RHEUMATISM MET AND CONQUERED

BY THE N. F. GERMAN RHEUMATIC CURE. NO CURE, NO PAY!

MONEY CHEERFULLY REFUNDED for any case of Rheumatism it fails to cure, if taken according to directions. Read following testimonial of an eminent Centre county physician:

GATSBURGH, Centre County, Pa., Aug. 9, 1892 To the N. F. German Rheumatic Cure Co. Tyrona, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—I had suffered with Rheumatism for many years, when, at the advanced age of seventy-seven years, your cure was recommended to me. I had tried upon myself everything known to me, (I am a doctor of fifty-one years experience) and had despaired of ever being cured. Your remedy was taken according to directions, and after using the second package the disease left me entirely and no rheumatic pain or ache has troubled me since. I can recommend it without hesitation to all afflicted with the disease, and being familiar with the ingredients contained in the compound, can recommend them as being non-injurious to the constitution, and as being the most efficient blood remedy known.

Mandrake Pills have a value as a household remedy far beyond the power of language to describe. The family can hardly be true to itself that does not keep them on hand for use in emergencies. Is the only vegetable substitute for that dangerous mineral, Mercury, and while its action as a cure is fully equal, it possesses none of the perilsous effects. In Constipation, Mandrake acts upon the bowels without disposing them to subsequent Constipation. No remedy acts so directly on the liver, nothing so speedily cures Sick Headache, Sour Stomach and Bilioussness as these P-I-L-L-S.

Good News for Potato Growers.

The Potato Beetle has a Deadly Enemy in a Red Winged Insect.

Here is an item which will be hailed with delight by farmers and potato growers, if it proves to be true. It is as follows: If what John P. Fredd, a prominent farmer of Walnut Glen, Montgomery county, says is true, there is likely to be some commotion in the Paris green market, for Farmer Fredd declares that there has appeared on his farm and adjoining farms a destroyer of the potato bug that can discount Paris green. And the most important part of it is that this new destroyer does not cost anything, for it is a living creature and seems to be working for the mere pleasure of the thing.

The potato bug appeared in Montgomery county in unusual numbers this season, which was thought strange, as there had been none to speak of for the past two seasons. The other day Farmer Fredd went out in his potato field to dose the ravaging beetles with Paris green, when he was surprised to see some of them on his vines where he started in, but they lay dead on the ground by hundreds. He went on, and soon found an explanation of the curious sight. He discovered a swarm of insects the like of which he had never seen or heard of.

They were longer than the potato beetle, but narrower, and had red wings. They were bounding down on the potato-pest as far as the could see. One would seize a potato bug; evidently sting or bite it in the neck, and the potato bug would drop instantly to the ground dead. So fierce and untiring was this winged Nemesis of the bug from Colorado that no one was left alive in its path, the ground being covered with the pests between the rows.

The destroyers followed systematically the rows of vines, some going in one direction across the field, and some in another. There were thousands of these red-winged insects, and so rapidly did they work that they cleared the field of potato bugs in a few hours.

Since Farmer Fredd made his report on the discovery of this strange but beneficent insect other farmers have come in with word that the same fly is at work on their potato fields, and there is consequently much joy in that potato-growing neighborhood.

Destitution in Colorado.

Fooling the Hungry in Denver—15,000 People Need Aid.

The number of men who have thus far registered as out of employment in Denver, Col., is 3,700 and the list is steadily increasing. Means are being taken to furnish employment and provide food for the hungry and destitute. Dean Peck and the Rev. Thomas Uzzel, who have been foremost in this work announce that on account of the scarcity of relief funds they cannot continue to feed the hungry. Meetings are held nightly to provide means for aid, in which Denver's most prominent people take part. It is estimated that 15,000 men women and children are in need of immediate aid. Food is being distributed at the various missions. The destitution is growing. At the People's tabernacle a thousand persons out of work have been registered. They were chiefly young men and wanted to eat, the preference for transportation being St. Louis. A few wanted to go to Dakota points. General suspension of mining and its allied industries is responsible for this condition of affairs.

Where Camphor Comes From.

That Which Comes From Borneo is the Most Valuable. Camphor is the result of evaporating an essential oil found in two different trees, the cinnamomum camphora, which grows in China and Japan, and the dipterocarpus camphora, of Sumatra and Borneo; from these two trees it is obtained in very different manners. In the cinnamomum it exists in root and branch, stems and leaves, which are chopped small and put into earthen vessels, which are heated; these vessels are covered with hoods and the steam is placed in them; the camphor is volatilized and rises; it condenses on the straw from which it is afterward cleared. In the dipterocarpus it is found in the trunk, in a solid form, and it is obtained by cutting the tree down and splitting it open; it is found in pieces from one to two feet long and about as thick as a man's arm. A modest-sized tree yields about ten pounds of camphor, a larger one about twice that quantity. This kind is more highly esteemed than the other, so that in Japan two hundred pounds of native camphor are valued at one pound of the Bornean.

Out in Harrodsburg, Kentucky, eight small negro boys were caught in the act of committing burglary. The judge before whom they were taken didn't commit them to prison, but sent for their mothers and proposed to discharge the culprits if the mothers would give them a whipping in the presence of the court. An exchange describes what follows: "The proposition was eagerly accepted, and next morning the women came to court armed with raw-hide whips. The boys were brought in a space was cleared, and the chastigation began. The blows were laid on in good earnest, and there were yells and howls intolerable to hear. Now and then too great severity caused the judge to interpose a humane admonition, and when his honor thought enough punishment had been inflicted he had the women desist and the ululating mob of truly repentant boys was led away down the street. There was a crowd of witnesses to this most novel disposition of youthful burglars, and many of the spectators no doubt were of the opinion that public whippings under legal direction have a very great punitive value. Anyway, Judge Caldwell, of Harrodsburg, deserves immortality."

China a Great Power.

China is a formidable power, even when not aroused to extraordinary efforts by such an incident as the French attack upon Siam. But the military strength of a population numbering nearly 400,000,000 does not rest in the size of its standing army, but in the enthusiasm with which the people may be caused to animate in support of a cause. Should the vast population of China ever become aroused against the French, or any other European nationality, a torrent might be started that would sweep all before it by the very force and impact of overwhelming numbers. It is this that France has to fear and that Russia dreads.

Soot as a Disinfectant.

It Contains Cresote, Which Is a Wonderful Germ Killer.

St. Louis Globe Democrat. In view of the possible advent of cholera in this country, many cheap and simple disinfectants have been proposed for the use of the people. Of these, one of the most effective is common soot. Soot is composed of pure carbon, and is formed by the vapor of the hydro-carbon coming from burning fuel striking the cold walls of the chimney or stovepipe and condensing thereon. It is very light, porous and impalpable powder, and, like charcoal, which is the same element in a different form, possesses the property of absorbing and retaining a wonderfully large amount of gas.

The great danger of disease about sewers, drains and other places is almost entirely due to gas given off by decomposing matter. If soot be sprinkled about these places it will absorb the foul gas. When cholera was expected in Baltimore, some 16 years ago, Dr. Pig-got, a celebrated chemist of the time, announced that the only disinfectant with which cholera could be at all effectively combated was copperas or sulfate of iron, and he made a composition of charcoal and copperas which was said to have been invaluable in its disinfecting properties. The general idea in disinfecting is, first, to provide a means for absorbing the death-dealing gas, carrying with it millions of diseased germs, and then to have the necessary agent to destroy the germs after they are absorbed.

Charcoal has always been regarded as an excellent disinfectant, but, as a matter of fact, soot is superior to it from containing some of the unoxidized hydrocarbons, contained in the smoke from the fuel, and, among these hydrocarbons is cresote, a germ-killer of wonderful power.

Medical.

I KNOW THAT HOOD'S CURES EVEN WHEN CONSIDERED INCURABLE Indigestion, Malaria, Impure Blood, Loss of Appetite, Etc. "Scarborough, N. Y., Jan. 23, 1893. "To Whom it may Concern: I do cordially recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all who may be suffering with indigestion, impure blood, humors, loss of appetite, or run down, or out of order generally. I have found it a very great benefit for malaria, chills and fever, rheumatism, kidney complaint, and catarrh, even when I considered myself incurable. My first experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla was about eight years ago, when I was taken down with pneumonia, chills and fever, rheumatism and a combination of diseases. I was then in New York city, and by advice of my physician, went home to Scarborough where I now reside. I HAD NO APPETITE and was all run down. My wife bought Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after I had taken it a few days, I had a good appetite and felt very much better. I took my third bottle, and in a short time I was fully restored to health, went back to New York and resumed my business. I have since then neglected to keep my blood in good order, and had an ulcer come on my leg just below the ankle. Some said it was caused by rheumatic affections. I again took Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few days the sore healed up and has never troubled me since. I know from experience that HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA CURES. It is worthy your complete confidence." HENRY S. POSTER, N. B. Be sure to get Hood's. Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c. 38-28
