Farm Notes.

Look after the fences and see if they need any help to enable them to withstand the snows and winds of winter without falling down.

"Japan" fruit trees are creating some interest among fruit men, because of their reputation for being proof against blight, insects and fungus attacks.

It may seem a little hard to place the best fruit down in the package where it will not be seen, yet that is the right thing to do. The consumer likes to find some of it there.

Now that the weather is cold, corn should be made the principal article in the rations. Do not keep the store hogs any longer than is necessary. The colder the weather the more food required.

It is not necessary to plow a piece of land but two or three inches if there is a sod to be rotted. On the new prairie land the sod is simply turned over, or skinned, it being found better than to turned under to a great depth.

An orchard will not thrive in flat, wet soil. Underdraining will put the soil in good condition and cause the trees to thrive. The drains should run between each row, or every other row, and be put down three feet deep. Either drain the orchard or dig up the trees.

A $100 put upon an acre of strawberries the first season may be all lost for lack of mulch, or by putting on too much mulching of any kind; the plants exposed are easily killed by the changing weather of winter if unprotected says a correspondent in Prairie Farmer.

W. D. Hoard, of Wisconsin, recently said: "The expense of the dairy is just as great with a poor cow as with a good one. The profit depends upon the delicacy of the machine. I have found that the chilling of the cow decreased the amount of milk secreted, while warm drinks restore it."

Work the manure over now, and put the coarser portions in the centre. It may give you extra work, but it will quicken the growth of plants next spring by being in a more perfect condition as plant food. There is an art in so managing the manure as to have it in the finest and best condition and with out losing any portion of it at any season of the year.

Lime is a substance that always proves beneficial to land, and it may be applied in the fall or winter, as well as in spring. Where the soil is affected with the spores of disease fungi, lime often serves to destroy some of the diseases, or checks their ravages the following year. Lime and salt is an excellent mixture for destroying grubs and cut worms to a certain extent, while its benefit to the soil in liberating plant food is unexcelled by any other fertilizer.

The farmer who buys a large portion of the food for his stock not only takes advantage of the opportunity of converting "raw material" from elsewhere into meat, butter, milk and cheese, but he brings upon his farm fertilizers that are more complete in their relative proportions of available plant foods than can be intelligently selected by him in the shape of commercial fertilizers.

If a careful analysis of the foods could be made before feeding, and the manure computed according to the materials from which it is produced it would be demonstrated that there is no better mode of buying fertilizers than to procure the cheap grain stuffs, such as bran, middlings, etc., and convert a portion into some saleable article, retaining the remainder in the shape of manure to be used on the farm.

VALUE OF FOODS.

The true value of any material used as food for stock is not only according to its proportion of nitrogen, phosphates and carbon contained, but in the digestibility of the food also. No food, however rich it may be in the elements necessary for satisfying the demands of the animals, will prove satisfactory unless it can be digested; but as there is no waste or loss of any material consumed, the undigested portions are voided as manure. Just what this manure is worth to the farmer depends upon the constituents of the food and its value after the digestible portion have been utilized by the animals. A ton of bran, selling at $22, has a fertilizing value of $14. In other words, if the value of the bran as food were overlooked, the cost of the bran as manure is $14, and the cost of the meat, milk, etc., depends upon how large a portion of the bran is converted into those articles, the manurial value of the bran, it is used as a fertilizer by direct application to the soil, being $14.

DIFFERENCE IN FERTILIZERS.

All foods become better prepared as fertilizers when they are passed through the body of the animal, as they are then decomposed, and also changed in composition. Green foods do not produce as much fertilizing matter as dry foods, because they contain more water, and are better digested and assimilated, and as bran is not fed alone, or exclusively, a ton of manure from many different foods may not exceed two or three dollars. Much depends on the stock. Growing animals use more mineral matter, and more nitrogen, while fattening animals appropriate more carbon. The manure from matured steers is, therefore, of more value than that from young stock or from cows, as less is required to supply the wants of the animal, and this difference in animals and foods is something which demands the close attention of the farmer.

Gallant Rufus Choate.

On a pretty girl saying to Rufus Choate, "I am very sad-you see," he replied, "O, no; you belong to the old Jewish sect; you are very Jair Isaac!" Nothing adds so much to the beauty of a fair girl, as a clear, bright, healthy complexion, and to secure this pure blood is indispensable. So many of the so-called blood-purifiers sold to improve a rough, pimply, muddy skin, only drive the scrofulous humors from the surface to some internal vital organ, and disease and death is the inevitable result. On the contrary, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strikes directly at the root of the evil, by driving the impurities entirely out of the system, and with a fresh stream of pure blood flowing through the veins, nothing but the softest and fairest of complexions can result.

Louisiana Lottery Men Arrested.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30.—President Conrad, Secretary Morner and eight employees of the Louisiana State Lottery company appeared before United States Commissioner Wright this morning to answer an indictment found against them at San Antonio, Tex., upon the charge of violating the anti-Lottery Postal law. They gave bail in the sum of $1,000 each to appear at the next term of the United States court in San Antonio.

So to Speak.

Woman is wonderfully made! Such beauty, grace, delicacy and purity are alone her possessions. So has the weaknesses, irregularities, functional derangements, peculiar only to herself. To correct these and restore to health, her wonderful organism requires a restorative especially adapted to that purpose. Such an one is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—possessing curative and regulating properties to a remarkable degree. Made for this purpose alone—recommended for no other! Continually growing in favor, and numbering as its stands friends thousands of the most intelligent and refined ladies of the land. A positive guarantee accompanies each bottle—at your druggist's. Sold on trial!

A BORROWER'S IDEA.—Wallis—"I'd hate to be as hard up as Broker seems to be."

Miss Wallis—"What leads you to think he is hard up?"
"Why, he's been to see me ten times this week to get that $5 I borrowed from him six months ago."—Brooklyn Life.

—A writer in a Boston paper recommends women to study their countenances by aid of their mirrors. Good enough! But then if they do not cure their colds with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup they run the risk of breaking their reflectors and destroying valuable property.

—Mr. George W. Childs' first hit in the publishing line was with Dr. Kane's Arctic Explorations, which yielded the author nearly $70,000 within a year. The doctor wanted to write only a scientific account of the expedition, says the New York Recorder, but Mr. Childs persuaded him to make it a popular narrative.

—A God-send is Ely's Cream Balm. I had catarrh for three years. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed. I thought the sores would never heal. Your Balm has cured me."
—Mrs. M. A. Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H.

BAD ECZEMA ON BABY
HEAD ONE SOLID SORE. ITCHING AWFUL. HAD TO TIE HIS HANDS TO CRADLE. CURED BY CUTICURA.

Our little boy broke out on his head with a bad form of eczema, when he was four months old. We tried three doctors, but they did not help him. We then used your three Cuticura Remedies, and after using them eleven weeks exactly according to directions, he began to steadily improve, and after the use of them for seven months his head was entirely well. When we began using it his head was a solid sore from the crown to his eyebrows. It was also all over his ears, most of his face, and small places on different parts of his body. There were sixteen weeks that we had to keep his hands tied to the cradle and hold them when he was taken up; and had to keep mittens tied on his hands to keep his fingers-nails out of the sores, as he would scratch if he could in any way get his hands loose. We know your Cuticura Remedies cured him. We feel safe in recommending them to others.

Prospectus.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.
1892
Illustrated.

The Magazine will celebrate the fourth Centenary of the Discovery of America by its re-discovery through articles giving a more thorough exposition than has hitherto been made of the Recent Unprecedented Development of the Great West. Particular attention will also be given to Dramatic Episodes of American History.

The Field of our next European War will be described in a series of Papers on the Danube—"From the Black Forest to the Black Sea," by Poultony Bigelow and F. D. Millet, illustrated by Mr. Millet and Alfred Parsons. Articles also will be given on the German, Austrian and Italian Armies, illustrated by T. DePaul.

M. W. D. Howells will contribute a new novel, "A World of Chance," characteristically American. Especial prominence will be given to short stories, which will be contributed by T. B. Aldrich, R. H. Davis, A. Conroy Doyne, Margaret DeLand, Miss Wilson and other popular writers.

Among the literary features will be Personal Reminiscences of Nathaniel Hawthorne by his college class-mate and life-long friend, Horatio Woodbridge; and a Personal History of the Brownings, by Anne Thackeray Ritchie.

We have on hand and for sale the best assortment of Carriages, Buggies, and Spring Wagons we have ever had. We have Dexter, Brewster, Elliptic, and Thomas Coll Springs, with Piano and Whitechapel bodies, and can give you a choice of the different patterns of wheels. Our work is the best made in this section, made by good workmen and of good material. We claim to be the only party manufacturing in town who ever served an apprenticeship to the business. Along with that we have had forty years' experience in the business, which certainly should give us the advantage over inexperienced parties.

In price we defy competition, as we have no Pedlers, Clerks or Benis to pay. We pay cash for all our goods, thereby securing them at the lowest figures and discounts. We are determined not to be undersold, either in our own make or manufactured work from other places; so give us a call for Surries, Phaetons, Buggies, Spring Wagons, Buckboards, or anything else in our line, and we will accommodate you.
