COURT DOINGS TO DATE.—When court adjourned on Wednesday of last week, Judge Furst made the announcement that the second week's work would begin promptly on the following Monday morning. And when crier T. J. Dunkle called all men having complaints to go forth and be heard. There was a well filled room and a calendar containing some important cases. In the whole of last week's work there was not a case that should have come into court at all, but things have been different this week and some interest has been taken in the proceedings. The cases were called and disposed of as follows:

In the case of the Commonwealth ex rel Hester Hoover vs. Henry W. Hoover et al. Verdict of $228.90 for plaintiff.

Commonwealth use of Mrs. Emma Hunter vs. Harry Simler et al. At close of plaintiff's testimony defendants moved for compulsory non-suit. Granted.

Jennie M. Waltz, widow of James Waltz, vs. Beek Creek R. R. Co. Action in trespass to recover damages for the death of her husband, who was killed by fire to the extent of about $35,000, including loss to tenants. Just the top floor burned off.

A farce comedy with a plot, a farce comedy with thrilling climaxes, a farce comedy with ten years of reputation and refined in every particular, a farce comedy patronized by the elite of every city—"Little Nugget," at Garman's opera house, Thursday evening, February 9th.

On some date in March the Athletic Association of the Pennsylvania State College will send a team of athletes down here to give an exhibition in the opera house. Boxing, wrestling, tumbling, horizontal and parallel bar work etc., will be the features. The boys will draw a good house.

At an early hour on Wednesday morning the large machine shops of Austin Brothers & Porter, at Tyrone, were discovered to be on fire. Though strenuous efforts were made to save the property, everything was burned. The loss on the building was $4,600, and on stock $25,000. An insurance of $12,000 was carried.

James E. Powers Esq., of Dayton, Ohio, is visiting at the home of his brother, Ex-mayor John Powers, at No. 321 North Spring street. He arrived last Friday and has been spending the time pleasantly with his relatives here. He is an uncle of E. L. Powers, one of our leading shoe men, and is a gentleman whom it is a pleasure to meet.

The Altoona Gazette is authority for the statement that the gap in the Lewisburg and Tyrone rail-road will be filled up before long and that the rail-road from Linden Hall to Fairbrook will be built via Bealsburg. It will require grading a distance of about twelve miles, but when completed it will shorten the distance from New York to Pittsburg over fifty miles.

Mr. John Kurtz, assistant cashier in the Centre Co. Bank and so long almost inseparably identified with many of our business and philanthropic enterprises, is receiving congratulations upon his engagement to Miss Harriet M. Thomas, of Lewistown, who has spent several Summers among our mountains and who is a niece of M. Louise Thomas, Ex-President of the Sorosis club in New York city. We are always glad to have such striking refutations of the labored subject that "marriage is a failure."

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, and the sudden changes of temperature in the guiding hand of the weather bureau, some excuse maybe made for the icy glitter covering so many of our sidewalks, but a little application of muscle and a shovel could certainly make them more presentable and less dangerous. Many of the sewers have been allowed to freeze full until the surplus water is flooding the pavements with its filth and debris.

Joseph Twitmore was one of the unfortunate victims of those carelessly attended-to thoroughfares. On Tuesday morning he fell cutting his nose open and sustaining other injuries. Miss Ella Miller was likewise unlucky, having fallen on Mr. Garman's pavement and breaking her arm.

Harry P. Bush came home from Homestead on Monday morning to take charge of a store for the Cato mining company at Cato Glenn, on the Beech railroad. He has been employed in the Homestead mills ever since last fall.

The first term of court in Clinton county was held in 1839.

If the present Legislature passes the judicial bill now before it Centre county will be entitled to a Judge of its own.

Don't forget to go and see Herbert Cawthorn and his company play "Little Nugget" in the opera house, on Thursday evening, Feb. 9th.

Mrs. Joe W. Furey of Lock Haven was in town this week greeting old friends and arranging for Mr. Furey's stay at Clifton Springs.

Guido C. Boecking, was married to Miss Sarah Foster, of Millinburg, in the latter place, on Tuesday. Mr. Boecking is a young merchant of Tyrone.

Benner W. Meek, the second son of D. L. Meek of Buffalo Run, is suffering with inflammatory rheumatism superinduced by cold settling in a strain from over lifting.

Beech Creek residents have come to the conclusion that bad water is responsible for most of the epidemics that scourge that village. Scarlet fever has broken out again.

Mayor Wynne, of Lock Haven, was stricken with paralysis at an early hour Tuesday morning. His right side is paralyzed and he has lost his speech. He is 75 years old.

The engagement of Col. McCoy, one of Tyrone's leading citizens, to Miss Sara Morrow, who formerly taught school in Bellefonte and has many friends here, has been announced.

The Arcade in "Altoona," owned by W. L. Woodcock, a brother of J. A. Woodcock, of this place, was damaged by fire to the extent of about $35,000, including loss to tenants. Just the top floor burned off.

COUNTY CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS IN CONVENTION.—The first annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies, of Centre county, was held in the Presbyterian chapel, in this place, yesterday, Thursday, February 2nd. The disagreeable weather was never thought of by the arduous young workers of the great white ribboned army that has been so recently mustered from every corner of our land, and the three sessions were carried on with an earnestness which augured naught but success in their battle for the right.

Delegates were present from Gatesburg, Rock Spring, Oak Hall, Lemont, State College, Howard, Milesburg, Martha Furnace, Julian Furnace, Unionville and from the different societies in Bellefonte.

The convention was called to order promptly at eleven o'clock and the first thing done, after Bowman Weaver, of Clearfield, had conducted devotional exercises, was the formation of a county Union and the election of officers as follows: President John Walker, Bellefonte; Secretary, Dr. C. B. Church, of Milesburg; Treasurer, Laura M. Wright, Milesburg. An Executive Committee made up of the Presidents of the different societies of the county was then chosen and the work of the morning session completed.

With the opening of the afternoon session the regular program was taken up as follows: Address of Welcome, Rev. Wm. Laurie, Bellefonte; Reply, Prof. Jas. Heaney, State College; Our Motto, "For Christ," Miss M. E. Shortlidge, Bellefonte; Look-Out Committee—Free Parliament, Jno. Foster, County Secretary, State College; Prayer-meeting Committee—Free Parliament, Rev. Samuel Honesty, A. M. E. Bellefonte; Talk on Temperance Work, Rev. Blackburn, Bellefonte. The afternoon meeting concluded with reports from the Societies, all of which were exceedingly flattering.

The evening began with a service of song and after the young people had showed their proficiency in music Rev. G. R. Stewart, of Harrisburg, delivered an address. The general subject of "Our C. E. Prayer Meetings" was taken up next and handled in sections in this order: "How prepare ourself for it," Prof. G. C. Baiz, Ex-County Sec. State College; "How secure a large attendance," Miss Hensyl, Howard; "How lead it effectively," J. M. Laurie, Bellefonte; "How use music to the best advantage," Miss Thompson, Lemont; "How secure graduates from verse readers' class," Miss Hunter, Bellefonte. The concluding exercise was a Consecration meeting under the direction of J. Elliott Harvey, Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

The convention was most gratifying in its outcome and the young Christians look upon this their first convention as the initial step toward a grander and more co-operative work in the broad field which the county affords for Christianity.

GLORIOUS WORK FOR GOD.—A resultant of the revival, that has been going on in the Methodist Church, under the eloquent and soul-stirring leadership of Rev. W. A. Houck, was forcibly evidenced in the large number of people who joined the church on probation last Sunday morning. The majority were young women and men whose regular and enthusiastic attendance during the past six weeks speak eloquently for the successful furtherance of the work. Nothing is pleasanter to see than a bevy of fair girls and stalwart boys in their youth and strength preparing for the good work which is so much needed in this present frivolous tending day.

The revival meeting in the United Brethren church is still being successfully forwarded by the indefatigable labor of Rev. Blackburn.

An unprecedented revival is stirring the city of Omaha, Nebraska, to its very foundations. Meetings were held in the Exposition building and over three thousand persons have been converted; one thousand joining the Methodist church and two thousand connecting themselves with other churches.

Last Wednesday all the leading manufacturing and business places in Reading, Pa., were closed for the day, the entire city being given over to prayerful attendance of the Divine services held in every church.

May this good work go on until every soul shall appreciate these beautiful lines of Tennyson:

Follow you the Star that lights a desert pathway,
Forward, till you see the highest human nature is divine.
Follow Light, and do the right—for man can half control his doom—
Till you find the deathless Angel seated in the vacant tomb.

MUSICAL CONVENTION AT BEALSBURG.—Prof. F. H. Meyer will conduct a musical convention at Bealsburg during the week of February 13th. It will begin on Monday, evening February 13th and conclude on the following Friday evening. Both instrumental and vocal music will be taught and a good time is anticipated by all.

Latest novelties in Spring clothing for Men, Boys and Children. The best suit in the market for men at $10.00. Tailoring a specialty.

MONTGOMERY & Co.

Monday night's snow made good sleighing on Tuesday.

There are three hundred and thirty-one days of 1893 yet to live.

Tyroneans were pleased with General Hastings' lecture on "the Campaign orator."

A number of sales have been added to the WATCHMAN "Register" this week. Look up the dates.

Wm S. Gray, of Stormstown, was in town during the fore part of the week endeavoring to get his insurance adjusted.

Mr. James Passmore, of Burnside, has again taken charge of his hotel in Phillipsburg. The house will be remodeled in the Spring.

Gossip has it that president Roberts of the Pennsylvania rail-road company will resign and that vice-president Frank Thompson will succeed him. A complete reorganization will follow.

Do not fail to hear the sweet vocal selections rendered by the famous Nugget Quartette—one of the many features in the farce comedy, "Little Nugget." Garman's opera house, Feb. 9th.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dale upon the introduction into their pleasant home of a little stranger and hope his tarrying with them may be a very long and happy one.

A merry party of Unionville people surprised Mrs. Annie Rich and her daughter Eva on Friday evening. They drove down in a big sled and after spending a pleasant evening here returned well satisfied with the trip.

Don't throw away a partly used steel pen because it is scratchy. Just lay it away for about two days, then hold it in a gas flame for not more than fifteen seconds. Then write with it again. You're right it will write right then.

When those Millintown capitalists get done with the $500,000 electric railroad between Harrisburg and Lancaster how much will they have left to build the road that the Phillipsburg papers have been riding(?) on for months.

Edward P. Elliot, the noted impersonator, will give one of his unlimited entertainments in the chapel, at State College, on Wednesday evening, February 15th. The Free Lance lecture and concert course cannot but prove a success with such attractions.

There will be a gathering of notable men at State College, on the 22nd inst, when the new mechanic arts building will be dedicated. The regular mid-winter assembly will be held in the armory in the evening and on the list of patronesses we noticed the names of Mrs. Robert E. Pattison, Mrs. John W. Noble and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie.

Mordacia Kocher, a notorious Huntingdon county burglar, escaped from the Huntingdon jail on Tuesday night. He was awaiting trial for burglary and it is thought that knowing he would have to serve a second term in the penitentiary he decided to skip. He burned the lock out of a wooden door with a red hot poker and effected his escape.

The frame dwelling house owned and occupied by the widow of the late Samuel Grassmyer, of Milesburg, was totally destroyed by fire on Friday afternoon. It took fire from a defective fire and burned so rapidly that very few of the house-hold effects were saved. There was an insurance on the property. The house stood right near the rail-road station.

An exchange tells of the following invention of a Somerset genius: A man living in Somerset has invented a machine which he calls a "gita-jango" and with which he claims he can fly at a forty-mile-an-hour speed. The thing is built upon four aluminium wheels, and in front is a heavy fly wheel. The fly wheel is started by a pedal, and that sets the other wheels in motion, which then skim over the ground like an express train. A public exhibition will be given there by the inventor.

The Lewistown Democrat "Man About Town" writes:—I sometimes hear a man spoken of in this way: "Of course he spends all his money for rum but he is a generous, open-hearted fellow and he harms no one but himself." I would rather look into that fellow's home and see if there is a hollow eye and telling wife and mother there, and hungry and half-clean little ones, before I would pronounce any such judgement. I am not a temperance bigot or fanatic, but I have little sympathy to waste on a man who neglects his life companion and worse still, the innocent little ones for whose existence he is responsible, that his own depraved tastes may be gratified and that he may pass as a good fellow among his companions. At least I think the terms "generosity" and "big-hearted" are grossly misinterpreted when they are thus applied.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.—At a regular meeting of W. C. 447, P. O. S. of A. held on the evening of January 23rd, the officers were installed by D. P. E. E. Erhart as follows:

Past President, Wm. Owens; President, Lewis Miller; Vice President, Harry Winlow; M. F. Edward Swarmer; Conductor, Edward Young; Treasurer, S. M. Hall; Financial Secretary, James Irvin; Recording Secretary, Philip Smith; Ass't. Recording Secretary, Zeb Bathurst; Chaplain, Wm. Hall; Inspector, Henry Young; Guard, James Weagley; Right Sentinel, George Hockenberry; Left Sentinel, Amos Swarmer; Trustee, Wm. Hall.

We are pleased to learn that the camp is in a flourishing condition.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Issued during the past week—Taken from the docket, Geo. B. Stover, and Florence A. Adams, both of Livonia.

B. C. Bloom, and Ida E. Krebs, both of State College.

Milton Boyer, of Bellefonte, and Ella Murry, of Milesburg.

Joe Hamzib and Sarah Barka, both of Clearfield.

Samuel W. Holt, of Union Twp., and Mary L. Steer, of Unionville.

Wm. J. Daugebaugh and Sarah J. Spotts, both of Port Matilda.

James A. Cowher and Effie C. Herdman, both of Taylor Twp.

THERE WAS MONEY IN IT.—While cleaning a chicken the other day, Mrs. Ransauer a Phillipsburg woman was cutting into its gizzard. The knife had not gone very deep when it struck something hard. An investigation disclosed the fact that a gold dollar was nicely imbedded in the very heart of the organ. It is altogether probable that if the good woman had not killed the fowl just when she did it might have been laying golden eagles by this time.

George Gaylord the missing hunter, who was thought to have perished in the cold in the Sootack mountains, in Clinton county, during the recent cold spell, has turned up. He was at a deserted lumber camp, but had plenty of fuel and food.

Lyon & Co. are closing out their entire winter stock of Overcoats, Ladies' Coats etc., at cost. Now is the time to buy an excellent garment cheap.

Hick's Hizzard arrived on time last Monday, but when it got here it had to take something for that tired feeling.
