Democratic Watchman.

Bellefonte, Pa., April 15, 1892. Creede's Big Find.

A Thousand Dollars a Day-A Career Which Seems Like a Romance, but is as Real as Life Itself-Perseverance Which Proves Profitable. One of the most talked of men in Colorado to-day is F. C. Creede, of the new city of Creede, which has sprung up like magic as the result of this unique man's discovery. He is a spare built man of compact muscular development though there is a suggestion of hereditary tuberculosis in his general appearance. His department is that of the backwoodsman and he is as bashful and timid as a country boy suddenly set down in the heart of a big city. The story of his life as told by himself is a simple one. "I am an Indian by birth. I was born at Fort Wayne, that State, in 1843. My parents took me to Iowa when I was two years old, and I have never been east of the Mississippi since. In 1868, when I was nineteen, I volunteered in the United States army, and for seven years served as a scout with the Pawnees. I received the pay of a first lieutenant, though I held no rank. I went all through Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana and the Bad lands of the Dakotas in the early days. I was in the Black Hills before gold was discovered, and when I heard of that excitement it set me thinking about my lost opportunities. I began to talk to everybody I met who I thought had any knowledge of minerals, and by this means I picked up sufficient knowledge to tell silver and gold fields when I saw them. But I've never bothered much with gold yet. I went to Montana in 1883, and have been climbing over the mountains in the West ever since. "I usually took a man with me, though often I could get no one for love or money to accompany me, I have stayed in the mountain as long as the snow would let me, and many times I have gone for months without seeing a human being. My outfits usually consisted of from two to four burros laden with tent equipments and provisions to last four months. The commissary contained flour, meal, lard, butter, salt, pepper, pork and beans. I'm a pretty good shot, and always counted on killed deer and mountain partridges for my fresh meat. The mountain streams afforded me excellent trout fishing. "Twice I have had pneumonia 'way up in these mountains. Luckily I had a companion each time, or I wouldn't be here to tell you about it. "In May 1890, I struck some float on the side of Mammoth Mountain. I tied my burros and began to follow it. I climbed the mountain along the trail of the float all day. The sun was beating down on me and the gint of the float underneath my feet was blinding. Just when the western sky was tinged with that gorgeous red we see here sometimes I lifted my head, and there, was projecting out in front of me, in inviting shape, a huge bowlder of silicate big as a house. That's where the float I had followed all day came from. Good God! I almost screamed with delight. I knew it was bound to come some day, but the idea of finding it in such shape was appalling to me. But to make a long story short, I staked it off and it was mine. I named it Mammoth. When I went back to camp that night I slept as I hadn't for months before. "How much do you expect to realize out of your finds?" "Oh, I can't estimate it now," replied Mr. Creede, with a nonchalant air. "I have two partners, Captain L. E. Campbell and Col. Dave Moffatt. They grub staked me and we share equally. I suppose my labor cost them $800 each. In the next two months my income will be at least $1,000 a day. The Holy Moses paid out 80 ounces to the ton and the Amethyst 140. We make a clear profit of $500 a car on Holy Moses and $800 a car on Amethyst. Since October we have shipped 230 cars, and have yet done no stopping. "I located the Monarch district, twenty miles from Salida, fourteen years ago. I only got $5,000 for that, but that was enough to tide me over hard times. I also located the Bonanza camp, and sold the Twin lode there for $10,000."

The Great Northwest.

The States of Montana and Washington are very fully described in two folders issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad, entitled "Golden Montana" and "Fruitful Washington." The folders contain good county maps of the states named, and information in reference to climate, lands, resources, and other subjects of interest to capitalists, business men or settlers. Holders of second class tickets to North Pacific Coast points, via Northern Pacific Railroad, are allowed the privilege of stopping over at Spokane, Washington, and points west thereof, for the purpose of examining all sections of this magnificent state before locating. Northern Pacific through express trains carry free colonist sleeping cars from St. Paul, and Pullman tourist sleepers from Chicago (via Wisconsin Central Line) to Montana and Pacific Coast points daily. California tourists, and travelers to Montana and the North Pacific Coast, can purchase round trip excursion tickets at rates which amount to but little more than the one way fare. Choice of routes is allowed on these tickets, which are good for three or six months, according to destination, and permit of stop-overs. The elegant equipment on the Northern Pacific Railroad; the dinner cars from Chicago (via both Wisconsin Central Line and C. M. & St. P. Ry.) to Pacific Coast points, and the most magnificent scenery of seven states, are among the advantages and attractions offered to travelers by this line. The "Wonderland" book issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad describes the country between the Great Lakes and Pacific Ocean, with maps and illustrations. For any of the above publications, and rates, maps, time tables, write to any General or District Passenger Agent, or Chas. S. Fee, G. P. & T. A., N. P. R. R., St. Paul, Minn. 37

From the Chicago Times, Ward Leader. "Billy, there's a new family moved into your precinct. Better see the man. We need every vote, and maybe he's one of our sort. Heiler. "Naw. He'll never vote for nobody." "Why not?" "Cause he's professor of political science in a college. Them ducks never knows when his election day."

Bermuda or Easter Lily.

There is a beautiful legend of Judean origin that after the Saviour rose from the tomb, the places where He trod were marked by white lilies, which sprang up and blossomed in his footsteps; and this is why white lilies are used to symbolize the resurrection. What in our country is called the "Easter lily" comes from Bermuda. The "lily fields" are in bloom there from February to May. What a dazzling sight must acres of pure white lilies be, "ranks on ranks of stately lily stalks," blooming not only for beauty, but for use! From these fields we have our bulbs for the greenhouse or home. They accommodate themselves to varied conditions. It wanted at Christmas or Easter time, the bulbs should be planted from the first of September to the first of December, in five or six inch pots. The soil should be three parts rotted sod and one fourth well rotted stable manure. Press the bulbs down well in the soil, covering them half an inch. Give a thorough watering, and place in a cold frame, under leaves or hay four or five inches deep. Provide a shelter, that the frame may be covered during a rain. After a month bring into the house, keep the temperature 60° or 60° at night and 65° or 75° in the daytime. They can be forced faster by increasing the heat. In very cold climates the potted bulbs can be placed in the cellar instead of the cold frame. Do not repot, but add liquid manure if needed. When the bulbs are done flowering let them rest and ripen, by not watering them for about two months; they will then flower a second time. The outdoor cultivation is very easy. They will stand our northern winters, with a deep cover of litter and leaves, and reward the small care they need with a crown of pure white lilies lasting many days.

INDIGESTION. DISTRESS, SOUR STOMACH, PALPITATION OF THE HEART. A WONDERFUL CHANGE ON TAKING HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA. The suffering caused by indigestion and dyspepsia is indescribable. Thousands of people are living in misery with these disorders who might be cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, if they would only give this medicine a fair trial. The following statement comes voluntarily from a lady who has probably suffered more from indigestion than any who read this article. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured her, and it is certainly reasonable to believe that it will do you good if you are troubled similarly. "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. "I feel it an imperative duty to make known what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I have been troubled with indigestion for many years, and have suffered much distress, flatulence and sour stomach. At night I would have FRIGHTFUL DREAMS and would awake suddenly with an all-gone feeling and palpitation of the heart. It was of ten necessary for some one to rub me to bring on reaction of the heart, after which I would get on my feet and walk the floor, when belching would relieve me. I had these spells frequently. With these troubles I also had sciatic rheumatism by spells for at least 15 years mostly in winter. At times I could hardly move. Work became such a burden I begged to quit farming. But I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has helped me wonderfully. I was very much relieved when I began with it, but have been so much renewed that my folks say they think I AM GROWING YOUNG. Instead of old, I am 52 years old, weigh more than I ever did, do all my own work, and can milk nine cows with more ease than I could milk one last winter. I can go to bed and sleep, which after what I have suffered, is a great blessing to me. I am also cured of rheumatism, as I have had no attack for a long time. This is what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me, and I am GLAD TO SPEAK LOUD. In its favor to all afflicted friends. If it were in my power I would sound the praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla over the entire universe. I thank God that mankind has ever brought into existence such a good medicine." Mrs. J. B. Longnecker, Union Deposit, Pa. MORE GOOD THAN ANY OTHER. "I have been troubled with rheumatism and have taken three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and am almost cured. It has done me more good than any other medicine I have taken, I was laid up for seven months, and by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I am now able to do my own work." Mrs. Samuel D. Stewart, 193 Merriam Alley, South Side, Pittsburg, Penn. THAT Tired Feeling. Mrs. James Pethick, wife of Mr. James Pethick, the well known carpenter residing at 140 Lincoln street, Wilkes-Barre, Penn., says: "I have taken quite a number of bottles of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, for that tired feeling and loss of appetite and can recommend the medicine highly. I felt much better and stronger after taking it." Mrs. James Pethick, 140 Lincoln street, Wilkes-Barre, Penn. Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, do not grip. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 37 8
