Into the Land of Promise.

From 30,000 to 40,00 People Rush for Homes in the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Reservations.

EL RENO, OKLAHOMA, April 20 .-The Cheyenue and Arapahoe reservations were thrown open at noon to-day to a vast crowd of boomers.

There were exciting scenes attendant on the event, but no great disorder. It lacks 10 minutes to 12 o'clock, All up and down the lines of expectant men there is a hush. The last girth has has been tightened, hats are firmly adjusted on heads, riders sit squarely in their saddles with reins gathered up, men on foot measure the ground in front of them with their eyes. Drivers of wagons poise their whips. Everything is in readiness for the start. The skies still lower, but no rain is falling. The air is moist and warm. All eyes are turned toward Fort Reno. Five minutes to noon a sergeant and two men marched forth onto the parade ground bearing the garrison flag. Quick-ly adjusting it to the halyards, they began to hoist it to the top of the high staff. Halfway up the flag stops for a moment, but quickly resumes its up-ward journey. At last it reaches the top and flutters in the mist-laden air. It is high noon. As the top edge of the flag touches the little round truck that surmounts the flagstaff a cannon shot was fired followed by another and an-

The waiting crowd plunged forward. The crowd strung out, the weaker falling behind. Soon all have disappeared in their mad rush for homesteads

Very few people slept last night. They were all up preparing for the grand rush. It is believed that from 30,000 to 40,000 people dashed over the reservation line today.

Reports from Hennessey. Dover, and other points along the reservation, show that there has been no serious trouble. Among the boomers are 1,000 colored

The area of the reservation is much greater than it is generally understood to be. It would make two Oklahomas or five Rhode Islands, while the whole states of Connecticut and Rhode Island could be set down in it and there would still remain room for Districts of Columbia. It centains about 6,500 square mile, or 4,000,000 of acres.

Browns Valley, MINN.—Disgusted home seekers are returning to their villages by the dozen from the Sisseton reservation. All of them succeeded in locating claims, but they say that the worthless, devoid of the most essential qualities and not worth paying taxes on. True, there are some good they were gobbled before the ordinary homeseeker, who was willing to hustle for himself, had a chance to make his appearance. So far as the other lands are concerned that may be aptly described by the remark of a high official, who said: "I don't blame the Government for giving this land away, Instead of placing troops here to keep the people off it, they should have directed the soldiers to use every honest effort to push them on it.

"Shall We Meet Again."

The following, from the pen of the lamented George D. Prentice, is one of the most sublime productions in the English language:

The flat of nature is inexorable. There is no appeal from the great law which dooms us to the dust. We flourish and fade as the leaves of the forest; and the flowers that bloom and whith- be present at once. Dr. Sage's Remedy er in a day have no frailer hold upon life than the mightiest monarch that ever shook the earth with his footsteps. Generations of men will appear and disappear as the grass, and the multi tude who throng the world to-day will disappear as the footprints on the shore.

Men seldom think of the great event of death until its shadow falls across their own pathways hiding from their eyes the faces of loved ones whose living smile was the sunlight of their existence.

Death is the antagonist of life, and the cold thought of the tomb is the skeleton of all feasts. We do not want to go through the dark valley, although its dark passage may lead to paradise we do not want to lie down in the damp grave, not even with princes for bedfellows.

In the beautiful drama of "Ion" the hope of immortality, so elegantly uttered by the death-devoted Greek, finds deep response in every thoughtful soul.

When about to yield his young life as a sacrifice to fate his Clemanthe asks if they shall meet again; to which he responds: "I have asked that dreadful question of the hills, that look eternal, of the clear streams that flow forever, of the stars among whose fields of azure many raised spirits have walked in glory. All were dumb. But as I gaze on the living face, I feel there is something in love which mantels through its beauty that cannot wholly perish. We shall meet again, Clemanthe."

The Temperate "Japs."

Among the peoples of the globe the Japanese, in their use of tobacco, as in many other things, would seem to be the most temperate as well as the most refined. The rudest coclie or the coarsest farm laborer equally with the lady of rank (the pretty gelsha) and the Minister of State are conteut with the kiseru, a tiny pipe, which does not hold enough to make even Queen Mab sneeze.

He Had Stepped Out.

At the Sunday school institute held in the First United Presbyterian church Allegheny, Prof. H. M. Hamil one night told a story to illustrate right and wrong methods of teaching.

A young lady was asked by a Sab-bath school superintendent to take tem-porary charge of a class of young street arabs, as their regular teacher was absent. She said she had not prepared her lesson, but was willing to what she could. Under the circumstances she thought a sort of general Biblical ques-tioning would be the best lesson. So she began with the first boy:

"Who made you?" "God," was the prompt reply. "Who was the oldest man?" she asked the next pupil. "It was Methuselah!" "Yes'm.''mo of w esc "Who was it now?"

"Methuselah." She went on down the class with other uestions, and eventually reached the foot. Then she thought she would see see how much of the lesson had been re membered, and she commenced again at the head :

"Who made you?"
"Methuselah." "What? You mean God made you lon't you?" "Nome. The boy that God made has gone out for a drink of water.'

Too Late.

Perhaps Tennyson has written noth ing which appeals to the hearts of all who read his poems more than the lyric of "Too Late," The burden of the sad refrain comes home with telling force to the hearts of those who have lost friends by that dread disease-consumption. They realize, "too late" the result of neglect. They feel that the dear one might have been saved if they had heeded the warning of the hacking cough, the pallid cheek, and weakening system. They feel this all the more capally have yet they see they have the quenly because they see others being rescued from the grasp of the destroyer, and they think what is saving others might have saved their loved one. When the first signal of danger is seen take steps to avert the catastrophe wise in time, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will drive away consump tion. Do not wait until too late before putting its wonderful efficacy to the test. It succeeds where other remedies fail.

Ordered to the Behring Sea.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 19.—Com-mander William M. Johnson, of the United States navy, was a passenger on ne Chic. to sleeper on the Fort Wayne express this morning. He is en route to Tacoma, Washington, at which point he will take charge of the Mohican, lands on the Sisseton reservation, but which has been ordered to the Behring sea with two other naval vessels and several revenue cutters. Commander Johnson had little to say about the situation, and said he did not know what he was required to do, as his orders has had been sent on ahead of him.

A Wall Street Romance.

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.-In answer to current rumors the Philadel-phia and Reading railroads authorize the publication of the following. "There is no truth in the story that the Reading has posted a notice reducing wages, nor that any such policy is under consideration. Therefore, as there is no cause for a strike there is no apprehension. The rumor, so far as we have any information, is a wall street romance.
