The Great Northwest.

The States of Montana and Washington are very fully described in two folders issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad, entitled "Golden Montana" and "Fruitful Washington." The folders contain good county maps of the states named, and information in reference to climate, lands, resources, and other subjects of interest to capitalists, business men or settlers.

Holders of second class tickets to North Pacific Coast points, via Northern Pacific Railroad, are allowed the privilege of stopping over at Spokane, Washington, and points west thereof, for the purpose of examining all sections of this magnificent state before locating. Northern Pacific through express trains carry free colonist sleeping cars from St. Paul, and Pullman tourist sleepers from Chicago (via Wisconsin Central Line) to Montana and Pacific Coast points daily.

California tourists, and travelers to Montana and the North Pacific Coast, can purchase round trip excursion tickets at rates which amount to but little more than the one way fare. Choice of routes is allowed on these tickets, which are good for three or six months, according to destination, and permit of stop-overs.

The elegant equipment on the Northern Pacific Railroad, the dinner car service; the through first class sleeping cars from Chicago (via both Wisconsin Central Line and C. M. & St. P. Ry.) to Pacific Coast points, and the most magnificent scenery of seven states, are among the advantages and attractions offered to travelers by this line.

The "Wonderland" book issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad describes the country between the Great Lakes and Pacific Ocean, with maps and illustrations.

For any of the above publications, and rates, maps, time tables, write to any General or District Passenger Agent, or Chas. S. Fee, G. P. & T. A., N. P. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

A Few Recipes.

For poison oak bathe in cream and gunpowder twice a day until cured.

Silver can be kept bright for months by being placed in an air tight case with a good sized piece of camphor.

After handling substances that leave a disagreeable odor upon the hands if mustard water is used it will be found a most efficient deodorizer.

For pimples, fever blisters, burns, poison from ivy mix one teaspoonful of soda with one half glass of water and apply with a soft cloth.

Coffee roasted on an iron plate, sugar burned on hot coals and vinegar boiled with myrrh and sprinkled on the floor of a sick room are excellent deodorizers.

If the feet become frost bitten soak them for one half hour in a strong hot solution of alum water, and if one application is not enough two will be a cure.

For coffee stains try putting thick glycerine on the wrong side and washing it out with luke warm water. For raspberry stains weak ammonia and water is the best.

Never bite or pass sewing silk through the lips, as lead poisoning has been known to result from the habit, as it is soaked in acetate of lead to make it weigh heavier.

One teaspoonful of ammonia to a teaspoonful of water will clean gold or silver jewelry; a few drops of aqua ammonia poured on the outside of diamonds will clean them immediately, making them very brilliant.

Be very particular about disinfecting the kitchen sink. Washing soda, two table-spoonfuls, to a gallon of boiling water, makes an excellent wash to pour hot into the sink at night after you have finished using it.

Do you want to make a good milk muffin? If you do try this: Beat one pint of flour into three gills of milk, add a table-spoonful of butter melted, one egg beaten whole, a half table-spoonful of baking powder. Mix well and bake in large muffin rings on a hot griddle.

Everybody will try this recipe for Delmonico's hashed potatoes: Cut raw potatoes into small dice. Soak in ice water for thirty minutes. Drain, put them into a baking dish, cover with milk, dust with salt and pepper, add a table-spoonful of butter cut into bits, and bake forty-five minutes.

It is said that the silverware furnishes one of the most reliable means of detecting defective drainage. If it is covered with a black coating of tarnish soon after being cleaned and after a second or third cleaning again becomes darkened, one may be certain that there is something wrong with the drainage system of the house.

Try this: Put two ounces of yellow meal to boil in three quarts of skim milk with a little pinch of salt. When the polenta is half cooked, remove it from the fire, and add six yolks of eggs, well beaten, with a pinch of powdered cinnamon. Add besides an ounce of butter and half an ounce of powdered crackers. Work the whole into a paste and finish cooking in a waffle iron, with fire above and below. As soon as the surface has taken on a handsome golden color, serve it on the table.

Mutton cutlets with cheese, delectable dish, are thus prepared: Cut some nice cutlets from the best end of a neck of mutton that has “hung” for at least a week; bat them out with a wet knife; trim them neatly; season with white pepper and salt; dip them in oiled butter, then into whole beaten eggs, and lastly, in finely grated fresh bread crumbs previously mixed with grated cheese, in the proportion of one part cheese to three of bread crumbs. Fry them and dish with a pure of spinach or mushrooms in the centre.

Here is a new recipe for potato salad: If have any boiled potatoes left over, peel, and together with a nice white onion, chop fine in a wooden bowl. In to a hot spider place a good big lump of butter, and when it is bubbling hot, pour into it half a cup of cider vinegar. As this seethes add your onion and potato, and set the spider on the back of the range, where it will simply keep hot, but not cook. Dash over the whole some salt and pepper, and a mere suspicion of cayenne, with a tiny pinch of pulverized sugar. Put into a salad bowl and serve cold.

MIGNONS DE VOLAILLE.—Mignons de Volaille or darling little dishes of creamed chicken are put up in egg craped moulds: The cold chicken is finely minced, giving a dash of mace or nutmeg, salt and cayenne pepper. They are shaped with raw white of an egg and milk thickened by boiling with flour. They are steamed in the moulds, and when opened are served on a rich puree of green peas or spinach. Just a taste of mashed liver added to the minced chicken gives its richness, with a little butter to incorporate the whole.

Astor house rolls are thus made: One table-spoonful of lard, two ounces of sugar and a little salt; put into the bread dish and pour over it a pint of boiling milk; let stand to cool; stir in enough flour to make a stiff batter, adding yeast sufficient to rise, about three large table-spoonfuls of liquid yeast or one and a half yeast cakes; let rise over night, and in the morning knead twenty minutes, be exact; let rise again and roll out and cut into round cakes, butter them and fold over like a turnover, pressing them with the forefinger on the end of the rolling pin; place in the baking pan, let rise again till very light and bake 20 minutes to a half hour.

CHICKEN CROQUETTES.—One large chicken; two ounces of butter, one wine glass of milk, one loaf of stale bakers' bread, pepper, salt, parsley, onion and two eggs. Boil the chicken and sweetbreads separately until tender—saving the chicken broth. Chop both together very fine; season with pepper, salt, parsley and one table-spoonful of grated onion. Grate or rub bread until you have equal quantities of crumbs and chicken. Take as much chicken broth as will moisten the crumbs, add the milk, butter and then boil, then stir in the crumbs, mix with the meat, and when sufficiently cool stir in the two eggs well beaten. Mould into croquettes; roll in crumbs or in Indian meal and fry in lard.

GETTYSBURG

G. M. HAMMOND WAS WOUNDED IN THAT TERRIBLE BATTLE.

AFTER TWO AMPUTATIONS BLOOD POISONING SET IN.

Long Years of Awful Suffering—Cured by the Wonderful Powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 22, 1891.

“In the summer of 1861 I enlisted in the 8th N. Y. S. Vols., and soon after joined the Army of the Potomac, participating in all the many battles of the war that my regiment got into until the battle of Gettysburg. In this great battle the 3d Corps (of which my regiment was a part) was actively engaged. In the second day's fight, when our lines were advanced I was

by a minnie ball, which smashed the bone. My leg was amputated in the field hospital and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and returned home. Eight years after my return my wound broke open afresh, and finally Dr. Penne of this city amputated it again, taking off about an inch of the bone and again it healed. Four years after this it once more opened, and for eight years

GOD ONLY KNOWS

what I suffered. I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but being poor and unable to work was often obliged to go without it. At such times I suffered fearfully and thought I should go crazy I tried everything I could think of or get with, in my limited means. Prominent doctors saw me and treated me but it got no better. They then told me I never would be any better and left me. Finally my

that it broke out all over my face and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars at the present time. One day I read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first dollar I got I sent and bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my wife indressing my leg, said it seemed to be improving
