zeobia.

Among the heroines of antiquity not one stands so conspicuous for moral and intellectual grandeur as Zenobia, Queen of Palmyra. The Roman Empire had become great by sheer dint of remorseless robbery. It "wanted all that lay next to it," and being restrained by scruples of conscience or benevolence, it proceeded on its aggressive way, constantly adding (by foul means oftener than by fair) to its possessions.

Palmyra, an oasis in the desert, made rich and prosperous by being the entrepot of the vast caravan trade between the East and the West attracted the cupidity of Rome, in the year A. D. 275. Zenobia had succeeded her husband Odenatus as the ruler of Palmyra, and being a woman of great spirit and magnificent courage, determined to resist the Roman encroachments. Had her allies supported her, the event would probably have justified her daring. But mutual jealousies have always proved the cause of weak nations. The Persians and Arabians who were bound not only by treaty but also by every instinct of self-preservation and consideration of common sense to stand by Palmyra in its struggle with Rome, looked upon her rather as a rival who might now be humiliated, than as an ally whose defeat meant eventually their own, and failed to come to her assistance.

The reign of Zenobia, though of only five years duration, ending the destruction of her country and her own captivity in Rome, was rendered glorious by the prudence, justice and liberality of her administration, as well as by her purity of morals and courage rare among men, and unexampled among women. In person she was very beautiful and her requirements in an age when few women had any civilization at all, would have been singularly great for the same period.

There is no doubt that she was attached to the Jewish faith, and it is considered probable that she was an Israelite by birth. In both character and abilities she was worthy of descent from "David's royal house."

Rabbits Have Families.

That is the Reason Why Australia is so Very Unhappy.

The fecundity of the rabbit is amazing and his invasion of remote districts swift and mysterious. Careful estimates show that, under favorable conditions, a pair of Australian rabbits will produce six litters a year, averaging five individuals each. As the offspring themselves begin breeding at the age of six months, it is shown that, at this rate, the original pair might be responsible in five years for a progeny of over twenty million! That the original score which were brought to the country have propagated after some such ratio, no one can doubt who has seen the enormous herds that now devastate the land in certain districts. In all but the remotest sections, however, the rabbits are fairly under control; one rabbit with a pack of dogs supervises stations where one hundred were employed ten years ago, and with ordinary vigilance the squatters have little to fear. Millions of the animals have been killed by fencing in the water-holes and dams during a dry season, whereby they died of thirst, and lay in enormous piles against the obstruction they have frantically and vainly striven to climb, and poisoned grain and fruit have killed myriads more. A fortune of $25,000, offered by the New South Wales government, still awaits the man who can invent some means of general destruction. —Scribner's.

Will Show no Quarter.

The French to Deal Severely With Their African Employes.

PARIS, April 18.—The government is making energetic preparations for the attack on Dahomey. Whether the expedition will go as far as Abomey is yet unsettled, but Whydah will be seized and held permanently by the French, thus cutting the Dahomeans off altogether from the sea. The payment of the tribute or allowance to King Behanzin has of course, been discontinued. It is believed that there will be little difficulty in reducing Whydah by means of the fleet, although landing there is difficult.

The troops now in Africa are acclimated and will be used for the expedition and other troops will be sent to Senegal to replace those who are called away. The French troops will be instructed to give quarter only if it is given by the enemy, and to exact severe retribution for any outrages committed on subjects of France.

It is expected that some of the native tribes upon whom the Dahomeans are constantly making raids in order to obtain victims, will readily join in fighting their oppressors.

Drinks For the Sick.

The following excellent recipes for beverages for the sick are given in the Forest Rambler. Crust Coffee.—Toast bread, very brown, but not burnt; pour on boiling water, strain and add cream, also sugar and nutmeg, if desired.

Sassafras Drink.—Take the pith of sassafras boughs, break in small pieces and let soak in cold water till the water becomes glutinous. Cinnamon Tea.—To a half pint of fresh new milk add stick or ground cinnamon enough to flavor strong and a little white sugar. Bring to the boiling point and drink either warm or cold. Excellent for diarrhoea.

CHESTER, Pa., April 18.—Mrs. Caroline Schmidt with her husband was some time ago acquitted of the murder of her sister, Emma Fitzmeyer, has become insane and will be sent to an asylum. She has shown signs of dementia ever since her release from imprisonment.

The Great Northwest.

The States of Montana and Washington are very fully described in two folders issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad, entitled "Golden Montana" and "Fruitful Washington." The folders contain good county maps of the states named, and information in reference to climate, lands, resources, and other subjects of interest to capitalists, business men or settlers.

Holders of second class tickets to North Pacific Coast points, via Northern Pacific Railroad, are allowed the privilege of stopping over at Spokane, Washington, and points west thereof, for the purpose of examining all sections of this magnificent state before locating. Northern Pacific through express trains carry free colonist sleeping cars from St. Paul and Pullman tourist sleepers from Chicago (via Wisconsin Central Line) to Montana and Pacific Coast points daily.

California tourists, and travelers to Montana and the North Pacific Coast, can purchase round trip excursion tickets at rates which amount to but little more than the one way fare. Choice of routes is allowed on these tickets, which are good for three or six months, according to destination, and permit of stop-overs.

The elegant equipment on the Northern Pacific Railroad; the dinner car service; the through first class sleeping cars from Chicago (via Wisconsin Central Line and C. M. & St. P., Ry.) to Pacific Coast points, and the most magnificent scenery of seven states, are among the advantages and attractions offered to travelers by this line.

The "Wonderland" book issued by the Northern Pacific Railroad describes the country between the Great Lakes and Pacific Ocean, with maps and illustrations. For any of the above publications, and rates, maps, time tables, write to any General or District Passenger Agent, or Chas. S. Fee, G. P. & T. A., N. P. R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

Palatable Morsels.

Some Seasonable Dishes and the Way to Prepare them.

Oyster Soup.—Put for a quart of oysters, a quart of milk to boil and add to it a good lump of butter. Pour the liquor from the oysters into the hot milk, add pepper and salt and finely rolled crackers to thicken. About five minutes before serving put in oysters.

Greens are very appetizing in the spring, and the dandelion, that is so often served up in stews, may prove pleasanter for some served with a salad dressing. The fresh, crisp leaves should be washed thoroughly and wiped carefully. Mix a scant half teaspoonful of salt with half a teaspoonful of pepper, and stir with them two teaspoonfuls of sweet oil; break the larger leaves a little and toss them in a salad bowl with the oil and seasoning; then a tablespoonful of vinegar must be put in, and all tossed together.

Sponge Jelly Roll.—Four eggs, one and one-half cups of sugar, one tablespoonful of baking powder; beat the whites separately, and the sugar and the yolks together till very light; then add to the whites, then a cup of flour, then beat good, then a little more flour, then the rest of the whites, and stir easy, put it in and bake; spread and roll as quick as you can.

Senator Hill is fast becoming notable for his dislike for women. It is related of him that shortly after his arrival in Washington several mischievous New Yorkers went to the head waiter at the Arlington, where the Senator lives, and told him that the Senator was passionately fond of the ladies; that he would rather look at a pretty face than eat up a whole bill of fare, and that if the waiter would always seat the Senator conspicuously near the possessor of a pair of bright eyes many a dollar would be his reward.

The darky carried out the tip with great zeal. The Senator was worried beyond forbearance and finally summoned the waiter to his rooms and gave him a twenty-dollar gold piece to seat him thereafter in a far corner of the dining-room, with his face to the wall, so that the sight of a woman would never greet him.

The lily of the valley has become the popular flower of the season in England, for the fragrant little flower was the favorite flower of the Duke of Clarence. With the exception of a heart in violets, it formed the cross which the Princess May placed over the remains of her betrothed, and held chief place in the floral tributes of the dead Prince's brother and sisters. The flower is cultivated in the neighborhood of Sandringham, and millions of roots are sent to all parts of the country.

Nearly every one needs a good spring medicine, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is undoubtedly the best. Try it this season.

INDIGESTION

DISTRESS, SOUR STOMACH, PALPITATION OF THE HEART. A WONDERFUL CHANGE ON TAKING HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

The suffering caused by indigestion and dyspepsia is indescribable. Thousands of people are living in misery with these disorders who might be cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, if they would only give this medicine a fair trial. The following statement comes voluntarily from a lady who has probably suffered more from indigestion than any who read this article. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured her, and it is certainly reasonable to believe that it will do you good if you are troubled similarly. "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"I feel it an imperative duty to make known what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I have been troubled with indigestion for many years, and have suffered much distress, flatulence and sour stomach. At night I would have

FRIGHTFUL DREAMS And would awake suddenly with an all-gone feeling and palpitation of the heart. It was often necessary for some one to rub me to bring on reaction of the heart, after which I would get on my feet and walk the floor, when belching would relieve me. I had these spells frequently. With these troubles I also had sciatic rheumatism by spells for at least 15 years mostly in winter. At times I could hardly move. Work became such a burden I begged to quit farming. But I commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has helped me wonderfully. I was very much reduced when I began with it, but have been so much renewed that I folks say they think

I AM GROWING YOUNG Instead of old. I am 52 years old, weigh more than I ever did, do all my own work, and can milk nine cows with more ease than I could milk one last winter. I can go to bed and sleep, which after what I have suffered, is a great blessing to me. I am also cured of rheumatism, as I have had no attack for a long time. This is what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me, and I am GLAD TO SPEAK LOUD In its favor to all afflicted friends. If it were in my power I would sound the praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla over the entire universe. I thank God that mankind has ever brought into existence such a good medicine." Mrs. J. B. Longnecker, Union Deposit, Pa.

MORE GOOD THAN ANY OTHER. "I have been troubled with rheumatism and have taken three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and am almost cured. It has done me more good than any other medicine I have taken. I was laid up for seven months, and by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I am now able to do my own work." Mrs. Samuel D. Stewart, 103 Merriam Alley, South Side, Pittsburg, Penn.

THAT TIRED FEELING. Mrs. James Pethick, wife of Mr. James Pethick, the well known carpenter residing at 140 Lincoln street, Wilkes-Barre, Penn., says: "I have taken quite a number of bottles of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, for that tired feeling and loss of appetite and can recommend the medicine highly. I felt much better and stronger after taking it."

Mrs. James Pethick, 140 Lincoln street, Wilkes-Barre, Penn. HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, perfectly harmless, do not grip. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass. 37 8
