Two Rival States.

Rates of Growth of Georgia and Ohio—The Latter in the Path of Empire.

San Francisco Call.

A contrast between Ohio and Georgia is instructive as illustrating the growth of States. Georgia has the advantage over Ohio in age and size. It was one of the 13 original States, whereas Ohio was admitted in 1802. It has an area of nearly 60,000 square miles, while Ohio has only something over 41,000. The agricultural capacities of Georgia are larger than those of Ohio, though in parts they have remained undeveloped, and in other parts they have been handled so unthrifty that they are partially exhausted. Ohio is fairly fertile throughout. It possesses, while Georgia does not, rich mines of coal, with some iron. Georgia has 125 miles of sea coast. Ohio has none.

When the Union was formed Georgia had some 80,000 inhabitants. Ohio was a wilderness, which the Government was vainly endeavoring to people. At the beginning of the century some 45,000 persons had been induced to settle there. Georgia had doubled her population in the first decade of independence and counted 162,686 inhabitants. In the ensuing decade Ohio took a prodigious leap and increased her number 500 per cent, but Georgia still kept the lead by 20,000 souls. The rush of people into the Northwest, as it was then called, continued in the next decade. In 1820 Ohio contained 581,000 people, while Georgia only showed 541,000. Ohio never lost the lead after that.

Georgia continued to increase, but in a diminishing ratio. The decennial increases were: From 1820 to 1830, 50 per cent; from 1830 to 1840, 25 per cent; from 1840 to 1850, 35 per cent; from 1850 to 1860, 11 per cent; from 1860 to 1870 (the decade of the war), 10 per cent; from 1870 to 1880, 30 per cent; and now, according to Mr. Porter's census, 19 per cent from 1880 to 1890. The decennial increase in Ohio since 1820 has been: From 1820 to 1830, 62 per cent; from 1830 to 1840, 62 per cent; from 1840 to 1850, 29 per cent; from 1850 to 1860, 19 per cent; from 1860 to 1870, 20 per cent; and now from 1880 to 1890, nearly 15 per cent. Georgia thus appears at the present time to be increasing in population faster than Ohio for the first time since the war. It is a well-known fact that the development of manufacturing interests around Atlanta and the increased acreage planted in cotton under emancipation are drawing new settlers both from the North and the less thriving Southern States, while Ohio has been losing a sufficient population to the Northwest to nearly offset her normal gain from New England and Europe.

The Great Northwest.

The States of Montana and Washington are very fully described in two folders issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad, entitled "Golden Montana" and "Fruitful Washington." The folders contain good county maps of the states named, and information in reference to climate, lands, resources, and other subjects of interest to capitalists, business men or settlers.

Holders of second class tickets to North Pacific Coast points, via Northern Pacific Railroad, are allowed the privilege of stopping over at Spokane, Washington, and points west thereof, for the purpose of examining all sections of this magnificent state before leaving.

Northern Pacific through express trains carry free colonist sleeping cars from St. Paul, and Pullman tourist sleepers from Chicago (via Wisconsin Central Line) to Montana and Pacific Coast points daily.

California tourists, and travelers to Montana and the North Pacific Coast, can purchase round trip excursion tickets at rates which amount to but little more than the one way fare. Choice of routes is allowed on these tickets, which are good for three or six months, according to destination, and permit of stop-overs.

The elegant equipment on the Northern Pacific Railroad; the dinner car service; the through first class sleeping cars from Chicago (via both Wisconsin Central Line and G. M. & S. P. Ry.) to Pacific Coast points; and the most magnificent scenery of seven states, are among the advantages and attractions offered to travelers by this line.

The "Wonderland" book issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad describes the country between the Great Lakes and Pacific Ocean, with maps and illustrations.

Alarming Mortal Statistics.

A Destroying Epidemic Abroad in Our Land. La Grippe and its Consequences More Deleterious than War and Plague Combined. Synopsis of a Lecture at the Surgical Hotel by Dr. S. B. Hartman.

Reported for the Press.

It was stated by the great recorder of Jewish history, speaking of the land of Egypt after the seventh plague had been sent upon them: "And there was a great cry in Egypt; for there was not a house where there was not some one dead."

Not quite so tragic an utterance is true of our own country at the present time, but certainly it is true that a great plague is abroad in the land; that the first born and last born has been slain in countless households; that parents and infants, without regard to station or circumstances, have fallen a prey to the fell destroyer, La Grippe. Never was there a plague so insidious, so omnipresent, to defy the skill of the physician and the strength of the patient as this pestilence. It does not seem to spread like an ordinary epidemic; it seems to spring from the ground spontaneously every where at once. It finds its victims at mid-day; or, like the destroying angel in Egypt, it unheatedly strikes its sword to strike the unwary asleep in the dark watches of the night. It enters the hovels of wretchedness and poverty, and easily crosses the threshold of wealth and luxury. Doctors seem to be wholly unable to prevent its onset, to stay its ravages, or to mitigate its consequences. Is there no balm in Gilead? No succor for the oppressed?

Without hesitation or fear of successful contradiction I answer: Yes, there is a preventive for those who remain, as yet untouched with this disease, a cure for those who are already its victims, and a complete and permanent restoration for those who have lately escaped its clutches with weakened and deranged bodies from which recovery seems impossible. To those who have thus far escaped this dreadful ailment, but are trembling with constant fear of it, I desire to say that a tablespoonful of Pe-ru-na, taken before each meal, is absolutely reliable as a preventive against La Grippe; and no one need hope any fear of an attack of this disease so long as this treatment is continued. It is absolute recklessness, for any one during the unsettled weather at least, to omit to take this precaution. To those who are already attacked by this disease I would advise: At the appearance of the first symptoms treatment should be begun at once, and kept strictly to the house for a few days. No treatment, however effectual it may be, will always prevent quite a long siege with this disease, but no other medicinal treatment is necessary than Pe-ru-na. The directions, as they are given on the bottle, are more applicable to chronic diseases, and it is advisable during the acute stages of the disease, to take smaller doses, but oftener. I would direct a tablespoonful of Pe-ru-na every two hours for adults, and a corresponding less dose for children, until the acute stage is ended.

There are a great multitude of people in all parts of the land who have entirely lost their health as a result of La Grippe; who have recovered from an attack, but find themselves with weakened nerves, deranged digestion, and with but very little of their former powers. There is no disease known to man that leaves the system in such an outrageous and exasperating condition, as La Grippe. The student finds it is impossible to return to his books, the professional man to his routine of office work, the working man to his labors, with anything like their old vigor. It is even worse with the housewife and the devotee of fashion whose debilitating employments make recuperation slower. For this class of sufferers Pe-ru-na is a specific and I do not hesitate to guarantee that if anyone will take Pe-ru-na according to the following directions that in a few weeks they will be entirely restored to their accustomed health: Add two ounces of rock candy to each bottle of Pe-ru-na before using. Take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed-time. Gradually increase this dose until, at the end of one month you are taking two tablespoonfuls at a dose. This dose should be continued until every vestige of the symptoms disappear.

Anyone desiring further particulars should write The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., of Columbus, O., for a free copy of The Family Physician No. 2—a most admirable treatise on La Grippe, acute and chronic catarrh, coughs, colds, and other climatic diseases of winter.

Mining 300 Tons of Salt Daily.

The immense salt deposit on Carmen island, Gulf of California, is being developed by a company which recently bought it for $500,000. The output is about 300 tons daily. Much of it will be sent to Mazatlan, to be used in the mines of Cinola for the reduction of refractory ores mined in that district. New York Times.

The B. & O. South-western Limited.

On November 20th, the B. & O. R. R. placed in service on its South-western Limited Express train running to Cincinnati and St. Louis an entirely new equipment, built expressly for this train by the famous Pullman Company. The new cars embrace all the features that have rendered the Royal Blue Line trains so universally popular, and include the safety vestibule, steam heat, Finisch gas light, and anti-telescoping device, and convenient toilet accessories for men and women. The Royal Blue Line train leaving Philadelphia at 11.35 a. m. makes direct connection with the South-western Limited at Baltimore, where coach passengers change cars. The sleeping cars run through from New York and Philadelphia to Cincinnati and St. Louis without change, arriving at Cincinnati next morning at 7.45 and St. Louis next evening at 6.25.

The commission having in charge the selection of a design for the new music hall and library to be built in Pittsburgh with funds contributed by the great art patron, Andrew Carnegie, have made a selection. The new building will be located in Schenley park. The music hall will have a seating capacity of 3,000 and contain an organ fully in keeping with the other appointments. Oh, if Mr. Carnegie could only be induced to plant one of his memorials in Bellefonte.

Of the entire human race 500,000,000 are well clothed, that is, they wear garments of some kind; 250,000,000 habitually go naked; 700,000,000 only cover parts of the body; 500,000,000 live in houses, 700,000,000 in huts and caves, and 250,000,000 virtually have no shelter.
