Died at Lemont.

Emanuel Duey, who died April the 13th. 1832, was born the 4th day of March, 1816; making his age 76 years, 1 month, and 9 days. He was a consistent member of the German Reformed church, having united himself with that church in his 16th year. He was married to Mary A. Carter, the 28th of January 1839 and 10 children blessed their union Three of whom have gone before him to that Holy land. He leaves behind him a devoted wife and 7 children, 4 sons and 3 daughters. Namely: Joseph, of Pittsburg; Thomas and Robert, of Snow Shoe; William, of Pleasant Gap; Mrs. E. Fishel, of Lemont; Mrs. R. Roan, of Fillmore and Mrs. M. Holt, of C. lumbus, Ohio. Early last fall he was taken with disease of the stomach and ever since that time has been confined to his bed and he never complained but bore his suffering like a true christian. Oh! to stand by the bed side of those we love and give them the last farewel is heart rending, but to have a sure hope of meeting our father in a better and brighter world, where parting is no more, is consolation in our grief. His remains were interred in the Houserville cemetery, followed by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and neighbors. Rev. A. A. Black, his pastor in charge, preached the funeral sermon from Job the 14 chapter and 14th verse. "If a man die shall he live again all the days of my Appointed time will I wait till my change come." The text having been selected by the deceased.

In Memory of a Loved One.

Mrs. Peters, wife of Orvis Peters, died at her home, in Unionville, on Thursday morning, April 7th, of congestion of the brain. She was the second daughter of W. B. Grassmyer, of Milesburg, and was 23 years, 3 months and 24 days old. A husband, a bright little daughter, 21 months old, and a dear little baby boy, one month old survive her. Every thing was done for her that kind friends and neighbors could do, but she grew rapidly worse until death ended her sufferings. The funeral service was held in the Union church, in Unionville, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. Koontz, assisted by Rev. Kinley, of Unionville. Afterwards interment was made in the new grave yard. She was a kind neighbor and loved by all who knew her. The members of the P. O. S. of A., took charge of the funeral as Mr. Peters is a member of that order.

A Workman's Discovery.

Bonds Aggregating $8,000 Found in a Car.

ALTOONA, April 26 .- Frank Fowler, an employe in the lower shops in John Tinker's gang in Foreman Burley's department, made quite a discovery yesterday in a standard Pennsylvania railroad passenger car. Some time last January the car was shopped for re-pairs. It was overhauled in the body shop, then repainted and revarnished and finally reached the trimming department. Mr. Fowler was one of the employes who was employed at this latter work. While busy yesterday he saw a bunch of paper sticking out from the ventilator in the roof of the water

Not thinking it meant much, he pulled the papers out, and discovered that they were printed matter. Not only that, but they were more and were sixteen in number. An investigation showed that they were bonds of the Tennessee and Nashville railroad, of the denomination of $500 each, and that they were drawn in favor of Smith county, Tenn. It appears that in that region railroads issue bonds to the various counties for moneys advanced by the latter in the building of the roads, and these were evidently issued to the credit of Smith county for mon-ey advanced. The bonds are due in 1902 and the coupons had been cut off up until and including January, 1892.

How the bonds got in their hiding place is a mystery. One theory is that they were stolen and the thief being closely pressed hid them in the ventilator where they were found. They were turned over to the railroad authorities here and they have set on foot investigations which may lead to foot investigations which may lead to the discovery of the identity of their

No Foreigners Need Apply.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24. Secretary Tracy has issued an order that hereafter none but American citizens shall be appointed to places in the navy yards or in the civil forces in that department. An investigation made by the Secretary revealed the fact that there are now employed at some of the navy yards foreign draughtsman who have only lived in the United States a year or little more. These will now be discharged and those who have been in the country long enough to be natura-lized, but have not become citizens must do so at once or quit the service.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

-St. Nicholas for May has a table of contents presenting thirty-nine distinct dishes, each of excellent flavor and well served, but none too highly seasoned for the healthful palate of youth. In addition to its numerous stories, always of the best and most entertaining; its bright bits of verses; its various de partments unusually well fitted with matters of interest to both young and old, it is most profusely illustrated and is one of the most perfect and entertaining numbers of this unusually good monthly. The family that receives St. Nicholas regularly enjoys much more of the good things of this life than the one that knows nothing of its wealth of things,

-The May Century is remarkable for the beginning of a new volume and of three new se rials, namely,-The life of Columbus, "by Emilio Castelar; "The Chosen Valley," a novel of Western life in the irrigation-fields, and Van Brunt's semi-official and fully illustrated papers on "Architecture at the World's Columbian Exposition." The table of contents of this number is quite remarkable in its list of prominent names. In the way of short stories there are two very interesting ones, namely,one by Wolcott Balestier, and the other "A Gray Jacket." by Thomas Nelson Page. Of a particularly timely character is the article or "Coast and Inland Yachting" by Frederick W. Pangborn, with a number of illustrations. The opening paper of the number is one on Thomas Couture. Mr. Stedman prints his third pa per on the subject of poetry. James Lane Allen describes, and a number of artists illustrate, "Homesteads of the Blue-Grass." To speak of the serials, Hamlin Garland's Western story, "Ol' Pap's Flaxen," is concluded, and further instalments are given of Dr. Weir Mitchell's "Characteristics," and "The Nau-lahka," by Kipling and Balestier. The de-partments are crowded with matter of timely interest to the public, while the poetry and shorter stories of this number are exceedingly interesting and good. The whole number complete with the finest illustrations.

The opening article of the New England Magazine for May will recall bright, happy days to thousands of American travellers. It is "Village Life in Old England." The author, Reuben G. Thwaites, and the artist, Louis A Holman, spent last summer in England, and the result is a very picturesque article—in the real sense of that abused word. The Hon. Wil liam Eleroy Curtis, Chief of the Bureau of the American Republics, contributes a fine article on "The Progress of the South American Republics." Horatio J. Perry opens the Columbus ball with an interesting paper, "On the Track of Columbus." Frances M. Abbott contributes a good, short story, "The Governor's 2.49 Reception." Allan Eastman Cross does justice to his subject in his fine poem, "The Human Freedom League." Walter Blackburn Harte makes a plea for egoism and books, 14 Abram English Brown writes on "Governor Winthrop's Farm." Charles Hallock recal "Bermuda in Blockade Times." "Henry Clay as Speaker of the House" is a valuable historical essay. Herbert M Sylvester's series on "Ye Romance of Casco Bay" opens in this number. Elizabeth Le Baron Marsh gives some reminiscences of "Jenny Lind in Northamp" ton." P. J. O'Keffe describes "The Chicago Stock Yards." Edwin D. Mead at the Editors' Table discourses of Chicago and Eastern Parochialism, and administers a few sharp raps to those Bostonians who affect to regard the West as a wilderness.

-Sometimes a magazine varies its plan of make-up for a single number, in a way that makes that issue unique. The Cosmopolitan published one number some months ago filled entirely with contributions from women. In the same way the May issue of the Cosmopolitan is noteworthy on account of the change in of securing votes for Dean, thus giving aid to the style of illustration. With hardly an exception, the number is entirely made up of original works of art, and all by the best artists that could be found. There has never been a number of any magazine that contain ed so high a class of illustration, and the names of Walter Crane, the English decorator, W. M. Chase, E. W. Kemble, F. Remington, C. S. Reinhart, &c., are enough to distinguish the

> ---The eighty-fourth volume of Harper's Magazine is completed with the number for May. The fiction in this number includes short stories by Thomas Nelson Page, Ruth McEnery Stuart and William McLennan, the continuation of W. D. Howell's "The World of Chance," and the opening chapters of Mary E Wilkin's first novel, "Jane Field." A prominent literary feature is an article on Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, by Mrs. Anne Thackeray Ritchie. Mrs. Ritchie relates sev eral interesting personal reminiscences no hitherto published, and portraits are given of Mr. and Mrs. Browning, and of their friend Mr. Misland, together with a picture of Mrs-Browning's tomb at Florence, and also facsimiles of the handwriting of the two poets The illustrations are exceptionally fine and plentiful, the poetry and miscellany good, making the May issue of this favorite monthly particularly entertaining.

BALTZELLS.—

CARP and criticise as they may, it is to be doubted whether there is a sane person that does not like to see a woman well dressed. This does not necessarily mean the expenditure of large sums but it does mean choice in becoming colors, in gowns well made and in a suitable style. For those who cannot afford many gowns a black toilet is indispensable, and it should be of the matchless Priestly Silk Warp Fabrics. Ladies who are expert in textiles admit that there is no material that will wear as well and look as dressy as the Silk Warp Henrietta. Elderly ladies make elegant toilets with demi trains relieved with jet and chiffon ruffles. In buying a black dress one need not be confined to Henriettas as the great Priestly House, of which we are the sole representatives in this city, make many other extremely handsome fabrics and always of the best. You can tell a Priestly by the fact that they are all stamped on the under side of the Selvedge every five yards with, "B. Priestly & Co." in gilt letters. Young

A WORD ABOUT CATARRH.

It is the mucus membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surronnding the delicate tissnes of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established it eats into the very vitals and renders life a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelopes the bones, eating the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient and all slleviates are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. Dr. Salm has, by a treatment local and constitutional, made the cure of this dread disease a certainty, and has never falled. Even when the disease had made frightful inroads on delicate constitution, hearing, smell and tests have been recovered and the disease on delicate constitution, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered and the disease thoroughly driven out.

CHRONIC DISEASES.

The Doctors treat no acute diseases, but make an entire specialty of chronic and long standing diseases. Cases given up by other doctors and pronounced incurable, they most desire to see. The doctors have treated over 15,000 cases in Ohio in the last twelve years, many of which have been given up as incurable, some to be blind, others deaf, and a large number to be invalids for life. But behold how they see and hear, and many are started on the high road to health and recovery every day.
