"On one occasian the fireman swore that he saw the man picking up his bones along the track; but of course there was nothing in that. But for six months afterwards, as long as I remained on the road, I imagined I could hear the shriek and feel the engine jump when we got to that place. I suppose it was all imagination, but I could not help it all the same."

Power of Habit.

I have read of men who have acquir-

a young man of my acquaintance who actually acquired what was for a long time an uncontrollable taste for tincture of aloes, one of the bittesest substances in or out of the pharmacopæia. He had been addicted from the childhood to the disagreeable habit of biting his finger

On this occasion excursion tickets will be sold from all principal stations on the Pennsylvania System on July 3d and 4th, valid for return until July 6th, The rates which will prevail are exceedingly low. Round-trip tickets will be sold from New York at $5, Philadelphia, at $3, Washington at $3, Canan-daigua $7.50, Pittsburg $7.50, and at proportionately low figures from other stations.

The regular train service will be available in most cases, but special service may also be provided, due notice of which will be published later.

The Paaable of the Rats.

A Scotch paper gives us a forcible temperance lecture in the following parable. We would like to shake hands with that bright boy:

A laborer at the Dundee harbor lately told his wife in awakening, a curious dream which he had during the night. He dreamed that he saw coming toward him, in order, four rats. The first one was very fat, and followed by two lean ones, and the rear rat being blind. The dreamer was greatly perplexed as to what might follow, as it has been un-derstood that to dream of rats denotes coming calamity. He appealed to his wife concerning this, but she, poor wo-man, could not help him. His son, a sharp lad, who heard his father tell the story, volunteered to be the interpreter. "The fat rat," he said, "is the man who keeps the public house, that ye gang till sae often; the twa lean anes are me and my mither, and the blind ane is yerself,

How Women Rest.

How differently men and women indulge themselves in what is called a resting spell. "I guess I'll sit down and mend these stockings and rest awhile," says the wife; but her hus-band throws himself upon the easy lounge, or sits back in his arm chair, with feet and hands at rest and feet placed horizontally upon another chair.

The result is that his whole body gains the full benefit of the half hour he allows himself from work, and the wife only receives that indirect help my engine killed him-and I can't get which comes from change of occupa-rid of him." "Not exactly. But I can't get him out of my memory. It happened on the old Brunswick & Western Railroad. I had taken a young man—a tramp—on the engine with me. He Northern man who had been taking even ten minutes in a nonzontal position, as a change from standing or sitting at work, would prove more beneficial to her than any of her makshifts at resting. They say, "I used to think I must do thus and so, but I've grown wiser and learned to slight things." The first years of housekeeping are truly the hardest, for untried and unfamiliar cares are almost daily thrust upon the mother and home-maker.

Trivialities.

It is not always easy in any sphere to discriminate between the trifling and the momentous. It is often a matter of comparsion, and judgment and experience are needed in the selection. fles are not to be confounded with de-tails, which are often most important. Neither are things necessarily trifling because they are small. A kind look, a gentle warning, a cordial greeting, a slight service are sometimes despised as trifles, when in truth they are signs of a generous and kindly nature, and carry untold blessings to their recipients.

Many little things are far more important than what we misscall great ed the habit of chewing cloves or coffee beans until the habit had taken as ities while the others may be insignifia hold as ever did alcohol, morphine or cocaine upon its victim, says Dr. A. C. Robinson of St. Louis.

TO THE HUNGRY PUBLIC.

It is only those who eat-the many who require the necessities of life, to prolong their existence, that we address.

Those who use nothing.-who think they need nothing,-who live on expectation, hope or some intangible nothing, will save time by passing this column by. It is not intended for them but the other fellows. We write what is here put down for the people who are morta enough to get hungry, and in consequence of getting hungry are sensible enough to try to get what is good, pure, wholesome and necessary, at prices that don't require them to lay cut al. that they earn, to appease their appetites. We have peen in the hunger appeas ing business for many, many years. We know what men want, we know what women and children desire, and we know how much better and how much more pleasant it is to reside in a community where people enjoy good health, than among dyspeptic complainers, growlers and sufferers. To have healthy people pure food must be used. We understand this, and understanding it, keep nothing but the purest of everything that can be found in the market. To satisfy the demands of the many different stomachs that we try to gratify, requires a vast variety of dainties, condiments and relishes, as well as the substantials; and knowing this there is nothing that is eatable, relishable or appetiz-

It is for you who want, or use anything eatable, either as meats, fish, groceries, fruits, nuts, relishes, or in fact anything from a piece of chewing gum to a first class beef steak, that we write and pay the printer to print this invitation for you to come and see us. If you live in town drop in and see what all we have and what quality of goods we carry.

phan's Court of Centre county, Estate of Margaret McIlhatten, deceased. At an Orphans Court of Centre county held March 23d, 1891, said Court of Centre county held March 23d, 1891, said Court ordered as follows: That a rule be issued to the heirs and legal representatives of Margaret McIlhatten, late of College township, deceased, to appear in open Court at Bellefonte, on Monday, April 27th, 1891, at 2 o'clock, p. m. to show cause, if any they have, why John P. Moore and David McIlhatten should not be discharged as administrators of said deceased estate. In accordance with said order the said administrators will make application for their final discharge on the said 27th day of April.

CLEMENT DALE, 36 14 Attorney. Sheriff.

OURT PROCLAMATION. —
Whereas the Honorable A.O. Furst, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the 49th Judicial District, consisting of the counties of Centre and Huntingdon, and the Honorable Thomas M. Riley and Honorable Daniel Rhoads, Associate Judges in Centre county, having issued their precept, bearing date the 1st day of April, 1891, to me directed, for holding a Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery and Quarter Sessions of the Peace in Bellefonte, for the county of Centre and to commence on the 4th Monday of April, being the 27th day of Apr. 1, 1891, and to continue two weeks, notice is hereby given to the Coroner, Justices of the Peace, Aldermen and Constables of said county of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 27th, with their records, inquisitions, examinations, and their own remembrances, to do those things which to their office appertains to be done, and those who are bound in recognizances to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Centre county, be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the 2nd day of April, in the year of our Lord, 1891, and the one hundred and fourteenth year of the independence of the United States.

IMPORTANT—If you cannot read this print distinctly by lamp or gaslight in the evening, at a distance of ten inches, your eyesight is failing, no matter what your age, and your eyes need help. Your sight can be improved and preserved if properly corrected. It is a wrong idea that spectacles should be dispensed with as long as possible. If they assist the vision, use them. There is no danger of seeing too well, so long as the print is not magnified; it should look natural size, but plain and distinct.
