Farm Notes.

Get in a crop of millet by July if possible. No crop pays better than millet or Hungarian grass.

Radishes, peas and string beans may be planted at intervals for a succession until late in the season.

The dry season is the time when the cultivator should be kept busy. Weeds are easily killed on a dry, warm day.

Cut off the tops of the new canes of red raspberries. It will make them stocky and also cause them to send out laterals.

Mildew of grapes is said to be largely chargeable to overbearing, as some parts are stunted and thus fall an easy prey to the disease.

Time water in the flower pots is the safest and cheapest mode of destroying worms in the soil of the pots. It will also serve to apply plant food to the plants.

Sweet potato plants should be in the hill now. If delayed too late the tubers may not have time to fully mature. To avoid the rot it is best to set out the plants on a new location.

A farmer who has tried it, suggests that one of the best modes of cutting timothy hay is with the harvester and blower, by which plan it is bound and then shocked like grain to cure.

If a farmer desires to grow his fence posts it will require time, but it will be an advantage in the end. Yet it is doubtful if any fence is cheaper than barbed wire if the danger to stock can be averted.

One should not embark in the poultry business largely without capital, and the most essential part of this capital is experience. If you have no experience go slow until you have the experience.

A farmer who works with poor tools when he can afford to have good ones, adds very much to his own labor without accomplishing much, or doing his work well, as if he were supplied with the best implements the market affords.

One of the ways in which floors of poultry houses may be made rat proof is to take about 25 bushels of coal ashes and mix it with one bushel of finely slacked lime. Spread this combination over the floor and pound it down hard.

Spraying with hellebore has been found serviceable in preventing the ravages of rosbugs on roses, but the difficulty in the way is that the remedy is expensive when the bugs are found in large numbers, as is often the case some seasons.

The seed ends of potatoes when planted have given the best results and produce fewer inferior tubers, though medium-size potatoes cut in half are considered equal to any mode of preparing the seed. It does not pay to use small potatoes for seed if potatoes are cheap on the market.

This is the month for setting out the celery plants. If the White Plume variety is used it will not be necessary to grow them in trenches. They may need watering some if the season is very dry, and a few boards may be used on edge on the sunny sides of the rows for shade until the plants are well under way.

Sow corn in rows, use plenty of seed, cultivate between the rows and cut the stalks just as the ears begin to glaze. If this is done you will secure a large crop of nutritious fodder and which will be highly relished by stock. It may be cured and stored in the barn or cut up for the silo. By growing corn in rows more food can be secured on an acre than perhaps in any other way.

The strawberry season has demonstrated that large fruit will bring good prices. The strawberry has been improved so rapidly, as far as size of berry is concerned, that it has been made to rival the peach. Boxes of choice lots were marvels, and the average size of the berries marketed was larger than any previous year. Growers have become convinced that it does not pay to grow any but large berries for market.

There is no necessity for the use of solutions for preserving eggs. The best mode is to keep the eggs in a cool place (not above 70 degrees) and on racks, so as to turn them twice or three times a week. The eggs must be strictly fresh and those from hens not in company with males will keep twice as long as those from hens that are with males, while the hens will lay as well when the males are removed as when they are present.

A crop of carrots will be found of great value as food for stock and the main crop may be seeded in as late as July. Carrots are relished by horses and cows more than any other kind of roots, and they will greatly aid in keeping horses in condition, as well as assist in giving a beautiful yellow color to butter. Parsnips and beets may also be grown late and every farmer should endeavor to grow them, not only but a few.

Turnips are grown more extensively than beets or carrots, as the seed germinates quickly and the weeds are more easily kept down. It is rather early for turnips yet for a late crop, but it is not too early to get the ground ready and have the land in the best condition when the time for seeding arrives. It is not profitable to grow turnips on poor soil. Use plenty of manure or fertilizers and also plenty of seed. If the ground is plowed the seeds of weeds will germinate and many weeds can be killed before the turnip seed goes in, which will save labor on the crop later on.

"The Russian peasant is undoubtedly intemperate," said Mr. Kennan in a late interview, but, this evil, too, is due to a considerable degree to the government, and it may add to the church also. A large proportion of the government's revenue comes from the tax on spirits. As there is always a greater demand for money than can be supplied, the government has no incentive to encourage temperance; on the contrary, it does what it can to encourage intemperance, for the more vodka consumed the greater the revenue. It likewise does nothing to promote sobriety. In fact, assists materially to increase the consumption of spirits. On feast days the priests encourage the peasants to drink, and on such an occasion I have seen the whole village drunk. Is it any wonder that they are intemperate?"—Exchange.

Around the World in Eighty Days.

Did Jules Verne ever think that his imaginary Phileas Fogg would be eclipsed by an American girl, who once made the circuit in less than seventy-three days? But Phileas had to take "second money." The fame of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has gone around the world long ago, and left its record everywhere as a precious boon to every nation. In the whole world of medicine, nothing equals it for the cure of scrofula of the lungs (which is consumption). Coughs and bronchial troubles succumb to this remedy, and the blood is purified by it, until all unsightly skin blotches are driven away. Don't be skeptical, as this medicine is guaranteed to every purchaser. You only pay for the good you get.

According to the latest portrait of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, "Pope Bob" is getting to be an old man and he shows it. His hair is perfectly white and his round, smoothshaven face is beginning to fill with wrinkles that alter the appearance that won for him the title of "Baby-faced Bob." His shoulders show a tendency to stoop, and his spectacles are on his face more constantly than they are quick on his feet as a boy of sixteen. Ingersoll loves youth and not old age. There was nothing in his dress this morning that could in any way suggest the old man. He wore a derby hat, blue sack coat, gray trousers and patent-leather shoes. His big scarf-pin, however, was evidently fashioned from a lady's breastpin of the style of forty years ago.

Falling Off a Log.

"As easy as falling off a log," is an old saying. When it was first uttered, nobody knows. Nothing is easier unless it is the taking of a dose of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. These act like magic. No gripping or drenching follows, as is the case with the old-fashioned pills. The relief that follows resembles the action of Nature in her happiest moods; the impulse given to the dormant liver is of the most salutary kind, and is speedily manifested by the disappearance of all bilious symptoms. Sick headache, wind on the stomach, pain through the right side and shoulder-blade, and yellowness of the skin and eyeballs are speedily remedied by the Pellets.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, whose expedition to the North Pole will start next January, has chosen the three companions for his perilous journey. They are Capt. Sverdrup, a relative of the late Norwegian prime minister; Lieut. Scott Hansen, of the navy, the astronomer; expert, and Capt. Ingebrigtsen, of Tromsø, a fearless fellow who has already gone on many dangerous expeditions. The preparations for Nansen's expedition are about complete.

Just as sure as hot weather comes there will be more or less bowel complaint in this vicinity. Every person, and especially families ought to have some reliable medicine at hand for instant use in case it is needed. A 25 or 50 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy is just what you ought to have and all that you would need, even for the most severe and dangerous cases. It is the best and most reliable and most successful treatment known and is pleasant to take. For sale by Frank P. Green.

What stronger proof is needed of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla than the hundreds of letters continually coming in telling of marvelous cures it has effected after all other remedies had failed? Truly, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar curative power unknown to other medicines.

Eminent Facts.

The question is often asked and scarcely ever answered, why whiskey made now is not as pure and reliable as it was forty years ago. It is nevertheless a fact that it is made purer and better today than at any time. With the improved methods of distillation and other impurities are entirely eliminated. A sworn statement as to the purity age and quality of the whiskey sold is furnished by one dealer who advertises full quarts, six year old pure Penna. Rye, at $1.00 per quart. SCROFULOUS HUMOR

BOY ALMOST LOST USE OF HIS LIMBS. TWO YEARS' INTENSE ITCHING. SEVERAL DOCTORS FAIL.

INSTANT RELIEF, SWEET SLEEP, SPEEDY, REMARKABLE, AND PERMANENT CURE BY CUTICURA REMEDIES.

When about seven years old, my son was afflicted with a skin disease which was very distressing. The first appearance was of little bumps accompanied by intense itching. I sent for spreading into sores covered with scabs, except when scratched off. The entire body, except head, was covered. He almost lost the use of his limbs, and was so slight I could carry him about like an infant. Used all remedies I could find recommended in medical works for itching without benefit. Applied to different physicians, receiving temporary relief, but the disease was sure to return. I sent for your pamphlet, read it, purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies. I anointed him with the Cuticura, bathing with the Cuticura Soap, and gave small doses of Cuticura Resolvent. Oh, the soothing effect of that Cuticura! After two years' search for something to allay that terrible itching, what a relief to see him sleep sweetly without any inclination to scratch. Less than two boxes of Cuticura, one cake of Cuticura Soap, and one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, performed a cure, with no returns. He is now a strong, healthy boy of thirteen. We consider it a remarkable cure, as he had inherited it from his mother, East Otto, N. Y.

FINE SELECTED BLENDED TEAS.

It is a pretty well settled principal with all expert tea men that the highest perfection in tea cannot be attained from any one kind or variety of tea plant. But that the best value and choicest flavor can be obtained only by a skillful blending of carefully selected high grade goods of different varieties.

When teas are perfectly blended the original flavor of each variety disappears in the blend, and from the combination we get something entirely new and much finer than any of the original flavors.

We have a new blend of our own. In the preparation of which we have spent considerable time and labor and have also had the aid and counsel of several as good tea men as are to be found in the United States. It is with entire confidence that we offer the goods for sale and unhesitatingly claim them to be very superior both in value and flavor.

If you want a cup of ROYAL TEA, try our new blended goods.

We also carry a full line of Teas, Oolongs, Japan, Young Hyson, Imperials, Gunpowder, English Breakfast, also several grades of blended goods, and can suit the trade on anything in the tea line. You may not be exactly suited on the goods you are using, and we feel confident that you will be able to get from us just what you are wanting. We sell fine teas at very reasonable prices. Try them.

We have a clean dry sugar 8 lbs for 30 cts. the cheapest sugar ever sold in Belleville.

Saddlery.

SCHOFFIELD'S NEW HARNESS HOUSE.

We extend a most cordial invitation to our patrons and the public, in general, to witness one of the ever put on the Belleville market, which will be made in the large room, formerly occupied by Harper Bros., on Spring street. It has been added to my factory and will be exclusively for the sale of harness, being the exclusive salesroom ever used in this town, as heretofore the custom has been to keep the goods in the room in which they were made. This elegant room has been refitted and furnished with glass cases in which the harness can be nicely displayed and still kept away from heat and dust, the enemies of long wear in leather. Our factory now occupies a room 10x74 feet and the store 20x30 added makes it the largest establishment of its kind outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

We are prepared to offer better bargains in the future than we have done in the past and we want everyone to see our goods and get prices for when you do this, out of self defense you will buy. Our profits are not large, but by selling lots of goods we can afford to live in Belleville. We are not indulging in the philanthropy. It is purely business. We are not making much, but trade is growing and that is what we are interested in now. Profits will take care of themselves.

When other houses discharged their workmen during the winter they were all put to work in my factory, nevertheless the big 70 houses of this city and county would smile if we compared ourselves to them, but we do not mean to be so odious, except to venture the assertion that none of them can say, as we can say "NO ONE OWES US A CENT THAT WE CAN'T GET!" This is the whole story.

The following are kept constantly on hand, 50 SETS OF LIGHT HARNESS, prices from $8.00 to $15.00 and upwards. LARGE STOCK OF HEAVY HARNESS, prices from $12.00 to $30.00. COLLARS for $1.50 to $3.00 each, over 300 worth of HARNESS OILS and AXLE GREASE.

$400 worth of Fly Nets sold cheap from 15c to $2.00 each. Horse Brushes, Curry Combs, Sponges, Chamoles, RIDING SADDLES, LADY SIDES, ADDLES, Harness Soap, Knee Dusters, at low prices. Saddlery-hardware available on hand for sale. Harness Leather as low as 25c per pound. We keep everything to be found in a FIRST CLASS HARNESS STORE—no changing, over 20 years in the same room. No two shows in the same town to catch a horse—NO SELLING OUT for the want of trade or prices. Four harness-makers at steady work this winter. This is our idea of protection to labor, when other houses discharged their hands, they soon found work with us. JAS. SCHOFFIELD, 33 3/4 Spring street, Belleville, Pa.
