Farm Notes

Stock with inherent good qualities will make money with the same feed and care that scrubs will return a loss.

If the borers are to be gotten out of the trees now is the time to get at the work. A sharp knife is all that is required.

Always sell from the inferior stock. The best should be retained for breeding purposes. No farmer can afford to seli his best.

Sow early tomato and cabbage seed in boxes or hotbeds now if you wish to have large plants ready to transplant is simply that her presence is not the when the season opens.

A "balanced" ration for the animals and for the soil is necessary in order to obtain the best results. One kind of food and one kind of fertilizer will starve both the stock and the soil.

It is said that if the seeds of apples and pears are placed in a flower pot as soon as eaten they will produce plants that will attain a size sufficient to permit of transplanting them in the fall.

Never set out young fruit trees on a over the elixir. grass sod. If an orchard is contemplated, let the ground be plowed and harrowed. An orchard requires cultivation and will not thrive if neglected.

A draught of air through the stable during the prevalence of a cold rain will do more harm than when the ventilators are open on a cold winter day. Dampness is more severely felt than cold

It is claimed by a successful peach grower that the fruit should be so thinned out on the tree as to leave six inches of space between the peaches, and to also thin out some of the branches as well.

It will not require more than one hour to become familiar with the ingredients of solutions for spraving the trees and vines and it is important that every fruit grower should understand all about them, as well as how to use the spraver.

In planning for next season do not tor-Viquerat, of Moudon, in the Canrisk all on a single crop. Grow severeral crops, so that if one fails there will ed a way of curing abscesses and other be others to depend upon. The rains septic maladies by the use of what he and droughts, as well as the insects, often upset some of the apparently surest prospects.

Plant the roses where you can easily look after them. The soil should be very rich, and grass and weeds must be kept out of the soil around them. The best liquid fertilizer for roses is a tablespoonful of saltnetre (nitrate of soda) in a two gallon watering pot of water, applied twice a week.

The farmers will soon be as busy as bees preparing for corn. If they bestowed as much care and labor on some

In the Ladies' Home Journal for February is an article by Octave Thanet entitled "That Man ; Your Husband,' from which we copy the following, hoping it will speak to some wife whose heart may be growing sore with the fear that outside attractions are winning the affections of the well-beloved from herself and home:

Your Husband.

Every bride knows her power : every wife comes to know her weakness. A good proportion of the heartbreak of early married lite is due to the ferment of this knowledge. The poor child whose lover gave up his cigars and his club with such angelic meekness, finds that her husband can smoke like a chimney, and leaves her alone nights in order to spend the evenings with his men friends. She imagines that he cares less for her than he did, which is a mistake, in most cases, seven out of ten men love their wives better than their sweethearts. It absorbing excitement that it was when love was new. The chances are that the wife is become a dozen times more necessary to the man than ever the sweetheart could have been. He would feel her death far more keenly, but he does not need to adjure his heart to "sit still" whenever his fancy summons her image. In short, she is become the bread of ex-istence in place of the elixir. Now, most of us who have sense would prefer to be bread rather than elixir, but their is no question that more fuss is made

The heart of woman turns with a homesick yearning to the delicate courtesy, the tenderness, the thousand endearments of that enchanted time when her husband was her lover. How keep him her lover ?

Expanding the Vaccination Theory.

When Jenner discovered the protective power of vaccination in cases of sn.allpox he seems to have caught the hem of a great scientific principle under which were concealed many of the re-sources of nature for healing the maladies which nature permits, in order to warn mankind how they ought to live. The whole industry of Pasteur in France of Koch in Germany and of others elsewhere has been directed to the investigation and application of the principle upon which Jenner stumbled when he observed that the dairy maids of England were less exposed to smallpox than persons who never milked diseased cows. And now we have a Swiss country doc-ton Vaud-who thinks he has discovercalls antsieptine, a serosanguinolent lymph, which is produced on abscesses that he has treated with a solution of iodine.

SCHOFIELD'S NEW HARNESS HOUSE. We extend a most cordial invitation to our patrons and the public, in general, io witness one of the GRANDEST DISPLAY OF Light and Heavy Harness ever put on the Bellefonte market, which will be made in the large room, formerly occupied by Harper Bros., on Spring street. It has been added to my factory and will be used exclu-sively for the sale of harness, being the first exclusive salesroom ever used in this town, as heretofore the custom has been to sell goods in the room in which they were made. This elegant room has been refitted and furnished with glass cases in which the harness can be nicely displayed and still kept away from heat and dust, the enemies of long wear in leather. Our factory now occupies a room 16x74 feet and the store 20x60 added makes it the largest establishment of its kind outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

of Philadelphia and Pittsburg. We are prepared to offer better bargains in the future than we have done in the past and we want everyone to see our goods and get prices for when you do this, out of self defense you will buy. Our profits are not large, but by selling lots of goods we can afford to live in Bellefonte. We are not induiging in idle philanthropy. It is purely business. We are not making much, but trade is growing and that is what we are intrested in now. Profits will take care of themselves. When other houses discharged their work-men during the winter they were all put to work in my factory, nevertheless the big (?) houses of this city and county would smille if we compared ourselves to them, but we do not mean to be so odious, except to venture the as-section that none of them can say, as we can say "NO ONE OWES US A CENT THAT WE CAN'T GET." This is the whole story.

The following are kept constantly on hand. 50 SETS OF LIGHT HARNESS, prices from $8.00 to $15.00 and upwards, LARGE STOCK OF HEAVY HARNESS per set$25.00 and upwards, 500 HORSE COLLARS from $1.50 to $5.00 each, over $100.00 worth of HARNESS OILS and AXLE GREASE, $400 worth of Fly Nets sold chesp HARNESS OILS and AXLE GREASE, $400 worth of Fly Nets sold cheap from 150 to $3.00 each, Horse Brushes, Cury Combs Sponges, Chamois, RHDING SADDLES, LADY SIDE SADDLES Harness Soap, Knee Dusters, at low prices, Saddlery-hardware always on hand for sale, Harness Leather as low as 250 per pound. We keep ererything to be found in a FIRST CLASS HARNESS STORE—no change-ing, over 20 years in the same room. Gooseberries thrive on moist soil, or in the shade of trees, and they may be used in the rows along the borders of walkways, where they will take up but little room. Currants may be placed next the fence, out of the way. They should receive good cultivation with a hoe or spade, however, or the grass will take possession of the ground.

The mineral elements that enter into the composition of plants vary according to the stages of growth of each plant. A month may make a great difference. As plants approach maturity lime and silica increase rapidly, as they stiffen the stalks and form what may be termed the bony structure. Silica, which abounds largely in nearly all of the staple crops, is plentiful in the soil, and costs nothing. It possesses no value.

At some of the Western dairy schools the students are not only fully instructed in all that pertains to butter and cheese making, but they are also required to know the points of the breeds. They are taught to judge cattle by "scoring them, marking the defects and alloting to each section of the animal the proper points scored.
