THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

A large assortment of real hair switches at Mrs. Gilmore's.

Marriage license business has been poor for the past week.

The Central Pennsylvania conference of the M. E. church, will meet here next year.

Miss Amanda Barnhart, of Roland, is visiting her brother, H. O. Barnhart, at Punsutawney.

Misses Mary and Millie Bing, of Unionville, are visiting at the home of A. A. Stevens Esq. in Tyrone.

Millheim has a $150 surplus in her borough treasury while Bellefonte is just the other way about $150,000.

A very enjoyable party was held at the residence of John Zimmerman, near Roland, on last Friday evening.

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. Joel Johnson, of east Bishop street, was stricken with a fourth stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Joseph Funk, of Roland, is beautifying his property by painting the house and erecting a neat wire fence.

Mr. Geo. Marshall, formerly with John Meese, is now connected with Jared Harpers' Allegheny street grocery.

Charles Gardner, of Hazleton, visited friends and relatives at his old home, at Beech Creek, during the fore part of the week.

The Undine Hose Co., will hold an Easter ball, on Monday evening, April 18th. A good orchestra has been secured for the occasion.

Miss Hannah Ream, a young woman of twenty two years, died, from heart trouble, at her home, near Madisonburg, on Monday night.

Just two weeks from to-day will be the 1st of April. Be careful that you don't make a fool of yourself while trying to fool some one else.

Ed. Rankin, manager of the Western Union telegraph office at this place, returned, on Wednesday morning, from a pleasant week in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harry Cooper, who for three months has been visiting her aunts, the Misses Benner, will leave for her home in Winston N. C. the beginning of next week.

Mr. Charley Lutz and family left for their new home, in the west, yesterday morning. We wish them a pleasant journey and a prosperous life in the west.

A new industry was begun in Philipsburg, on Saturday, when Brinton, Duncan and Barne's new mill turned out the first roller flour ever manufactured in that section.

The new Bellefonte orchestra has already made itself heard on Allegheny street. The Tuesday evening practices are very interesting and the organization gives evidence of a bright future.

Over three hundred and fifty people attended the sale on the property of the late John Lutz, on Wednesday, and every article sold at good figures. Reason: It was advertised in the WATCHMAN.

On Tuesday morning the death of Mrs. Lizzie Boyle, who resides with her mother Mrs. Joseph Murray, of Milesburg, occurred from Grip. Deceased was but twenty three years of age and leaves a bereaved husband.

His honor Judge Furst seems to have aroused the dander of Philipsburg's good citizens all because he held a little conference, in the parlors of the Potter House, in that place, ostensibly in reference to the granting of licenses.

Lawrence Butts, of Philadelphia, was a visitor at his home, in this place, on Saturday. He came to bid his father and brothers "good-bye" ere he sails for Uruguay, whither he is going to put up some locomotives for the Baldwin works.

On Tuesday evening next there will be a reception in the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., for the benefit of the Association furnishing fund. A small admission will be charged and light refreshments served. Turn out, everyone, and make it a glorious success.

Prof. W. F. Meyer's singing class, as announced in the WATCHMAN last week, was permanently organized on Monday night and about fifty young ladies and gentlemen enrolled. This is a rare opportunity for those who desire to learn to read music. The tuition is only $1.00 for the term.

The telephone line between Millheim and Coburn has been abandoned and now the Penn township metropolis finds itself without any communication with the outside world. It's a great place down there. They have everything they need, from a first class politician down to a cradle factory.

WHERE THE MINISTERS WILL GO.

LITERARY HIGH SCHOOL SCHOLARS: The regular weekly rhetorical at the High School were held, on Monday afternoon, and the following programme gone through with: Song, "Red, White and Blue," by School; Recitation, "The Little Boy That Died," Tassie Peters '94; Essay, "Reading Books," May Taylor '92; Declaration, "Raids," John Bower '92; Recitation, "The old Man's Darling," Maud Campbell '93; Oration, "The Maid of Orleans," Harry Gerberich '92; Essay, "Rivers," Della Goodfellow '95; Essay, "Diving," Charles Harrison '93; Declaration, "Bad Books," Albert Jackson '93; Essay, "The Disease of the Eye," Essay, "The Sahara Desert," Evan Goodfellow '95; Essay, "Pennsylvania," May Hasting '95; Essay, "Yellowstone Park," Katie Lieb '95; Recitation, "Your Necktie is up Behind," Ida Showers '95; Essay, "Germantown Colony," Lena Baum '92; Music, "The Banner of Victory," by Orchestra; Essay, "California," Nellie Anderson '95; Declaration, "The Republican Candidate," Wm. Runkle '94; Essay, "Hannibal," John Keicline '94; Essay, "Barometer," Paul Fortney '94; Essay, "Vanity of the Human Race," Clarence Hamilton '94; Essay, "A Trip to the Cave," Ella Twitmore '93; Essay, "Trees," Joe Fauble '93; Essay, "Henry Longfellow."

DRANK HIMSELF TO DEATH.—Frank better known as "Perch" Mossop, whose home has been at Clearfield, died at Oseola Friday evening, after an illness of several days. His remains were taken to Clearfield for burial Monday. It will be remembered that the deceased spent several days here about a month ago, having in his possession about $2,000, all of which passed through his hands in a very few days. Strong drink was the cause of thus ending the life of a man who, when not under the control of liquor, was an exemplary young man. The writer had known, and was personally acquainted with Perch, for a number of years, and never had we met a more liberal hearted or good natured young man, or one who had more staunch friends than Perch. —Philipsburg Journal.

DIED SUDDENLY.—Mrs. Margaret Beezer, widow of the late Elias Beezer, who lived on a farm about two miles from this place, died suddenly from asthma, on Wednesday morning, about six o'clock. She had contracted a cold about one week ago and always having been a sufferer with asthma, when she arose, on Wednesday morning, she became short of breath and before medical aid could be summoned, had breathed her last. She was about 51 years of age and leaves several sons and daughters to mourn her untimely demise. Services will be held in the Catholic church to-day.

Hair switches at Mrs. Gilmore's.

Elmer Beck, of Warriors-mark, has taken charge of the Reformatory farm, at Huntingdon.

The discipline and condition of the Huntingdon Reformatory are to have Legislative investigation.

A Tyrone millinery establishment was burglarized, on Saturday night, and the contents of one drawer, about $15, taken.

The Gazette is devoting much space to booming a railroad from this point to Beech Creek. The WATCHMAN wishes it success in the undertaking.

Mrs. Emma P. Ewing, the Chantauqua cook woman, is teaching the Lock Haven wife how to prepare dainty morsels for her hungry husband. We have noticed a change in the Democrat already.

On Monday evening the Bellefonte school directors met in special session to investigate charges preferred against Prof. Johnsonbaugh, principal of the High schools. As no one appeared to substantiate the charges he was exonerated.

The present style of hair dressing is varied and exceedingly pretty, but very few women can arrange a soft fluffy greek knot, or a smooth high twist, with its towering tortoise shell comb, without a real hair switch, which Mrs. Gilmore sells at very reasonable prices.

Since Tyrone has taken a stand for a new county, with the seat of government within her limits, she is finding out in what estimate other parts of Blair hold her. It must be satisfactory indeed to have the Altoona and Hollidaysburg papers expressing themselves as glad to get rid of Tyrone.

Miss Ida Landis, who left Tuesday morning for Berwyn, near Philadelphia, where she will open a fancy goods store, has the kind wishes of a large circle of friends, who predict for her success and prosperity in her new home. For she has the happy faculty of making friends and is an experienced millinery of much taste.

General Hastings has started out as a reformer, this evening he will lecture in Philipsburg for the benefit of the Woman's Christian Alliance, which will devote the proceeds of the lecture toward sending men to the Keeley Institute for treatment. This society has already sent ten men to the Fifth Ave. Institute and all cases are reported to be progressing satisfactorily.

On Friday afternoon, about two o'clock, the residents about Spring and Howard streets were startled by a great crash and many thought the tall spire on the Presbyterian church, which has been condemned as dangerous, falling. It was not quite so bad as they thought, but the high westerly wind had torn the north side of the roof from the pulpit annex and carried it clear over the lawn a distance of about fifty feet. No serious damage was done.

Last week saw the history of Huntingdon county blackened by two of the most fiendish outrages conceivable. Elmer P. Corbin, a discharged inmate of the Reformatory, committed an assault upon the 8 year old daughter of his employer, Wilbur Strait, from which she suffered very serious injuries. And Maggie Kelley, while on her way, through a lonely wood, to a play-mate's home, was brutally assaulted by Howard Ryan, a married man 35 years old. Both of the brutes are in jail and no punishment could be too severe for them.

At an early hour, on Tuesday morning, two Altoona policemen discovered a woman completely enveloped in flames, standing on 2nd Ave. They both rushed to her and, throwing their heavy coats over her, succeeded in extinguishing the fire, but not before she was horribly burned. An ambulance was summoned and she was taken to the hospital where she was reported fatally burned. After much questioning she gave her name as Mollie Jeville and said that her husband had thrown a lamp at her. Clutched tightly in one of her charred hands was found a bright silver dollar supposed to have been the cause of the trouble.

Our good Democratic friend, Frank Brown, of Liberty township, has been lucky enough to fall heir to a snug little fortune, amounting to about $20,000 through the death of a grand Aunt, Mrs. Catharine Boush, of Northumberland county. The estate of which Mr. Brown becomes part owner has been appraised at $1,500,000, and is mostly in government bonds, railroad stock and anthracite coal lands. His interest will be a sixty-third and there is no one in the county who will enjoy a wind-fall of this kind more, or who will receive more earnest congratulations over his good fortune than Mr. Brown.

If your hair is thin you can get a switch which will just suit you at Mrs. Gilmore's.

BUT HARRY DIDN'T JOIN THE CIRCUS.

He is now in jail in default of the $200 bonds, in which Squire Foster held him last Tuesday morning.

About March 5th Harry Johnson, a young man who was employed as stableman at one of the bars at the State College, went to purchase a suit from C. B. Shaffer & Sons, the college tailors. He selected a $40. garment and said that he wanted it by the following Tuesday night. Having but a short time to make it the firm put in extra time and turned it over to Johnson, on Wednesday morning. When he took it he paid $15. and said that he would pay the balance on the next two pay days. But he had been discharged before he ordered the suit and knew that there would be no more pay days for him. So dressed in his best and he is quite a sporty looking fellow—he left the College, ostensibly for a day in this place, but, suspicion having been aroused, inquiry was made as to where he had purchased his ticket and the response came: "Pittsburg. District Attorney Meyer was immediately notified and took the case: "obtaining goods under false pretenses." The number of his check was telegraphed to the chief of police, at Pittsburg, and when Johnson presented it for his baggage he was promptly arrested and turned over to the Schaffer boys, who had been deputized to go after him.

At the hearing before Squire Foster, on Tuesday morning, he did not offer any defense and was held over in default of $200 bail.

Before leaving the college he said he intended going west to join a circus. He is an experienced horseman and an exceptionally prepossessing looking young fellow. In fact he was always one of the nattiest young men about the college, but he can play circus with sheriff Jisher now. They have both horizontal and parallel bars up there for him.

THAT RAILROAD TRANSFER.—In a long article, in its Saturday issue, the Gazette told how a gigantic rail-road deal had just been consummated, by which the road-bed between this place and Beech-Creek had been transferred to the Bellefonte Central Company and then indulged in its usual amount of "gush" about its probable effect upon Bellefonte business interests.

When the Bellefonte, Buffalo Run and Bald Eagle road was sold last fall a few of the bond holders bought it in and changed the name to the Bellefonte Central, under which it has been operating ever since. The western end of the old line, between this place and State College, is all that was ironed and the route from here to Beech Creek was surveyed but only partially graded, such work only having been completed as was necessary to hold the right of way. Now it is the transfer of this eastern section of the old Bellefonte, Buffalo Run and Bald Eagle railroad to the new owners which the Gazette is making such a fuss about. Their is nothing of particular interest to Bellefonters in the transfer unless the Bellefonte Central will extend to Beech Creek and give us a Vanderbilt connection. The charter of the old road included the route from State College to Beech Creek and the transfer, made on March 1st, was simply the confirmation of sale to the new company.

Mrs. Ellen H. Hall, wife of John F. Hall, who is well known in Bellefonte, died at her home, in Tyrone, on last Thursday afternoon. Of her the Tyrone Herald says: Mrs. Ellen H., wife of John F. Hall, died at her home on Lincoln avenue at 9:45 o'clock last evening. About seven years ago her health began to fail and she had not been well since that time. On Tuesday she suddenly suffered a partial paralysis, extending over her left side and gradually sank from that time until her death.

Deceased was born at Centre Furnace, near Bellefonte, November 8, 1829, and was married, to John F. Hall, February 27, 1849. Six children were born, of which number only two are living, Harry C. Hall of Tyrone, and Mrs. R. H. Hardy, of Allegheny City. Mr. and Mrs. Hall moved to Tyrone from Ohio, October 23, 1872. Since that time they have made hosts of friends. Mrs. Hall was a consistent and faithful member of the Methodist church and was zealous in all good work connected with the church.

HOOPER & MILLER SUCCESSFUL.—The case of Hooper and Miller vs the Pennsylvania Railroad company for the recovery of $2121.00 due for alleged freight discrimination, was tried before abettors, in Huntingdon, last Thursday afternoon and a verdict for the full amount returned for the plaintiffs. The railroad company have carried their appeal to court, however and it is not known just what will be the outcome of it.

Quite an enjoyable party was held at the residence of Edward Spears, at Curtins', on Saturday evening, March 5th. A whole sled load of young folks tumbled themselves out in front of the hospitable Spears' home and entered it for a good time, which they had.

Switches in every color and shape

and prices at Mrs. Gilmore's.

Mrs. Rebecca Curdin, of Curtin's Works, has been in very poor health all winter.

Dr. Irvin, the bright young physician of Julian, was a pleasant caller on Thursday morning.

The farmer's institute held at Lamar, Clinton county, during the early part of the week was well attended and interesting as well.

The horse markets were somewhat excited, on Tuesday, by the appearance of a couple of Lewistown dealers, who were sporting a handsome team of blacks.

Mr. Eugene Mutchman, superintendent of the standard scale works, has leased the house on South Allegheny street, lately occupied by Mr. Landis, and his family will come on from Pittsburg in a few days.

James Bradley, of Milesburg, aged 60 years and 9 months, died on Tuesday. Deceased was a veteran of the late war, having served with honor in the 5th Penna. Reserves. He was a member of the Dr. Geo. L. Potter Post and of the Methodist church. Interment was made yesterday afternoon.

We have been requested by Mr. Frank Bowersox, of Ferguson township, to state, for the information of citizen of that township, that the road leading from near the residence of Mr. Wm Fry to the public road at foot of the mountain, is not a public road and that hereafter no work by the township will be done on it.

Constance Commandery No. 23, K. T. elected the following officers at their meeting, held in their asylum, on Friday evening: Eminent Commander, Geo. B. Johnston; Generalissimo, S. M. Buck; Captain General, Cyrus Goss; Recorder, John C. Miller; Treasurer, John P. Harris; Trustees, Hammond Sechler, L. T. Munson and W. F. Reynolds, Jr.

Last Saturday the court granted the following additional licenses: Simler & McCormick, hotel, Philipsburg; Taltersall Ingham, hotel, Philipsburg; and Wm. R. Haynes, wholesale, Snow Shoe. Jos. Lehman, hotel, Philipsburg, and George Uzzle, hotel, Snow Shoe, were refused. The petitions of Martha Ashcroft, hotel, Philipsburg and Jos. Riley, wholesale, Philipsburg, were held over until March 26th.

The dwelling owned and occupied by Philip Iddings and family, two miles above Unionville, was completely destroyed by fire on last Thursday night when Mr. Iddings awoke between 12 and 1 o'clock he discovered the whole front of the building in flames and the only escape cut off, so throwing some clothes out on the back porch roof he took his wife and three children out and from there they jumped to the ground, a distance of nine feet.

Last Friday we had a pleasant call from a young gentleman, who has made a decided success of himself within the past few years. It was Reuben Smith, a son of Mr. Augustus Smith formerly of this place, but now of Milesburg. Reuben is employed as tinner in the leading hardware establishment, of Emporium, where he boards with our great democratic friend Barney Coyle, of White Swan hotel, Philipsburg, fame.

In the death of Mr. Aaron R. Hall, which occurred at his home three miles north of Unionville, on Friday last, after a lingering illness, Union township, and that section of the county, loses one of its oldest, best known and most prominent citizens. Mr. Hall was born and has lived within the township in which he died during his entire life. He was known as a reliable, liberal, kind-hearted citizen who never thought it a trouble to do a favor for any one, and whose acts of kindness will long keep green the memory of one whom all who knew him will miss and mourn. He was about seventy years of age, a good man, a kind husband and an indulgent father.

One of the most disgraceful and disgusting scenes we ever want to witness was enacted, on last Monday afternoon, on east Logan street. The chief actor was a middle aged creature, not worthy the name of man, and yet he could not be called a brute for even the dumb animals love and protect their young and this being did neither, for he met his child at the corner of the street with a tirade of oaths that a respectable father would shudder to hear, and for a square kept bellowing out threats of punishment that could not but attract attention throughout the neighborhood. If the creature had been drunk we would have understood his actions but when we found out that it was an every day occurrence, we wondered why we sent missionaries to Africa to civilize the dark continent and whether the next legislature could not be persuaded to establish a whipping post in this community.

A BIG DAY FOR P. O. S. OF A.

Last night the Bellefonte Petitioners for a camp charter, of the P. O. S. of A. saw their wishes gratified and those who were fortunate enough to secure seats, in the McClain block, witnessed the impressive installation ceremonies. The new camp was organized under the most favorable auspices and everything gives promise of its doing a good work in our midst. The high and noble ambitions of the order will be an incentive to attract the best of men into its fold and with such exalted purposes it cannot but succeed.

A parade was formed, at three o'clock, yesterday afternoon and the wearers of the red white and blue made quite a pretty sight on our streets. Delegations from neighboring towns were in the parade and the fine appearance they all made will have a very salutary effect upon the future of the new camp.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Issued during the past week—Taken from the docket: George Brandon and Lucy Patter, son, both of Bellefonte. Jacob F. Royer and Amanda Ripka, both of Potter twp.
