Bellefonte, Pa., February 12, 1892.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

Ward Caucus Meetings.

The Democrats of the Borough will meet in caucus in the following places, on Saturday evening, Feb. 13th, 1892, at 7 o'clock.

For the North Ward, in the Arbitration room.

For the South Ward, in the Register's office, in the Court house.

For the West Ward, in the WATCHMAN office.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Mrs. J. A. Aikens spent a few days recently with friends in Tyrone.

—Mrs. Monroe Armor is lying in a critical condition, at her east Linn street home.

—Miss Sallie E. Kline, of Centre Hall, spent last week with relatives in Tyrone.

—The State College post office was burglarized last week, and $4 in change carried off.

—Hon. Leonard Rhone was Centre county's representative at the tax-revision convention, at Harrisburg, last week.

—Miss Laura Wright, one of the successful teachers in the High school, has been at home a week on account of sickness.

—Attorney Wm. I. Swoope is once more filling his lungs with the aesthetic air of cultured Boston. He will return to us hereover.

—Mine host John G. Uzzle, the ever popular proprietor of the Washington House, at Snow Shoe, was an arrival early Monday morning.

—Mrs. Burnett and children who have been visiting at ex-Gov. Curtin's for two months, left for their home on Thursday morning.

—Miss Alice Tate, who has been so dangerously ill for the past few days, is improving slowly and hopes of her recovery are now entertained.

—An awfully drunk teamster made High street quite lively, on Tuesday afternoon, until chief Gares hauled him off his wagon and locked him up.

—Lawrence L. Brown spent the fore part of the week in town. He brought his wife and daughter up to spend a few weeks at their old home.

—Mrs. Oswald Dubbs, an 89 year old woman who lived in Beaver row, died on Wednesday morning. She was born at Rebersburg, November 20th, 1802.

—George Schoff, the gentlemanly mixologist at the Bush house, was severely shaken up, on Friday morning last, by being dragged by a fractious young horse.

—A Union service will be held Sunday evening, in the Presbyterian church, in the interests of temperance. Mr. Woolly will address the meeting to which every one is invited.

—The different Farmers' Institutes held in this county last week, are said by those who are sent out as instructors to have been the best they have attended anywhere in the State.

—Joe McSuley, a young artist of our town, has taken the contract to paint Charles Lee's show wagons and will leave for Canton, Ohio, next week. His younger brother will accompany him.

—To-night the "Midnight Alarm" with realistic scenery and good artists will hold the boards, in the opera house, for the benefit of the Knights of the Golden Eagle. Give them a full house.

—If you read the WATCHMAN last week, and we know the greater portion of you did, are you not ready to take its advice and see that only the best men are elected for township offices, on Tuesday next.

—Quite a number of people in this vicinity took advantage of the excursion to Washington yesterday. Among the number of excursionists were W. C. Patterson, of State College, and D. L. Meek, of Buffalo Run.

—Jas. Harris and George Bayard spent Sunday with their friend Ed. Shaffer, at Everett, Bedford county. Ed had to bring them home on Tuesday morning. He was afraid they couldn't change cars at Tyrone.

—Judge A. O. Larimer, who is visiting his sister Mrs. Spear, is one of the representative men of the West. He is connected with some of the leading business enterprises of Sioux City, Ia., and consequently thinks Bellefonte is very quiet.

—Foster Williams was home to spend Sunday with his wife and child in this place. Foster is now general manager of the dry goods department of Barddollar's big store, at Everett, and is undoubtedly making things go for his new employers, as he did while connected with Joseph Bros. & Co., of this place.

McWILLIAMS—GOHEEN.—At the residence of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McWilliams, near Fairbrook, at seven o'clock Wednesday evening, February 3, the pleasant ceremony took place uniting in nuptial bonds Robert Goheen, of Baileyville, and Miss Bella McWilliams. About ninety guests were present and the occasion was one of pleasure and brilliancy.

At the appointed hour Miss Eva Gray, of Stormstown, rendered the wedding march on the piano, and the bridal party took their place, when Rev. Mr. Armentrout, pastor of the Graysville Presbyterian church officiated in the ceremony. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Copelin, of Tyrone, and Miss Nora Woomey, of Graysville, and the groomsmen were A. O. Goheen, of Tyrone, and George McWilliams, of Graysville.

After the formalities of the occasion were completed and the happy couple had received showers of congratulations from their assembled friends, all sat down to a sumptuous feast to which ample justice was done. The party was treated to a calatumpian serenade during the course of the evening. In the way of gifts the contracting young people were the recipients of tokens both numerous and valuable. A beautiful diamond ring was presented by the groom to the bride.

Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. Goheen, amidst a shower of rice, old shoes, and all those other articles which well-wishing superstitious friends usually collect for use on such occasions, left for a week's honeymoon tour to Washington, D. C. On their return they will reside at Baileyville where the groom is manager of J. C. Goheen & Brother's general store. Mr. and Mrs. Goheen are excellent young people who deserve rich happiness and prosperity in their life together. That they may enjoy long and fully these blessings is the ardent wish of the WATCHMAN and their large circle of friends.

THE LAST OF OUR MEXICAN VETERANS GONE.—On Saturday morning, at 7-30, the spirit of Capt. A. B. Snyder fled from its earthly home into the city of eternity. Captain Snyder, whose tall, erect figure, black stock, and careful mein have always been familiar on our streets, was born October 23rd, 1824, in the old stone house which stood on the present site of Gerberich, Hale & Co.'s mill at the foot of Race street.

His father having died when he was a lad of thirteen he was thrown upon his own resources, and at 19 he enlisted in the army and served with distinguished honor through the Mexican war. He returned with a lieutenant's straps and followed the profession of tailoring until the Civil war broke out. Again he entered his country's service and his brilliant military career brought him bars on the straps so well won in earlier years. Ever since the war he has lived in Bellefonte, but for the past five or six years, owing to failing health, was compelled to retire from business. A consistent member of the Presbyterian church; an honored comrade in Gregg Post, No. 295, a beloved and loving father and a faithful husband he has gone to answer "present" on the golden shore of eternity.

A widow and four children mourn his death; Miss Mollie, Mrs. Edward Cooke, Ellis and George. Both of the young men, being glass workers in Indiana, were present at the bedside of their dying father. Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The Young Men's Christian Association which has been closed for the past two or three months was reopened last Monday. All the old friends of the Association are invited to drop in any time between the hours of 9 a. m. and 9-30 p. m., and any one will be given a welcome whether "old or new friends."

The General Secretary extends a cordial invitation to all young men to make these rooms their homes and will do all in his power to make their calls pleasant. The rooms are being rearranged and present a very pleasant place to spend one's evenings. Classes in the gymnasium will be started shortly. "The Electric system" is the one that will be used this year and anyone wishing to join can do so by leaving their name at the rooms.

OFF FOR A LIFE ON THE DEEP SEA WAVES.—Bellefonte's young tar, Mr. Harry Jackson, third son of our distinguished banker and miller Geo. W. Jackson, left on Monday evening to ship on the Red "D" line steamer "Venezuela," plying between New York and South American ports. Harry was graduated from the Philadelphia nautical school ship, "Saratoga," last December, and has just commenced a life at sea which we hope will be a continuance of the bright career he made while training for it. The steamer on which Harry will ship ran ashore in a snow storm, off Atlantic City, Friday morning, and her passengers were taken off by the life saving crews, but she was pulled off the rocks, unburnt, with high tide.

—Subscribe for the WATCHMAN.

—The Lock Haven Democrat has declared for Pattison if Cleveland can't be nominated.

—Tyrone is to have a steam laundry and then her Chinese population, it is hoped, will decrease.

—The new steel shelving and filing racks are being placed in the vaults in the Prothonotary's and Commissioner's offices.

FOR RENT.—A desirable house, on Howard street. Containing 9 rooms and all modern conveniences apply to W. S. Zeller, agent.

—The Pittsburg Times of Saturday last, contained a most interesting article, based on reminiscences given its representative, Harry Hall, by ex-Governor Curtin.

—William Morris, an English miner living at Ashcroft, was convicted of bigamy at Clearfield, last week. Both wives were on the scene and it is said that things became quite warm for William.

—Swift & Co., the Chicago beef packers, will soon establish an agency in Phillipsburg. A large refrigerator building is to be erected and Phillipsburg will be the central station for the entire Clearfield region.

—The Gazette is boasting about having something "new" in its office. Such a ruthless waste of space is altogether useless, as every reader of the paper knows that there must be something very new shoving the quill for its columns.

—Hon. John A. Woodward, of Howard, has been appointed general secretary for the Liberal Arts committee of the World's Fair commission of this state, and as such will devote much of his time in visiting different portions of Pennsylvania and working up an interest in the great Exposition. Mr. Woodward is admirably suited to the duties of the position.

—The Daily News seems in a quandary to understand why it is, when a superintendent or manager is needed for any of our numerous business concerns, that a stranger is always brought in to fill the place, while every day we hear of Bellefonter's having accepted lucrative positions away from here. Our little friend, don't you know that "a prophet is not without honor save at home."

Harry Cresswell, the young bank teller, who was charged with W. B. Hamilton, now serving a five years' term in the western penitentiary, for embezzling funds of the defunct Houtzdale bank, was acquitted by the Clearfield court, last week, owing to a lack of evidence against him. Hamilton was brought in from the penitentiary to testify against him, but was quiet as a clam and nothing could be gotten out of him. Cresswell is now at his home in Petersburg.

—On Monday evening the colored populace of town turned out galore to witness the nuptials which made Mr. Harrison Sanders, bell-boy at the Bush House, and Miss Ella Keys, of Altoona, one. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chas. Honesty, of the St. Paul's church, at the home of the groom's parents, on Thomas street. The father of the groom acting as best man with Miss Adeline Lawson as bridesmaid. The young people have gone to house-keeping and we wish them much happiness.

—On Tuesday morning an accident, that might have been a fatal one, happened out at the stone quarries at Valentine's furnace. Henry Davis one of the quarrymen had built a fire to thaw out the dynamite and was leaning over it, heating the second stick, when one of them slipped from his hand and fell into the fire, with wonderful presence of mind he dropped the other; but had not time to move a foot from the fire when the explosion, which was terrific, took place. Fortunately he closed his eyes and they were not hurt. His face was terribly cut and burned, one cheek being laid open to the bone. His hat was blown into atoms and that the man escaped alive seems miraculous.

—The Evanston Tudez says of Mr. John G. Woolly the brilliant and effective temperance speaker who will conduct the meetings in the Court House every evening next week. "That those who have heard him, will never forget the terrible pathos of his story, nor the force of his words. He is not a professional temperance orator, and for that very reason he can appeal to a class of men and women who would ridicule one of the other stamp. He has no pile of dry statistics, no appeals to prejudices, no narrowness, no fanaticism. He tells with grim simplicity his own story, and that is enough. He is not funny, as was Gough, but Gough himself in his best day, was not so effective as Mr. Woolley. His mission is not only to reform but to prevent, and he is equally valuable in both fields."

A SCALE WORKS FOR BELLEFONTE.

—The lease has been executed and already foundrymen are at work in the plant of Bellefonte's new scale works. Within sixty days the proprietors hope to turn out their first product and then we will have a chance to see scales made at home from our own iron.

The history of the new firm is a very brief one indeed. A few weeks ago Mr. William Burnside, for ten years connected with the Fairbanks people with headquarters at Pittsburg, accompanied by Frank P. Gill and other gentlemen from the Smoky city visited this place in quest of a location for an intended scale manufactory. The natural advantages of Bellefonte, together with the fact that the very best iron for their purposes can be had right here, were a great inducement and negotiations for the foundry building of the Valentine Iron Co., were entered into and satisfactorily consummated. The gentlemen straightway began cleaning up and getting ready for the manufacture of their articles and last Monday morning regular work began in the foundry.

Mr. Burnside, who will act as the representative of the concern, is a young Bellefonter, and from his long experience with the Fairbank's scale, will undoubtedly make a great success of our new industry.

This is one step in the right direction. With coal within twenty miles and iron at our back doors, why are not many similar projects undertaken. An implement works. A Novelty works. Anything of the sort would pay.

THE INSTITUTE AT HOWARD.—In last week's WATCHMAN appeared a full account of the two large farmer gatherings at Millheim and Boalsburg, and our correspondents gave excellent reports of the work done at each. On Friday and Saturday the corps of lecturers and instructors went to Howard and entertained the residents of the Bald Eagle Valley with two days of most interesting work. All the sessions were crowded and especially so, the ones which Governor Pattison enlivened with his plain, though logical, talks. Gen. Beaver made the address of welcome, and Hon. John A. Woodward got up from a sick bed to act as president of the meetings.

To him the farmers of our country owe largely the success of the different Institutes for his zealous work was rewarded by the best instructors and lecturers. Beautiful weather added much to the pleasure of the Howard gatherings and was an incentive for the people to turn out en masse.

THE RESULT OF A FLIRTATION.—If some of the fair damsels in Bellefonte could make their little street escapades pay as well as two Atlantic City girls did their's, we could look on the flirtations we see daily with better comprehension. A wealthy resident was compelled to pay a dental bill of $145 for two young ladies whose acquaintance he made accidentally several months ago. The girls instead of having him spend his money on dances and entertainments preferred an order on a prominent local dentist which was given without a thought of the result. A few days ago the bill was presented. The man protested that it was exorbitant and at the time he had given the order had not thought it would be honored. However, the courts decided in favor of the dentist and one young man has learned that some girls, at least, have an idea of the practical side of a chance flirtation.

ARE YOU GOING TO SINGING SCHOOL?—W. T. Meyer has consented to teach a term of lessons, provided fifty or more pupils can be obtained. Now let the old town awake from its lethargy and turn out, on Monday night, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms, when the first lesson will be given at 8 o'clock, sharp. The doors will be open to all, the first few nights, that anyone may come and thereby become interested sufficiently to join the class. One dollar each will be charged for a term of twelve lessons, which is very reasonable. Books furnished free. Mr. Meyer is a teacher of over twenty years experience. All who attended the class in the Presbyterian Chapel speak of his method of teaching in highest terms.

—Our readers who are housekeepers will find the advertisement of Banner Lye in another column of this issue of the WATCHMAN. Although it is about lye their is no lie in it. We know this fact for we have used it for years and have found it, by far the strongest, cleanest and best article of the kind we have ever tried. Ask your dealer for it. When you have once used it you will have no other.

THE FIRST ONE IN.—Cornelius Stover, the collector for Miles township, has the honor of being the first one in to settle his duplicate for 1891. On last Friday morning he balanced up with Treasurer Gramley, and by his promptness showed that he should be re-elected.

APPLICANTS FOR LICENSE.—With the March License court will come favorable action upon some of the many applications. Out of the twenty names which have been filed with the proper bonds, etc., ten are asking for renewal.

NOT SO EASY AS IT LOOKS.

He was looking at a typo Piling letters in his stick, And each one seemed to fall in line So gracefully and slick.

"That's easy work," he muttered, "I can do it all right well. If only I had half a chance And could the boxes tell."

The typo bade him try his hand; O'erjoyed the stick he took— He set one line—It's standing yet— In BaBa's this sort o' job.

—Miss Emily Harris is in Philadelphia visiting Mrs. James Harris.

—Chester Hill, a suburb of Phillipsburg, is soon to have a post office.

—John Laurie has gone to Johnstown, where he has accepted a position with the Adams Express Company.

—Among the visitors in town this week are Mrs. Adam Herkimer, of Williamsport and her daughter Miss Elsie.

—Mrs. Annie Morgan, of this place, was on Wednesday, admitted to the Altoona hospital whither she has gone to have a surgical operation performed.

—A large crowd of young men met in the Y. M. C. A. rooms on last Sunday afternoon, to welcome the new General Secretary. General Beaver led the meeting.

—J. M. Dale and family will take possession, the 1st of April, of one-half of the Jenkins house on High street, which has been remodeled and divided into two compartments.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Spangler came home from Hastings, Wednesday. Mr. Spangler has entirely recovered from a severe spell of the grip which the papers of Bellefonte had magnified into spinal meningitis.

A CHURCH BURNED.—The First Methodist Church, at Alexandria, in Blair county, was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning. It was valued at $11,000 and was only partly insured.

—Banker Dill, of Clearfield, was discharged by the county court on last Thursday, after the Grand Jury had indicted him for embezzlement. This releases him from all charges preferred by private parties.

—Mr. Harry Cooper who is now chief electrician at Winston, N. C., is in Bellefonte for a few days. Mrs. Cooper nee Miss Mary Morris, who has been visiting her aunts since Christmas, will return home with her husband.

—The Ridgeway Democrat is the proud possessor of an entire new dress and a new Cotrell power Press, and is now one of the neatest as well as newest papers among the hundreds of exchanges received at this office.

—A report has been going the rounds of the press that Ralph Kelker of Harrisburg, had been so badly hazed at State College that he had to be taken home where he was said to be in an extremely critical condition. A WATCHMAN correspondent has taken the trouble to investigate the case and found that there is not a word of truth in the report. Young Kelker got sick, while at school and went home, but will return just as soon as he has sufficiently recovered. Newspapers should exercise more care in copying articles of this sort for a great injustice has been done the students of State College.

—The Bellefonte epicurean will no longer have reason to complain of his chef. With daughters wives and mothers all enthusiastic over Mrs. Ewing's method of cooking, we may reasonably expect to see only healthy, brisk, red-cheeked men and women on our streets, and if by chance you should meet one of those sallow, grumbling dyspeptics please do not ask him if he is a test-tube for one of the fair experimenters; but rather take it for granted, that he is a living example of the old fashioned toothsome cooking. To-day is "Salad day." To-morrow Mrs. Ewing will teach the "Art of Frying." Monday, "Odds and Ends" will be made into palatable dishes and the lesson on Tuesday will be devoted to "Dainty Desserts."

—The death rate still keeps up, week after week we have had numbers to record 'til it seems that few families in our community have escaped unbroken. Miss Sarah Gill, who died very suddenly, Monday morning, at her home, on Water street, has been an invalid for years although she was able to be up and about most of the time. It is supposed anxiety about her sister Miss Nancy, who was very sick and whom she was tending at the time, was the cause of a fainting spell from which she never recovered and died in two hours. She was about 78 years old and for 62 years an earnest member of the Methodist church, from which she was buried Wednesday afternoon. She was a sister of Mrs. J. Ward, of Pine Grove, Mrs. Wasson, of Buffalo Run and Mrs. Murphey, of Camden, N. J.
