Farm Notes.

Whale-oil soap and carbolic acid make an excellent wash for the trunks of apple trees to prevent borers.

Bees should be kept on every farm, as they are beneficial in many ways to crops and fruit bearing trees and plants.

If any farmer is contemplating steam heating apparatus for his home, he can very cheaply add a greenhouse.

Where a great many make a mistake is, in not being particular enough in the breeding. Trace the pedigree well back.

More gold and silver is dug out of the first six inches of the soil in the shape of crops grown than is taken from the earth lower down in the shape of metals.

The asparagus beetle must be watched closely, as it works on the growing plants. Rub the eggs off with the hand or apply a solution of Paris green to the plants.

A cheap and easy way to get rid of ants is to keep a good supply of slacked lime around the live stands. As it becomes crusty and dry a fresh supply should be put on.

When you have picked off your old bed of strawberries, plow the plot and grow upon it a crop of potatoes or cabbages; by so doing the ground will be cultivated and the weeds destroyed.

A farm now worth $1000, which pays in taxes $2.20 a year tribute to our barbarous system of road making, by the addition of $4.50 would be able to add at least another $1000 to its value.

It is a great saving of labor to have the farm clear of grass and weeds, for when that is accomplished the matter of preventing weeds from appearing becomes an easy task compared with the work of eradication.

Nothing is more disagreeable on a farm than to have the hog pens near the house. The odor is disagreeable. A pen sty out in the field is better, even if the location renders the management a little more laborious.

A great amount of harm is now being done by a loose kind of teaching at institutes where many matters are discussed and settled forever on the word of some person who may know nothing at all of what he is so positive about.

Keep an eye on the manure pile or it will become overheated. If you are too busy to turn the heap over make holes in it with a pole or crowbar and deluge it with water. Do not fail to work the heap over as soon as it can be done, and when so doing add more absorbing material.

There are too many poor blacksmiths in most country places, and these are mainly responsible for the unsound and defective feet of horses. If a young horse is never shod his feet may get tender from rough usage, but he is not so likely to have his hoofs destroyed as from poor shoeing.

The value of any kind of food depends largely upon its digestibility. It is not the bulk of the food upon which the farmer must rely, nor is the quality always indicative of value. Stock may consume large quantities of food only to avoid the greater portion, which is returned to the soil from which it was derived. The milk, beef, growth of the body, etc., is promoted only by that portion of the food which is digested and assimilated. The Maine Experiment Station has conducted a series of digestion experiments, which included quite a variety of foods, the trials being made by feeding sheep.

HUNGARIAN GRASS AND ROOTS.
Hungarian grass, which is overlooked by many farmers, proved to be one of the best foods used, and when fed both green and dry was more digestible than the average of grasses, even exceeding timothy. This is important to farmers at the present time, as this is about the proper period of the year for growing this crop, which not only grows quickly and yields largely, but is one of the most destructive agents for eradicating weeds from the soil that can be grown. Roots were the most digestible of any of the foods tested, the amount of waste material being not over 8 per cent. of the whole, sugar beets ranking very high. Flat turnips were more digestible than rutabagas, while mangolds fell away behind sugar beets. There was but a small difference between Hungarian hay and Hungarian grass, the former being fully equal to the latter, as its digestibility was not diminished by drying.

CORN FODDERS AND BRAN.
It was demonstrated that the corn plant, after being cut for the silo, is one of the most digestible of fodder plants, rating 20 per cent. higher than timothy. Sixty per cent. of the dry organic matter of timothy was digested, while with the various corn fodders the average was 72 per cent. There was no difference in the digestibility of the Southern field and sweet corn fodder. Experiments with wheat bran show that this food is but slightly, if any, more digestible than good hay, and it is much inferior to oats, corn, barley and other grains. Gluten meal, which is a waste product in the manufacture of glucose from corn, was digested to the extent of 89 per cent. of its dry organic matter. The treatment which the grain receives when the starch is converted into glucose does not seem to affect the digestibility of the refuse. The experiments are of great value, as they will in future be of assistance to those who feed judiciously.

The Average Woman.

How many who use the term "average woman" know what it implies? Physically it means that she weighs about 117 pounds, and that, if an American, she is somewhat taller than 5 feet 1 inch. Observations taken by the French academy relative to the average height of 1,107 Frenchwomen, without shoes, show it to be that much. Dr. Sargeant, from 1,835 observations, concludes that the American woman is nearly two inches taller than the average daughter of France; and Dr. Galton, an Englishman, in 170 measurements, found that the women of Great Britain are the tallest of the three they exceeded Miss Columbia by fully half an inch. In the matter of weight, though, American femininity is slightly ahead, though the figures are not given.

PRONOUNCED HOPELESS, YET SAVED.
—From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my Lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. I gave myself up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Parrish's Drugstore, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

The best of all ways
To lengthen our days
Is to use Pierce's Purgative Pellets, sir!
For nine-tenths of the diseases of the body begin with constipation or the clogging up of the siatic-ways, through which the impurities of the blood escape so that they are reabsorbed into the system. The Purgative Pellets act gently but thoroughly upon the stomach and liver, and are the best laxative known. Without racking and straining the organs, they open the bowels and restore a natural, healthy digestion. Unequalled in dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, piles, or any of the resulting diseases.

—The Boston Globe tells a new street car story in which the principal characters were a big fat woman and a small boy. The car was full when the fat woman entered. Nobody offered her a seat at first; and she was bumped and twisted and rolled about as the car went on its winding and jerking way, until the small boy rose up and said: "I'll be one of the three men to give the lady a seat."

—Just as sure as hot weather comes there will be more or less bowel complaint in this vicinity. Every person, and especially families ought to have some reliable medicine at hand for their use in case it is needed. A 25 or 50 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy is just what you ought to have and all that you would need, even for the most severe and dangerous cases. It is the best, the most reliable and most successful treatment known and is pleasant to take. For sale by Frank P. Green.

—Mrs. Stings—"Last night you came home with a story of sitting up with a story of sitting up with a sick friend. Now, what excuse have you this time?" Mr. Stinger—"To-night, my love, we (he) all gathered (he) round his beer."

HOLD IT TO THE LIGHT.—The man who tells you confidentially just what will cure your cold is prescribing Kemp's Balm this year. In the preparation of this remarkable medicine for coughs and colds no expense is spared to combine only the best and purest ingredients. Hold a bottle of Kemp's Balm to the light and look through it; notice the bright clear look then compare with other remedies. Large bottle at all druggists' 50 cents and $1.

EXCURSION CLUB TO ATTEND THE WORLD'S FAIR.—If you have any desire to visit the World's Fair at Chicago bear in mind that the United World's Fair Excursion Co. is a sound organization, with ample capital to fulfill their promises. The company sells tickets on the installment plan. Apply to A. H. Roby Sect. 403 Exchange Building Boston.

—Does protection protect? Certainly, in one instance, it does. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great protection against the dangers of impure blood, and it will cure or prevent all diseases of this class. It has well won its name of the best blood purifier by its many remarkable cures.

—Mr. John H. Parnell, a brother of the late Irish leader, is described as having no taste for politics. In this respect he differs from Platt, Clarkson, Quay and Fasset, who have had a taste and say that it tastes right bitter.

A cold of unusual severity developed into a difficulty decidedly catarrhal in all its characteristics, threatening a return of my old chronic malady, catarrh. One bottle of Ely's Cream Balm completely eradicated every symptom of that painful and prevailing disorder.—E. W. Warner, Rochester, N. Y.

Eminent Facts.

The question is often asked and scarcely ever answered, why whiskey made now is not as pure and reliable as it was forty years ago. It is nevertheless a fact that it is made purer and better to-day than at that time. With the improved methods fassil oil and other impurities are entirely eliminated. A sworn statement as to the purity and quality of the whiskey sold is furnished by one dealer who advertises full quarts, six year old pure Penna Rye, at $1.00 per quart. Duquesne $1.25 per quart. SCROFULOUS HUMOR
BOY ALMOST LOST USE OF HIS LIMBS.
TWO YEARS' INTENSE ITCHING.
SEVERAL DOCTORS FAIL.

INSTANT RELIEF, SWEET SLEEP
SPEEDY, REMARKABLE, AND PERMANENT CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES.

When about seven years old, my son was afflicted with a skin disease which was very distressing. The first appearance was of little pimples accompanied by intense itching, soon spreading into sores covered with scabs, except about the face. He almost lost the use of his limbs, and was so light I could carry him about like an infant. Used all remedies I could find recommended in medical works for itching without benefit. Applied to different physicians, receiving temporary relief, but the disease was sure to return. I sent for your pamphlet, read it, purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies. I anointed him with the Cuticura, bathing with the Cuticura Soap, and gave small doses of Cuticura Resolvent. Oh, the soothing effect of that Cuticura! After two years' search for something to allay that terrible itching, what a relief to see him sleep sweetly without any inclination to scratch. Less than two boxes of Cuticura, one cake Cuticura Soap, and one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, effected a cure, with no returns. Is now a strong, healthy boy of thirteen. We consider it a remarkable cure, as he had inherited scrofulous humors from his mother, Mrs. H. E. BOWEN, East Otto, N. Y.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT

Saddlery.

SCHOFIELD'S NEW HARNESS HOUSE.

We extend a most cordial invitation to our patrons and the public, in general, to witness one of the ever put on the Bellefonte market, which will be made in the large room, formerly occupied by Harper Bros., on Spring street. It has been added to my factory and will be used exclusively for the sale of harness, being the first exclusive salesroom ever used in this town, as heretofore the harness has been sold in the room in which they were made. This elegant room has been refitted and furnished with glass cases in which the harness can be nicely displayed and still kept away from heat and dust, the enemies of long wear in leather. Our factory now occupies a room 10x7x7 feet and the store 20x30 feet and makes it the largest establishment of its kind outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

GRANDEST DISPLAYS OF

We are prepared to offer better bargains in the future than we have done in the past, and we want everyone to see our goods and get prices for when you do this, out of self defense you will buy. Our profits are not large, but by selling lots of goods we can afford to live in Bellefonte. We are not indulging in idle philanthropy. It is purely business. We are not making much, but trade is growing and that is what we are interested in now. Profits will take care of themselves.

When other houses discharged their workmen during the winter they were all left to work in my factory, nevertheless the big (C) houses of this city and county would smile if we compared ourselves to them, but we do not mean to be so odious, except to venture the assertion that none of them can say, as we can say "NO ONE OWES US A CENT THAT WE CAN'T GET." This is the whole story.

The following are kept constantly on hand. 50 SETS OF LIGHT HARNESS, prices from $8.00 to $15.00 and upwards. LARGE STOCK OF HEAVY HARNESS per set $25.00 and upwards, 500 HORSE COLLARS from $1.50 to $3.00 each, over $100.00 worth of HARNESS OILS and AXLE GREASE, $100 worth of Fly Nets sold cheap $150 worth of whips from 15c to $3.00 each, Horse Brushes, Curry Combs, Spoons, Chamis, RULING SADDLES, LADY SIDESADDLES, Harness Soap, Knee Dusters, at low prices. Saddlery-hardware always on hand for sale. Harness Leather as low as 25c per pound. We keep everything to be found in a FIRST CLASS HARNESS STORE—no changing, over 20 years in the same room. No two shops in the same town to catch trade—NO SELLING OUT for the want of trade or price. Four harness-makers at steady work this winter. This is our custom of protection to labor, when other houses discharged their hands, they soon found work with us.
