

Ice Water and Iced Water.

Americans are a nation of ice-water drinkers. Even in winter, when the weather would not seem to warrant the use of so chilling a beverage, the average American wants ice-water. Yet it is really not half so dangerous to drink it then as it is in sultry days of summer, when the sudden chill following its use, if the person drinking it is overheated, is apt to be productive of bad results.

The Tropics in Greenland.

Once the Poles Were Hot and the Equator Was Chilly. The changes of terrestrial climate have been many and various. Myrtles and tree ferns once flourished in Greenland; coral insects built on the shores of Melville Island; Nautilus sailed over what must then have been the tepid seas about Spitzbergen.

But with the lapse of ages the scene changed, and worse than Arctic rigors spread into regions which are now temperate climates. Possibly not for the first time, the Peruvian was certainly an inclement age and its inclemency seems even to have reached the point of glaciation in the West of England and Ireland, yet it was preceded and succeeded by a long prevalence of tropical conditions.

These assuredly reigned without intermission in North Temperate and polar regions throughout the vast expanse of Tertiary time. Palms and cycads then sprang up in the room of oaks and beeches in England; turtles and crocodiles haunted English rivers and estuaries; lions, elephants and hyenas roamed at large over English dry land. In Switzerland a mean temperature equal to that of North Africa at the present time is shown by its fossil flora to have prevailed during the Miocene or Middle Tertiary epoch. Anthropoid apes lived in Germany and France, fig and cinnamon trees flourished at Danzig.

In Greenland, up to 70 degrees of latitude, magnolias bloomed and vines ripened their fruit, while in Spitzbergen and even in Grinnell Land, whitish little more than 8 degrees of the pole, swamp cypresses and walnuts, cedars, limes, planes and poplars grew freely, water lilies covered over standing pools and marigolds lifted their tall heads by the margins of streams and rivers.

Blaine No Longer a Cabinet Officer.

The Premier Takes a Sudden and Sensational Departure.—Blaine's Explanation. WASHINGTON, June 6.—Official and political circles were startled Saturday afternoon by the announcement that Secretary of State Blaine had resigned, and that the President had accepted his resignation. Many were incredulous until the following correspondence was made public:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

WASHINGTON, June 4, 1892. TO THE PRESIDENT—I respectfully beg leave to submit my resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States, to which I was appointed by you on the 5th of March, 1892. The condition of public business in the Department of State justifies me in requesting that my resignation may be accepted immediately.

EXECUTIVE MANSION.

WASHINGTON, June 4, 1892. TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE—Your letter of this date, tendering your resignation of the office of Secretary of State of the United States has been received. The terms in which you state your desires are such as to leave me no choice but to accede to your wishes at once. Your resignation is therefore accepted. Very respectfully yours, BENJ. HARRISON.

Late Finding It Out.

From the Albany Times—Union. Hill's aggregate vote for Governor in 1888 was the largest vote ever received by any candidate in the State, although the same men, the same newspapers, and the same influence were opposing him then that are opposing him now. Let the Chicago Convention nominate him for President and he will carry this State by a larger majority than any other candidate for President ever carried it.

A Million Dollar Fire.

DENVER, Col., June 5.—The business portion of Jintown (Creede) was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, a million dollars. A great many people are homeless.

Pine Grove Mentions.

License has been granted for a marriage ceremony, in our community, which is to be a profound secret. The venerable Isaac Harper is quite ill. Suffering from urinary trouble, and other diseases which old age is heir to. J. A. Livingston, formerly mine host of the St. Elmo, spent several days last week greeting his numerous old time friends. Mr. Ed. S. Moore, now pap Moore, bears his honors modestly and says the little girl that recently came to stay will be named A. P. Mitchell. Both babe and mother are getting along nicely and E. I. is happy.

Mr. John Gibbons, who has many friends here, died suddenly at his home last Sunday of paralysis, aged 60 years. A regular attendant of the M. E. church, of temperate though peculiar habits and was never married. We recently had the pleasure of sizing up D. G. Meek's herd of fine bred Jerseys and Holstein cows that average nine lbs of choice butter per week. Very recently he has imported some thoroughbreds from the Delaware stock association of that State. Last Sunday afternoon was observed as Children's Day in the Presbyterian church. At the appointed hour the church was filled to witness the exercises, consisting of good choir music, Miss Mary Smith as organist, responsive reading and declamations by the scholars, which were performed especially well by those so young that they were highly commended. The pastor Rev. George Elliott was present and responded by a neat cut children's address in his usual eloquent manner. Surrounded with beautiful flowers and greens, in which the pulpit was tastefully decorated, he beautified the flights into the flowery and better world to those little ones within hearing of his voice. The exercises were interspersed with music Superintendent J. B. Mitchell had charge of the exercises. Rev. Elliott pronounced the benediction and the meeting was dismissed everybody feeling glad to have been there.

This week we are again called upon to chronicle the death of an other mother in Israel, Mrs. Sarah Mothersbaugh, whose hair had become bleached, whose eyes dimmed, whose brow furrowed and whose cheeks were sunken in the 81 years of her busy and useful life, which was ended on the 7th inst., by an attack of pneumonia, of which she suffered some ten days. This venerable old lady will be remembered by many of the WATCHMAN'S readers as landlady of our hotel in the early days of the war. When excitement ran high many were the soothing words which fell from her lips by way of encouragement and hope for the return of the boys who left for the seat of war. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church and the mother of nine children, four boys and five daughters. Dr. Mothersbaugh, of Beech Creek; Owen, of Boalsburg; Mac, of Renova; Mrs. Samuel Glenn, of Leont; Mrs. Adam Hartwick, of Altoona; Mrs. David Rhinesmith, of Bellefonte; Mrs. Jacob Tanchard, of Renova and Miss Amanda with whom the old mother spent her declining years. Death entered the family circle at 7 o'clock in 1892 when the oldest son, who was killed in a saw mill and two years later she was bereft by death of her husband, Daniel Mothersbaugh. Both were interred in the Fairbrook cemetery to which place her remains were taken on Wednesday of this week at 12 o'clock noon.

In Remembrance.

For "THE WATCHMAN." In his World God says—"the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance."—On the 24th ult., Mrs. Mary Alice Bible—one of these—departed this life at her home in Philadelphia, Pa. She was born on the 25th of March, 1836. All her time on earth was only 56 years, one month and 29 days. She was laid to rest in the Bellefonte Cemetery on Friday May 27th, 1892, to await the coming of her Lord. On the 21st of May 1874 she was married to Frank E. Bible Esq. Of their 5 children their first-born, George Claude, and their last, David Edmiston, were taken to the "Father's house" before their mother. She united with the Presbyterian church of Milesburg, Pa., on profession of her faith in Christ, on the 23d of March, 1878, and thence forth her life was one uniform testimony to the sincerity of her profession. With a faithfulness rare, she served the Lord and trained her children in the fear of God, and had the great joy of seeing her second son Frank William unite with his mother's church on the 15th of August, 1889, at the age of 12 years and one month. On the 13th of Sept. 1888 the family removed from Bellefonte to Tinosteta, Forest county Pa., where Willie and his mother at once united with the Presbyterian church by letter. It was a surprise to the people of that church to see one so young as Willie a professing Christian; and still more surprised and delighted to witness his piety and knowledge of God's Word. His pastor soon noticed him, and through Willie's influence many young people were gathered into the Kingdom of God. Willie became the leader in the young people's prayer meeting. And all this through the prayers, faithfulness and teaching of a godly mother. Yes, "the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance." She "being dead yet speaketh." Through all time her influence shall be felt in this world. O how "blessed the righteous when she dies" and "her dear little daughter May was ready to profess her faith in Christ when her mother was taken from her. How precious such a life! How glorious such a death! It was only necessary to know her, to esteem and respect her. We extend our sympathy to those who are left to mourn a beloved wife and dear mother. Bless ed are the dead which die in the Lord." w.

Vote of Thanks.

Milesburg, June 7th, 1892. Editor DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN.—I have been detailed by the Commander of Dr. Geo. L. Potter Post, No. 281, to express, through the medium of the press, the most sincere thanks of the Post, for assistance rendered on Memorial day. First to the speakers, Rev. J. A. Woodcock, who spoke at the Advent cemetery; Mr. C. M. Bower, who spoke at Curtin also at Milesburg; L. T. Eddy and choir for the vocal music; to the Drum corps, also to Curtin band, which furnished the music at Curtin cemetery; the Sabbath schools and children who contributed so generously of flowers; to A. A. Kohlbecker, Leopold Bronwell, George Somers, E. H. Carr, W. C. Groves, Homer Carr, Solomon Confer, John C. Wagner, Andrew Hugg, W. M. Adams, James and Elmer Reidsides, who provided transportation for comrades to and from the different cemeteries; to the wives of Commander Derr and J. V. C. Parsons, for the interest taken in caring for the graves of our dead comrades; W. R. C. No. 3 for an elegant repast served the comrades and friends in Post room; to the O. O. F.; to the O. U. A. M.; Ministers of the Gospel; and to all who assisted in the proper observance of the day. A. G. LAZER, Adjutant.

To the Democrats of Centre County

Professional and official duties render it impossible for me to make a canvass as a candidate for the Legislature. My name will therefore not be presented to the coming Democratic County Convention for nomination to that office. To the many friends who have so cordially assured me of their unqualified support I am and always shall be profoundly grateful. I shall, as heretofore labor, earnestly for the success of the party and find pleasure in the triumph of Democracy in November. Sincerely Yours, J. C. MYERS.

The following letters remain unrec'd for in the Bellefonte P. O. May 30, 1892. Bertha Alexander, Charles Bradford, Mrs. Annie Brin, W. S. Casterlain (2), James W. Clayton, H. A. Elliott. When called for please say advertised. J. A. FIEDLER, P. M.
