

Democratic Watchman.

Bellefonte, Pa., March 20, 1891.

To Correspondents.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—As I contemplate a change in my business, by the 1st of March, I now offer my entire stock of clothing and gents furnishing goods regardless of cost. This is no humbug, but a straight offer.
SIMON LOEB,

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY.

—Just opened, new spring goods at the Rochester Clothing House.

—The farmers of Clearfield county will hold an institute at Clearfield on the 26th inst.

—C. Ira Krebs, Esq., a young law student of Clearfield, contemplates locating in Utah.

—Mr. William Zeller, after a long siege with painful carbuncles has resumed his duties in his handsome drug store on Allegheny street.

—George Gross, the veteran hunter and fisher of Bellefonte, went to the mountains one day last week and succeeded in shooting two big foxes.

—The jury has been summoned for the trial of young Cleary at Lock Haven for murder, at the special court which will convene on April 27th.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Valentine and one of their daughters, who have been sojourning in Baltimore during the winter, had a serious attack of the grip.

—Mr. John Noll moved his family this week to the house recently occupied by J. W. Gophart, Esq. The removal is to permit the alterations which are to be made to their old home.

—A colony, numbering over twenty persons, has been formed at Curwensville, with a view of locating in the west. Among the number are some of the best people of that neighborhood.

—The quarterly meeting in the United Brethren Church of Bellefonte will begin on Saturday evening of this week, 21st and will continue Sunday and Sunday evening. Rev. C. W. Wasson, of Tyrone, will be there.

—Death has been busy near Coburn, this county, in removing to a better world Mr. Isaiah Rider who died on Thursday of last week, and Mrs. Alice Eppard, daughter of Moses Stover, whose death occurred last Friday.

—Miss Maize R. Graham started this morning for New York city to be under instructions in one of the largest and most fashionable millinery establishments—will return about April 7th with a full line of Spring millinery.

—C. M. Parrish, the druggist, is having a plate glass front put into his store on the corner of Allegheny street and Cherry alley. The improvement will materially enhance Mr. Parrish's place of business and make it one of the nicest little stores in town.

—United States Marshal Dill, of Lewisburg, who recently died in Philadelphia, was a member of the Royal Arcanum and his wife recently received $3,000 from the Supreme Treasurer of that fraternal order. Mr. Dill was wise in his day and generation.

—The county commissioners have contracted with the Logan Machine Works of this place for the remodeling of the plumbing in the Centre county jail, embracing a closet in each of the twenty cells, changes in the bath room, and other necessary work.

—The property of the Young Mens Christian Association of Bellefonte is advertised to be sold by the Sheriff. On account of the decrease in receipts which commenced some four years ago, the Association got gradually into debt, and it became hopelessly involved by the expense of erecting a gymnasium. Mr. Gault, the builder, has a claim of $250 which he is pushing.

—That jolly, whole-souled prince of good fellows, I. J. Dreese, of Lemont, was in town Tuesday night. Irv is talking about moving south. We hope his mind will be changed, for if he goes the railroad company would lose a valuable employe and the Democrats of College township one of the staunchest exponents of Jacksonian principles that they have.

—Last Saturday morning while Mr. James Noll while engaged in making repairs at Auchenbachs bakery on Bishop street, was holding a piece of timber in which another man was driving a nail, the hatchet glanced, causing the nail to fly and strike Mr. Noll in the eye. It was thought that permanent injury was done, but we are glad to learn that the sight of the eye may be saved.

—Miss Dora M. Edmunds, daughter of Mr. Thomas Edmunds, was married at the home of her parents in Aaronsburg, Thursday evening of last week, to Mr. Calvin A. Weaver, Rev. George E. Adams performing the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives, and the Aaronsburg band, of which the groom is a member, furnished a serenade.

BURGLARS IN TYRONE.

—The burglars who were operating in Bellefonte may have shifted the scene of their operations to Tyrone where some fine work in their line was done last week. On Thursday morning about three o'clock they entered the residence of W. L. Hicks, on Cameron street in that borough. They ransacked the first floor and then went up stairs. Here they first entered the room of Miss Snowden, but overlooked her jewelry and therefore took nothing. They next entered the bed room of Mr. and Mrs. Hicks. Here they succeeded in getting Mr. Hick's gold watch, some finger rings, gold bracelets and other small articles. They also took Mr. Hicks' coat containing twenty dollars and many valuable papers.

Mrs. Hicks, likely caused by a slight noise made by the marauder, wakened up just in time to see him disappear from the room. The lady was so badly frightened that she was unable to arouse her husband for some time, so the burglar had time enough to make good his escape. When Mr. Hicks was awakened he got up, turned on all the lights and searched the house, but the burglar had already escaped.

At the corner of Juniata and Ridge streets some of Mr. Hick's valuable papers were found, among which was a check for $1600, which, however, would have been no use to the burglar as it was not endorsed. Mr. Hicks cannot exactly estimate his loss, but it will in all probability amount to about seventy-five or one hundred dollars.

DANGER FROM ELECTRICITY INVESTIGATED.—Some time ago the different insurance companies which are represented here sent, an inspector to Bellefonte to see if the electric wires were safely put in the public buildings and private dwellings so as to prevent the danger from fire. Upon investigation he found that a majority of the buildings were wired in such a way that at any time they were liable to catch fire. After leaving Bellefonte he thus reported it to the association which he represented which said that unless these buildings were re-wired the insurance would be taken off them.

Mr. Kitson, the superintendent of the Electric light plant here, went to work and put the wires through these buildings so as to insure safety from fire. Another expert examiner was here this week and went over the same ground and found everything all right except the court house and that will be re-wired as soon as possible.

A PRAYER PROMPTLY ANSWERED.—Just as Rev. J. L. Eberly, a United Brethren preacher conducting a revival meeting at the Brush Ridge school-house, Huntingdon county, had reached his favorite phrase, "O Lord, shower down Thy blessings upon us," in his opening prayer last Saturday night, the audience was startled by a drenching downpour of water from the trap-door immediately over the kneeling clergyman, saturating him through and through. A temporary check was given to the services by this sudden fulfillment of the preacher's invocation, until it was discovered that the downpour was occasioned by mischievous John L. Smith, a 15-year old boy, who had secreted himself in the attic before the meeting with two buckets of water.

EDUCATIONAL RESOLUTIONS.—At the Teachers' District Institute held in Millheim last week it was resolved that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should have some form of compulsory education, that the members of the Legislature be notified of the same, and that "while we favor that part of the act now before the Legislature, making it compulsory on boards of directors to furnish books for the use of pupils free of cost to the parents, we nevertheless emphatically enter our protest against that feature of said act which requires the State to publish said books, and that we request our members of the legislature that if the objectionable feature can not be removed they oppose the entire bill."

THEY ARE AFTER HIM.—The Crawford county authorities are after Gustav Bentley, of Randolph township, who has been arraigned on a charge of cruelty to animals in having sheared 175 sheep in February. Bentley claims that he is fattening them for the market, and that they are easier to keep and increase in weight faster when shorn of their wool. The accused waived a hearing and was bound over to answer at the next term of court. Bentley was a candidate for sheriff in 1878. How would he have liked it if some one had taken his clothes off in February and exposed him to the winter's storms?

VALUABLE BREEDING HORSE.—Jacob Ricker returned from Centre county where he about completed negotiations for the sale of one of George Good's celebrated Percherons, famed the world over for the many points of superiority, their chief attractive useful claim being their magnificent physical structure. The horse in question was imported from France by Paul S. Hague, of Pittsburg, and is valued at $3,000. He is a dapple gray in color, and, as may be imagined, is a "horse as is a horse."—Lock Haven Paper.

—The improvement in Col. Wilkinson's, China Hall, has made it one of the prettiest stores we have.

—The Rev. Dr. Laurie, of the Presbyterian church, having been granted a leave of absence, will visit his "ain countrie." The doctor will go about the last of June and remain about three months.

—The United Brethren of this district will hold quarterly conference in their new church, corner High and Thomas streets on Saturday and Sunday of this week. Rev. Wasson, of Tyrone, will preside.

—Mr. Calvin A. Weaver and Miss Dora M. Edmunds, of Aaronsburg, were married in that place on Thursday of last week. The Rev. Geo. C. Adams officiated. The WATCHMAN's best wishes are tendered the young couple.

—Bellefonters will have an opportunity of seeing Miss Lee Lamar, the beautiful and accomplished actress, on Monday night the 23rd inst. She will appear as star in the play—"The Farmer's Daughter"—which has given her so much note.

—Miss Lee Lamar, with beautiful costumes, costly diamonds and a fine support will represent the "Farmer's Daughter," a drama replete with humorous and pathetic situations, in Garman's Opera House, on Monday night, March 23rd.

—Mrs. Eliza Thompson, late wife of Mr. William Thompson, of Piddington, this county, died at her home in that place on Monday evening. She was sixty years of age and had been a constant member of the Lemont Presbyterian church. Interment was made in the Branch cemetery on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Thompson was a woman noted for her church work and benevolent undertaking.

—The Central Pennsylvania Methodist Conference, which closed its session this week at Sunbury, has 335 ministers and a lay membership of 51,400. Within its councils are employed many of the most active and talented ministers, and its membership shows in gifts and efforts results that rank it among the most useful and prosperous. The statistics presented in the reports of Presiding Elders show a steady and substantial increase all along the line.

—Thursday night of last week between one and two o'clock thieves attempted to rob the residence of Joseph Fox on East Bishop street. They broke in on one of the cellar windows and were about to enter when a dog in the cellar gave the alarm and wakened Miss Rosa Fox and afterwards her father. They both went to the window and saw a man running through J. C. Showers' lot. On examination they found the cellar window open and the glass broken out of the sash, but no further damage done.

—Bellefonters will be interested in knowing that Miss Annie Swartz, the youngest daughter of Dr. Geo. M. Swartz, was married to Mr. Cassell, of Scranton, on Tuesday evening last. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. R. Van Ormer, in Coatsville. The happy couple arrived in Bellefonte yesterday morning and are the guests of Miss Ida Gyrbrich on south Thomas street. When a girl here Annie was much admired for many excellent traits and Mr. Cassell is certainly to be congratulated on his choice of a bride.

—The case of Boyd Gilmore, of Altoona, the boy who killed his uncle, Hugh Stewart, on the 13th of last November by striking him on the head with a base ball bat, was brought before the Blair county court at Hollidaysburg last Friday. His honor Judge Dean, thought if the boy had used a knife or revolver against his uncle, it might have been a case of murder in the second degree. A base ball bat is not necessarily a deadly weapon. The jury after listening to the argument on both sides, decided that there was not enough evidence to convict the boy, and rendered a verdict of acquittal.

—Mrs. John Roan, who died at Coleville last week, was about 65 years of age and favorably known to the community in which she so long resided. She was for many years a consistent member of the Presbyterian church and died with an abiding hope of everlasting life. She left a husband and five children to mourn their loss. Her children are Edward and William, who live at Coleville, Mariah, wife of Andrew Tate, and Hattie, wife of Win Whitmer who lives up Buffalo Run, and Margery, wife J. N. Olinger, of Coleville. The brothers and sisters of the deceased are Joseph Marshall of Buffalo Run, Miss Marshall and Mrs. Hannah Longwell, of Bellefonte. She has a great many friends and relatives living in the West.

SALE OF HOUSEHOLD GOODS.—There will be sold at auction, on Saturday, March 21, beginning at 10 a. m., all household goods of the undersigned, consisting of bed room, dining room and parlor suits, two double hesters, tables, chairs, dishes, etc. A. STERNBERG, 129 East High St.

LUCKY GIRL.—The daughter of the editor of the Clearfield Raftman's Journal, Miss Alice McQuown, was one of the lucky prize winners in the Canadian word contest, and she was delighted to receive a beautiful $35 silver tea service. This shows that good rewards attend those who are not afraid of mental work.

SMALL POX.—The Clarion Breeze wants it understood that there have been no cases of small pox at Johnsonburg, as has been reported. There are several cases at Clarion Junction, a village near Johnsonburg, but the people of the latter town have cut off all communication with the stricken settlement, save to extend to the sufferers all the help that neighborly kindness could dictate.

THE CAMBRIA COUNTY MURDER CASE.—Last Friday, in the Cambria county court, Judge Furst presiding, the court announced that the defendant, John Breden, charged with killing his wife, had withdrawn his plea of not guilty, leaving the degree of the murder to be determined by the court. The jury was then discharged. The court decided that under the evidence the crime was murder in the second degree. The prisoner was sentenced to five years imprisonment. In the case of Commonwealth vs. George Hooftagle, charged with the killing of Thomas Burk, the jury returned the verdict of not guilty.

AN ENGINEER HURT.—Early yesterday morning Engineer Lebkoeck, of the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, who is a stranger here and unacquainted with the locality, brought his freight train up from the lower yard to the station, where he waited for orders while the fireman ran on a little distance up the track with the engine. When he was ready the engineer started to regain the engine on foot, but fell in the culvert at the nail mill and was badly injured, among his other hurts being a broken nose. He was taken to Bellefonte where his injuries were attended to.—Lock Haven Democrat of Monday.

BRIDGE REIMBURSEMENT.—Thursday of last week Representative Quiggle and Hon. John U. Shaffer, of Clinton county, had a hearing before the Judiciary General Committee of the House and made arguments in favor of certain amendments to the bill now before the committee for the reimbursing to counties by the State of the cost of the rebuilding or reconstruction of county bridges destroyed by the floods of 1889, so as to include other bridges which the counties were compelled to rebuild as suggested by the Clinton county Commissioners. Final action upon the bill was postponed by the committee to a future time.

OUR COUNTY JAIL.—A few days since, in company with others, we went into the county Bastille. We were not allured there by its tempting couches and easy chairs on which to repose the weary and careworn body. What we saw within those prison walls inclined us to believe that the last grand jury made but a partial report of the condition of the county prison, calculated to mislead the public mind in regard to the true state of affairs in and about that public building. That report says: "We have inspected the jail and find the floor broken in cell No. 6, leakage in watch hall roof."

This is all they seem to have found to be in need of repairs, when in fact the building is in a bad state of dilapidation. We were not there in the capacity of a sworn officer to examine and make known to the Court and Commissioners what in our judgment was needed to make that prison secure and healthy. But we did look around a little to see what curiosities might be lurking in that noted fortress. To be plain, there is not a single cell in that building fit for occupancy. The floors are all rotten and broken in holes sufficiently large to admit a man's foot, and were they open below any prisoner could soon escape through the cellar way. The ceilings, which are of wood, are so rotten that to strike them with a cane renders one liable to be buried in the decayed debris that is thereby detached. The waste bowls are all broken off the pipes and otherwise damaged, so as to keep the floors and walls constantly saturated, and the air so polluted that it would not surprise us to hear of some contagious disease breaking out up there. Was it politics or lack of common sense that led the outgoing Commissioners to thus neglect a public building? Had they expended a few dollars judiciously, and at a proper time, the present Board would not have been called upon to put thousands of dollars in repairs on this one building.

It would repay every taxpayer when in town to visit and examine this penal institution and thus convince themselves that the Cheap John Board of Commissioners not only drained the treasury, but put the county in debt, and had they kept the jail and other county buildings in decent condition the debt, instead of being $5,267.63, as reported by the last Auditor's statement, would be at least $10,000.

A LOSS TO BELLEFONTE.—Tuesday evening, March 17th, a number of Bellefonte's prominent citizens assembled at the residence of Mr. A. Sternberg, on East High street to pay respects to a family which has long held a position of esteem in our town.

Mr. Sternberg came to Bellefonte in 1860. Embracing in the clothing business in a little 8 by 10 room on the corner immediately east of Achenbach's jewelry store, he built up a trade far beyond the capacity of his room. Two years later he moved into more commodious quarters in the old Arcade building and was burned out by the big fire of Jan. 21st, 1864. Ever since that time he has acted as manager, head salesman, or occupied to his honor other responsible positions with a number of our largest clothing establishments.

In 1875 Bellefonte bestowed upon him her highest honor—that of mayor—and his election was specially complementary when it is known that he was chosen over his Republican opponent S. S. Lyon, esq., in a largely Republican town. In 1884 he was indorsed by the town for Register, but owing to the disruption in his party about that time he failed at the nomination. He has always figured prominently in political circles and the Democratic party of Centre county will lose a staunch exponent when he leaves.

During his residence here a family of eight children was reared in a manner that any parents might be proud of, Israel his oldest son, is now city editor of the Lowell, Mass., Daily News, the leading daily paper of that city. Max was head baker for Jos. Cedar, on Allegheny street. Paul creditably filled the position of 1st assistant clerk under post master Dobbins, and the younger sons hold nice positions in stores in this place. His eldest daughter Miss Columbia married Mr. Samuel Lichten, at one time a prominent clothier of our sister town, Houtzdale, and is now living in Allentown. The other daughter, Miss Rose, will go west with the family.

Paul, Max and Harry are already in Seattle and have procured a home for their parents who will leave on Monday, March 20th, carrying with them the good wishes of everyone who knew them. Every member of the family will be missed in Bellefonte, each in their respective circle, but the familiar face and straightforward manner of Mr. Sternberg, or "Sterny" as he is popularly called, have left an impression on the minds of Centre county people which will, ever and anon, revive the pleasant recollections of one whose honor and integrity will insure respect in whatever place he may locate. God speed to you and your family, and may you have your full measure of success.

—New clothing, new hats, new furnishing, everything new for the coming season is now opened and ready for your inspection at the Rochester Clothing House.

—Mr. T. B. Jamison, one of the prominent figures of the lower end of Penns valley, who has been recently living in Altoona, proposes returning to his old home at Spring Mills.

—The finest and largest line of Foreign and Domestic woollens for suitings and overcoats ever shown by us. Full assortment of Ready Made clothing Hats, Caps, and Furnishing Goods. MONTGOMERY & Co. Tailors.

—Some person living down in Penn's Valley sent treasurer Gramley $12.00 on Monday. The sender, whoever he was, had killed game out of season and sent the lawful fine in order to ease his conscience. Commendable deed.

—Children's suits in immense quantities and the very prettiest of styles, at the Rochester Clothing House.

Too Much.—His honor, Judge Furst, of Bellefonte, presided at a murder trial in Bellefonte last week, the criminal being John F. Braden.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Hasn't Centre county enough murderers of their own without shoving the bloody criminals of other counties on to her?

—Boys suits, suits for small boys, large boys, young boys, old boys. In fact we have clothing for all kinds of boys at prices which will surely please you. Rochester Clothing House.

—Miss Fanny Twintire returned to her home in this place on Thursday morning. She has been attending the Millersville Seminary for young women and acting as an assistant instructress.

—Black chevot suits, in sacks or cutaways, single or double breasted, in a dozen different qualities at the Rochester Clothing House.

—Messrs. Frank and Edward Green-slade, the two distinguished English gentlemen whose coming we announced last week, are at the home of their sister, Mrs. Wm. Lyon, on Bishop street. Mr. and Mrs. James Scarlet, of Danville, are among Mrs. Lyon's visitors also. Mr. Scarlet is one of Montour county's prominent attorneys.

—Shirts—white shirts, summer flannel, madras, satens—in all colors and styles—just opened at the Rochester Clothing House.

—Read Fauble's new advertisement this week. It is a very nice statement of the manner in which he does business.

UNDER THE PALMS.

—This beautifulatorio cantata will be rendered by the Lutheran Sunday School of Centre Hall, on Saturday evening, March 29th. It is an illustration of the Jewish Feast of the Tabernacle, or Harvest Home, and is replete with sweet music and pretty effects. An effort is being made to make this the finest thing of its kind that has ever been given in Penn's Valley. The people of Centre Hall are somewhat noted for the work they put on any proposed entertainment; so a performance of superior order can be expected. Remember the date is Saturday evening, March 29th; the place, the Lutheran church at Centre Hall, and the price, 20 cents for adults, 10 for children, and little ones under six years of age will be admitted free.

—It is authoritatively stated that C. K. Sober, the crack marksman of Coburn, is going to have a Buffalo bull shipped from Nebraska. It is his desire to cross it with the cattle here in order that his stock will be improved. It is a very creditable move as it is a well established fact that this cross improves the meats well as increases the value of the hides, which are specially desirable for robes.

PABST BEER.—The bottling establishment of P. R. Young sells it to every dealer. It has medicinal properties and highly recommended for invalids, nursing mothers and delicate children. Besides he has pure unadulterated liquors and wines of all brands. The guarantee with every sale is my reputation.
36-B-3c PHILIP R. YOUNG, Prop'r Lewistown Bottling Work.

Seeds.
Messrs. McCalmont & Co. are now receiving a full assortment of choice field and garden seeds. They purchase the most of their garden seeds in bulk, such as beans, peas, sweet corn and many other seeds, which enables them to sell at much lower prices than those put up in papers by the seedsmen.
This firm has had long experience in the seed business and they certainly enjoy an enviable reputation for selling what they represent as near as possible for those to do who are engaged in the business.
Their Choice Cleaned Clover Seed always bears the sharpest inspection, which is a recommendation to them as being competent judges of seed as well as trustworthy dealers. Small onions or Onion Sets are now in demand for which this firm pays cash. 38 84

Sale Register.
For the benefit of those who contemplate making public sale during the coming season, we will keep a register of all sales within the county as fully as possible, examination of which will be free to all.
