Farm Notes

If you print the butter, have your initial or the name of your farm cut in the print; it will serve as a kind of a trademark.

Two and one-half pounds of good cream should make one pound of good butter, and there is nothing gained in having the cream too thick or too thin.

On the best cows the hide is general ly rather thin and soft and oily, and the hair is fine. inclined to be short, and in many cases makes one think of a soft fur.

No dairyman can correctly feed his animals unless he is a close observer. Each cow requires food according to her capacity, her condition, and her appetite.

the handling, and the eyes fail to start its rise in the Gulf of Mexico, and as quickly as if the smaller ones, uninjured, had been on the pieces.

Skim milk, ground oats, and middlings will make pigs grow very rapidly. If they are large enough to have the run of a clover field it will not be necessary to give them more than one good meal a day during warm weather.

Corn does not require deep cultiva-tion. If the soil is made loose for an inch in depth it is all that is required. The object in cultivating corn is to keep the young weeds and grass down, and to provide a mulch of loose earth on the surface of the soil.

The small, fine wooled sheep will no longer meet the requirements of Eastern flock masters-more body, earlier maturity and the proclivity to produce lambs which may be turned at three months and then have attained a size to meet the requirements of the market for that commodity. Farming differs from any other business in the world, in that it demands the personal care and oversight of the proprietor in every minute detail. This is the reason why small farming pays better than large farming, and is also the reason why attempts to carry on agriculture upon the wholesome plan have rarely been successful.

Trees having a thrifty growth are less liable to the attack of disease and insects than most others. An excep tion may be found in the case of rapid ly growing pear trees, which are someimes suddenly stricken with fire blight. But as a rule, keep the trees growing if you care to see them succeed-and most people do wish that.

The best protection to bees is to have strong colonies. It is better to put two or three weak colonies together than to attempt to have them work at a disadvantage. If the hive becomes filled and indications of swarming appear, add more honey boxes for the bees to fill, which will induce them to remain in the hive, and thus form a strong colony.

To get the best results from the use of commercial fertilizers the object should be to supply that which is lack ing, as the soil may require one kind of plant food more and but very little of another. If corn is grown after a crop of clover the application of one or two bags of superphosphate per acre, well harrowed in, is excellent, and on some soils potash may also be added.

Every tree planted and cared for is worth more to the community as a whole than to the individual; if A plants a grove of ten acres on his farm every farm in the neighborhood is benefitted. If one-half the farms in a county were provided with ten or twenty acres of forest each it would greatly increase the value of the adjoining farms.

The Merinos are the only breed of sheep that can be handled in yery large flocks. This is a fact that the breeders of mutton sheep should keep well in mind. Success with a few will naturally lead them to a desire to increase their flocks, and with the larger numbers they will not do so well. On the other hand, it should be remembered that the Merino is not a mutton sheep.

About 62 degrees is the temperature for churning, but some dairymen go as low as 58 degrees. Unless a thermometer is used it will be impossible to regulate the temperature. When butter is slow in coming in it will be found that the temperature is too high or low. Much depends on the condition of the cream also. It should all be of the same age, and not composed of the skimmings of several days mixed together.

A dairyman who was milking a large herd of average cows took five of the best and five of the poorest ones, and keeping an accurate account of the cost of feed and care, found that while the five good ones were paying a fine profit. the other five were estually costing him $7 per head annually over and above the value of the milk they yielded. Individual test is the only means of ascertaining the profit and loss in the

Although a cow may be a phenome nal producer of milk and butter, if she is so merely by accident and not because she has inherited the trait, she will not have much value as a breeder. While her calf may follow in the same line, there is nothing to make this at all sure. It will be wiser to breed from a cow that is a little less remark. able in herself, but whose individual performance is backed up by a good record of her ancestry.

Off for Chicago.

The Three Spanish Caravels Start for th World's Fair

NEW YORK, June 6 .- Shortly before noon to-day the three Spanish caravels which have been anchored up the North river for the last six weeks, made a start for Chicago. They came down the river in tow of the tug Triton.

The three caravels were lashed together side by side, and they turned the battery wall on their way up the East river at 12.10 p. m. At Whitestone, the United States cruiser Newark was lying in wait to convey the caravels and Lieut. Pillsbury will have charge of the fleet as far as Quebec.

FACE ALMOST RAW.

ERUPTION FROM BIRTH. DOCTOR AND SIMPLE REMEDIES FAILED. CURED IN THREE WEEKS BY CUTICURA.

I wish to thank vou for the good that Cuticura has done my child. I send portrait. A short time after its birth its face broke out with some kind of eruption. I consulted our family doctor about it, and he told me there was not much to be done for it. We tried some simple remedies, and they all failed to do any good. At last I thought to try Cuticura Remedies, and the result is wonderful. My wife used Cuticura Remedies about four times a day. At the time we first commenced to use Cuticura, the face was almost raw. It looked the same as a burn would look as if the skin was peeled off, and after about three weeks' use of the Cuticura Remedies it was cured. I did not think Cuticura would amount to much, but the result has changed my mind. I will never be without them.

It has been added to my factory and will be used exclusively for the sale of harness, being the first exclusive salesroom ever used in this town, as heretofore the custom has been to sell goods in the room in which they were made. This elegant room has been refitted and furnished with glass cases in which the harness can be nicely displayed and still kept away from heat and dust, the enemies of long wear in leafner. Our factory now occupies a room 16x74 feet and the store 20x60 added makes it the largest establishment of its kind outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

We are prepared to offer better bargains in the future than we have done in the past and we want everyone to see our goods and get prices for when you do this, out of self defense you will buy. We are not making much, but trade is growing and that is what we are interested in now. Profits will take care of themselves.

When other houses discharged their workmen during the winter they were all put to work in my factory, nevertheless the big (?) houses of this city and county would smile if we compared ourselves to them, but we do not mean to be so odious, except to venture the assection that none of them can say, as we can say "NO ONE OWES US A CENT THAT WE CAN'T GET."
