District Representation in the Democratic County Convention.

It may seem a little early to begin talking of the next county convention, but since a number of candidates are already in the field for office and as many of the WATCHMAN's readers have been visited by these early birds it may not be too soon to make a statement showing the exact representation each precinct will have in the coming convention, which will be held on Tuesday, August 8th.

Last November, after the official vote had been recorded, the WATCHMAN made an apportionment of the county, giving each district the number of delegates which its vote would allow. On the basis of one to fifty. The apportionment showed that the next convention will number twelve delegates less than the convention of 1892. Because the representation in the last convention having been based upon the vote for Governor FARRIS, for whom there were 625 more votes polled than for CLEVELAND last fall, the district representation was necessarily larger. The districts which fell off in their presidential vote and which will lose delegates in consequence are the West ward of Bellefonte, Milheim, Second ward of Phillipsburg, west Boggs, west Haines, Miles, Patton, south Rush, north Hush, east-Snow Shoe, west Spring, north Spring and Union.

County Chairman J. C. MEYER has just finished his apportionment, which is published below, and corresponds exactly to the WATCHMAN's last fall statement. The rules strictly enforced would make the next convention consist of ninety-two members, which would make a possibility of a tie, but as there are two districts, the Third ward of Phillipsburg and the north precinct of Gregg, that have the same excess of votes, Mr. MEYER has followed the usual custom and given them each a full representative, instead of only half a vote each.

The various districts will be represented in the convention as follows:

The county convention will be held on Tuesday, August 8th. The primaries on the preceding Saturday.

—To-morrow will be Arbor day and it is entirely fitting that every one should make some observance of it. Parents remember that bad children should be taught to stand in awe of the mighty mandates of the government. Give them all a birch to-morrow and they will always revere it.

—In the lower house of the State Legislature the A. C. R. Local Option bill was defeated on third reading, by a vote of 102 to 67. Representative SCHUPFELDER voted for its passage, his colleague, Mr. McComick having been absent when the vote was taken.

The Old Case of Straining at a Gnat and Swallowing a Camel.

For months the proprietors of the Pittsburg Sunday newspapers and the news dealers have been compelled to pay fines at the instigation of the Law and Order society of that city, which under the cloak of the old "blue laws" of 1794, has been persecuting the newspaper people, all the while severely unconscious (?) of the Sabbath breaking street cars, iron furnaces, ferry boats, inclines and such industries backed by men of millions.

The time for striking back has come. For while the publishers have been busy working up the personnel of those who have been foremost in the war against them. Surprising as it may seem the investigation has brought to light the fact that the leaders in the Law and Order society, that has become such an annoyance, are heavy stockholders in a dozen or more enterprises that require labor every one of the three hundred and sixty-five days in the year. They are stockholders in the traction roads, steam car roads, ferries, inclined planes and the extensive iron industries that have made the Smoky city what it is to-day, yet in their bitter fight against the Sunday papers they overlook entirely their own transgressions.

The result of the weekly prosecution has come at last. The newspaper people have expressed their determination to arrest all owners of business enterprises which do any work whatever on Sunday. The "blue laws" will be invoked to work the same way on all enterprises and every wheel of machinery will be stopped. They say "what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," so the leaders of the Law and Order society will find themselves caught in their own trap.

The movement is an entirely just one. If one class of people is to respect the law, all classes of people should be required to do the same thing or blot the obnoxious measure from the statute books.

Proposed Changes in the Baker Ballot Law.

The two trials which have been given the BAKER ballot law have proven it to be substantially what the people have wanted. The universal satisfaction in its working at the general election last fall and at the spring elections in February gave, has caused it to be numbered as a fixture in the statute books.

The great change in the method of holding our elections which the adoption of the BAKER system involved was necessarily one worthy the most profound thought. While legislators tried to give the people an honest and untrammeled way in which to exercise their suffrage it does not seem strange that a number of imperfections should have been discovered in the otherwise satisfactory system. The Legislature now in session is tinkering with the bill and as reported from the committee it will be changed in a number of features. Some of which are practically of no importance whatever, while others are much needed and will add greatly to the success of the BAKER ballot. The more important changes will be submitted as follows:

1. The first amendment is to strike out of the ballot the residence of the candidates. That is considered wholly unnecessary. It is in the nomination papers, and only increases the size of the ballot by printing it on them.
2. To reduce the number of ballots.
3. Fix one day to deliver the ballots to the judges of elections instead of two, the ballots to be delivered on the Monday before the election.
4. To extend the time for the sheriff to issue his proclamation. As the law reads now it is impossible for him to comply with it.
5. To require the common pleas court of the district where nominations are made, except those made in State conventions, which shall be tried in the Dauphin county courts, to decide upon the validity of all certificates of nomination.
6. That in marking the ballot each candidate's name be marked with an X, and that group marking be done away with.
7. All groups to have a party application when that party for ten years has been making nominations in a state convention.
8. To repeat that portion of the law which requires the sheriff to issue a proclamation for city elections.
9. That no candidate shall be allowed to act as a watcher, or be permitted in a booth after he has voted.
10. That election officers shall not be permitted to prepare a ballot for a person who claims to be disabled.
11. To require all persons who claim to be disabled to make affidavit to the same.

The proposed first amendment, it will be seen, does away with an entirely unnecessary part on the ticket, for candidates are always so well known that there is no danger of getting two men of the same name mixed. Then the printing of the address on the tickets adds to its bulk and makes it all the more confusing to voters.

The proposed sixth amendment, while it will entail much more work on the part of the voter is nevertheless a good one, for in removing the opportunity for group voting it does away with the possibility of voters voting only one candidate in a group when intending to vote them all. This place of mistake was very noticeable in the Fall's election, when the first elector on both Democratic and Republican national tickets received more votes than the rest.

Perhaps the best of the proposed amendments is the one to require voters calling for assistance to make affidavits to their disability. This was the loop hole through which all the honest intent of the BAKER system was perverted. Every voter who could be bought would slyly go into the booth and then call for the person to whom he had sold his vote to help him make it out. The restriction which an affidavit denoting their disability will impose on such persons in some degree defeat the scheming political tricksters and should be adopted.

The United States Consular Agent Was Wounded at Molendo, Peru.

The trouble grew out of the anti-Masonic demonstrations which have lately been made in Peru under the direction of the Bishop of Arequipa. The anti-Masonic rites were being observed at the lodge room, and a portion of the Estudiantina America company, which was on its way to the Chicago exposition. During the ceremonies a mob attacked the building. Having driven out the Masons, the mob attacked the lodge room and burned the building. The furniture in the lodge room and the musical instruments were removed to the street, piled in a heap and then burned.

A few shots were fired during the mole, one of which wounded the American consular agent, Emilio DeCasorta, in the leg. It is said that the riots were caused by the actions of the Masons ignoring an edict against their ceremonies which were issued by the Roman Catholic bishop of Arequipa. Reports from Molendo say everything is quiet there now.

The correspondent adds that the subprefect of police, who made no effort to protect the Masons in their rites, has been dismissed by the Peruvian government and will be placed on trial.

Cruelty to Christians.

Turkish Misrule May Again Become a Subject for European Intervention.

LONDON, April 10.—Advices from Constantinople show that the British consuls at Smyrna, Trebizond and other places in Anatolia have sent to the British embassy in Constantinople a list containing the names of 1,800 Armenians who are imprisoned in various charges in the several consular jurisdictions. The question of the treatment of the Armenian Christians by the Turks is again assuming importance, and it is reported that Great Britain will propose the holding of a conference by the European powers to consider Turkish misrule in Armenia.

It is charged that it is a common occurrence for Turks to kidnap Christian girls and dispose of them to the owners of harems. If the relatives and friends of the girls attempt to regain them they are met with the statement that the girls have embraced Mohammedanism, and this, as a rule, ends the matter so far as the Americans are concerned. The Christians are ridiculed and subjected to gross outrages, and if they object to that treatment they find themselves arrested on trumped-up charges and always found guilty.

Cleveland Will Start It.

The President to Start Off the World's Fair on the 1st of May—Plan of the Opening Exercises.

CHICAGO, April 9.—President Cleveland will touch off the World's fair on May 1 in the presence of from 100,000 to 150,000 people. The plan to have the opening exercises in a small hall has been abandoned, and the ceremonies will be held at the east front of the administration building. There was considerable objection to the massing of so large a crowd in one portion of the grounds to witness the ceremonies, as it was feared that it might ruin the lawns and flower gardens, but these were overcome by those who favored an open air program.

A platform will be built just in front of the administration building. This will be connected with Machinery hall, so that President Cleveland will only have to step to the speaker's chair to touch the button. The new plan furnishes many opportunities for picturesque effects. It proposes to mass all the electric launches, gondolas and other water crafts in the basin and in front of the administration building. Thousands of spectators can get a fine view of the platform from the water front.

A Bank Falls With Liabilities of $30,000,000.

LONDON, April 12.—The English, Scottish and Australian chartered bank has failed with liabilities amounting to £8,000,000 or 30,000,000. The bank was incorporated by royal charter in 1852 and claimed to have paid up capital of £900,000 and a reserve fund of £310,000.

The Storm in the West.

Lives Lost and Much Property Destroyed.—No Estimate of Total Damage.—Howe Wrought With the Telegraph Lines, and Consequently of the Loss of Life and Damage to Property are Hard to Obtain.

CHICAGO, April 12.—The cyclonic storm last night wrought much havoc with the telegraph wires, and it is almost impossible to obtain details of the damage and loss of life in the west, where the destruction seems to have been general and widespread, especially in the state of Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. Probably the greatest damage was done in Iowa, although reports from Nebraska indicate that when full particulars have been received that States will lead in loss of property and human life.

Along the line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, in Iowa and Nebraska the cyclone cut a wide swath. The town of Akron, in the former state, was wrecked, and Westfield, a few miles distant, was badly demoralized. Meager reports from localities in the interior show that devastation was widespread, although its full extent will not be known for several days, owing to the lack of telegraphic facilities and the washing out of country roads, rendering communication difficult and many cases impossible.

Continuing along the railroad into Nebraska, the storm swept up farm buildings, fences and bridges, and finally swooped down on the town of Page, which it wrecked. At this point the first loss of life was reported, Mrs. Clara Magee being the victim. Her two children were dangerously injured, and several other persons were hurt. The storm traveled with terrific velocity, covering the 200 miles between Akron and Page in an hour and a half. Great damage was done further west, but, owing to the prostration of the wires, particulars are not obtainable.

The cyclone was accompanied with a downpour of rain that added greatly to the discomfort of those who were rendered homeless, and the situation is described as being distressing. Streets were filled with debris of all sorts. In the town of Parker on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, the residence portion was almost completely destroyed, several persons are reported killed and a number seriously hurt. The towns of Willis and Powhatan, a short distance south of Hiawatha, are also said to be wiped out, but nothing authentic can be learned. In the northern part of the State the storm swept over the town of Walnut causing great damage, and swept off northwestward in Missouri, where other small towns were wrecked. Kansas City was visited less severely, but thousands of windows were broken by hail, and cellars on the flats were flooded.

The storm seems to have been general throughout the west and south, extending down into Texas and north into the Dakotas. In Illinois cloudbursts occurred at various places, the most disastrous being at Cassville. At Springfield the street cars were compelled to suspend operations and other damage is reported. The entire country south of Springfield to East St. Louis is flooded. Floods are also reported from Ottumwa and Burlington, Ia., and Mitchell, S. D. The telegraph companies have practically gone out of business so far as the central west of the Mississippi river is concerned. Whole sections of poles are down, and the wires are in an intricate tangle. It will probably be several days before the damage can be fully repaired.

Reservations of Pullman Accommodations for the World's Fair on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company announces that arrangements have been perfected whereby passengers intending to go to Chicago may reserve their Pullman car accommodations in advance. Passengers taking a train at New York may reserve the requisite Pullman space one month in advance of departure, those from other points on the system two weeks in advance. This arrangement may be made upon application to ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who, after securing the space, will deliver a reservation slip to the passenger. Reservations thus reserving space in advance will be required to purchase their tickets seven days before the date of departure, otherwise the reservation will be considered as forfeited.

Accommodations in Pullman cars for the return trip may also be secured upon application to ticket agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

This arrangement will provide a great benefit to visitors to the World's Fair.

Miss Bessie Mitchell's Long Journey.

BOSTON, April 5.—Miss Bessie Mitchell, who is making a 10,000 mile rail trip through the country without touching a foot to the ground, arrived in Boston from New York at 6.15 this morning, promptly on schedule time. Miss Mitchell left her car at 7.15 and received visitors in the waiting room of the station. She ate a hearty breakfast in the depot restaurant, and at 8.30 was speeding toward Chicago, where her journey ends. Miss Mitchell is evidently in the best of health, and shows no sign of fatigue, notwithstanding the fact that she has spent seventeen days in almost continuous travel.

Made a Deep Dive.

SEATTLE, April 9.—Captain John Christianson has made one of the deepest dives on record. He plunged into the waters of Elliot bay and, after twenty minutes, returned with the land line and a bucket of the blue sludge, lying at a depth at half flood tide of 196 feet. He apparently suffered no great inconvenience.

Has a Cure for Cholera.

FRELIX, April 11.—Dr. Hafkine has written to the Russian papers that he has conquered cholera by his inoculation method. He says that he has inoculated 100 persons with positive results, and promises to give his method to the world on his return from India.

Carlisle Has a Tragedy to Think About.

A Policeman Shot and Killed. The Officer Was Chasing One Unknown Man Down an Alley When He Was Shot Through the Heart, Big Rewards for the Assassin's Arrest.

CARLISLE, Pa., April 8.—This place is all excitement over the cold blooded murder of one of her most prominent police officers which occurred about 10 o'clock last night. At that time Officer George Martin was seen chasing a man down Dickinson alley and up South street. The man then turned out a lane by the graveyard, closely pursued by the officer. Then the man slowed up until the officer was within a few feet of him when he turned quickly and shot him through the heart.

The prevalent belief is that it was deliberate murder and that the murderer entered the dark lane and hid back of a blacksmith shop, in order to kill him unobserved. He was an estimable man, was popular, not known to have enemies and that makes the case all the more mysterious. He leaves a wife and three children.

The Murderer Arrested.

CARLISLE, Pa., April 10.—"Charlie" Saliaris, the burglar who shot and killed Policeman Martin on Saturday night, was arrested at Winchester, Va., this afternoon by the police authorities of that city. At the time of the murder he wore a long beard. This morning he had it removed by a Hagerstown barber, who sent a portion of it here for identification. The requisition papers are made out and will be presented to Governor Pattison this evening for his signature. Saliaris will be brought here for trial at the May term. The evidence is said to be conclusive against him.

Big Strike at the World's Fair.

Between 5,000 and 4,000 Men Quit Work Monday.—The Strikers Claim That the Exposition Officials Have Shown a Disposition to Deny Full Blank Everything Asked—About 80 Per Cent of the Tradesmen Employed Did Not Go to Work.

CHICAGO, April 10.—At the most critical time possible for the World's Fair, the big exposition today encountered its first strike. A thousand men quit work this morning, with a prospect that 4,000 more might join in the stampede before night. The stoppage of work was the culmination of much controversy over what is claimed to be an agreement between the World's Fair officials and the representatives of union labor, by which all disputes were to be settled by arbitration. The men contend that some of the exposition officials have recently shown a disposition, now that the fair is nearly completed, to deny point blank anything asked. To-day was named by the agents of the Building Trades council as the final time at which arbitration must be assented to if a strike was to be averted. The trades affected are the carpenters, painters, ornamental iron workers, hod carriers, tin and sheet iron workers, cornice workers, steam and gas fitters, electrical workers, lather workers, mosaic workers, lathers, cement finishers, fresco painters, hoisting engineers, marble cutters, gravel rofers and other small trades. The bricklayers, stonecutters and slaters are not involved.

Guzzled by Fire.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., April 10.—About 12 o'clock last night the Young Men Christian association building, the largest and finest in the city, occupied by the famous singer, Ira D. Sankey, was completely gutted by fire. The fire originated in the cellar of the building from spontaneous combustion. The loss is partially covered by insurance. Physical Director Thompson was almost smothered and was rescued by the firemen with great difficulty.

Cyclone Passes Over Scranton.

SCRANTON, April 9.—A cyclone passed over the southern part of Scranton last night, which resembles the terrific storm in Wilkesbarre two years ago. Though the strip of territory over which it was extended was narrow the damage done was considerable. Houses were unroofed, trees and fences carried away and a summer kitchen moved fifty feet. Several were painfully hurt but there was no fatalities.

Good Crop Prospect.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Secretary Edge, of the state board of agriculture, has received crop reports from correspondents throughout the state, which indicate favorable conditions with respect to all the crops this year. It is estimated that about 1,310,000 acres are in wheat and 1,250,000 acres in oats. The clover is in good shape and everything is favorable for farm work.

Harris Is McLeod's Successor.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Reading Railroad company, held at noon yesterday, the resignation of President McLeod was accepted and Joseph S. Harris was chosen to fill the vacancy. Thomas McKean was elected a member of the board, vice Thomas Dolan, resigned.

The Pennsylvania World's Fair Building.

HARRISBURG, April 9.—Executive Commissioner Farquhar has notified the members of the World's Fair committee that the dedication of the State building has been indefinitely postponed. He suggests that it will probably take place on Pennsylvania day during the encampment of the National Guard.

No Pinkertons for Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., April 9.—The assembly yesterday passed an anti-Pinkerton bill.

A Town Wrecked.

The Business Portion of a Missouri Town Destroyed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—Parker a small station on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad, was struck by a cyclone at seven o'clock last evening. The business part of the town is a complete wreck as well as half the residence portion. Several persons are reported killed and a large number seriously injured. No estimate of the loss can be made at the present time.

All Strikers at Work in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 11.—All the men who were out on a strike yesterday reported for work this morning, but a heavy rain rendered outdoor work impossible. A large force was put to work in the interior of the big buildings, however, and the work of clearing up the debris around the grounds went on. If the rain should cease by to-morrow a larger force than ever will be put on and the buildings will be rushed to completion.

Democrats Held a Caucus.

HARRISBURG, April 11.—All the democratic members of the house held a caucus to-day, at which it was decided to refer to a committee the bill appropriating $3,881,422 to ex-representative Higby, who is running for election next case. The committee consists of Messrs. Fox, Baker, Bernhard, Wherry and Skinner. The bill is in the hands of the house appropriation committee.

Indian Chief Suicides.

STOUCR, Ia., April 9.—United States Marshal Mathieson received notice yesterday that White Faced Horse, the Sioux Indian chief who accompanied Two Strike in his raid on Humphrey's ranch, in which four cowboys were killed, committed suicide Friday at a camp on White river, by shooting himself through the head.

—Mr. William Grauer return from Chicago, on Wednesday, and brought with him four admission tickets to the World's Fair. They are quite a curiosity, resembling in general appearance the old fashioned paper money called "shin plasters." The tickets run in series. The first has an engraved Indian head, the second that of Columbus, the third George Washington and the fourth Abraham Lincoln's. Quite an appropriate way of marking the epochs in our history.

—The long track shed at the Bellefonte Fuel and Supply company's yard, on Race street, caved in under the storm of last Friday morning. Fortunately none of the yard men were working in the coal bins when the roof fell for there would surely have been some one injured. "It is an ill wind that blows nobody good," says manager Jos. L. Montgomery, "and now that it is down well'ter the whole thing out, put in a double track and thoroughly improve our yard."

—If you want your clothing to fit try Faibles.
