ELDER BLOSSOMS.

The attar of roses is quaint and rare, it pleases all noses, or ruddy or fair; It is the most regal of scents.

Russia's Exhibit.

Better late than never, the Russian exhibit in the Mammals building has been thrown open and our friends the Muscovites, make a very pretty showing.

Close by the entrance, on the right as you enter is another chamber which also resembles a shrine. It is dedicated, though informally, to the patron literary saint of all the Russias, Count Leo Tolstoy.

The greater part of the central court is filled with cases containing enameled jewelry and silverware, statuary and malachite ornaments, hardly more remarkable than one might find in any great store at Christmas time.

blue stone which is so common in Russia, to decorative work on silver and other metals. One is accustomed to expect excellence in the production of cloisonne from Chinese or Japanese artists.

But you needn't be afraid of the man in the black cap; he can only exercise you in Russian, for he doesn't understand a word of English, luckily for him, or his cars would add crimson to the colors in his costume.

There are some specimens of wood-carving of the ordinary by native artists of Moscow, which look very modern and commonplace, except a sideboard covered with Cupids dancing about Pan's statue and otherwise amusing themselves in a frivolous fashion.

You can scarcely fly to the uttermost parts of the earth, in these United States, without meeting the souvenir spoon.

There is one other interesting fact concerning souvenir silver. It comes not only in every variety of spoon—coffee, tea, dessert, soup, orange, bombon and pap spoon—but in butter knives, "scoops," pickle, sardine and ice cream forks, sugar tongs, butter spreader and in all the "odd" pieces of table silver.

They are the closest of friends, "Yes; I never knew one of them to lend the other a cent."

Joss of the Chinese.

He is supposed to have much to do with their Luck.

The Chinaman's religion from an American point of view, seems to be a belief in inspired luck. This is the way it looks to anyone who has visited the joss house on Mott street and had the aged and baldheaded Chinaman in charge go through the services for his edification.

There is a Chinese shop on the first floor, a Chinese restaurant on the second floor and the joss house on the third floor.

The regular form for holding services in the joss house includes the joss sticks, the services of the officiating attendant and a luck card.

On the east wall hooks are arranged in regular order and numbered. On every one of these hooks there is a package of pink paper printed in Chinese characters.

They are numbered according to the hooks they are on. These are what the Americans call luck cards. On either side of the pots in which the joss sticks are burned is a long tin cylinder filled with long strips of wood and ivory seven inches longer than the cylinder.

Some time since wide publicity was given to the reported discovery in New Guinea, of a mountain, higher than any other in the world.

Buzzard's Bay, Mass., July 9.—President Cleveland passed a comfortable day sitting on the broad veranda of Gray Gables.

Read the WATCHMAN.

The death of Justice Samuel Blatchford removes one of the ablest of the justices of the supreme court of the United States, and makes a vacancy which president Cleveland will have some difficulty in filling if the court is not to be weakened.

Last fall I was taken with a kind of summer complaint, accompanied with a wonderful diarrhea. Soon after my wife's sister, who lives with us, was taken in the same way.

"Miss Getall is almost heartbroken over refusing Mr. Mangyfits."

LA GRIFFE.—During the prevalence of the Grippe the past season it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady.

America to have a Patron Saint.

ROME, July 8.—During the reception of the Columbian Minister to-day the Pope said that America would soon have a patron saint, as Columbus would be beatified shortly.

A soft, fair skin is the result of pure blood and a healthy liver, so cures which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Superior Medicine.

Mr. Birdie—"Don't you think it would be a good idea to charge your girl for all the china she breaks?"

The Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company has just issued another fifty page, handsomely illustrated pamphlet, giving "More Facts" about South Dakota.

As Chicago will be incomplete without "cooling off" somewhere in the late regions of Wisconsin, Northern Michigan and Minnesota.

FOR SCROFULA

"After suffering for about twenty five years from scrofula sores on the legs and arms, trying various medical courses without benefit, I began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and a wonderful cure was the result.

"My daughter was afflicted for nearly a year with catarrh. The physicians being unable to help her, my pastor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I followed his advice. Three months of regular treatment with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and Ayer's Pills completely restored my daughter's health."

"For several years, I was troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, being so bad at times as to be entirely helpless. For the last two years, whenever I felt the effects of the disease, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and have not had a spell for a long time."
