

What a Weather Prophet Says.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., August 28.—Horace Johnson, of this city, the weather prophet, who predicted the recent big storm, says that there is another of still greater severity to come between September 6th and 10th in comparison with which the recent tempest will be insignificant.

French Protectorate Imminent.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—Despatches from Bangkok and Singapore say that a French protectorate over Siam is imminent. The Pall Mall Gazette urges that all chambers of commerce in Great Britain hold a convention at once and agree upon a protest to the government upon permitting France to execute a policy ruinous to British trade in the east.

An Exodus of Hungarians.

PITTSBURGH, August 28.—There is an exodus of Hungarians from this section, the result of the times. Within the last six weeks 900 Hungarians and Italians have left the Connelville region for their homes, and since August 15, 300 Huns, Poles and Italians have deserted the mines of the Monongahela valley.

On His Way to Washington.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Aug. 30.—President Cleveland left Gray Gables on E. C. Benedict's yacht Oneida at 1.30 this afternoon. Mrs. Cleveland and Baby Ruth and the nurse accompanied him. The weather is perfect. They will proceed directly to New York. The Oneida will arrive in New York early to-morrow morning, and the president will leave at once for Washington.

It's a Case of Hustle All the Same.

From the Grand Forks North West News. It makes no difference to the man who gets it whether the silver dollar has one cent or 100 cents worth of bullion in it—the problem is to get it.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—A cyclone struck Eagles Mere, the summer resort above Williamsport, on Monday night, and blew down barns and cottages. Judge Wilson of Philadelphia was among the injured.

REPAIR THE BRIDGE.—The High street bridge, over Spring creek, is a disgrace to the town and should be promptly looked after. The plank on both foot and wagon ways are badly rotted, the iron work needs paint, and the banister on the lower side has gotten so out of place as to render it extremely dangerous.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—The Bellefonte ball club left on Saturday, on the last trip for which it is scheduled in the River league. At Tyrone we were beaten by the score of 10 to 8.

—We have authority from Mr. Thomas, the superintendent of the Bellefonte Central railroad, for saying that on the day of the Veteran's picnic, Saturday, September 2nd next, all veterans and their friends who come for the special purpose of attending the picnic can enter the grounds of Hunter's Park without the payment of the usual entrance fee.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Issued During the past week.—Taken from the docket. J. C. A. Heckman, of Spring Mills, and Maggie J. Emerick, of Coburn.

George R. Mock, of Phillipsburg, and Grace M. Moore, of Lemont. W. Fred Reynolds and Louisa Linn Hoy, both of Bellefonte.

L. P. Brisbin and Mary Sensor, both of Unionville. H. W. Houltz, of Buffalo Run, and Maggie Swisher, of Julian.

Joseph Eckley, of Benner Twp., and Sadie Rian, of Spring Twp. Joseph B. Strunk, Pavin, Pa. and Carrie C. Beck, of Jacksonville.

Paul Yearick and Elizabeth Rusnack, both of Clarence. James Woodring and Ella May Robison, both of Port Matilda.

Wm. W. Ammerman and Frances Walizer, both of Tyrone. Samuel S. Hazel, Jr. and Jennie, F. Ott, both of Axemann.

W. R. Walters, of Keyser, W. Va., and Eva M. Bush, of Unionville. MARRIED AT AXE MANN.—Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock the home of James Ott, at Axe Mann, was the scene of a joyous assemblage.

Many persons filled the spacious rooms of the Ott home all waiting for the hour when the daughter of the house, Jennie F. Ott, would lay aside the robes of young maidenhood and become the bride of Samuel S. Hazel.

Promptly at the appointed hour the bridal party entered from the hall, the doorways being festooned with evergreens. The ushers Harry Rote, W. H. Miller, Josiah Owens Jr. and George Hazel went first, then the maid of honor, Sarah Ott, and the best man, James Strauser, moved gracefully in, after them came the bride and groom, both looking at their best and of course happy.

Rev. Miles O. Noll, pastor of the Reformed church at this place, performed the ceremony after which a reception was held. The bride is a most estimable young woman and is in every way qualified to make a loving and helpful wife.

Mr. Hazel, the groom, is a printer by trade, being employed in this office, where from the position of printer's devil he has, by faithful and honest labor, worked himself to the foremanship of the composing rooms.

He is a son of Mr. Adam Hazel, of Axe Mann, and is a young man who can be thoroughly relied upon. And his sober, industrious mode of life will make him a husband of which any woman could be proud.

—Read the WATCHMAN. SUICIDES AT LOCK HAVEN.—The sad news that W. W. Moyer, had suicided at Lock Haven, during Sunday night was received here about noon on Monday and startled the community in which the unfortunate man had been so well known and had lived so long.

The Lock Haven Democrat, of Monday, publishes the following account of the affair: "W. W. Moyer, son of Dr. Moyer, of Lemont, was found dead in bed at the Fallon house this morning by one of the chambermaids. The remains shortly after were taken to Undertaker Sloan's rooms and prepared for burial, and will be shipped to his home this evening.

The unfortunate man had for some time been a clerk in Murphy's dry goods store, at Renovo. Last December he went to a Keeley institute and after remaining there a short time was discharged. Last week he became involved in a scandal and it is said was ordered to leave the hotel he was boarding at. He came to this city on Friday and registered at the Fallon house as "W. W. Moyer, Altoona." He had been drinking and it was noticed that he was very depondent.

In conversation with one or two gentlemen he threatened to commit suicide. He was urged to brighten up, and he would soon be himself again. Yesterday after dinner he went to a drug store and purchased a six-drachm bottle of laudanum. He went to the hotel and shortly after went to bed. Last night about 9 o'clock one of the porters passing the room heard him snoring loudly. From that time nothing more was heard of him until this morning, when the chambermaid opened his door and found him lying on the bed with his shirt and pants on, thinking that he was still sleeping she closed the door.

Shortly before noon she was given a letter to hand him, when she discovered that he was dead. The bottle containing the laudanum had been drained. Alderman Harris empanelled a jury, consisting of W. H. Clough, Esq., J. G. Harris, W. D. Kintzing, I. C. Lighter, J. G. Miller and C. R. Good, who after hearing the testimony of several witnesses, rendered a verdict of death by taking laudanum.

Whit. Moyer at one time was one of Bellefonte's most promising young men. He held various positions of trust with the most reputable mercantile men in town and with his brother Curt owned a grocery establishment that enjoyed an excellent custom. Success met his efforts in that line and he opened a large dry goods store also in the old Humes block, on Allegheny street, but just in the height of his success the poor fellow fell. Dissipation rapidly undermined the work of his younger days and to escape the associations that were ruining him he went to Altoona where he did a good grocery business until misfortune again overtook him. From that time his life had been an uncertain one and his sad end was its culmination.

His remains were brought here for burial and the interment was made on Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock. News Notes from Howard. Fred. Robb, of Romola, is on the grand jury for this week. Fishing is good here yet. Large eel catches are reported. Freight cars are still wanted at this point. We can use them. Drummer Thompson had a runaway with the "Floga mare" Wednesday. No one hurt. Chas. Lucas has been clerking for Harry Freeman. Freeman had overheated himself. Clarence Daily had a slight runaway also. No one hurt. He left the horse standing tied. Charles C. Freeman and Miss Edith McKeand were married, in Chicago, Aug. 17, 1893. Numerous presents were sent.

Pine Grove Mentions. Judge Keller says its a girl. Henry Krebs and wife are this week among the Grangers at Williams Grove. Hezekiah Ewing and wife have just returned from a seashore trip, much delighted. Charley Schatzer and wife, of the Mountain city, are spending the heated season by old Tussey Mountain's base. It would be well to have a sanitary committee to inspect the cut houses belonging to the public school buildings, which are in terrible condition. The prolonged dry spell was broken by a very heavy rain fall on Monday night. 5 inches of water fell accompanied by a nor'easter storm, scattering fences and trees and flattening the corn to the ground. October 1st will see the school doors open, and the youths will once again play with their books. Most of the old text books will be continued, though the board contemplated changing physiology and history. The ladies of Pine Hall Sunday school will hold a social next Saturday evening. A choice selection of refreshments will add to the interest of the evening's entertainment, to which every body is cordially invited. The aspirants from this end of the county, who were willing to serve the dear people, returned from the Republican convention last week. The look they wear shows they did hard explaining how the bosses shelled them. Mr. Wm. Young, oldest son of David H. Young, recently returned from a western tour principally in Whiteside Co., Ill., where Wm. says the panic struck hard and he resolved to return and spend the winter with and share Davy's hospitalities. Mr. Edwards, one of Lycoming county's brilliant legal lights; Miss Hamilton, of Bellefonte; Miss Elizabeth Pyscher, of Williamsport; and Joel Lender, one of Blair county's Bonanza Kings, were royally entertained last week at the mansion home of Jim Fortney. Mrs. John Craig, of Tionesta, accompanied by several of her bright little children, paid a brief visit to relatives here, after an absence of 18 years. She is still the same pleasant lady as of yore and sadly laments the death of her husband, who was one of our former town boys, and for the last 20 years of his life was a most competent R. R. agent, which position he held at the time of his death, at Tionesta, one month ago. That renowned camp meeting at Mooresville was well attended by Centre countians on Sunday. The maddest camper we noticed was Tom Frank, one of Rock Spring's big farmers, who routed out our buggy smith in the early morning for repairs. The next week occurred up the mountain whence he had to put back for a new wheel, in consequence he was late to camp, but in time for dinner which is Tom's living. The following corps of teachers have been elected for Ferguson township viz. Pine Grove Grammar, N. T. Krebs; Primary, Beckie Bollinger; Oak Grove, John G. Miller; Pine Hall, Gertie Osmond; White Hall, Annie McWilliams; Branch, Albert Musser; Krumrine, W. C. Rye; Centre, J. B. Krebs; Kepler, M. E. Heberling; Glade, Mattie Ewing; Tadpole, F. W. Bailey; Penna. Furnace, Robt. Gardner; Baileyville, Sadie Miller; Maringo, I. T. Ellenberger; Gatesburg, Jacob Harpster. Dr. L. C. Thomas, of Iatrobe, accompanied by landlord H. C. Smith of the same place both expert bicyclists, were last Sunday met pushing up the steeps of old Tussey mountain after taking in Mooresville campmeeting, looking somewhat weary of their long journey over the Alleghenies. A distance of 122 miles in a day and a half. After laying over at Altoona, Tyrone and Petersburg, two hours at each place. The best time made was 5 miles in 19 1/2 minutes. After greeting old time associates here for a day they took their leave via Tyrone and Altoona, for home. Last Saturday was musicians' day in our town. Extensive arrangements had been made to have a glad day in the grove, in the style of a basket picnic. The day was warm and clouds of dust could be seen in all directions, as delegations poured into town, headed by brass bands; and horse back parties of ladies and gentlemen. Once in the grove Rev.

C. T. Aikens took charge of the ceremonies; Prof. J. A. Weaver, gave out the music that filled the grove, from a hundred voices and forty instruments. Rev. Wharton, of Stormstown, and Rev. Aikens were the orators of the day. The afternoon was spent listening to vocal and instrumental music, and enjoying themselves in pleasant social chat. It was not until the twilight of the evening that folks left for home, after having listened to strains of music that surpassed anything of the kind heretofore held in this section, in the shape of a musical picnic.

On Monday morning, the 28th inst, the sad intelligence of the death of one so much loved and respected was heralded from house to house. It was that of Miss Grace Viola Dunlap, the oldest daughter of S. A. and Lizzie Dunlap, of our town, she died of typhoid fever aged 17 years, 10 months and 3 days. For some days anxious friends and fond parents had sad forebodings that the end was near, and in a spirit of sweet submission she laid aside the fondest of all earthly ambitions, and all those bright futurities that youth and hope cherish, and went to meet her Father amid the tender ministrations of kind and loving friends. She died at 2 o'clock a. m. Thus the grim destroyer, death, has claimed for its own, one who always cast a ray of sunshine around the family hearth. Possessed of so many graces of mind and personal charms, she above all was faithful in her religious duties, having consecrated herself to the Master when a child. Those who knew her best will miss her most. Death is sad, but doubly so when the destroyer touches one so young and possessed of so many virtues. The funeral services were held on the 29th, her ministerial friend Rev. R. M. Hingsworth, of the M. E. church of which she was a member, officiated. His theme was Death, preached from thanks be to God who giveth the victory. His sermon was plain and practical, relating to the things death separates us from in this life, and the reward obtainable beyond the grave. Undertaker J. B. Heberling had charge of the burial, the neat casket was beautifully bedecked with flowers by kind and loving hands. The remains were viewed at the cemetery for the last time by a large gathering of people anxious to see the touch of human sympathy as they took a last look at the beautiful form. The choir sang "We will never say good-by in Heaven." The benediction was pronounced and the solemnities of the occasion were over. Alas! for love if thou wert all, And naught beyond, O Earth!

News Notes from Howard. Fred. Robb, of Romola, is on the grand jury for this week. Fishing is good here yet. Large eel catches are reported. Freight cars are still wanted at this point. We can use them. Drummer Thompson had a runaway with the "Floga mare" Wednesday. No one hurt. Chas. Lucas has been clerking for Harry Freeman. Freeman had overheated himself. Clarence Daily had a slight runaway also. No one hurt. He left the horse standing tied. Charles C. Freeman and Miss Edith McKeand were married, in Chicago, Aug. 17, 1893. Numerous presents were sent.

Pine Grove Mentions. Judge Keller says its a girl. Henry Krebs and wife are this week among the Grangers at Williams Grove. Hezekiah Ewing and wife have just returned from a seashore trip, much delighted. Charley Schatzer and wife, of the Mountain city, are spending the heated season by old Tussey Mountain's base. It would be well to have a sanitary committee to inspect the cut houses belonging to the public school buildings, which are in terrible condition. The prolonged dry spell was broken by a very heavy rain fall on Monday night. 5 inches of water fell accompanied by a nor'easter storm, scattering fences and trees and flattening the corn to the ground. October 1st will see the school doors open, and the youths will once again play with their books. Most of the old text books will be continued, though the board contemplated changing physiology and history. The ladies of Pine Hall Sunday school will hold a social next Saturday evening. A choice selection of refreshments will add to the interest of the evening's entertainment, to which every body is cordially invited. The aspirants from this end of the county, who were willing to serve the dear people, returned from the Republican convention last week. The look they wear shows they did hard explaining how the bosses shelled them. Mr. Wm. Young, oldest son of David H. Young, recently returned from a western tour principally in Whiteside Co., Ill., where Wm. says the panic struck hard and he resolved to return and spend the winter with and share Davy's hospitalities. Mr. Edwards, one of Lycoming county's brilliant legal lights; Miss Hamilton, of Bellefonte; Miss Elizabeth Pyscher, of Williamsport; and Joel Lender, one of Blair county's Bonanza Kings, were royally entertained last week at the mansion home of Jim Fortney. Mrs. John Craig, of Tionesta, accompanied by several of her bright little children, paid a brief visit to relatives here, after an absence of 18 years. She is still the same pleasant lady as of yore and sadly laments the death of her husband, who was one of our former town boys, and for the last 20 years of his life was a most competent R. R. agent, which position he held at the time of his death, at Tionesta, one month ago. That renowned camp meeting at Mooresville was well attended by Centre countians on Sunday. The maddest camper we noticed was Tom Frank, one of Rock Spring's big farmers, who routed out our buggy smith in the early morning for repairs. The next week occurred up the mountain whence he had to put back for a new wheel, in consequence he was late to camp, but in time for dinner which is Tom's living. The following corps of teachers have been elected for Ferguson township viz. Pine Grove Grammar, N. T. Krebs; Primary, Beckie Bollinger; Oak Grove, John G. Miller; Pine Hall, Gertie Osmond; White Hall, Annie McWilliams; Branch, Albert Musser; Krumrine, W. C. Rye; Centre, J. B. Krebs; Kepler, M. E. Heberling; Glade, Mattie Ewing; Tadpole, F. W. Bailey; Penna. Furnace, Robt. Gardner; Baileyville, Sadie Miller; Maringo, I. T. Ellenberger; Gatesburg, Jacob Harpster. Dr. L. C. Thomas, of Iatrobe, accompanied by landlord H. C. Smith of the same place both expert bicyclists, were last Sunday met pushing up the steeps of old Tussey mountain after taking in Mooresville campmeeting, looking somewhat weary of their long journey over the Alleghenies. A distance of 122 miles in a day and a half. After laying over at Altoona, Tyrone and Petersburg, two hours at each place. The best time made was 5 miles in 19 1/2 minutes. After greeting old time associates here for a day they took their leave via Tyrone and Altoona, for home. Last Saturday was musicians' day in our town. Extensive arrangements had been made to have a glad day in the grove, in the style of a basket picnic. The day was warm and clouds of dust could be seen in all directions, as delegations poured into town, headed by brass bands; and horse back parties of ladies and gentlemen. Once in the grove Rev.

C. T. Aikens took charge of the ceremonies; Prof. J. A. Weaver, gave out the music that filled the grove, from a hundred voices and forty instruments. Rev. Wharton, of Stormstown, and Rev. Aikens were the orators of the day. The afternoon was spent listening to vocal and instrumental music, and enjoying themselves in pleasant social chat. It was not until the twilight of the evening that folks left for home, after having listened to strains of music that surpassed anything of the kind heretofore held in this section, in the shape of a musical picnic.

On Monday morning, the 28th inst, the sad intelligence of the death of one so much loved and respected was heralded from house to house. It was that of Miss Grace Viola Dunlap, the oldest daughter of S. A. and Lizzie Dunlap, of our town, she died of typhoid fever aged 17 years, 10 months and 3 days. For some days anxious friends and fond parents had sad forebodings that the end was near, and in a spirit of sweet submission she laid aside the fondest of all earthly ambitions, and all those bright futurities that youth and hope cherish, and went to meet her Father amid the tender ministrations of kind and loving friends. She died at 2 o'clock a. m. Thus the grim destroyer, death, has claimed for its own, one who always cast a ray of sunshine around the family hearth. Possessed of so many graces of mind and personal charms, she above all was faithful in her religious duties, having consecrated herself to the Master when a child. Those who knew her best will miss her most. Death is sad, but doubly so when the destroyer touches one so young and possessed of so many virtues. The funeral services were held on the 29th, her ministerial friend Rev. R. M. Hingsworth, of the M. E. church of which she was a member, officiated. His theme was Death, preached from thanks be to God who giveth the victory. His sermon was plain and practical, relating to the things death separates us from in this life, and the reward obtainable beyond the grave. Undertaker J. B. Heberling had charge of the burial, the neat casket was beautifully bedecked with flowers by kind and loving hands. The remains were viewed at the cemetery for the last time by a large gathering of people anxious to see the touch of human sympathy as they took a last look at the beautiful form. The choir sang "We will never say good-by in Heaven." The benediction was pronounced and the solemnities of the occasion were over. Alas! for love if thou wert all, And naught beyond, O Earth!

News Notes from Howard. Fred. Robb, of Romola, is on the grand jury for this week. Fishing is good here yet. Large eel catches are reported. Freight cars are still wanted at this point. We can use them. Drummer Thompson had a runaway with the "Floga mare" Wednesday. No one hurt. Chas. Lucas has been clerking for Harry Freeman. Freeman had overheated himself. Clarence Daily had a slight runaway also. No one hurt. He left the horse standing tied. Charles C. Freeman and Miss Edith McKeand were married, in Chicago, Aug. 17, 1893. Numerous presents were sent.

Pine Grove Mentions. Judge Keller says its a girl. Henry Krebs and wife are this week among the Grangers at Williams Grove. Hezekiah Ewing and wife have just returned from a seashore trip, much delighted. Charley Schatzer and wife, of the Mountain city, are spending the heated season by old Tussey Mountain's base. It would be well to have a sanitary committee to inspect the cut houses belonging to the public school buildings, which are in terrible condition. The prolonged dry spell was broken by a very heavy rain fall on Monday night. 5 inches of water fell accompanied by a nor'easter storm, scattering fences and trees and flattening the corn to the ground. October 1st will see the school doors open, and the youths will once again play with their books. Most of the old text books will be continued, though the board contemplated changing physiology and history. The ladies of Pine Hall Sunday school will hold a social next Saturday evening. A choice selection of refreshments will add to the interest of the evening's entertainment, to which every body is cordially invited. The aspirants from this end of the county, who were willing to serve the dear people, returned from the Republican convention last week. The look they wear shows they did hard explaining how the bosses shelled them. Mr. Wm. Young, oldest son of David H. Young, recently returned from a western tour principally in Whiteside Co., Ill., where Wm. says the panic struck hard and he resolved to return and spend the winter with and share Davy's hospitalities. Mr. Edwards, one of Lycoming county's brilliant legal lights; Miss Hamilton, of Bellefonte; Miss Elizabeth Pyscher, of Williamsport; and Joel Lender, one of Blair county's Bonanza Kings, were royally entertained last week at the mansion home of Jim Fortney. Mrs. John Craig, of Tionesta, accompanied by several of her bright little children, paid a brief visit to relatives here, after an absence of 18 years. She is still the same pleasant lady as of yore and sadly laments the death of her husband, who was one of our former town boys, and for the last 20 years of his life was a most competent R. R. agent, which position he held at the time of his death, at Tionesta, one month ago. That renowned camp meeting at Mooresville was well attended by Centre countians on Sunday. The maddest camper we noticed was Tom Frank, one of Rock Spring's big farmers, who routed out our buggy smith in the early morning for repairs. The next week occurred up the mountain whence he had to put back for a new wheel, in consequence he was late to camp, but in time for dinner which is Tom's living. The following corps of teachers have been elected for Ferguson township viz. Pine Grove Grammar, N. T. Krebs; Primary, Beckie Bollinger; Oak Grove, John G. Miller; Pine Hall, Gertie Osmond; White Hall, Annie McWilliams; Branch, Albert Musser; Krumrine, W. C. Rye; Centre, J. B. Krebs; Kepler, M. E. Heberling; Glade, Mattie Ewing; Tadpole, F. W. Bailey; Penna. Furnace, Robt. Gardner; Baileyville, Sadie Miller; Maringo, I. T. Ellenberger; Gatesburg, Jacob Harpster. Dr. L. C. Thomas, of Iatrobe, accompanied by landlord H. C. Smith of the same place both expert bicyclists, were last Sunday met pushing up the steeps of old Tussey mountain after taking in Mooresville campmeeting, looking somewhat weary of their long journey over the Alleghenies. A distance of 122 miles in a day and a half. After laying over at Altoona, Tyrone and Petersburg, two hours at each place. The best time made was 5 miles in 19 1/2 minutes. After greeting old time associates here for a day they took their leave via Tyrone and Altoona, for home. Last Saturday was musicians' day in our town. Extensive arrangements had been made to have a glad day in the grove, in the style of a basket picnic. The day was warm and clouds of dust could be seen in all directions, as delegations poured into town, headed by brass bands; and horse back parties of ladies and gentlemen. Once in the grove Rev.

C. T. Aikens took charge of the ceremonies; Prof. J. A. Weaver, gave out the music that filled the grove, from a hundred voices and forty instruments. Rev. Wharton, of Stormstown, and Rev. Aikens were the orators of the day. The afternoon was spent listening to vocal and instrumental music, and enjoying themselves in pleasant social chat. It was not until the twilight of the evening that folks left for home, after having listened to strains of music that surpassed anything of the kind heretofore held in this section, in the shape of a musical picnic.

On Monday morning, the 28th inst, the sad intelligence of the death of one so much loved and respected was heralded from house to house. It was that of Miss Grace Viola Dunlap, the oldest daughter of S. A. and Lizzie Dunlap, of our town, she died of typhoid fever aged 17 years, 10 months and 3 days. For some days anxious friends and fond parents had sad forebodings that the end was near, and in a spirit of sweet submission she laid aside the fondest of all earthly ambitions, and all those bright futurities that youth and hope cherish, and went to meet her Father amid the tender ministrations of kind and loving friends. She died at 2 o'clock a. m. Thus the grim destroyer, death, has claimed for its own, one who always cast a ray of sunshine around the family hearth. Possessed of so many graces of mind and personal charms, she above all was faithful in her religious duties, having consecrated herself to the Master when a child. Those who knew her best will miss her most. Death is sad, but doubly so when the destroyer touches one so young and possessed of so many virtues. The funeral services were held on the 29th, her ministerial friend Rev. R. M. Hingsworth, of the M. E. church of which she was a member, officiated. His theme was Death, preached from thanks be to God who giveth the victory. His sermon was plain and practical, relating to the things death separates us from in this life, and the reward obtainable beyond the grave. Undertaker J. B. Heberling had charge of the burial, the neat casket was beautifully bedecked with flowers by kind and loving hands. The remains were viewed at the cemetery for the last time by a large gathering of people anxious to see the touch of human sympathy as they took a last look at the beautiful form. The choir sang "We will never say good-by in Heaven." The benediction was pronounced and the solemnities of the occasion were over. Alas! for love if thou wert all, And naught beyond, O Earth!

News Notes from Howard. Fred. Robb, of Romola, is on the grand jury for this week. Fishing is good here yet. Large eel catches are reported. Freight cars are still wanted at this point. We can use them. Drummer Thompson had a runaway with the "Floga mare" Wednesday. No one hurt. Chas. Lucas has been clerking for Harry Freeman. Freeman had overheated himself. Clarence Daily had a slight runaway also. No one hurt. He left the horse standing tied. Charles C. Freeman and Miss Edith McKeand were married, in Chicago, Aug. 17, 1893. Numerous presents were sent.

Pine Grove Mentions. Judge Keller says its a girl. Henry Krebs and wife are this week among the Grangers at Williams Grove. Hezekiah Ewing and wife have just returned from a seashore trip, much delighted. Charley Schatzer and wife, of the Mountain city, are spending the heated season by old Tussey Mountain's base. It would be well to have a sanitary committee to inspect the cut houses belonging to the public school buildings, which are in terrible condition. The prolonged dry spell was broken by a very heavy rain fall on Monday night. 5 inches of water fell accompanied by a nor'easter storm, scattering fences and trees and flattening the corn to the ground. October 1st will see the school doors open, and the youths will once again play with their books. Most of the old text books will be continued, though the board contemplated changing physiology and history. The ladies of Pine Hall Sunday school will hold a social next Saturday evening. A choice selection of refreshments will add to the interest of the evening's entertainment, to which every body is cordially invited. The aspirants from this end of the county, who were willing to serve the dear people, returned from the Republican convention last week. The look they wear shows they did hard explaining how the bosses shelled them. Mr. Wm. Young, oldest son of David H. Young, recently returned from a western tour principally in Whiteside Co., Ill., where Wm. says the panic struck hard and he resolved to return and spend the winter with and share Davy's hospitalities. Mr. Edwards, one of Lycoming county's brilliant legal lights; Miss Hamilton, of Bellefonte; Miss Elizabeth Pyscher, of Williamsport; and Joel Lender, one of Blair county's Bonanza Kings, were royally entertained last week at the mansion home of Jim Fortney. Mrs. John Craig, of Tionesta, accompanied by several of her bright little children, paid a brief visit to relatives here, after an absence of 18 years. She is still the same pleasant lady as of yore and sadly laments the death of her husband, who was one of our former town boys, and for the last 20 years of his life was a most competent R. R. agent, which position he held at the time of his death, at Tionesta, one month ago. That renowned camp meeting at Mooresville was well attended by Centre countians on Sunday. The maddest camper we noticed was Tom Frank, one of Rock Spring's big farmers, who routed out our buggy smith in the early morning for repairs. The next week occurred up the mountain whence he had to put back for a new wheel, in consequence he was late to camp, but in time for dinner which is Tom's living. The following corps of teachers have been elected for Ferguson township viz. Pine Grove Grammar, N. T. Krebs; Primary, Beckie Bollinger; Oak Grove, John G. Miller; Pine Hall, Gertie Osmond; White Hall, Annie McWilliams; Branch, Albert Musser; Krumrine, W. C. Rye; Centre, J. B. Krebs; Kepler, M. E. Heberling; Glade, Mattie Ewing; Tadpole, F. W. Bailey; Penna. Furnace, Robt. Gardner; Baileyville, Sadie Miller; Maringo, I. T. Ellenberger; Gatesburg, Jacob Harpster. Dr. L. C. Thomas, of Iatrobe, accompanied by landlord H. C. Smith of the same place both expert bicyclists, were last Sunday met pushing up the steeps of old Tussey mountain after taking in Mooresville campmeeting, looking somewhat weary of their long journey over the Alleghenies. A distance of 122 miles in a day and a half. After laying over at Altoona, Tyrone and Petersburg, two hours at each place. The best time made was 5 miles in 19 1/2 minutes. After greeting old time associates here for a day they took their leave via Tyrone and Altoona, for home. Last Saturday was musicians' day in our town. Extensive arrangements had been made to have a glad day in the grove, in the style of a basket picnic. The day was warm and clouds of dust could be seen in all directions, as delegations poured into town, headed by brass bands; and horse back parties of ladies and gentlemen. Once in the grove Rev.

C. T. Aikens took charge of the ceremonies; Prof. J. A. Weaver, gave out the music that filled the grove, from a hundred voices and forty instruments. Rev. Wharton, of Stormstown, and Rev. Aikens were the orators of the day. The afternoon was spent listening to vocal and instrumental music, and enjoying themselves in pleasant social chat. It was not until the twilight of the evening that folks left for home, after having listened to strains of music that surpassed anything of the kind heretofore held in this section, in the shape of a musical picnic.

On Monday morning, the 28th inst, the sad intelligence of the death of one so much loved and respected was heralded from house to house. It was that of Miss Grace Viola Dunlap, the oldest daughter of S. A. and Lizzie Dunlap, of our town, she died of typhoid fever aged 17 years, 10 months and 3 days. For some days anxious friends and fond parents had sad forebodings that the end was near, and in a spirit of sweet submission she laid aside the fondest of all earthly ambitions, and all those bright futurities that youth and hope cherish, and went to meet her Father amid the tender ministrations of kind and loving friends. She died at 2 o'clock a. m. Thus the grim destroyer, death, has claimed for its own, one who always cast a ray of sunshine around the family hearth. Possessed of so many graces of mind and personal charms, she above all was faithful in her religious duties, having consecrated herself to the Master when a child. Those who knew her best will miss her most. Death is sad, but doubly so when the destroyer touches one so young and possessed of so many virtues. The funeral services were held on the 29th, her ministerial friend Rev. R. M. Hingsworth, of the M. E. church of which she was a member, officiated. His theme was Death, preached from thanks be to God who giveth the victory. His sermon was plain and practical, relating to the things death separates us from in this life, and the reward obtainable beyond the grave. Undertaker J. B. Heberling had charge of the burial, the neat casket was beautifully bedecked with flowers by kind and loving hands. The remains were viewed at the cemetery for the last time by a large gathering of people anxious to see the touch of human sympathy as they took a last look at the beautiful form. The choir sang "We will never say good-by in Heaven." The benediction was pronounced and the solemnities of the occasion were over. Alas! for love if thou wert all, And naught beyond, O Earth!

News Notes from Howard. Fred. Robb, of Romola, is on the grand jury for this week. Fishing is good here yet. Large eel catches are reported. Freight cars are still wanted at this point. We can use them. Drummer Thompson had a runaway with the "Floga mare" Wednesday. No one hurt. Chas. Lucas has been clerking for Harry Freeman. Freeman had overheated himself. Clarence Daily had a slight runaway also. No one hurt. He left the horse standing tied. Charles C. Freeman and Miss Edith McKeand were married, in Chicago, Aug. 17, 1893. Numerous presents were sent.

Pine Grove Mentions. Judge Keller says its a girl. Henry Krebs and wife are this week among the Grangers at Williams Grove. Hezekiah Ewing and wife have just returned from a seashore trip, much delighted. Charley Schatzer and wife, of the Mountain city, are spending the heated season by old Tussey Mountain's base. It would be well to have a sanitary committee to inspect the cut houses belonging to the public school buildings, which are in terrible condition. The prolonged dry spell was broken by a very heavy rain fall on Monday night. 5 inches of water fell accompanied by a nor'easter storm, scattering fences and trees and flattening the corn to the ground. October 1st will see the school doors open, and the youths will once again play with their books. Most of the old text books will be continued, though the board contemplated changing physiology and history. The ladies of Pine Hall Sunday school will hold a social next Saturday evening. A choice selection of refreshments will add to the interest of the evening's entertainment, to which every body is cordially invited. The aspirants from this end of the county, who were willing to serve the dear people, returned from the Republican convention last week. The look they wear shows they did hard explaining how the bosses shelled them. Mr. Wm. Young, oldest son of David H. Young, recently returned from a western tour principally in Whiteside Co., Ill., where Wm. says the panic struck hard and he resolved to return and spend the winter with and share Davy's hospitalities. Mr. Edwards, one of Lycoming county's brilliant legal lights; Miss Hamilton, of Bellefonte; Miss Elizabeth Pyscher, of Williamsport; and Joel Lender, one of Blair county's Bonanza Kings, were royally entertained last week at the mansion home of Jim Fortney. Mrs. John Craig, of Tionesta, accompanied by several of her bright little children, paid a brief visit to relatives here, after an absence of 18 years. She is still the same pleasant lady as of yore and sadly laments the death of her husband, who was one of our former town boys, and for the last 20 years of his life was a most competent R. R. agent, which position he held at the time of his death, at Tionesta, one month ago. That renowned camp meeting at Mooresville was well attended by Centre countians on Sunday. The maddest camper we noticed was Tom Frank, one of Rock Spring's big farmers, who routed out our buggy smith in the early morning for repairs. The next week occurred up the mountain whence he had to put back for a new wheel, in consequence he was late to camp, but in time for dinner which is Tom's living. The following corps of teachers have been elected for Ferguson township viz. Pine Grove Grammar, N. T. Krebs; Primary, Beckie Bollinger; Oak Grove, John G. Miller; Pine Hall, Gertie Osmond; White Hall, Annie McWilliams; Branch, Albert Musser; Krumrine, W. C. Rye; Centre, J. B. Krebs; Kepler, M. E. Heberling; Glade, Mattie Ewing; Tadpole, F. W. Bailey; Penna. Furnace, Robt. Gardner; Baileyville, Sadie Miller; Maringo, I. T. Ellenberger; Gatesburg, Jacob Harpster. Dr. L. C. Thomas, of Iatrobe, accompanied by landlord H. C. Smith of the same place both expert bicyclists, were last Sunday met pushing up the steeps of old Tussey mountain after taking in Mooresville campmeeting, looking somewhat weary of their long journey over the Alleghenies. A distance of 122 miles in a day and a half. After laying over at Altoona, Tyrone and Petersburg, two hours at each place. The best time made was 5 miles in 19 1/2 minutes. After greeting old time associates here for a day they took their leave via Tyrone and Altoona, for home. Last Saturday was musicians' day in our town. Extensive arrangements had been made to have a glad day in the grove, in the style of a basket picnic. The day was warm and clouds of dust could be seen in all directions, as delegations poured into town, headed by brass bands; and horse back parties of ladies and gentlemen. Once in the grove Rev.

C. T. Aikens took charge of the ceremonies; Prof. J. A. Weaver, gave out the music that filled the grove, from a hundred voices and forty instruments. Rev. Wharton, of Stormstown, and Rev. Aikens were the orators of the day. The afternoon was spent listening to vocal and instrumental music, and enjoying themselves in pleasant social chat. It was not until the twilight of the evening that folks left for home, after having listened to strains of music that surpassed anything of the kind heretofore held in this section, in the shape of a musical picnic.

On Monday morning, the 28th inst, the sad intelligence of the death of one so much loved and respected was heralded from house to house. It was that of Miss Grace Viola Dunlap, the oldest daughter of S. A. and Lizzie Dunlap, of our town, she died of typhoid fever aged 17 years, 10 months and 3 days. For some days anxious friends and fond parents had sad forebodings that the end was near, and in a spirit of sweet submission she laid aside the fondest of all earthly ambitions, and all those bright futurities that youth and hope cherish, and went to meet her Father amid the tender ministrations of kind and loving friends. She died at 2 o'clock a. m. Thus the grim destroyer, death, has claimed for its own, one who always cast a ray of sunshine around the family hearth. Possessed of so many graces of mind and personal charms, she above all was faithful in her religious duties, having consecrated herself to the Master when a child. Those who knew her best will miss her most. Death is sad, but doubly so when the destroyer touches one so young and possessed of so many virtues. The funeral services were held on the 29th, her ministerial friend Rev. R. M. Hingsworth, of the M. E. church of which she was a member, officiated. His theme was Death, preached from thanks be to God who giveth the victory. His sermon was plain and practical, relating to the things death separates us from in this life, and the reward obtainable beyond the grave. Undertaker J. B. Heberling had charge of the burial, the neat casket was beautifully bedecked with flowers by kind and loving hands. The remains were viewed at the cemetery for the last time by a large gathering of people anxious to see the touch of human sympathy as they took a last look at the beautiful form. The choir sang "We will never say good-by in Heaven." The benediction was pronounced and the solemnities of the occasion were over. Alas! for love if thou wert all, And naught beyond, O Earth!