THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Saturday, September 3rd, will be Labor day.

—Saturday's rain was a God-send to this community.

—A stock company will build a new opera house in Philipsburg.

—To-morrow the Odd Fellows, of State College, will picnic at the Park.

—The Bellefonte public schools will re-open on Monday, September 4th.

—The rain yesterday morning gladdened the hearts of many in this community.

—The Evangelical church Sunday-school will picnic at the Park on next Tuesday.

—The curb market is increasing weekly. Produce is plentiful and finds ready sale.

—Bellefonte defeated the Renovo ball club, at the Park, yesterday by the score of 15 to 2.

—On Monday evening the infant child of Joshua Folk died at the home of its parents in this place.

—Remember that the new Lutheran church, in this place, will be dedicated on Sunday, September 3rd.

—If this dry weather continues there will be high prices for corn and a better market for wheat ere long.

—Eliza DeHaas, who died in this place, on last Sunday, was a niece of Benedict Arnold, of Revolutionary fame.

—The Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church took a trolley ride to Milesburg, on Tuesday night, returning about 10 o'clock.

—Rev. James Brown and wife, of Rebersburg, are both seriously ill with Typhoid fever. Rev. Brown is the Reformed minister in charge of the Brush valley circuit.

—A family reunion was held at the home of merchant L. B. McEntire, of Fillmore, on Saturday. All of the children and grand-children participated in the enjoyable event.

—The veteran's picnic and reunion at the Park to-morrow promises a big time. All the old soldiers in the county will be there to hear the speakers and have a good time.

—The printers of Bellefonte played a game of ball with the machinists and cigar makers, on Saturday afternoon, and came out, as printers usually do, on top by the score of 6 to 5.

—From Tyrone won the game of ball from Bellefonte on last Friday by the score of 8 to 3. Our team played an exhibition game in Tyrone, on Saturday, and won easily by the score of 15 to 5.

—The question of street sign boards is being agitated and is a good one. Strangers would be able to get far more easily if the names of the streets were visible at crossings.

—A common female housefly, if left alone from the first of April until the first of October, will start a family which in that period will number from one million to one million and a quarter of flies.

—John Lambert a workman employed on J. C. Miller's new house, on Linn street, broke through a scaffold, on Tuesday morning, and fell a distance of seventeen feet to the ground. Though badly bruised he was not seriously hurt.

—Rev. Bruce Crommiller, a young nephew of Mr. Jared Harper, of this place, filled Dr. Laurie's pulpit in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning. He preached a very good sermon and gives promise of being an able minister.

—E. C. Humes, president of the First National bank, reached his 83rd birthday on Wednesday. He is still actively engaged in the banking business and looks after his interests hereabouts with the activity of a far younger man.

—The Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church at Howard will hold a festival on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, Aug. 26th. Ice cream, cake and all the delicacies of the season will be served in abundance. All are invited to attend.

—In the reports of the death of the late Mrs. James Derr, that were published by the town papers last week, the cause of death was ascribed to poisoning contracted while picking berries in the mountain near her home. Such was not the case as Mrs. Derr very rarely left her home.

—Seven families of gypsies camped near the old car shops dam, on Friday and Saturday. Most of them are from York, this state, and find the roving, out-door life both wholesome and profitable. The women beg the food and clothing, the men "swap" horses and the young girls sell lace, basket work and tell fortunes.

THE REPUBLICANS AND THEIR CIRCUIT.—Tuesday was an eventful day in Bellefonte. Indeed it was. The leaders of the forlorn hope were all here and held what the un-initiated would undoubtedly call a grand hippodrome, but for the sake of recording it as one of the political events in the history of the county we will be more magnanimous and term it a Convention.

The etymology of this word Convention is hardly in place for discussion here, but its dictionary meaning may not be amiss, purely as a matter of elucidation. According to the most approved authority it is "a formal gathering for deliberative purposes" and we are a sorry to say that our Republican friends have so contorted its meaning that we are led to interpret it thus: An informal mob with a deliberate purpose. For such can be the only accurate meaning of the word Convention as we saw it used on Tuesday.

Bright and early on the morning of August 22nd Republicans from every where began to put in their appearance. Chairman Reeder and his lieutenants were kept busy getting them all corralled and in truth the task was a monstrous one. The jack-pot was to be opened at eleven o'clock and it was certain that some of them couldn't "see" it. Matters were adjusted however. The Cook was goosed, and the Court House bell rang for the meeting.

It was promptly eleven when the delegates found themselves in their seats awaiting the call to order. It did not come. The managers only wanted to get the show in out of harm's way so there they sat for just half an hour waiting until the old slate had been cleared off and the names of the new sacrifices substituted. One incident in connection with this expunging, which was going on in the little room, had better be mentioned right here before it is forgotten. Away down at the tail end of the old party slate the name of Jesse Cleaver was standing over against the plug, "for County Surveyor." It has stood there a score of years or more. Somehow or other the sponge only obliterated part of the name so when it was again presented in Convention there was a general knowing look passed around whereupon it was promptly withdrawn and another substituted. This was the only break.

At 11:30 Chairman Reeder called the delegates to order and asked for nominations for a permanent Chairman. Of course dear reader you know as well as if we did't tell you that Col. James P. Coburn was the first name presented. But the wily Col. had another mission to fulfill and he declined, whereupon Col. Austin Curtin was called upon to fill the chair. He accepted and perhaps made the hit of his life in the parody on a Republican eulogium which he got off. The Colonel should go on the stage. His sincere expression while spouting such a ludicrous thing was remarkable. Once through he proceeded with the conduct of affairs in a manner highly complimentary to himself. In fact he handled the gavel with a dexterity only equaled by the Kentucky horse auctioneer.

After the chairman had called in all the little resolutions, which Mr. Reeder had prepared for John C. Henderson and others to read, merely to tickle them and give them an opportunity of hearing their voices resound in such a mighty assemblage, the other officers were chosen as follows: Reading clerk, H. C. Quigley, Bellefonte; Secretaries, Jos. Barton, Unionville, and Steel Crissman, Philipsburg; Tellers, J. Laird Holmes, College township, and T. L. Crust, Benner township; Committee on Resolutions, Col. J. P. Coburn, Haines; J. R. Hughes, Bellefonte; S. S. Crissman, Philipsburg; G. W. Fisher, Half moon, and J. L. Kessinger, Walker.

THE BALLOTING THEN BEGAN. Sheriff was the first, and it was right there that Mr. Robert Cook Jr., of Howard, found that the friends (?) for whom he had worked had no longer any use for him. The names of David Reed, Ferguson township; Robert Cook Jr. Howard; John W. Stuart, State College; John F. Harter, Millheim; Henry H. Montgomery, Bellefonte; and Harry Simler, Philipsburg, were presented for consideration.

1st 2nd 3rd 4th 5th 6th 7th
Reed.....5.....5
Stuart.....4.....4.....4.....39
Simler.....10.....9.....14.....14.....6
Montgomery.....12.....13.....14.....18.....26.....28
Cook.....27.....27.....27.....27.....42.....43.....51
Harter.....19.....20.....19.....20.....43.....47.....53
Mr. Cook was bowled out by the boss in great style, but the funniest part of it all was the way he was tricked into beating himself. On the fourth ballot he gave Harter enough delegates to hold him in over Stuart and the Shady transaction proved the death of Cook, for with Harter in and Stuart out all of the latter's delegates went to the former. Then the Philipsburg delegation finished the job. They were a kind of a steering committee. The same kind that Cook was in Wolf's campaign three years ago. All through the voting the Cook contingent kept up a continual cheering and cat-calling, which even the vigorous pounding of Col. Curtin could not stop. After Harter was nominated the Convention had to take a rest.

After dinner the first thing that was done was to nominate R. F. Comley, of Union Twp., for Treasurer, J. D. Wagner, of Ferguson, and Sam'l H. Diehl, of Bellefonte, both having been forced out of the race.

1st 2nd 3rd
Wagner.....29.....32
Diehl.....39.....39.....57
Comley.....38.....44.....50

Commissioners were then nominated from the names Matthew F. Riddle, Spring township; Andrew Lytle, College; Henry Stevens, Half Moon; and Jas. B. Strohm, of Potter. It was a set up job that Riddle and Strohm should be the lucky ones and they were nominated on the first ballot.

Three candidates for Register were presented: Benj. T. Edmunds, John S. Bathurst, Howard; and J. B. Rickard, Rush township. Two Ballots were required as follows.

Edmunds.....23.....23
Bathurst.....25.....30
Rickard.....25.....29

Honors were easy after that. The delegates were tired hearing clerk Quigley call their names and the rest of the nominations were made unanimous. J. Laird Holmes, of State College, who had scarcely recovered from the exhaustion occasioned by the oratorical appeal he had made for Stuart, was put on for Recorder. John D. Wagner, of Gregg township, and Dr. E. S. Dorworth, of Bellefonte, were the unanimous choice for Auditors. Dr. Thos. Tobin, of Stormstown, was accorded the privilege of putting up the Coroner's share of the campaign "wax." The party went back on its old love, Jesse Cleaver, of Union, and gave Wm. H. Snyder, of Liberty, the tail end on the ticket. He will run for County Surveyor. He will still be running this time next year.

For delegates to the State Convention George W. Hoover, of Philipsburg, and ex-County Commissioner H. C. Campbell, of Ferguson, were the unanimous choice. The county chairman for 1894 was then chosen. You know there will be a scramble for the judgeship nomination next year and W. E. Gray thought he would like to be chairman so as to help the Love boom along, but the Reeder people said "no," and re-elected the old chairman by a vote of 64 to 12. Who knows, but that Mr. Reeder may have an eye on the bench himself. This being done the Convention adjourned without even having thanked Col. Curtin for having hammered his arm nearly off keeping the unruly elements in subjection.

—Typhoid fever is prevalent in Tyrone.

—The town of Muncy is to have electric light.

—A million bricks have been made at the Tyrone brick yards this year.

—Mr. F. S. Ohi has been appointed postmaster at Clintondale, Clinton county.

—The Tyrone paper mills closed, Saturday night, throwing 250 men out of employment.

—Rev. John W. Ely, pastor of the Methodist church at Warriorsmark, died on last Wednesday evening.

—The Central State Normal school, at Lock Haven, will open for the fall term on Monday, August 28th.

—The Tyrone Mining and Manufacturing Co., has suspended operations at the Toe Hill mines, in this county.

—Grand opening of Fall and Winter clothing for men, boys and children. Friday, August 25th, Montgomery & Co.

—The third annual re-union of the Lutheran churches of Central Pennsylvania, will take place at Susquehanna Heights, near Sunbury, on Thursday, September 7th.

—William Gardner, an aged and respected resident of Beech Creek, died at his home in that place, on last Friday, from a cancer on his hand. Deceased was seventy-six years old.

—Invitations are out for the wedding of Samuel S. Hazel, foreman in the composing rooms of this office, to Miss Jennie F. Ott. They will be married at the home of the bride's parents, at Axe Mann, on next Wednesday evening, August 30th.

—On next Tuesday evening Dr. J. T. Rothrock, botanist of the State Forestry commission, will lecture on the forests of Pennsylvania and their chances of preservation. The subject will be interestingly handled and he should be met by a crowded house. The lecture will be free.

—At Bellwood, on Monday evening, Albert Pelter, a young rail-road brakeman who boarded with a widow named Smith, was aimlessly firing an old single barrel pistol about the yard. Some little children were playing behind a bush in the corner of the yard and Pelter did not notice them until the last shot was fired when he discovered that he had shot little Maud Smith, his sister-in-law. The ball struck her fairly in the heart and she never spoke. The child was four years old. Pelter is almost crazed with grief.

SWEET BELLS IN TUNE.—The wedding of Mr. William Frederick Reynolds and Miss Louise Linn Hoy, which was solemnized in the Presbyterian church last evening, at seven o'clock, was a most interesting and pleasing affair.

The church which is beloved by the bride and so many of her relations is always stately and beautiful. But arrayed in ferns and palms with Bridal-roses scattered and massed, and thronged with friends eager to greet and see the fair young girl and her bridal party, which was small owing to the recent death of the groom's uncle, it was more beautiful than ever.

The music itself was one of the features of the occasion and the time came all too quickly for the guests when the ushers James Duffy, of Marietta; Elliott Lane, of Camden, N. J.; Beverly Potter, Thomas Morris, Joseph Montgomery, Albert Hoy, of Bellefonte; John Somerville, of Winburne and Thomas Orblison, of New York, led the procession up the aisle, followed by the maid of honor Miss Mary Hoy, who was dressed in white organdy and carried pink roses.

The bride who is the youngest daughter of the late Judge Hoy looked extremely well in her gown of white silk crepe, that was made with empire sleeves of white satin, a long princess train and a bertha of Duchesse lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with sprays of orange blossoms and she carried a "shower bouquet" of brides-roses and lilies of the valley as she walked with her uncle, Mr. James L. Somerville, to the altar where the groom and his best man, Mr. John Blanchard, were waiting.

After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Beach, a cousin of the bride from Bridgeton N. J. assisted by the Rev. Dr. Laurie, a reception was given at the bride's home, for the bridal party and cousins, which includes many of the prominent families of the town. Some of the guests from a distance were Mrs. Samuel Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Reynolds, Jr., and Miss Maud Reynolds of Lancaster, Mrs. Wister, of Overbrook, Philadelphia, Mr. George L. Potter and family of Fort Wayne Ind. and Mr. and Mrs. James L. Somerville, of Winburne.

The groom, who is a Lt. Colonel on Governor Pattison's staff is one of our most popular young men and deserves well the good fortune that has always been his. He inherited most of his Uncle's large estate and only good wishes and congratulations followed the happy couple when they left on the evening's express in their private car for Montreal and other points, after which they will visit the World's Fair.

AT COUNCIL ON MONDAY NIGHT.—At the regular meeting of the borough solons, on Monday night, there was the usual amount of routine business transacted and among the new business of interest was the decision to move the music pavilion out of the Diamond and put it in some less conspicuous place. Since it was put where it now stands it has been an eye-sore and a nuisance and council struck the popular favor in deciding to move it.

The only other matter of importance considered was an amendment to the present ordinance restricting cows, pigs and other animals from running at large on the streets. The solicitor was instructed to draw up an amendment, for approval at the next meeting, which will fix the fine at $1.00 instead of $2.00 per head, as it has been heretofore. Instructions were given the High Constable to arrest only those cows that were found loafing about on the streets and if any appeared to be on their way to or from pasture they should be unmolested. The fine of one dollar for violation of the cow ordinance is plenty. People do not wilfully violate and some who cannot procure pasture for their cow and are forced to drive them to the outskirts of town and then run the risk of their coming back before evening.

A SWINDLER WILL BE AFTER YOU.—The Lock Haven Democrat sounds the following warning for all to be on the look-out for a slick swindler, who is now abroad in the land.

"Our merchants should be on the look-out for a swindler, who is, and has already successfully worked several cities. He victimized merchants in Woodbury, N. J.; afterwards he appeared in Harrisburg, and later was in Mauch Chunk. His description is as follows: Nicely dressed, 36 years old, about six feet in height, light complexion, full round head, mild, somewhat effeminate voice, commands good language and wears a gray diagonal suit. His mode of operations is to purchase a bill of goods, in payment for which he presents a nicely printed check, with "V. O. Sweet, Towanda, Penna." on it, drawn by Mr. Sweet on Citizens' National Bank, Towanda, Pa., to order of James Spicer, and has the certified stamp of the bank with the signature of J. K. Newell, cashier, impressed thereon. The check when presented to that bank is pronounced a forgery."

DIED NEAR MILESBERG.—Mamie J., beloved daughter of John and Mary Sliker, died in her second year, at her home near Milesburg, on Sunday. Her remains were interred in the Advent cemetery.

—The town was full of Republicans on Tuesday. It was their county convention day.

—Lock Haven is going to pipe water for city use from McElhattan run, a distance of five miles.

—Our subscribers will kindly bear in mind that we still accept silver dollars in payment of subscription.

—Fire destroyed the stables on the property of Wm. B. Mingle and Mrs. McCollough, at Centre Hall, on Friday evening.

—The Berwind, White Co., mined and shipped 3,600,000 tons of coal from the Clearfield region during the year 1892.

—A large roller flour mill is being built at Karthause, Clearfield county. It will have a capacity of forty barrels per day.

—One of the surest signs that Bellefonte hasn't struck bed rock of hard times as yet is the fact that the base ball club still lives.

—A score or more of Hungarians left the Clearfield region for their homes abroad last week. The Philipsburg Journal wished them joy.

—The Republican State Convention will be held in Harrisburg, on Wednesday, August 30th. The Democrats will hold theirs on Tuesday, September 19th, at the same place.

—The baggage men at Tyrone handled 93,900 checked pieces of baggage in the year ending August 17th, 1893. These figures do not include show trunks and unchecked parcels.

—One of the nicest features about the Democratic county ticket is the fact that it pleases everyone. All of the candidates are good men and there is no excuse, whatever, for not supporting them.

—The Homeopathic Medical society of Central Pennsylvania met and effected an organization, in Tyrone, on Tuesday. On Tuesday, November 21st, the new society will meet again in Altoona.

News Purely Personal.

—Ad. Fauble returned from the Fair on Monday evening.

—Irv. Drees, the popular Democratic hustler of Lemont, was in town on the day of the Republican convention.

—Miss Anna Goodhart, of Centre Hill, a daughter of county Commissioner Geo. L. Goodhart, visited Lock Haven friends recently.

—Ned Blanchard returned from Philadelphia, on Saturday evening. He had been in one of the hospitals of that city undergoing treatment.

—Mrs. C. W. Hoffer and children, of Philipsburg, are visiting at the home of Mrs. H's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Gerberich, on north Thomas street.

—The Misses Given, of Philadelphia, daughters of Mrs. Mattie Given, nee Weaver, are visiting at the home of their cousin, Mr. Cyrus Weaver, on Howard street.

—The family of Jas. A. McLain is home from the summer outing at Spangler and it once more looks natural about the McLain residence on East Curtin street.

—George Hile, a book-keeper for P. B. Crider & Son, lumber dealers of this place, is in Philadelphia, where he will undergo an operation in Jefferson medical hospital.

—Dr. A. W. Hafer and his daughter, Miss Laura, departed for the Fair, on Monday evening. They will both be interested in the World's Dental Congress in session in Chicago.

—Misses Stella Armor and Rose Fox, of this place, are members of a Tyrone camping party that is having a delightful outing at Pioneer Lodge, Point View, on the banks of the blue Juniata.

—John Q. Miles, our candidate for Treasurer, came down from Julian, on Tuesday morning, to see how the Republicans do things. He was around among the people getting in good work.

—That genial little fellow whom every-body is always glad to see, Joe Barton, came down from Unionville on Monday. He is spending a week's vacation at his home in that place. Joe is now engaged in selling goods for the Liverights at Osceola Mills.

—Mrs. Joseph Steinkuehner, of Newton, Harvey county, Kansas, accompanied by her nephew, Pierce Steinkuehner, is visiting relatives in this county. She is at present enjoying the hospitality of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Fox, on east Bishop street.

—To-morrow evening Mr. George Harbaugh, of west Curtin street, will leave for a six months tour in the West. California will be his destination and during his absence his family will visit friends in Lancaster. If he likes the West there is a possibility of his locating there.

—Miss Mamie Foster arrived in town on Monday evening and is the guest of Miss Olive Mitchell, on Spring street. She is the daughter of the Presiding Elder of the Williamsport district and was well known in Bellefonte when her father had charge of the Methodist church here.

—Quite a party of Centre countians took advantage of the ten day excursion to the Fair which left here on Wednesday morning. Among the number were: H. C. Rothrock, Henry Hosterman and Will Stuart, of Boalsburg; Rollit Wasson and D. W. Showalter, of Lemont and Wagner Geiss, of Centre Hall.

—Among recent arrivals in town was that of George L. Potter and family, of Fort Wayne Ind. They came here on Monday evening in a private car to attend the Hoy Reynolds wedding, and make a visit to Mr. Potter's old home. He is now superintendent of motive power for the Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago rail-road, and from an insignificant position in the Ft. Wayne shops has risen to one of the highest positions of trust in the Company's service.

DO YOU WANT TO VOTE.—The eighth day of September will be the last day on which voters can be registered and assessed under the new law. It is therefore important to all who claim the right to vote at the coming November election to look over the registry book which is conspicuously exposed at all the polling places of the various wards. Voters who have been in the state one year, and sixty days in the ward prior to November 4 are entitled to vote. The assessors of the wards will, upon application of any male citizen twenty-one years of age and over, properly register and assess such applicant if in his judgment the applicant is a qualified voter.

—Early Sunday morning George Waite, an employee of the Bellefonte Fuel & Supply Co., discovered the machine shops of Jenkins & Lingle, on Race street, to be on fire. He called for help and the doors being broken in the flames were soon extinguished. It is the general supposition that the fire was the work of an incendiary and it had been smouldering there for some time as the immense shops were filled with smoke. It is said that engineer Thomas Faxon, at the electric light station, saw a light as if some one was moving about in the building with a torch at about two o'clock in the morning, but gave the matter no attention because it was not an unusual sight, as the men often work all night there. Had the flames gotten much headway one of our most substantial industries would have been wiped out.

—One day recently a little boy living near Lock Haven started to drive his father's team of horses home. Everything went right until the hill at Flemington was reached, where the tongue came out of the neck yoke, the horses starting to run away immediately. The wagon veered to one side and it horses, driver and all fell over a 200 foot embankment into the canal below. Improbable as it may seem the horses struggled out and ran home with the thirteen year old driver in hot pursuit. None of them were hurt.

—The Milton fair will be held this year on October 3, 4, 5 and 6, at the Milton driving park. Special efforts are being made to make it the most successful from every stand point that has ever been held in Northumberland and county.

—The employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., at Philipsburg were paid as usual in checks at the last payday, but the banks of that town would not cash the checks without taking a commission of twenty five cents.

—Three Italians recently robbed a fellow countryman, at Anderson creek, near Curwensville, of $1800.00. They were captured and are now in the Clearfield jail.

—Great cash sale of stiff hats brown, light brown, tan and black.
