Pine Grove Mentions. Prof. J. A. Weaver is this week in attendance at a convention of musicians assembled in Philadelphia, where he is acting as one of the examining board on applications.

It is with regret that we note the serious illness of Mrs. Reuben Hammer and in all probability her last illness as her attending physician has given up all hope of her recovery.

Many strangers were within our gates on Memorial day and among others, we noticed the portly form of James Stover a former town boy but now Supt. of the Bellwood Steam

Last Sunday was Communion day in the Lutheran church at this place, conducted by the Pastor Rev. C. T. Aikens. Twelve new members were added to the list of member-

Our agricultural friend Newt Hess is carrying his left hand in a sling from the effects of a bruise received in a stone quarry. Newt thinks while he is off duty he might as well take in the great Columbian exposition.

Mr. Adam Bucher, formerly of our town but for the last ten years a resident of the Mountain city where he has made the planing mill business pay, spant the early part of the week with his Centre county friends. Mr. B. handled the ribbons expertly over a spanking team of bays, Adam is a lover of horses and showed his good judgment when he selected a fine black out of Michael Hess' drove.

We very much regret to note the sudden death of Charles Plowboy, which occurred at Tow Hill ore mine on the 25 inst. Little Charley was engaged as a driver in the mines in which the empties were dropped in loose. It was while one of the cars was at full speed that he was caught and crushed to death. The very high esteem in which he was held was shown by the immediate suspension of operations by Supt. Irvin until after the burial the following afternoon. Charley was a bright and industrious boy of thirteen sum. mers, and although so young did almost a

The wedding we noted in our last letter took place at the residence of H. B. Yarneil on Main street on Tuesday evening, the 23rd inst at 8 o'elcek. It was the joining in matrimony of Mr. Benj. Corl son of I. Corl, Penn Hall and Miss May . Yarnell, youngest daughter of our townsman H. B. Yarnell. Rev. C. T. Aikens in his happy and genial manner officiated. The affair was but a family wedding, except a few of the immediate relatives and mine host of the St. Elmo and his lady. After the congratulations were over, refreshments were served when the little boys with tin horns pu in an appearance and obliged the bride and groom to show themselves on the front porch, When amply satisfied the young Americans and their retinue returned up town in good order. The Watchman wishes Mr. and Mrs.

Corl along and happy wedding career. Decoration day was observed at all our cemeteries. The day was all that could have been desired and the road was filled with vehicles winding their way to the different cemeteries, with banners and flags fluttering to the breeze. The most conspicuous in the line was the band wagon that conveyed the Pine Grove choir, bedecked with flowers and boquets and flags flying. The first point was Fairbrook Cemetery at 10 o'clock when the Post boys of Capt. J. O. Campbell, Post 272, G. A. R. in charge of Commander W. D. Port performed the ritualistic decoration exercises assisted by the Sunday school scholars distributing flowers. Rev. Illingsworth de. livered in a fluent and interesting address a glowing tribute to the defenders of the flag and urged the necessity of training the young to reverence the national emblem, for which so much blood had been shed, beside the expenditure of millions of money.

Two o'clock p. m. was the hour of the services at the Pine Grove cemetery. Every-body went ladened down with beautiful wreaths of flowers until they were there in profusion. The beat of the drum was a reminder that the hour had arrived. Boys in blue took their file in rank, and escorted the long line of children bearing flowers and wreaths which were profusely strewn on the graves of their fallen comrades.

The decoration services were interspersed with excellent music by a trained choir in charge of W. J. Meyers with Miss Mary Ward presiding at the organ. As the veterns made their way through the city of the dead, gar landing the marked graves with heads uncov. ered. Of them, many were grey and many were bald, which shows plainly that time is pressing heavily in their ranks. Rev. C. T. Aikens in his usual gentle manner delivered the address to the largest gathering of people for years. Every body seemed happy and many were the greetings of old time friends who only see each other at this season.

The next objective point was Pine Hall cemetery where the services were held a t 5:30 o'clock. At this hour a crowd of people had assembled to witness the services as conducted by G. A. R. members of Capt. Foster Post of Lemont, and Capt. Campbell Post of Pine Grove and by a large number of P. O. S. of A. of State College, headed by the College band which furnished excellent music. Major Hamilton of the 1st Pa. Cavalry was orator of the evening and for 40 minutes held the audience spellbound. Remarks were heard on all sides commenting on the excellent address. Comrade Calvin Sowers of the 148th P. Vols was introduced and made a short stirrior speech. of A. of State College, headed by the College introduced and made a short stirring speech much to the gratification of his old comrades who have not seen him for 25 years, then parted as boys but now met as old men to relate the scenes of the late unpleasantness and bloody strife. After the singing of several national airs as "They'll Never Come Back Any More" and "My Country 'tis of Thee' the order to break ranks was given and everybody went home feeling that they had dene their

With The Art Interchange for June is published a most delightful little print in color of Pink Roses, by the famous water color artist, Paul de Longpre. A second colored supplement, of great use to art workers, shows Sprays | 38-21-3t* of Daisies in natural coloring. A pretty monochrome, "At the Brookside," is a third supplement. An Art Pilgrimage is the title of a prettily illustrated and extertaining series of papers on art travel in Italy; Miss Charlotte Adams, the well known writer, has an entertaining paper on Some Famous Historical Models; and the very clever writer, Miss Polly King, has a capital story entitled "A Ghost," a story of the studio. This is the third exceptionally bright art story that has appeared in The Art Interchange recently, and it is to be hoped that the series will be kept up. The department of Art Gossip concerns itself with reviews of art exhibitions and other prominent art events. The very ably edited Home Decoration department has a charming drawing of a bed-room, a pretty desk, a beautifully designed exterior for a house, and suggestions for window drapery. For the rest there are exquisite designs for doyleys, plates, screens, initial letters, &c. The amateur, whether he or she works for pleasure or profit, chrome, "At the Brookside," is a third supplewhether he or she works for pleasure or profit,
