated, and he was known for his keen humor and wit, for his courteous and affable manners and for his excellent conversational powers. Even in his advanced years he possessed a most remarkable and retentive memory. Possessed of a loving nature, he was always cheerful and generous toward all with whom he came in contact. His remains were interred in the Graysville cemetery on the 7th inst., where he was laid to rest by his wife. His only old time friend, Rev. David Campbell, paid the last tribute, having his remarks on the text: "To be gathered in a sheaf of corn in his son." Heberling and Smith had charge of the burial, which laid out of sight one of God's noblest work in an honest man.

Nittany Nubbings.

Dr. Limebaugh has been mourning the loss of a shepherd dog.

Geo. S. and John Shank, of Howard, so journeyed here last Sabbath.

Miss Nellie Johnson, from Walker, was visiting friends in our community.

Auctioneer McClintic's grand is taxed very much at present by the great number of sales pending before him.

A spelling "bee" will be held at Zion, (this Friday evening, 13th) to determine the best speller of our township.

The Nittany Valley Turnpike Co. have increased their rates of toll, also lowered the salary of "gate keepers" to twenty-four cents per day.

The scholars of Franklin were frightened last week at the sight of "old kit" falling in the creek head foremost. By their timely assistance she was rescued.

A wedding occurred last week at the residence of Sam. Dorman, in Snydertown, the contracting parties being his daughter Ida and William Showers, also of this place. Rev. Diehl officiated. The groom is a model young man and we hope they may both be blessed during life with pleasant "little showers."

The singing at Snydertown, which was conducted by Prof. Weaver of Pine Grove, closed last Saturday evening. Before dismissal a vote of thanks was tendered him by the class.

This was not all the appreciation shown him while here. At the closing session of his convention resolutions were read by A. Proctor and afterwards adopted by the class. Prof. Weaver deserves much credit for the earnestness manifested for the advancement of his pupils in vocal music.

S. A. Martin has moved to his fine residence in Snydertown.

Won by Americans.

In the Queen's last word contest, Dr. Edmund T. Stevens, of Buffalo, N. Y., won the first prize of a free trip to Europe and $200 in cash, and Annie L. Turner, of Deposit, N. Y., secured the special prize of a handsome Shetland pony.

The publishers of this well known Magazine have decided to offer one more competition, and to the persons sending them the largest lists of English words (of not less than four letters) constructed from letters contained in the three words, "Dominion of Canada," they offer many useful prizes, including $750 in cash, Shetland ponies, China Dinner Sets, Gold Watches, French Music Boxes, Portiere Curtains, Silk Dresses, Mantle Cloaks, etc., all to be awarded strictly in order of merit. An elegant Silver Tea Service (valued $50) will be given each day to the persons from whom the largest list is received that day from the State in which they reside. The object of this Special Daily Prize for each State is to increase the interest in the Queen's competitions in every locality in the United States. Those desiring to contest for one of these valuable prizes may start on their list at once, but send six U. S. 2c. stamps, and receive last number of the Queen with full particulars before forwarding your list.

tell through a bridge at Mapleton, near Huntingdon, on Tuesday morning and was instantly killed. He had stopped his engine on the bridge and in stepping off to the coping he missed his footing, falling a distance of sixty-two feet to the rocks below. Deceased was 56 years old and a highly respected citizen as well as a trusty employe.

Books, Magazines, etc.

An illustrated paper on the Nicaragua Canal, giving an account of the progress and present condition of that enterprise, will form one of the attractive features of the forthcoming number of Harper's Weekly, to be published March 13th.

Grace L. Furness, author of those very popular parlor farces, "A Venetian Savage" and "A Box of Monkeys," will contribute a similar play entitled "Tulu," to the number of Harper's Bazar published March 13th.

Charles Dudley Warner's new book, Our Italy, a superbly illustrated volume describing the climate, physical features, and resources of southern California, is nearly ready for publication by Harper & Brothers.

Walter C. Dohm, the well-known Princeton College athlete and amateur half-mile champion, will contribute to Harper's Young People a series of three articles, on "Running and Runners." The first of these articles, which will appear in the Young People for March 10th, will be on "Sprinters" and will contain portraits of some famous runners. The other two articles will be on middle-distance and long-distance runners.

Mary E. Wilkins' stories of New England village life have won for her an enviable reputation on both sides of the Atlantic. Her new book, A New England Year, Other Stories, is announced for early publication by Harper & Brothers, and will doubtless achieve a success similar to that of her first volume, which not only received the plaudits of the English critics, but has been reprinted in Edinburgh and translated in Paris.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte P. O., unclaimed, March 9th, 1891.

Johnnie Alexander, Minnie Davidson, E. Dickler, Della Emery, Laura Hutchinson, G. W. Johnston, Dock Kirk, A. E. Lewis, James Lusk, John Marton, W. A. Murray, Jessie Shaker, Emma Thompson.
