Terms 2.00 A Year, in Advance

Bellefonte, Pa., Dec. 2, 1892.

P. GRAY MEEK, Editor

Only Hurrying it Up.

Seems to us there is such a measure as the McKinley bill still in force, is there not? It was passed, if we remember rightly, for the alleged purpose of protecting the wages of labor, or at least that was the principle reason given why it should be enacted into law.

The party that was opposed to its provisions, and believed it was intended only to benefit special interests won at the last election, but will have no opportunity to attempt to correct its evils, before December 1894. In no way, that any practical person can see, can a repeal of that bill be effected, or a substitute for it be enacted before the spring of 1895. Then a date ahead will have to be fixed in the measure, for its provisions to go into operation, which, in all probability, will delay any change in the tariff until July 1895, over a year and a half from this writing.

Notwithstanding these facts and the certainty that under any circumstances they will have ample tariff protection, against all competitors, for over eighteen months, as well as the other fact, that they never raised wages a penny when protection was increased by the McKinley bill, certain iron industries are now making an excuse for cutting down wages, the fact that the tariff is to be changed and assert that as a consequence they cannot afford to pay as high wages as heretofore.

Now, if the rate of wages is fixed by the amount of protection each ton of iron is guaranteed, why were not wages advanced when the increased protection, the McKinley bill furnished, went into operations. Or, if the measure of protection regulates wages, why are not workmen entitled to their full share of benefits up to the time that protection will be changed?

Certainly there is something very thin, in this attempt of protected industries, to throw the excuse for decreasing wages upon a prospect of a reduction of the tariff. As the tariff did not increase wages when it went into effect, why should it decrease them, even should it be lowered? But as it is not probable, in fact not possible, that even any change or reduction can be made in it for over a year, under any circumstances wages should have remained at present figures, until new contracts were taken under the changed condition a change of tariff may bring.

As it is, the action of iron manufacturers will only make greater the necessity for a speedier change in our tariff laws than any one anticipated. With prices up to a high tariff point on everything the laboring man must buy, and wages cut down because tariff changes are promised in the future, it will be the duty of the Democracy to act on this subject at the very earliest day possible.

If iron manufacturers are going to force "free trade wages," as they call them, on their workmen, the sooner these same men are furnished an opportunity to purchase the necessities of life at "free trade" figures, the better.

In beginning to cut wages, because of the alleged fear of tariff revision, certain interests may be digging where they do not imagine, and sowing seed that they may be called upon to harvest sooner than they expect.

Not a Success as a Prophet.

Most any fellow with his eyes shut could have done as well. Previous to the election Gen. HASTINGS went up and down the country predicting, on the stump and to every interviewer who he could get to listen to him, that "Pennsylvania would give 100,000 majority to HARRISON. The cold figures that fixes the official results are now gathered in and the General's guess comes just within 71,718 of being the correct answer. HARRISON'S majority in place of 100,000 is but 28,282 and his plurality but 63,747—a decrease since 1888 in plurality of over 15,000. Certainly it didn't take much of a knowledge of the sentiment in Pennsylvania to come as near hitting the mark as "Our Dan" did. Hereafter, as a predictor, he will occupy a back pew until some one who knows tells him what to say.

Showing What They Are.

We doubt if the editor of any of the many Republican papers, or any of the many other Republican voters, who are now so vehemently demanding the defeat of the re-election of Senator QUAY, had either honesty or courage enough to cast their ballots against the Republican candidates for legislature, who are to choose his successor and who they knew at the time would vote for him, if elected. To set up the howl now that he should be defeated, after aiding him in securing an overwhelming majority in both branches of the legislature, is not hurting QUAY a particle or weakening his chances in the least. It is only exhibiting what consummate asses and idiots some people can make of themselves.

He Was In It.

The WATCHMAN would be loth to misrepresent any one, much less a clever and deserving a gentleman as the editor of the Northwest Dakota News, hence it takes pleasure in giving the following from the pen of Major BIERLY, correcting the statement made in this paper of a couple of weeks ago, that the News did not support either CLEVELAND or the fusion ticket in its state.

The News did not believe that Cleveland could carry anything, after his disastrous defeat of 1888. In this it was mistaken, as were, Watterson, Voorhees, Daniels, Sikes, Flower, McClellan, Murphy and thousands of other good democrats. In regard to North Dakota, while the News did not support Cleveland, there being no Cleveland electors in the field, it was the first and for weeks the only paper in the state that advocated and defended the coalition which has been so admirably crowned with success. The News was the pioneer among the papers of the state on this question having two years ago labored to the same end, with a near approach to success. It is practical in its politics and believes like Senator Quay, in the potency of votes in the ballot box. The success of the coalition state ticket is by many democrats as well as independents attributed in a large measure to the incessant and independent labor of the Daily News and the Northwest News. Hence the WATCHMAN has not read the lines aright and will please set Mr. Bierly right before its large democratic constituency, whose good opinion he still cherishes, though far removed from their midst.

Away Back.

Evidently there has been some delay in the returns of the election reaching the wide awake people of Washington, or possibly the editor of the Montezano Economist has been back in the woods for some weeks, else why should he be asking for the Democratic party to "come to the front," etc. Certainly any fellow who had read the news would know that the party was at the front now, and about as much as it was possible to be. Our sprightly cotemporary, out there, that got out of the Democratic procession just about the time it started, don't seem to have caught up with anything yet or to realize the way the Democratic people marched to the front, while it was sitting by the way-side looking for a Populists army that never materialized.

It is the down-cast and disheartened Republican who now sings: "It may be four years or it may be forever."

Governor RUSSELL, of Massachusetts, does everything with his left hand but strangle to say has never been left.

Lawrenceville Strikers Will Stay Out.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 29.—The Carnegie city mill strikers held another meeting at Eintracht hall, Lawrenceville, this morning, and claim to be stronger in their determination to remain out than they were the day they struck. The meeting this morning was an enthusiastic one, and the men felt jubilant over a report that the workers at Homestead were going out on another strike to-day. This statement was denied by Secretary Kilgallon, of the Amalgamated association, who said there was no probability of a renewal of the strike at Homestead.

Exports of American Gold.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The gold movements in New York engage the attention of financiers in London, Paris and Vienna. The impending American assignments for London are attributed partly to the continuous large sales of American railroad securities on English account and partly to the absorption of gold by Austria in connection with the conversion of currency now in progress in that country. Since November 11 the Austro-Hungarian Bank has purchased £4,000,000 worth of gold chiefly in the open market in London.

The Cabinet Resigns.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—The members of the French cabinet went to the palace of the Elise at 6 o'clock this evening and tendered their resignations to President Carnot. In accepting their withdrawal from office, President Carnot asked them to continue to conduct the business of their respective offices until their successors shall have been appointed.

Baron Hirsch Slightly Hurt.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—While shooting at Ayres, Baron de Hirsch, the well-known Hebrew philanthropist, was slightly wounded in the hands and forearm by the explosion of his gun. Figaro says that his injuries are not at all serious, and that all traces of the accident will have disappeared in a few days.

An Increase of 6 Per Cent in Wages.

AMESBURY, Mass., November 30.—The Hamilton woolen company, controlling sixteen mills here, has increased the wages of all employes except spinners 6 per cent. The spinners were given an increase of 10 per cent. recently.

Death at the White House.

President Harrison's Venerable Father-in-Law Passes Away Without a Struggle. The President Much Prostrated. He Has Denied Himself to all Visitors.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—Rev. Dr. John W. Scott, the venerable father-in-law of President Harrison, died shortly after four o'clock this afternoon. The end that had been awaited with so much dread and anxiety all the forenoon came this afternoon. The aged invalid passed away without a struggle as quietly and as peacefully as a child falls asleep. He had been unconscious for hours, and was unable to recognize his weeping friends at his bedside. Stimulants were administered by order of the physician, but only served to deter the inevitable. The president and family are very much prostrated at their bereavement.

The White House was closed to visitors to-day and the usual semi-weekly cabinet meeting was omitted.

Rev. John Witherspoon Scott, D. D., was born in Beaver county, Pennsylvania, January 22, 1800, and was therefore in the ninety-third year of his age. He was a son of George McElroy Scott, a native of Bucks county, who afterward went to Beaver county, to take charge of a Presbyterian church. Dr. Scott graduated from a college at Washington, Pennsylvania, and subsequently took a post graduate course at Yale. Afterward he accepted a professorship in the college from which he graduated, which position he held for two years. He accepted a professorship at Miami university, Miami, Ohio, in 1826. While there three children were born to him: Elizabeth, afterward Mrs. Lord; Caroline, afterward Mrs. Harrison, and John Neal Scott.

A number of years later Dr. Scott founded the Oxford, Ohio, female college, and in 1850 became its president. The funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon. To-day which the remains will be taken to Washington, Penna., for interment there.

Pension Figures.

There Are Now 876,068 Persons Drawing Pay From the Government.

WASHINGTON, November 30, 1892.—The annual report of Green B. Raum, commissioner of pensions, made public to-day, shows that there were on the pension rolls June 30, 1892, 876,068 pensioners, an increase during the year of 199,908.

There were added to the rolls during the year 222,937 new pensioners, and 2,477 pensioners previously dropped were restored to the pension lists. During the year 25,306 persons were dropped from the rolls.

The total amount expended for pensions during the fiscal year was $139,035,612. For the present fiscal year $144,956,000 is appropriated, and taking the cost of the pension allowances during the first four months of this fiscal year as a basis of calculation, the commissioner estimates that a deficiency appropriation of $10,508,621 will be necessary to supplement this year's appropriation.

Honors About Even.

California's Electoral Vote May Be Divided Between Cleveland and Harrison.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 29.—The official vote of all counties in California, with the exception of San Francisco, give Harrison a plurality of 6,422. The returns from all but nine precincts in San Francisco give Cleveland a plurality in this city and county of 6,112. A number of irregularities in the returns from the remaining precincts in this city may delay the canvass for a few days.

The figures given from outside counties is based upon the average vote given for Republican and Democrat electors. The plurality is so narrow, and in view of the fact that the vote for electors varies, it is possible that when the official vote has been completed upon an individual vote the electoral vote will be divided between Harrison and Cleveland.

Went Crazy Over the Comet.

NIAGARA FALLS, Nov. 30.—The comet scare struck the end of the state in earnest. A farmer named Andrews, known for his closeness in money matters, drew all his money from the bank and spent as much of it as he could. He distributed the rest among his sons and daughters, with the admonition to "blow it," for the comet would wipe them out of existence before Monday morning. Monday it was feared he would go crazy over the failure of the celestial wanderer to materialize. A farmer's wife in Porter went crazy over the comet.

Willing to be Americans.

Canadian Reformers Adopt Resolutions Favoring Political Union.

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—South Norwalk, an important constituency in Ontario, has declared in favor of the political union of Canada with the United States so far as the reformers of that place are concerned. The South Norwalk Reform Association at its annual meeting decided by vote that the Reform party in opposition at Ottawa should include a plank favoring the political union of Canada with the States as part of its policy.

Brisson Summoned to Form a Ministry.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—To-day President Carnot summoned M. Brisson and asked him to form a ministry, retaining in the cabinet M. Ribot and M. DeFreycinet. Mr. Brisson promised to communicate his decision to President Carnot to-morrow, after conferring with his friends.

A Reception to Harry.

The Academy of Music Crowded With People to Tender Their Congratulations.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—William F. Harry was the recipient this evening of a reception tendered him by his fellow citizens of Philadelphia. The academy of music was engaged for the occasion and was crowded with people. At the extreme rear of the building rows of blazing gas jets spelled the name of the organization that tendered Mr. Harry the reception, "Young Men's Democratic Association of Philadelphia," and under this emblem the guest of the evening, surrounded by a reception committee of about one hundred Democrats, greeted those who pressed forward to shake his hand.

Governor Pattison accompanied by members of the staff appeared in the line and passed before Mr. Harry. A prominent Democrat who attracted much attention when he passed in the line to pay his respects was Senator Gorman, of Maryland. In the course of the evening Mr. Harry shook the hands of many Republicans who offered their congratulations. Telegrams and letters were received from many Democrats of national prominence. At the close of the reception Mr. Harry, joined Mrs. Harry, who was seated in a private box.

In a few days Mr. Harry will, with his family, seek some quiet resort, probably in the South, and spend ten days or more in the open air in an endeavor to restore his physical system to the condition of robustness he enjoyed before he entered upon the work of the recent campaign.

Ohio Meant to do Right.

From the Clearfield Republican (Dem.)

The vote of Ohio shows that the first Democratic elector on the ticket had 404,115 votes, while the first Republican elector had but 402,359. The majority of the voters thought they were voting the straight Democratic ticket by marking opposite the first elector, while they were only voting for him and not the entire ticket. The Buckeyes meant well enough, but they were poor markers, and their little oversight lost Cleveland the State by a small margin when the majority fully intended that he should have it. However we'll worry along without Ohio until '96, when she will come in all right.

Kansas Legislature a Tie.

A United States Senatorship to be Decided by Lot.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 29.—The control of the next State Assembly depends on a drawing by lot. The body now stands 32 Republicans, 58 People's Party, 3 Democrats and 1 Independent. The remaining Representative is to be seated by lot, the vote in Coffey County being a tie. If the Republicans are successful in the drawing for the seat they will have just enough to organize the House. If they lose, the opposition will have a majority, and control both branches of the Legislature, and will elect a United States Senator.

Stringing up of Iams.

Lieutenant Colonel Streater and Other Defendants Pay the Costs.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 28.—Lieutenant Colonel Streater, of the Tenth Regiment, appeared in the Criminal Court to-day for sentence in the case of aggravated assault and battery on Private W. L. Iams. He was acquitted of the charge, but he and the other defendants had to pay costs. Judge Porter, who tried the case, was not present, and the sentence was put off until a latter date.

Ross and McLuckie Surrender.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 28.—Hugh Ross and ex-Burgess John McLuckie, the Homestead strike leaders, who have been missing since the charges of murder and treason were preferred against them, returned to the city to-day and surrendered to the sheriff. They will make application for bail, and pending a decision, will be compelled to remain in jail.

Wanners' forge, near St. Peters, Pa., which has been idle six months, resumed operations to-day with large orders on hand.

Cleveland's Indiana Plurality.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—There still remain seven counties in Indiana from which the official election returns have not been received. These are supplemented by returns believed to have been accurate, give Harrison 256,981; Cleveland, 262,718; Cleveland's plurality, 6,037.

Smallest Man Dead.

He Was 40 Inches Tall and Succumbed to Lung Disease.

SCHUYLVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 28.—One of the smallest men in the world died here yesterday of lung disease. He was Henry Baker and he was less than 40 inches tall. His age was 37.

A blast fired in a quarry at Graniteville, Mo., recently dislodged 160,000 cubic feet of stone, all in one solid mass.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

A HUNTING PARTY'S RETURN.—After three weeks hunt in the mountains beyond Karthaus, Clearfield county, John Brown, A. M. Greninger, the Horner boys, the Gentzels and Zimmerman's, returned on Saturday night, with a whole car load of game. Eight large deer rewarded their expedition and venison is now an every day diet with the members of the lucky party. We haven't been called upon to taste a roast of venison for some time, but fancy we could do it justice had we the opportunity.

The session will begin on Monday morning, December 20th, and continue for five days. The names of a number of eminent educators will be found on the list of instructors for the week.

THE SEASON'S RECORD.—The Pennsylvania State College football team closed a wonderfully successful season by defeating Dickinson at Harrisburg on Thanksgiving day.

Notwithstanding the supposed weakness of the team when the season opened it proved itself the strongest ever lined up to defend the blue and white goal. The team has defended its claim to second place in the State and there are some who even go so far as to claim that it could have probably defeated the U. of P. when it disbanded.

In the seven games played P. S. C. scored 160 points to her opponents 20. The University of Pennsylvania being the only team to score against her.

LOOK-OUT FOR THE SHARPERS.—An Exchange sounds the following warning which we publish for the benefit of our subscribers:

A gang of sharpers consisting of two women and a boy are working the town in the following manner. They enter a house and tell a pitiful story about having recently come from Scotland and having been unlucky and in need of money. They produce a set of silver plated knives, forks and spoons which they say they brought from Scotland and are very superior goods. They say the articles cost £2½ in Scotland but they will sell them for $5. They hoodooed Tommy Deakin into buying a set and he found afterward that the goods were the veriest trash, not worth half the price paid and that the same people had sold several similar sets to other persons. The lesson to be learned is this: Buy your goods from reputable home dealers, and you will get your money's worth. Your eyes are your market when you buy from a peddler."

U. C. CONFERENCE.—The Pennsylvania Conference, United Christian Church, convened in annual session at Whitehall church, Maza, Juniata Co., Pa., Nov. 10, 1892 and organized by electing Rev. J. A. Benson chairman and Rev. P. A. Baker secretary.

After roll call and noting of absences the minutes of the previous session were read and adopted. After disposing of an amount of preliminary and minor business, Rev. C. W. Maze, of the church of God, and H. G. Milligan, were granted license as ministers of the gospel of the U. C. church. A number of committee reports were received and acknowledged upon and new committees appointed. Revs. S. G. Diessler and H. M. Eberly severed their connection with conference, and their licenses, as ministers of the gospel were revoked. Rev. J. G. Anderson was chosen to preach the opening sermon at next conference. Revs. P. A. Baker, J. A. Benson, and W. H. Vincent were elected to examine applicants for license at next session. Rev. J. A. Benson and C. M. Singer, J. B. Meredith and Geo. Hubert were elected a committee to examine the ministers of all the sessions since the organization of the U. C. church, to report at next conference. Rev. P. A. Baker was excused from labor during the coming year upon account of ill health. The following charges were assigned: J. A. Benson; H. S. Milligan, Fallen Timber; C. W. Maze, Brushridge; J. H. Benson, Lewistown; W. H. Vincent, Lillyville; A. Reback, Juniata; J. G. Anderson, Blacklog; Tyrone was elected as the place to hold the next session of conference. Everything passed off pleasantly and in a spirit of true Christianity. County papers please copy.

WHAT DOES IT ALL MEAN.—Last week the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's engineers finished the survey of a track from the end of this company's Y, near the glass works at this place, to the Collier's furnace.

Some weeks since the same engineers located a route from the red-bank over to Scotia. The combined length of tracks that will be required to make these two connections, is less than two miles and when completed will connect both the Bellefonte Furnace company's furnaces and its principal bank with the lines of the Pennsylvania railroad.

What this means can only be conjectured from surface indications. We understand that the cause of the long closing down of the Bellefonte Furnace has been due more to some difficulty that exists between that company and the Bellefonte Central railroad about rates of transportation of ore, and the transfer of cars, than to the condition of the iron market. Last summer it was whispered that an effort was being made by the Furnace company, to get such rate of freights from the Pennsylvania as would enable it to bring its ore from Red Bank round by Tyrone. The fact that the railroad company has gone to the expense of making a survey of these two connections looks as if an agreement had been reached, and as if the Furnace company would be enabled to go on in spite of the differences that exist between it and the Bellefonte Central.

While the people of Bellefonte hope that something has been accomplished that will start this big industry, they at the same time will be sorry that amicable arrangements were not possible between the Furnace company and the Bellefonte Central. The very existence of the latter depends to a great extent on the patronage of the furnace and without the Furnace company's freight it will be impossible to operate the Central on a paying basis.

What Bellefonte will most have to fear from this ostensible arrangement is the final absorption of the Bellefonte Central by the Pennsylvania. After weakening it by taking from its principle source of revenue, it would finally secure it at a more nominal figure, and thus give it control of a line, which it was hoped would prove a good feeder to any competing line that might be built to this place. This would be no little discouragement to the new line of road that is contemplated to connect with the Reading system, and might in the end cause its abandonment.

Special to the Democratic WATCHMAN.

Death of John Poorman.

The funeral of John Poorman, of Boggs township, took place on Thursday, Nov. 24th from his late residence to Messiah's Church Cemetery, three miles north of Milesburg; Rev. J. Zeigler officiating. Mr. Poorman was one of twelve children of the family of the late John and Elizabeth Poorman, of Nittany Valley, and but one of them surviving. His death, D. C. Poorman, of Holt's Hollow in said township. His wife Catherine died some years ago, and since then he remained on his farm which one or the other of his sons worked for him. He was an honest and upright man, and a good neighbor; was the father of nine children; four sons and five daughters, who with 36 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren mourn their loss. He died from cancer on his face, after a long and dreadful illness. He endowed all his sufferings with true Christian fortitude, and we believe now rests in paradise awaiting the resurrection of the just; was aged on the day of his death, Nov. 23, 1892, 79 years, 11 months and 27 days. The bereaved share our hearty sympathy and condolence.
