GAYNESBORO, Centre County, Pa., Aug. 9, 1892
To the N. F. German Rheumatic Cure Co.,
Tyrona, Pa.
GENTLEMEN—I had suffered with Rheumatism for many years, when, at the advanced age of seventy-seven years, your cure was recommended to me. I had tried upon myself everything known to me, (I am a doctor of fifty-one years experience) and had disappeared of ever being cured. Your remedy was taken according to directions, and after using the second package the disease left me entirely and no rheumatic pain or ache has troubled me since.
I can recommend it without hesitancy to all afflicted with the disease, and being familiar with the ingredients contained in the compound, can recommend them as being non-injurious to the constitution, and as being the most efficient blood remedial known.
Truly Yours,

Siberia Has a Salt Lake.
Exploration Has Formed a Roof Under Which Travelers May Sail.
At the first view it was a vast snow plain, surrounded by fields of ripening wheat, says a writer in the Geographical Magazine. The great salt lake at Obdorsk is nine miles wide and seventeen miles long, except in a few places, it is solidly roofed over with a deposit of salt, which is getting thicker and thicker every year. Our guide who is an old man, said that he could remember when the salt crystals first began to form upon the surface of the water. Year by year, owing to the evaporation of the water, the crystals became more numerous, and then caked together, till this great roof formed. In 1878 the water beneath this salt crystal roof found an underground outlet into the River Obi. This lowered the lake's surface about three feet, leaving that distance between the water and the roof. Looking down through one of the openings made for the purpose in the roof, we saw a low-sided small boat. Our guide put us one at a time into the boat. We lay flat on our backs and looked up at the curiously beautiful salt ceiling overhead. We propelled the boat by pushing with our hands against the irregularities of the roof. The guide held a long rope attached to the boat to prevent our going too far and getting lost, a thing, he said, it was easy to do.
It was like a palace of enchantment, with the sun shining down through the salt crystals, the colors were so rich and wonderful. Many springs surround this lake. Their water flows over the roof and evaporates there, and thus continually adds to its thickness. After many years the springs will probably become choked with their own deposits, and then the whole will gradually become covered with earth, and so a great salt mine will be formed—a treasure for the Siberians hundreds of years to come.

Madeleine Pollard.
Madeleine V. Pollard, whose sensational $50,000 damage suit for breach of promise and seduction, against Congressman Breckenridge, has horrified official and society circles in Washington, is described as a not particularly attractive woman, short and rather stout. Miss Pollard's complaint, as filed by her attorney, states that she first made the acquaintance of Colonel Breckenridge in 1884, at the age of 17, when she was a student of the Wesleyan Female Institute of Cincinnati; and that their relations have continued since that time. Upon the death of his wife, last year, Miss Pollard claims that the Colonel gave her a promise of marriage, which promise was received upon many later occasions, and in the presence of witnesses.
The announcement was made in Washington a few months ago, and sent out in the press dispatches from the Capital, to the effect that Miss Pollard and Mr. Breckenridge were soon to be married. It was but a short time afterward that the marriage of Breckenridge to Mrs. Louise King, of Louisville, was made public.
On the announcement of his marriage, Miss Pollard was taken seriously ill; and upon recovery filed the complaint mentioned. Her attorneys are Jeremiah M. Wilson and Calderon Carlise, and it is a noticeable fact that they are two of the most distinguished and reputable lawyers in Washington, who would not be likely to have undertaken any such suit if they had not a good deal of faith in the candor and truthfulness of their client's story.

What Every Man Is Worth.
The Chemical Compounds of an Average Voter are Valued at $15,300.
An interesting exhibit at the National Museum shows that the chemical ingredients which go to make up the average man weighing 154 pounds. Divided up into his primary chemical elements the man is found to contain ninety-seven pounds of oxygen, enough to take up the ordinary atmospheric pressure, the space of a room ten feet long, ten feet wide, and ten feet high. His body also holds fifteen pounds of hydrogen, which, under the same conditions, would occupy somewhat more than two such rooms as that described. To these must be added three pounds and thirteen ounces of nitrogen. The carbon in the corpus of the individual referred to is represented by a foot cube of coal. It ought to be a diamond of the same size, because the stone is pure carbon, but the National Museum has not such a one in its possession. A row of bottles contain the other elements going to make up the man. These are 4 ounces of chlorine, 3 1/2 ounces of fluorine, 8 ounces of phosphorus, 3 1/2 ounces of bromine, 2 1/2 ounces of sodium, 2 1/2 ounces of potassium, 1-10 of an ounce of iron, 2 ounces of magnesium and 3 pounds and 13 ounces of calcium. Calcium, at present market rates, is worth $300 an ounce, so that the amount of it contained in one human body has a money value of $15,300. Few of our fellow-citizens realize that they are worth so much intrinsically.

Warning to Wives.
"But for my husband I might have gone to jail once," laughed a bright little business woman the other day. "It was in honeymoon time, and, like many brides I thought all my husband's belongings were mine and what was mine was my own, as the saying goes. During his absence a man called with a bill for $80. I got the checkbook, made out a check, signed my husband's name and paid the account. The next day a bank messenger came in with what he said forged, and for a while the air was blue. Finally I mustered courage to explain, but since then I have never signed my husband's name to a check or opened his letters. I find the rule, 'mind your own business,' works as well at home as in the store.—New York Sun.

Finest Ironclad Afloat.
At the beginning of his tragic Chilean presidency Balmaceda ordered three ironclads at the Chantiers de la Seine, Toulon, France. Two, it will be remembered, were after some demur handed over to Balmaceda's adversaries. The third, the Captain Prat, has just been armed and will shortly start for Chile, where it will be warmly welcomed. The builders claim that it is the finest ironclad afloat.
Its cost was $2,700,000, besides $200,000 for incidental expense. The construction of it was begun in April, 1889, and it is named after the brave captain who fell at Iquique on May 21, 1889. It is a vessel of 7000 tons, is 109 yards long by 20 yards wide, draws 20 feet of water, and is of 12,000-horse power. It has 12 canon and 20 Hotchkiss guns and 5 Gatling mitrailleurs. Its guns are worked by electricity, and it has a Fiske telemeter and Bullivant antitorpedo netting. The crew number 450 men, and are at present under the command of Captain Valenzuela Day.—Chicago Herald.

Soap Missionaries.
A new agency in sanitary matters has come into vogue of late years. It is a public health committee composed of ladies. Several English towns and cities, including Manchester, have formed such an organization, while one has existed in New York for ten years, and Philadelphia has just followed suit. In England these health promoters make house to house visits, taking with them carbolic powder and soap, which they may sell or distribute gratuitously according to the circumstances of the persons visited. They make suggestions as to cleanliness, report cases of overcrowding and of infectious diseases, and inform the health authorities of the condition of the property they inspect. As ferreters out of uncleanness and disregard of proper sanitary regulations women have no superiors. Their knowledge of domestic economy and policy is of a very practical character, and it is easy to see that as coadjutors of the public authorities they can render service of much value.—Chicago Herald.

Telling a Man By His Shake.
"Let me shake hands with a man and I will tell you something about his character," said a physician to the delegate. "The firm, hearty handshake of a sincere man may be rather rough, so that one is taught he has a grip, but it indicates stamina. While denoting absence of tact and refinement it points to strength of character. The hesitating, insinuating hand that slips away from easily belongs to the clever man. It is peculiar to the Irish. Its owner is shrewd, never embarrassed, and skilled at repartee. The flabby hand that returns no pressure, belongs to the man who would not go out of his way to meet you. The quick, nervous handshake of an excitable, nervous temperament, and its opposite, the nerveless, passive one, belongs to persons in ill-health. The hand that threatens to collapse in yours means deceit. It is the same with the man whose touch feels like that of a snake. Idlers shake harder and longer than other people. Such a shake impresses me much as a loud speech that has nothing in it."
William L. Wilson.
The New Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

One of the most prominent figures in the present Congress is William L. Wilson, of West Virginia. It was he who introduced the bill passed in the House for the repeal of the Sherman silver purchase act, and he was appointed Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, the most important committee of the House. Mr. Wilson is an ardent Democrat, and of late years has become a shining light in his party. He is a West Virginian by birth, is 50 years old and is a lawyer, with his home in Charlestown. During the war he served in the Confederate army.
General James Longstreet is expected to attend the Confederate reunion to be held at Waynesville, N. C., October 11-13. He writes that his health is feeble, but he hopes to be present, as it would afford him much pleasure to be there and meet so many of the comrades so dear to his heart.
The Queen Consort of Siam has worked an elaborate embroidery as a cover to an album containing a souvenir of the Siamese exhibit in the Woman's Building at the World's Fair, which will be presented to Mrs. Potter Palmer as President of the Board of Lady Managers.
Five Irish Peers take the irritles from palaces that are not to be found on the map of Ireland. These are the Duke of Abercorn, the Earl of Sheffield, the Earl of Darnley, Viscount Bargar, and Viscount Hawarden.
It is said that Mrs. Blaine is anxious to leave Washington forever, and that all the Blaine property there is for sale.
What is the quickest way to remove warts? "I asked a young man from Clinton county. Have you tried a stump puller?"
In the language of Congressman Amos J. Cummings, Secretary Carlisle is the greatest living exponent of parliamentary law.
The big mills of the Pennsylvania steel company, near Harrisburg, are preparing to resume their activity.

Perhaps some of our readers would like to know in what respect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better than any other. We will tell you. When this Remedy is taken as soon as a cold has been contracted, and before it has become settled in the system, it will counteract the effect of the cold and greatly lessen its severity, and it is the only remedy that will do this. It acts in perfect harmony with nature and aids nature in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions, liquefying the mucus and causing its expulsion from the air cells of the lungs and restoring the system to a strong and healthy condition. No other remedy in the market possesses these remarkable properties. No other will cure a cold so quickly. For sale by F. Potts Green.

"Mary, did you not hear me when I called?" inquired a young housewife of a somewhat quick-tempered and impudent cook.
"Yes, mum," replied the cook.
"Then why did you not answer me?"
"Shure, mum, it was only last Thursday that you said if I answered you back again you'd discharge me. I was only trying to follow your order I was."

Now TRY THIS.—It will cost you nothing and will surely do you good, if you have a Cough, Cold, or any trouble with Throat, Chest or Lungs, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to give relief, or money will be paid back. Sufferers from La Grippe found it just the thing and under its use had a speedy and perfect recovery. Try a sample bottle at our expense and learn for yourself just how good a thing it is. THE MYTHOLOGICAL FATES:
"Somewhere upon the unknown shores,
Where the streams of life their waters pour,
There sit three sisters, ever
Weaving a silken thread."
Lovers of classic paintings are familiar with that famous group, called the "Three Fates." Fate seems cruel when it deprives women and girls of health. But in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription they find a cure of untold value for nervous prostration, sick headache, bearing down pains, bloating, weak stomach, anorexia, retroversion, and all those excruciating complaints that make their lives so miserable. All who use it praise it. It contains no hurtful ingredients, and is guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or its price ($1.00) will be refunded.

SCROFULA IN FACE AND NECK—BLIND AT TIMES.
Hood's Sarsaparilla Restored Health—Gained 33 Pounds in Weight.
"I have been a very great sufferer from a serious case of scrofula. First, a large bunch came in my neck, growing as big as a good sized apple. It was as hard as bone, and after drawing it to a head doctor Ianced it, and for two years it was A RUNNING SORE.
Then we succeeded in healing it up, but the disease began to appear in my face, which would swell up and affect my eyes. Every morning they were so inflamed and swollen that I was blind. The swelling would subside in the middle of the afternoon so that I could see a little. Well, I was in this condition for about a year. I went to every physician in my town,
HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA CURES
all of whom failed to help me and said nothing could be done to cure me. But I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had used a bottle and a half, the swelling in my face had entirely gone down. I kept on taking the medicine, and gained 33 pounds in weight.
I HAVE BEEN PERFECTLY CURED
am now in good health, and confidently say Hood's Sarsaparilla saved me from the grave. To-day I am looking as stout and hearty as ever in my life." Wm. Eriak, West Duluth, Minn.

IMPORTANT—If you cannot read this print distinctly by lamp or gaslight in the evening, at a distance of ten inches, your eyesight is falling, no matter what your age, and your eyes need help. Your sight can be improved and preserved if properly corrected. It is a wrong idea that spectacles should be dispensed with as long as possible. If they assist the vision, use them. There is no danger of seeing too well, so long as the print is not magnified; it should look natural size, but plain and distinct. Don't fail to call and have your eyes tested by King's New System, and fitted with Combination spectacles. They will correct and preserve the sight. For sale by
