For and About Women.

In all France there is said to be but one woman journalist, one whose word and influence count for anything, but she ranks high. She is Mme. Severine, and her home and sphere is, of course, in Paris. She makes, it is said, $12,000 to $15,000 a year by her writings. She is prominent in the public eye just now because of the work she is accomplishing with her relief bureau in a field occupied here by the fresh air fund and relief organization of like character.

If you would avoid wrinkles, care not only for your skin, but your nerves. Control your temper and do not try to have a too expressive and vivacious countenance. Sleep nine hours a night and an hour a day. Decline to worry. Wear smoked glasses instead of scowling fiercely at the sunlight and the water. Refuse to try to distinguish things afar off. Wash your face in warm water once a day, and rub it softly with flannel after washing. Feed it with pure cold cream. Don't be afraid of occasional sunburn. It smooths the face wonderfully. But, above all, be emotionless.

The new French yoke skirt is greatly liked by women inclined to stoutness, and modistes are using it in making up both narrow and very wide dress goods. Some of the yokes reach far below the hips, and to this yoke, which is in the semi-circular shape, exactly like that on a French petat, are sewed the gored breasts of the skirt in bell form. Yoke and skirt are made of the same fabric, and the former is entirely concealed by an apron overskirt or one longer and slightly draped on the hips. The arrangement is likewise very satisfactory to women who fancy kilted skirts, but dislike the bulky broadening folds at the top. The yoke does away with this superfluous massing of fabric below the waist, while having all the effect of a skirt kilted from belt to hem.

The novel French swallow-tail basque has two very long pleats in the back, while in the front it has a round zouave jacket shape.

If you want a really distinguished coat this year, it must be one absolutely plain double breasted, and with strapped seams and stitched edges. Indeed, the real excuse for all these fussy notions about gowns and coats is that it gives the wise woman who does not indulge in such frivolous and frills a chance to look really dignified and stunning with apparently little effect. The woman who secures her effect of "style" by not doing the things is always away ahead in good form of the woman who depends on what she does for her effects.

Spangles are a great deal used just now. Felt hats have a row of spangles around the edge. These are mounted on a narrow heading of jet and lap over each other. Toques are often bordered with spangles, but in their case the spangles are mounted on a stiff band set vertically on the edge. Charming models appear with full crown of scarlet or fuchsia red velvet, encircled in this way. The trimming may be a cluster of black satin roses with jet hearts, or a rosette made of clipped cock's feathers, each feather brightened up with a dash of blue or green about the edge. In both cases a couple of quills feathers may be added or a pair of handsome jet pins.

Let my lady venture forth upon the street and she will be pointed out, in a double sense. She is arrayed, it may be, in one of the new overskirts, not full or draped or looped or caught up in any way but following closely the lines of the underskirt, and decorated, if we may use the term, with five enormous points of a great star from the knee almost to the hem. The points are insisted upon, they are made forcible, they are emphasized by startling contrasts of color. Perhaps they are pale green over dark green, or yellow over dark brown, or vice versa, or even white contrasting sharply with black, a favorite combination of colors this year. With such an overskirt are worn the usual puff sleeves and perky hat.

Mink collarettes are to be worn as usual this winter. The style is a little changed and the straight collar band, with head, claws and tail, is stretched and shaped in the middle until it forms a collarette and is capable of being turned up like a storm collar or down like a tippet.

Brush the teeth crosswise but very little, but up and down, front and back, making the bristles go around them at the back. Water slightly warmed, or about the temperature of the mouth, is best, and precipitated chalk is the best powder to use for keeping tartar from forming. A littleorris root powdered may be added to flavor it. A smooth pointed stick of orange or other tough wood dipped in powdered pumice stone may be used occasionally to rub off any tartar that has formed, but care should be used not to force it between the gums and teeth, or to scour hard enough to injure the enamel.

Passengers over the Rumford Falls Railroad Maine, always notice upon the platform at East Peru a plump and pretty girl who wears a cap with gold lace and a brass shield, and on the shield is "Station Agent." This is Miss Barbara, and she has charge of the station at East Peru. She is attentive to her duties, the trainmen always have a smile and a pleasant word for her and many a drummer vainly attempts to appropriate a share of her smiles as the train whisks past. This needless to comment on the neatness of East Peru's station.

Mrs. U. S. Grant, who has gone to California to pass the winter, that she may escape the rigors of the climate of the East, will rest for a while in Santa Barbara, having given up her plan of staying at San Diego. When she has recovered from the fatigue of the overland journey, she will go to San Francisco.

THE THEFT OF TIME.

We were old cronies, Time and I; I counted him as a deathless friend, For he gave me a love, as the days went by. So rare and fair, it seemed to send The soul away on an errand of bliss To where the regions of rapture be. He grew older, and, seeing this, Time took my love away from me.

She loved me well in the days gone by— Love we had, and as deathless friend, So rare and fair, it seemed to send The soul away on an errand of bliss To where the regions of rapture be. She was sorry, and so was I, When we found that Time was stealing by, And taking my love away from me.

And Time has tried with a lavish hand, To win me back with gifts of gold, And smiling acres of meadow-land, And the winking ways of the days of old— The bloom of health and men's applause— All this he has given me boundlessly, But Time is never my friend, because He has taken my love away from me.

—Christianity served on ice makes empty pews. Warm hearts, warm greetings, warm handshakings are means of grace. People meet every Sunday for years in some of our churches, and if they attempted to get up a smile of recognition they would receive a look like unto the Egyptian sphinx.

LA GRIPPE.—During the prevalence of the Grippe the past season it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of La Grippe, but in all Diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free trial Bottles at Parrish's Drug Store.

—There are people who say they want to meet their friends in heaven who do not try to get very close to them on earth.

—Are your children subject to croup. If so you should never be without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is a certain cure for croup, and has never been known to fail. If given freely as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is the sole reliance with thousands of mothers who have croupy children, and never disappoints them. There is no danger in giving this Remedy in large and frequent doses, as it contains nothing injurious. 5 cent bottles for sale by F. Potts Green.

—To open a new highway in Minneapolis the graves of the founders of the city are being despoiled and the bones moved to potter's field.

Go tell it, ye breezes, from desert to sea, The "Prescription" has triumphed, fair woman is free! Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the one princely remedy above all others I made especially for woman, it is adapted to her special needs and fulfills every requirement. No condition so critical as to defy it! No emergency so great as to balk it! As a woman's restorative and regulator, the "Favorite Prescription" is master of the situation. Positively guaranteed to give satisfaction in all cases, or money paid for it returned. The only medicine for woman sold on trial!

Luxurious Traveling. The climax of comfortable and luxurious traveling is apparently reached by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, Ease and comfort go with the traveler making a trip from Chicago to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha or Sioux City over this road. Their superb electric-lighted vestibuled trains leaving Chicago for these points early every evening are great favorites, nothing being left undone by the officials or employees to ensure a most enjoyable trip. Excellent dining service is maintained and buffet library cars are attached to the train, where out-of-door meals may be served while smoking a cigar with all the pleasure of one's own "den" at home. Electric lights placed in every berth enable the traveler to spend his wakeful hours, after retiring over his favorite novel or other reading matter. Private compartment cars are run between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis. In fact, everything that goes to ensure comfort and security is provided. The trip from Chicago to any of the above named cities requires but a night's run, bringing one at the destination ready for breakfast and business in the morning. All coupon ticket agents have tickets on sale via Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, or call on or address Jas. R. Post, district passenger agent, Williamsport, Pa.

California Homes. A considerable portion of California is admirably adapted by nature for comfortable homes. There is perhaps no place in the world where a family of moderate means to begin with, and of industrious habits, can live so easily, enjoying not only the comforts but even the luxuries of life.

Instead of being, as many suppose, a place where only the wealthy can enjoy life, it is peculiarly adapted to homes of thrifty people who earn their daily bread, and while one without means would undoubtedly find it very difficult to get a start, a man with a small capital can very soon surround himself with luxuries that only the wealthy can enjoy elsewhere.

A small tract of land (10 acres, or at most 20) is enough, which can be purchased at a reasonable price, if outside of a "boom" district. With intelligence and industry used in planting and cultivating it, an income is certain. It should be part orchard and part vineyard. While the trees and vines are being brought into bearing enough to materially contribute to the maintenance of the family can be grown between the trees, and if the neighborhood has been well selected, every member of the family able and willing to work can find pleasant and remunerative labor in orchards and vineyards near by, and minister to the support of the family while acquiring the knowledge and skill necessary to the handling of their own crop.

The third year a considerable return may be expected from the vineyard, and from a part of the orchard. As the work has all been done by the family, this will be nearly all net income. The next year and thereafter there will be work enough, and returns enough on the home place.

Costly buildings are not necessary, for the climate is such that in much of the State life in the open air is entirely pleasant for three hundred days in the year. In the Coast Range of mountains, between San Francisco and Monterey, are many such homes. At first, they were made on the valley land on either side of the range. Year after year they have crept up into the little valleys between the spurs of the foothills; then on to the foothills, and in many places clear to the summits. All through they have found excellent soil, good pure water, and everywhere an exceedingly healthful climate. Nestled in these little valleys are some of the most delightful places in the world. So mild is the climate that fuchsias and geraniums grow all winter and the family garden is planted in the fall, yielding good crops of peas, potatoes and any semi-hard vegetables in February. There is plenty of land, equally productive, now in the market and at low prices, and persons looking for a location for a comfortable home should not fail to visit this promising region.

The Santa Cruz Division of the Southern Pacific Company's Pacific System laps this range of mountains near the southern extremity, its two long tunnels passing under the main range. The new vegetable shortening. Wherever introduced, it drives lard from the kitchen, and indigestion from the table. It has been tried by every test, and has met every requirement. It is as much superior to lard as the electric light is to the tallow-dip. The only question now is, will you give your family the benefits which its use bestows?
