THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Are you on the scent of an office? —Pay up your Subscription and be happy. —Bellefonte stores are taking on a holiday attire. —Judge Furst was an Altoona visitor on Monday. —The election booths throughout the State just cost it $300,000.

—The new pipe organ is being placed in the Presbyterian church. —That man Smith, from Clearfield was in town again on Wednesday. —Be sure and purchase a ticket to the Undine ball next Wednesday night. —Tuesday was one of the quietest days Bellefonte has experienced for a long time.

—A new plate glass front is being put in Lewin's Philadelphia Branch clothing store. —Seventeen marriage licenses this week. Business is looking up since the election. —Bellefonte capitalists will start a bank at Spangler as soon as a suitable room can be procured.

—If you have a best girl it is getting near the time for a lover's quarrel that will last until after Christmas. —Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holter, of Coleville, are mourning the loss of a five weeks old infant, which died Sunday afternoon. —A very enjoyable party was recently held at the home of G. W. Young, near Mt. Eagle. It was given in honor of his son.

—A burning straw stack threatened John Cole's barn, the Lutheran church and Dr. Fisher, all of Zion, with destruction, on last Saturday night. —Foot-ball, crysanthemums and Christmas presents are absorbing the attention of old and young now that the election is a thing of the past. —Dr. Young, the physician who came here to take Dr. H. K. Hoy's practice has left for Mansfield, Ohio, where he will permanently locate.

—The fire companies all merit your assistance. Buy a ticket to the Undine ball, which will be held in the Bush Arcade next Wednesday night. —Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rankin spent Tuesday with their daughter, Mrs. R. A. Kinlos, in Philipsburg. Mr. Rankin was a congressional return judge and had business in Clearfield. —Next Wednesday night the New Undine Fire Co. will give its first annual dance in the Bush Arcade in this place. Everyone should buy a ticket. They cost only 50 cts. Don't forget to go.

—The Markham Comedy company will play in the opera house all next week. Harry Markham is a favorite here, having played leading roles for Kitty Rhoades through two seasons. —The Imperial Quartette, of Boston, will give a concert in the Chapel at State College, on Monday night. November, 28th. Mandolins, guitars, banjo songs, will make up a pleasant program. —Annie M., daughter of John Odenkirk, of Old Fort, was married, on Wednesday, to Frank Bradford, of Paddy Mountain. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents and was a great festive occasion.

Keller, of this place, departed for South Carolina, on Monday evening, where he expects to pass the winter with the hope of regaining his health. Ever since the sad death of his daughter, Martha, his health has been failing and we trust the southern trip will be the means of his hasty recovery. Mrs. Keller is with him.

—Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Katharine Gossler, and Mr. Lucius Krotel Von DerSmith, both of Columbia, which will be celebrated in that place on the 30 inst. Miss Gossler will be remembered as the sister-in-law of Lieut. S. S. Pague, U. S. A. who was commandant of the cadet corps at State College, for some time.

JOYOUS DEMOCRATS.—It is fitting, that when an event of such stupendous moment as the election was turned out favorable to a party which has been in the minority as long as the Democratic party has, that some manifestation of its gratification be made. Last Monday night the Democracy of Centre county celebrated in glorious style. Gorgeous posters announced that a ratification and walk around would be held in this place and the program was carried out to the letter. All of the afternoon trains came in crowded with enthusiastic Democrats and those who didn't have quite as much enthusiasm as they deemed desirable got more when they arrived. Owing to the great haste in arranging the event decorations were somewhat curtailed, nevertheless many houses and business places were handsomely illuminated, when darkness settled over the joyous celebrants. During the early part of the evening little delegations of horsemen were arriving from the near-by precincts and by the time set for the parade arrived there was such a jam of horses and men that the formation of the line was made with difficulty. Delegations of foot jubilants got mixed up with delegations of horse, but out of the chaos grand marshal Hammon Sechler and his aides marched the grand parade. It was a grand one to be sure, for every man in it was boiling with exultation over the sickly Republicans who stood along the pavements and watched their moriment with sad eyed recollections. Bands, transparencies, fire-works, horses, men, Japanese lanterns on sticks and everything else chassed along the streets for about an hour. A big steam threshing engine bringing up the rear and looking like some monster from the infernal regions. Indeed it was no wonder that the Republicans said: "The country is going to the devil," for it looked as though he was marching right in with the rest of us.

The wind up was made in the Diamond, whence the parade adjourned to the court house, where a number of speeches were made. C. M. Bower, was chosen chairman and after a tart little talk gave way to T. C. Hipple, Esq., of Lock Haven. He entertained the people for quite awhile with breezy campaign reflections and gave way to D. F. Fortney, who was succeeded by Aaron Williams. The room was crowded, and every allusion to the discomfortable position of the G. O. P. was hailed with thunderous applause. Among the most noticeable delegations were the horse-men from Benner township, headed by Bert Henderson, and the State College club, with the College band, an excellent musical organization. The Aaronsburg band, in natty uniforms, made a pleasing appearance, while the old standbys—the Gap and Zion—held their own as usual. All along the route, houses were illuminated and fire-works were put off. The WATCHMAN building looking gorgeous while the parade was passing. By mid-night the last special had pulled out and the next day it rained.

DIED.—at her home in Benner Twp. near Fillmore, on last Friday, Nov. 17th, Miss Annie Zell, aged 15 years, 9 mos and 1 day. It is said "Death loves a shining mark" and this old adage has never been more truly exemplified than in the death of Miss Annie Zell, whose pure and innocent young life was cut off just as it was opening in to womanhood; whose sinless feet had never trod the paths of the wicked, whose very presence shed joy and gladness to her associates. She leaves to mourn their loss, a fond and loving mother, an affectionate brother and twin sister whose hearts, though torn and bleeding at the sad separation, find solace in hope, and anchor of the soul that the separation is for a short time only and that sooner or later they will meet again. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. George Elliott, of Bellefonte, whose earnest appeal to the young to give their hearts to Christ, in the days of their youth, were timely and affecting, whose kind words of consolation and admonition were as a balm to the wounded and broken hearted friends.

Her funeral took place on the Monday following her decease and was attended by a large concourse of mourning friends, whose hearts beat in sympathy with the bereaved family. Rest in peace. A HAPPY WEDDING.—On Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock the wedding ceremony which united Mary Glenn and Henry Vitalini, in the holy bonds of matrimony, was solemnized in St. John's Catholic church, on Bishop street. A large audience being assembled to witness the nuptials, which were carried through in the pleasantest manner. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of Mrs. S. Dolan, on Spring street, where the happy pair received the congratulations of a host of friends. They departed on an afternoon train for their honeymoon trip, carrying with them the best wishes of all who knew them. The groom is by occupation, a Chef, and is a man of honor, worthy of the estimable woman who is now his wife. The WATCHMAN tenders its warmest congratulations.

—A Warriors-mark hunter killed a fine deer in the Barrens on last Friday. —Lieutenant Peary's lecture to the Lock Haven Normal school students has been postponed. —Look at the tab on your paper and see how much you owe us. Pay up and avoid the cost of collection. —Early Tuesday morning the house of John Toner, near Axe Mann, caught fire on the roof and burned to the ground. All of his household effects were saved. No insurance was carried. —Murderer KOCK who has been waiting execution, in the Allentown jail, was found dead in his cell Wednesday morning. Brooding over his fate, which was to have been sealed yesterday, caused his death from nervous prostration.

—The ladies of the Methodist church, at Lamar, intend holding a grand oyster and chicken supper on Thanksgiving evening, in Watson's hall. All the delicacies of the season will be served and the women should meet with the hearty support of every one. —Ed. Brown, the enterprising Bishop street furniture dealer, has a whole column full of interesting news in today's issue. He has carefully selected a fine line of furniture for the holiday trade and is not afraid to tell you how much it costs nor how good the quality. The man who advertises is the one to catch your trade, for with him you know exactly what you are getting. Ed carries a handsome line of wall paper also. —Harry M. Markham's Co. opened at the Elysian theatre last night with a good house and the splendid Co. rendered "A Wasted Life" with such good effect that the audience pronounced it superior to the higher priced shows. They were heartily endorsed and Mr. Markham at the close of the second act was called before the curtain the second time, thus leaving no doubt that the audience was well pleased with the acting and support.—Liverpool, Ohio, Daily. This company will play here every night next week, at 10,20 and 80 cts.

LAWRENCE GARES BADLY HURT.—Lawrence Gares, the third son of policeman Wm. Gares, of this place, was badly injured near Lock Haven, last Saturday night. He was crossing the Queen's Run railroad bridge when he was overtaken by a train. Hearing its approach he left himself down between the timbers and held on with his hands. The jarring of the train caused him to loosen his hold and he fell thirty feet into the shallow river. He received very serious injuries and when brought home on Monday was in a precarious condition.

THE WATCHMAN.—Fearless, frank, fair, should be in every Centre county home. It is the most reliable, carefully edited country weekly in this section and to be without it is to be without the pale of its influence for education and good. Always considerate and truthful, it should be a welcome visitor to be read with discretion by every member of your family. Special efforts will be made to keep the WATCHMAN well in advance of its competitors during the winter months. Departments for the little ones, for the mothers, for the fathers and for all, will be carefully looked after by the editors. Subscribe at once.

'93'S THANKSGIVING RECEPTION.—On Friday evening, November 25th the class of '93 of the Pennsylvania State College will give its Thanksgiving reception in the college armory. Stopper & Fiske's full orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. The patronesses are Mrs. J. L. Mitchell, Mrs. J. C. M. Hamilton, Mrs. Geo. D. Blair and Mrs. J. M. Smith, of Tyrone; Mrs. Charles W. Roberts, of West Chester; Mrs. Josiah Jackson, Mrs. Wm. Buckhout and Miss Harriet McElwain, of State College; Mrs. D. H. Hastings, Mrs. D. G. Bush, Mrs. P. Gray Mack and Mrs. Wilbur P. Reeder, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. John Fay of Altoona. H. W. Matern, C. R. Fay, D. W. Gross Jr. J. K. Furst and S. H. Brown are the committee of arrangements.

JACOB SEIBERT.—The remains of Jacob Seibert, of Philipsburg, were brought to this place for burial last Saturday afternoon and taken direct to the home of his son, James, on Bishop street, where they rested until Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when funeral services were conducted. Rev. Miles Noll of the Reformed church officiating. Deceased was born at Roopsburg, in 1828, and there learned the blacksmith trade which he followed for thirty-two years in this place. When here he lived in the west ward and had his shop near the Jenkins & Lingle foundry. Nine years ago he moved to Altoona. Remaining there four years, then moving to Philipsburg where he lived until death, from inflammation of the bowels, put an end to his earthly career. A wife and seven children survive him.

BUCKNELL—STATE COLLEGE.—The five hundred spectators who stood in the mud and snow, on Beaver field, at State College, last Saturday afternoon, to witness the foot-ball game between the Bucknell University team and that of the Pennsylvania State College were amply repaid for their discomfort by one of the best games of foot-ball ever witnessed at State College. The wearers of the gold and blue arrived by special train at 11 a. m. and with their supporters made things lively about the College until the game was called, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Betting was even—the little that was done, but the College boys had hard work coaxing any money out of the visitors. They seemed disposed to hold onto the nice pile they won at home last fall and P. S. C. money soon went begging at odds of 5 to 3.

The foot ball grounds are located on northeastern end of the campus, where a slight elevation affords a picturesque prospect. The track surrounds the grounds and the supporters of the rival teams lined up, on either side of it to cheer—or curs—according as the play went with their favorites. For an hour before the game, the enthusiasts howled themselves hoarse, veing with each other college yells and songs written for the occasion. The "P. S. C. yo-he-hep-rah-ra-boom rah" would sound from hun dred throats, then the Bucknell yell would follow it, echoing down the Nitany. Shortly after 2 the teams appeared on the field and received rousing cheers from their admirers. 'Twas not long until the preliminary arrangements were made, then the line up. The P. S. C. men looked sleek and healthy while their opponents presented the appearance of a team selected to awe by size rather than to win by science and endurance. They seemed nevertheless a hard foe, and the P. S. C. men realize that it was to be a struggle to death.

The game began with Bucknell in possession of the ball and P. S. C. defending the east goal. They started with the V for 5 yards, but lost the ball on four downs. State College took it and in the first snap Atherton passed it clear over Taylor's head for a loss of 5 yds. This rattled the doughy quarter back a little and three fumbles forced State College back to her 15 yard line where she was forced to kick, Brown punting to mid-field. Bucknell lost on four downs, and the ball went to the College again. By successively sending Taylor, Fay and Haley through the line she worked down to Bucknell's 5yd. line, where Taylor attempted to advance the ball after a fall and it was stolen from him the referee not hearing his "down." Bucknell punted away down the field. Brown returning it to the twenty-five yard line. Bucknell here lost again on four downs the ball going to State College. Then by bucking the centre Taylor carried it over the line for the first touch down. Atherton kicking goal. The ball ended in the middle of the field with State in possession of the ball.

It was evident to all that Bucknell was not "in it" as they were being beaten at their own game of "bucking." While the State College boys were forced to abandon their running tactics because of the mud, which was almost ankle deep. Bucknell's only hope was in kicking to keep down the score for it was apparent that she was beaten. State College opened the second half with a V for 10 yds. and by successively rushes carried the ball right down to the 5yd line where Bucknell made a desperate effort to stop it. The sign was given for Haley to take the ball, but it rilled on past him to Fay who trotted away from the Bucknell rushers, who had all piled on Haley, and over the line. Atherton kicked goal. Score 12-0. Bucknell started from the middle of the field, but lost 5 yds. with the V and had to kick. Atherton returning the ball by a beautiful run around the end. State lost on a fumble and Bucknell kicked again, Brown returning it by a long loy punt. Play was getting desperate. Both teams working their best, but Fisher and Dowler were here used and ran with the ball plowing holes in the Bucknell rush. McCaskey was substituted for Fay and he went to Quarter, displacing Atherton. Rush after rush carried the ball down to Bucknell's 20 yd line whence Brown beautifully guarded by McCaskey and Taylor carried it over for the third touchdown. Atherton kicked goal. Only a few minutes remained to play and in the first scrimmage Wolfe and Morrow came together with such force that the former had to be carried off the field. The game being tied, with four minutes to play. The visitors played a fair and gentlemanly game, but were clearly out classed, while the home team played with a system and earnestness which surprised even their most sanguine admirers. There was not a disturbance of any kind to mar the interest of the game and it was a clear cut foot ball contest from start to finish.

COLONEL COBURN AS A PROPHET.—One day last September, during the Granger's picnic, Col. James Coburn swelled himself away up and looking exceedingly wise made the following prophecy: "Cleveland will not carry a single northern State  He will not carry Virginia." The colonel knows better now and the gentlemen who stood about him at that time are wondering why he didn't know better then. But you see he was pretty near right after all. Cleveland didn't carry a single northern State for they were all wedded to Democracy before he got them.

News Notes From Howard. Mrs. Tice was on the sick list this week. Both doctors here sport new buggies and good horses now. Dave Pletcher says Salt River is at present tainted with —Indianapolis. Misses Carrie and Elsie DeLong, of Romola, were pleasant visitors to Howard friends this week. J. H. Tipton's house assumes a new look. He has been building. Oh! fifth wheel, why didst thou leave? Mr. Frank Liverly, of Tyrone, was visiting his brother James, the popular clerk at Moore's drug store, this week. Philip Erie has moved his family and goods to the house formerly occupied by Avery Long on the Bellefonte road. Claude Moore, who attends the Academy at Bellefonte, sports an accordion but can't play except—when he feels like it. O. S. McClosky, of Lodge fame, called on Howard friends and on business this week. He is a jovial old fellow and weighs 190.

The roof has appeared on the Jenkins Bros. iron mill, at this place. Push work, ye carpenters, let us all "git" back to work. Our leading Democrats visited the celebration of Cleveland's victory at Bellefonte Monday evening. Now come and see the pictures upon our doors. E. G. Shults has put in a new pump, which with the able assistance of Charlie Strunk and his engine, is expected to fill the reservoir, and keep the boilers full. Bird Butler lost $30. last election, but retaliated this year by winning two new buggies and $300. cold cash. There are your hold back straps now Birdie? The dedicatory exercises of the Reformed church, at Romola, are announced for Sunday Nov. 19th. The WATCHMAN's correspondent will be on hand to write it up. Miss Lizzie Robb, of Romola, was visiting Howard this week, on business. She is a wide-awake young lady who has shown her abilities everywhere she goes.

An oyster supper will be held under the auspices of the ladies of the M. E. church, on Thanksgiving eve, for the benefit of the parsonage. Go to the Howard school house and enjoy yourself. Hon. John A. Woodward visited his home here, and left on Tuesday for the scene of his labors. He says the World's Fair business is getting along very smoothly. He is the right man in the right place. One of our Republican "ladies" made a remarkable Democratic which decreased the esteem in which she had previously been held by us. She publicly called two young Democrats "pups" because of their Democratic principles. Alfred Coner fell from a wagon, last Friday, breaking his arm. This a son of Henry M. Coner, Esq., the popular Democratic chairman of Howard township, to whose untiring efforts is due a share of Centre county's big Democratic majority. Constable W. N. Neff is a jolly good fellow. He has made but few arrests, but those who have been placed under his charge, speak as highly of him as those who employ him. His temper has been sorely tried, at times, but he has always held his own.

Len. J. Husted, the popular young gentleman from Michigan, who has been visiting Howard two or three summers past, ended his visit here by his departure for home, Grand Rapids, Tuesday. Len. is very popular here and will be missed by those who have had the pleasure of his acquaintance. Through the efforts of D. P. S. O. S. McCloskey, of Williamsport Lodge 4489, a new council of the Jr. O. U. A. M., was organized, at Howard, and initiated on last Thursday evening, with the assistance of M. T. Jenkins, Harry Davy and Harry Miller, of Lock Haven, No. 583. The charter membership is composed of 33, and new applicants bid fair to place the membership at several figures higher. After some exciting scenes the following roster of officers was selected.— J. P. C. O. W. McEneaney, M. D.; Coun.; J. B. Holter; V. C., R. H. Holter; R. S. W. Neff; A. R. S. H. T. Hayes; F. S. D. W. Holter; Treas.; J. L. DeHaas; Comd.; W. H. Fletcher; Warden; O. W. Brickley; J. S. H. C. Freeman; O. S. G. Z. Long; Trustees, W. P. Mitchell, R. Cooke, Jr. and W. H. Fletcher.
