The large bell peppers command a ready sale, as they are largely used by those who manufacture pickles. They are easily grown, but it is not safe to put tender plants out in the open air before the middle of May.

Set out but few early cabbage for a family supply. The main crop of cab-bage should be for the winter, and should not be transplanted until quite late. Cauliflower should be transplanted at the same time as early cabbage.

The summer is the time to push the pigs. They should be kept in growth, so as to make a large frame upon which to put the fat late in the fall A clover patch, with skim milk and bran at night, will be much better for them than to allow them corn.

Now is the time to turn attention to trees as a farm product for profit. Trees need no cultivation and require but little protection or labor compared with other crops. The lumber market is unfailing and the demand is great, with supply constantly decreasing.

Our raspberries, blackberries, straware fast superseding foreign varieties.

The best authorities now agree that American trees are the best for American. In every case the best improved ing together in Washington, but will native varieties of any trees or fruit surpass the best imported ones.

through the ground. Experiments made in Canada show that white wheats yield more than the reds, and that bald varieties of wheat yield more than the bearded kinds, though the latter kinds are a little heavier than the bald. These results have been obtained by testing a large number of varieties side by side and under the same conditions.

One advantage of cultivating the soil lightly is that the top soil becomes a mulch, or covering, thereby arresting the escape of moisture and enabling crops to withstand draught. Cultivation, therefore, is not for the purpose of destroying weeds or grass only, but to retain moisture, which is a very important matter during a dry spell.

Egg plants are easily grown, and three or four plants are sufficient for a small family. One drawback to egg plants is the potato beetle, which is more partail to the egg plants than to petatoes. When the plant are first put out they shold be inspected twice a day to pick off the beetles. As soon as the stems become hard and tough the potato beetles will cease to disturb them.

er should be satisfied with less than 300 bushels, as it will require no more labor, though the cost may be increased for fertilizers. If two dollars can le gained for one dollar expended in fertilizers, the farmers will be repaid, while his land will not lose in fertility.

The closer the rows the more space gained, but more hand labor will also be required. If the garden is small it will be better to use a hand hoe, as well as giving all the manure possible. A garden cannot be made too rich if it is kept well culti-

The Finaish Language.

That strange and difficult tongue, which is supposed to have once embraced the greater part of north-eastern Europe, is now practically restricted to a remote and sparsaly populated province of the Russian empire and, despite the factitious support accorded to it in the past by the Russian government, its area seems to be steadily if slowly receding. ing. Nor is this at all surprising when we come to examine the language itself. Finnish grammar is of a difficult absolutely repulsive. None of the other languages of the same group is half so hard. Hungarian-nay, even Turkish, despite the vexatious initial impediment of the Arabic alphabet—is easy in comparison The syntax is at once provokingly elaborate and perplexingly obscure. It possesses fifteen distinct bases and four and twenty digerentiated infinitive forms, but on the other hand there is no real distinction between nouns adjectives, adverbs, prepositions, infinitives and participles, so that the student must not be startled by finding infini-tives regularly declined like nouns, and nouns taking upon them degrees of comparison like adjectives .- Anthen.

It Opens the Eyes.

'My daughter is losing her sight," said an anxious mother, "and just on the eve of marriage, too? What shall I do ?" "Let her get married, by all means," responded the doctor; "marriage is a regular eye-opener." A man's eyes open pretty widely, when he finds is wife's charms disappearing. Health is the best friend of beauty, and the innumerable ills to which women are peculiarly subject, its worst enemies. Experience proves that women who possess the best health, use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that will give satisfaction in every ease, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper and faithfully carried out for many years.

-Mothers as well as children will be interested in the fact that the original of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" is not dead, but very much alive. At the time of Lionel Burnett's death it was generally reported that he was the original cedrie of his mother's beautiful story. Mrs. Burnett explains that this was not the case, and that she built the story around the character of her son Vivian, now .. rollicking fellow of fourteen. DIE. CURED IN SIX WEEKS BY CUTICURA REMEDIES.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.s Psoriasis. and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp; and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skilful doctors, it slowly but surely extended, until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in the form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Springs. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, 'Mich., where I had a sister living. One Dr. — treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs; feet badly swolled; toe-nails came off; finger-nails dead, and hard as a bone; hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. O my God! how I did suffer. My sister. Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura. Cuticura Resolvent and Soap. I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result; returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

Banner Lye.

EVERY FAMILY.

Wastes or gives away during the year more or less kitchen grease, each pound of which can in a few minutes be converted into two pounds of the PUREST SOAP, far better than can be found on saie. The only expense for making ten pounds of this soap, with five and one half pounds of grease or oil, is the trifie cost of one can of to be found at nearly every grocery store

Dissolve the contents of one can of Banner Lye in three and one-half pints of cold water and pour slowly into five and one-half pounds of lukewarm grease, stirring from the start, until it thickens into a mushy condition; then pour into any kind of mould to harden—a child can make it, and full directions are to be found back of each label.

A can of BANNER LYE will do the work of twenty one pounds of washing soda, and besides its value for scrubbing purposes, the cleansing and disinfecting of Sinks Closets and Waste Pipes, destroying the Filth and Disease arising therefrom, makes its systematic use one of the greatest boons the house-keeper has fallen heir to.

HARNESS HOUSE.

We extend a most cordial invitation to our patrons and the public, in general, to witness one of the ever put on the Bellefonte market, which will be made in the large room, formerly occupied by Harper Bros., on Spring street. It has been added to my factory and will be used exclusively for the sale of harness, being the first exclusive salesroom ever used in this town, as heretofore the custom has been to sell goods in the room in which they were made. This elegant room has been refitted and furnished with glass cases in which the harness can be nicely displayed and still kept away from heat and dust, the enemies of long wear in leather. Our factory now occupies a room 16x74 feet and the store 20x60 added makes it the largest establishment of its kind outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

We are prepared to offer better bargains in of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

We are prepared to offer better bargains in the future than we have done in the past and we want everyone to see our goods and get prices for when you do this, out of self defense you will buy. Our profits are not large, but by selling lots of goods we can afford to live in Bellefonte. We are not indulging in idle philanthropy. It is purely business. We are not making much, but trade is growing and that is what we are interested in now. Profits will take care of themselves.

When other houses discharged their workmen during the winter they were all put to work in my factory, nevertheless the big (1) houses of this city and county would smile if we compared ourselves to them, but we do not mean to be so odious, except to venture the assection that none of them can say, as we can say "NO ONE OWES US A CENT THAT WE CAN'T GET." This is the whole story.

The following are kept constantly on hand.
