A Simple Remedy.

Yet it Prevented a Man From Bleeding to Death

Pretty soon after the morning train on the Consolidated road pulled out of New London station, westward bound, the conductor bolted through the draw. ing room car door and asked, "Is there a physician in this car?"

All the passengers gazed at a tall nian who laid down his paper, spoke to the conductor and went out with him a minute later. Twenty minutes after when the conductor came in view every passenger asked him the same question, and in reply he said : "Oh, it's a man in the smoker; he's got nosebleed ; nasal hemorrhage, the doctor calls it. His nose has been bleeding ever since we left East Greenwich, and it hasn't stopped yet."

"What is the doctor doing for it ?" inquired a man.

"He has just put in a tampon, and we've all pooled in our handkerchiefs for the poor fellow; he'is getting awfully white and weak."

Tyrone, Pa., GENTLEMEN: --I had suffered with Rheuma-tism for many years, when, at the advanced age of seventy-seven years, your cure was re-commended to me. I had tried up n myself everything known to me, (I am adoctor of fif-ty-one years experience) and had dispaired of ever being cured. Your remedy was taken according to directions, and after using the second package the disease left me entirely and no rheumatic pain or ache has troubled me since. In one of the rear chairs of the car In a since. I can recommend it without hesitoncy to all afflicted with the disease, and being familiar with the ingredients contained in the com-pound, can recommend them as being non-injurious to the constitution, and as being the most efficient blood remedy known. Truly Yours, DANIEL BATES, M, D. sat a young woman who had flushed and paled at rapid intervals as the conductor talked and when she finally beckoned to him he quickly moved to her side.

"I think I know something to stop the nosebleed. I never knew it to fail,' she timidly asserted, "but may be I forms of machinery are rusting into out not to suggest it if the gentleman is uselessness. There is no work at all in the doctor's care."

All orders accompanied by the cash, sent direct to the manufacturers, will receive prompt attention by mail without extra charge "The doctor is about getting discouraged, and the packing in the man's nose doesn't seem to stanch the flow at RHEUMATIC CURE CO. Tyrone, Blair Co., Pa. all. If you know anything, I guess everybody would thank you to tell It.

A few moments later the conductor took the young woman into the smoker at the physician's request. The medical man said, "Pardon me, but if you have any knowledge of a remedy to stop nasal hemorrhage both this patient and I would be intensely grateful to you."

"Have you a piece of twine-ordinary wrapping twine !" said the girl. ful.-Atlanta Constitution. Off from a bundle quickly came a piece. The girl took it, asked the loan of a knife, and cutting a piece of twine about six inches in length tied it very tightly around the little finger of the left hand of the man with the nosebleed. Then she asked the conductor to escort her back to the car.

It was not five minutes later when the doctor came through the car door and went straight for the place where the young woman sat. She was busily engaged in reading a magazine, but looked up as he spoke to her.

"Your remedy has been perfectly successful," he said and asked permission to take a vacant chair near her.

"It is strange," he continued, "how "It is strange," he continued, "how that may be prevailing. It is wel-many times in a physician's life he enough to pay due regard to the com-

In Puget Sound. A Paradise for Fishermen in Waters Teeming With Life.

Puget Sound swarms with fish. Wonderful stories are told of them. So plentiful are the salmon that during the season when they are running up the streams it is said they will rush up a brook so thickly as to wedge together and form a bridge that one can walk terribly on sharp rocks. Salmon is the favorite fish of this country. Even the ladies like them. One old fisherman down on the wharf told how a ladies down on the wharf told how a lady up town had a pet salmon. It stayed in a certain little cove. During the rainy season the lady would come down each day to feed it with bread. .When she would start back it would swim up the watery streets and follow her home, then swim down again to its little cove. Very queer fish are caught in these waters. One kind is candle fish. We are told the fishermen use them to light their homes, and at one time all the boats on the Sound used them instead of sperm oil lamps. By putting the heads of the fish downward in a candlestick and lightinging the tail, which in conjunction with the backbone, acts as a wick, it burns like a candle. They eat this fish, and when cooking it is so fat

-----Speaker Crisp has shown himself unwilling to be bound by precedent in making appointments on committees. He showed his disposition in this respect when he refused to appoint Roger Q. Mills to the chairmanship of the ways and means committee of the Fifty-second congress and also in failing to continue Mr. McMillin on the rules committee in the present house of representatives. The speaker is evidently of the opinion that these positions are of too much importance and have too commanding an effect on legislation to allow them to be dealt out in rotation, without regard to the circumstances
