THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Mail carrier John Bair is laid up with the mumps.

—The new bus run by the Brockhoff house is certainly a dandy.

—Buckskin Bill's wild west show was here on Wednesday and gave an exhibition.

—The Court house yard still remains an eye-sore to the people of Bellefonte and a disgrace to the county.

—Mrs. Sara Rote, of Coburn, has nearly completed a hap which has already 14,000 patches in it.

—50,000 lbs of wool wanted at Lyon & Co's. Unwashed preferred.

—During the years 1891 and 1892 only two boys from Centre county were inmates of the Huntingdon Reformatory.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lewis, of Philipsburg, are mourning the death of the second one of their interesting triplets.

—The dancing school conducted by James Harris and Charley Cruse closed on Tuesday night after a very successful term.

—The engagement of Miss Louisa H. Hoy, youngest daughter of the late Judge Hoy, to W. Fred Reynolds has been announced.

—Guests of the Garman house will keep cool when warm weather comes. A set of fans has been put in the office, dining room and bar.

—From all indications Buffalo Run and Halfmoon valleys will reap bounteous harvests. The corn and potatoes are still lying in the bins awaiting sunshine and warmth.

—The Logan steam engine company purchased a team for its engine on Tuesday. The horses are large bays and are being trained now. They were bought at Oak Hall.

—Much to the pleasure of High school students W. Fred Reynolds has continued the prize which his late uncle, Major Wm. F. Reynolds, established to encourage oratory.

—The Bellefonte Minstrel company will make its second appearance on Tuesday evening May 30th. The features will be entirely new and a better performance than the first is assured.

—A drunken colored woman made things fly on Logan street last Friday afternoon. She had the whole street to herself until policeman Gares appeared and put a quietus to her drunken orgies.

—James Reed, of this place, who held a position as watchman in the Patent Office in Washington, was dismissed the other day and his place filled by Captain Gilliland, a Clearfield county Democrat.

—The death of Mrs. Amos Gill occurred at her home near Pleasant Gap on last Friday morning. Deceased was ill about one month and is mourned by a husband and a number of grown up children. Her interment was made at Zion on Monday.

—The Milesburg base ball club came up to town last Saturday afternoon and "swiped" the Academy team to the tune of 8 to 2. Each club has won a game now and the ending of the series is looked forward to with interest.

—James Noon, one of the bar keepers at the Bush House, was married, on Tuesday, to Miss Louisa Gleason, of Tioga. Mrs. Noon was an employee of the Bush House. The happy couple were married at the home of the bride's parents.

—On Sunday, May 28th, the United Brethren church at Houserville will be dedicated to the worship of God. It has undergone a complete remodeling, both inside and out, and now presents an appearance of comfort and cheerfulness.

—To-day is known as exhibition day in the Bellefonte public schools. An exhibit of all the work done during the year is being made at the brick school building, on East Bishop street, which friends of the school are cordially invited to inspect.

—At the request of Dr. P. S. Fisher, we call the attention of the people of Zion and community to a movement on foot for the improvement of the Zion cemetery. On Tuesday, May 23rd, all residents of that community are requested to turn out and help fix up the public burying ground. It is sadly in need of repairs and the plan to have everyone do something is a good one.

—Mrs. Sarah Gray, widow of S. P. Gray, who has spent the winter with her daughter Mrs. Kephart, at Fillmore, has returned to her own home in Half Moon for the summer. "Aunt Sallie," while one of the oldest residents of Patton township, is enjoying excellent health and can relate most interesting incidents 60 years ago much to the delight of her hearers.

THE BOROUGH DADS AT IT AGAIN.

Bellefonte council never seems to want for work and when the semi-monthly meetings come around there is invariably a lot of business that needs looking after. We have neither time nor inclination to go into a discussion of how well the town's business is cared for by the citizens elected for that purpose, but it is safe to say that of all the councils elected there seems to be no radical reforms inaugurated so it is natural to conclude that they are all "tired with the same stick."

The meeting on last Monday night had nothing unusual as its outcome and elicited very little interest. The fact being that since the cows demonstrated so forcibly their ability to run the town the citizens have wisely taken a back seat and are serenely biding the time when Bellefonte borough will be quoted along with other stock yards.

Council was called to order with members Darr, Garman, Hillbush, Gerberich, Williams and Potter in their places. After the approval of the minutes of the previous meeting communications were heard. Among them were several asking for improvements on streets and one request for tax exoneration.

The Street committee reported a number of sewer repairs as well as its list of property owners upon whom demands will be made immediately to repair their boardwalks and comply with other borough ordinances.

The Water committee reported its work well in hand, but owing to the constant breaking of the old pipes in use the work is very expensive.

Under nuisances a stench was reported rising from the sewer which runs down Lamb street to Spring creek. It is said that there is not sufficient water running under the east side of the bridge to carry the sewerage away. Council gave orders to have the course of the stream diverted so as to abate the nuisance.

Borough solicitor Dale was authorized to notify residents along the new street on the extreme eastern boundary of the borough to have it opened for traffic by June 10th. If it is not completed by that time the street commissioner has orders to do the work. The new street will cross Bishop, High, Howard, Lamb, Linn and Curtin and will be known as Wilson street.

Mr. Gerberich, chairman of the Finance committee, announced that it would be necessary to lay the following tax rate: three mills for streets, two mills borough and six mills interest.

After the consideration of a number of minor matters and the approval of bills council adjourned.

MCCOY & LINN'S CHAIN WORKS BOOMING.

It is with considerable satisfaction that we note the enlargement of the McCoy & Linn chain works below town. Several years ago the old wire mill, which stood on the Milesburg pike, was transformed into a chain mill where part of the product of the McCoy & Linn furnace is being worked up for the various markets into which it finds its way. The plant started off as a very modest little affair and as time has rolled on its output of chain has been so much in demand that the capacity has been constantly increased. Just recently an addition to the works has been made until nearly 50 skilled chain-makers, together with a dozen or more helpers, now find daily employment there.

The superior qualities of the chains made from charcoal iron makes the product of the McCoy & Linn works very salable. It is the WATCHMAN'S wish that the demand for the chain may become so great ere very long as to necessitate the tripling of the present capacity.

DICKINSON VERSUS STATE COLLEGE.

The ball club from Dickinson college, at Carlisle, journeyed up to State College on Saturday to get revenge for the drubbing their foot ball team got at Harrisburg last Thanksgiving, but they were disappointed, for the ball players at Centre county's big educational institution were too much for them and the game resulted in the score of 13 to 9. The threatening weather of the morning had much to do with the small attendance, but those who did risk the elements were well entertained with the game. While there was nothing of the "gilt edge" order about the ball that was played, yet the heavy batting and the few good plays made coupled with the blunders of the visitors made the game fairly interesting.

FINISHED WITH THIS COUNTY.

The Home Comfort Range company which has been operating in Centre county during the past few weeks has suspended operations in this section for a while. During the stay of the agents of this company they placed a great many wrought iron ranges in Centre county homes. All of which, so far as we have been able to learn have given entire satisfaction. The stoves were handled from Beech Creek whence Mr. Brashear, the superintendent, sent his agents in all directions. They were an honest, straightforward party of men and did a good business on fair principles.

Regular passenger trains will begin running over the Clearfield and Mahoning rail-road on Monday May 29th.

—Charles Hoover, the Lycoming county man who was murdered in a drunken brawl, was a son of Mrs. Jesse Kreamer, deceased, late of Millheim.

—Mrs. John Baisor, nee Miss Mary Mattern, of Scotia, who has been so seriously ill for four months with inflammatory rheumatism, is so much better that she is able to be about.

—Johnstown policemen arrested twenty-three cows in one ward in that city one day last week. We would like to see officers Montgomery and Gares go into the South ward of Bellefonte and try such a business.

—While the sexton of the DuBois Lutheran church was ringing his congregation to devotionals last Wednesday evening, the bell gearing broke and the bell fell to the bottom of the tower. It is a little disfigured but still in the ring.

—The body of Mrs. Kate Sebastian, the colored woman who has been missing from Jersey Shore for some time was found in the river the other day. Boom hands on the boom below Linden bridge discovered her among the logs. As the woman had been of an unsound mind the coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide by drowning.

—Thos. B. Kellar, clerk at the Empire House in Tyrone, went fishing at Roaring Springs one day last week and was seized with an attack of vertigo while standing on the bank of the stream. He fell into the water and would have drowned had not a companion pulled him out. As it was required two hours rolling to resuscitate him.

—Sam Loyd, the mathematician and author of the famous "15 Puzzle" is said to have discovered the presence of the "Wolf" in simple addition, as in music, and has woven the principle into a little puzzle for the explanation of which a Mason & Hamlin organ is offered. As mentioned in our advertising columns the mathematical, mystery is being sold for the benefit of the Press Club Building and Charity Fund for one dime.

—The marriage of Miss Mary Fisher to Mr. Edmund S. Holmes, of Moorestown, N. J., was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, near Unionville, on Thursday of last week, the friends ceremony being observed. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Wm. P. Fisher, proprietor of the extensive Bald Eagle nurseries, her husband being a worthy young husbandman from New Jersey. Only the immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony.

—The large steam saw mill of Schoonover & Stewart at Winburne, Clearfield Co., caught fire last Friday morning and burned to the ground. The mill was new and according to the Phillipsburg Ledger cost $25,000. Two houses owned by Somerville & Buchanan, together with $10,000 worth of lumber, helped make the fire a disastrous one for Winburne. Schoonover & Stewart had no insurance at all, while the two dwellings were partly insured. The fire originated in the boiler room of the mill.

—The frame dwelling house at State College owned and occupied by Frank Gates and family was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday night, about twelve o'clock. The building was situated on Beaver avenue and is supposed to have caught from the explosion of a lamp in the hands of Mrs. Gates. When the first alarm was given many of the residents and students turned out and the flames were quickly extinguished, but scarce had the people returned to their homes when a second alarm was given and the same house was discovered on fire again. This time it burned clear down and very little of its contents was saved. Mr. Gates carried full insurance.

MARRIED.—Tuesday evening May 16th, at the residence of the bride's parents, corner of Bishop and Spring streets, by the Rev. W. A. Houck, Miss Katherine H. Stott and Mr. William R. Jenkins.

The wedding although a quite home affair was considered, by those who had the honor to be present, an exceptionally pretty one. Miss Kate the bride, is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Stott and is well known throughout this community having been connected with our postoffice for three years as stamp clerk, besides being a musician of more than ordinary talent. The groom, one of our most prominent and progressive citizens, is senior member of the firm of Jenkins & Lingle, machinists, and a part owner of the Bellefonte Supply House.

To Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins, who will be "at home" after June 1st, at their High street residence, we extend our sincere congratulations and wishes for an unclouded future.

THE SEASON'S FIRST SHOW.

—Walter L. Main's big railroad show proved all that was claimed for it at the two performances here Friday afternoon and evening. The trapeze performers and tumbler were artists of exceptional ability. Walter L. Main is undoubtedly a great showman. Only a few years ago he started out with a small wagon circus, visiting only small towns. This year he has probably the finest equipped circus on the road. Everything is new in the afternoon and evening the innumerable variety of performances were above the ordinary, and the audience at each performance was well pleased. The show did not arrive in town until 10 o'clock Friday morning, owing to a wreck on the railroad and the transfer from the Baltimore & Ohio to the Pennsylvania railroad. The parade was delayed, consequently, till 2 o'clock in the afternoon, but when it did come it was big. Many of the animals' cages were open during the parade, and the elephants, camels and Arabian ponies, ridden by Arabs and Turks, presented a picturesque appearance. Large crowds from neighboring towns and country were circus visitors. —Connellsville Courier of Friday, May 5th, 1893.

Main's circus will be in Bellefonte on Saturday, May 27th.

KILLED ON THE MILESBURG BRIDGE.

—A sad accident occurred on the railroad near Milesburg shortly after one o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, in which the venerable Thomas Eckert, of Snow Shoe Intersection, lost his life. He had been in this place during the morning and about noon started to walk home. All went well until the bridge which spans the Bald Eagle creek on this side of Milesburg was reached. The old man was crossing it and had gotten about to the middle when he raised his eyes and saw a train bearing down on him. He turned about and started to run off the bridge but 'twas too late. The train was approaching at such a speed that it could not be stopped and it struck the unfortunate man, killing him almost instantly.

It is supposed that Mr. Eckert did not hear or see the train until it was almost on top of him because he had very poor hearing and his eye sight was also failing. The train that killed him was the Lock Haven local freight on its way to this place. The body of the deceased was not mangled at all. Scarcely any marks were discernible after the accident.

Deceased was a foreman when he was young enough to work, and for a long time was in the employ of the Valentines at this place. He was 77 years old and will be buried at Unionville this morning at ten o'clock.

—Two distinguished visitors in town on Wednesday night were Hon. James Kerr, chief clerk of the House at Washington, and Geo. Good Esq., of Lock Haven. They were here on business in reference to the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, but Mr. Kerr found time to talk a little politics.

—A former Bellefonter arrived in town Monday to look up old friends and business interests hereabouts. It was W. S. Port, of Clarion county, and in speaking of the advantages in having a competing rail-road line in a community, he cited the low prices at which horses sold in his county, owing the exorbitant freight rates and consequent inability to get them to market. According to his statement a very good young horse can be purchased in Clarion county to-day for forty dollars.

—Postmaster Frank Kennedy, of State College, was in town yesterday looking bright and happy. He can well afford to wear a smile too for he has just dropped into the third best office in the county. The postal service will find no better or more careful servant than Mr. Kennedy will make. For years he was instructor in wood working in the Mechanical Engineering department of the Pennsylvania State College and resigned that position to go into the building contracting business.

ON FREE ADVERTISING.—An exchange makes these sensible observations: "Every line in the newspaper costs the proprietor something. If it is for the benefit of an individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many, that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent, and must rent it to live. To give away rent for anything less than living rates is as fatal to a newspaper as for a landlord to furnish rent free.

—Have you seen E. Brown Jr's stock of wall paper.

—For well made clothing go to Faibles.

REED'S BODY FOUND.—The body of Thomas Reed, the wheelman of the Queen's Run Fire Brick Co's mud scow which capsized in the Susquehanna river, above Lock Haven, just four weeks ago yesterday, was found last Friday morning, floating among some logs, nearly a mile below the place where the drowning occurred. The position of the body when found gives rise to the belief that Reed was swimming when death overtook him. The features were distorted and the body was badly discolored and swollen. Funeral services were held at the home of his father, in Lock Haven, on Saturday morning.

To the Democrats of Centre County.

Three years ago I was a candidate for the nomination of sheriff. After being announced there was also a candidate for the nomination of Treasurer in the same township, and finding that the nomination of Sheriff belonged to the other side of the mountains and that if I should remain in the race there would be more or less dissatisfaction, I withdrew my name as a candidate; my motive being purely for peace and harmony in the Democratic party, and now as all these difficulties are settled in the minds of the Democrats I announce myself as a candidate for the same office, leaving the matter with the many Democrats of Centre county.
