Bellefonte, Pa., Dec. 1, 1893.

To CORRESPONDENTS.—No communications published unless accompanied by the real name of the writer.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

—Only twenty-six more days until Christmas.

—Was your Thanksgiving day a pleasant one?

—The Bellefonte steam laundry will be ready for business on Monday.

—The poor of Bellefonte were all remembered yesterday in some way or other.

—The Bellefonte Wheelman's club banqueted at Ceador's on last Friday night.

—The Thanksgiving assembly at the college to-night will attract many people from here.

—“An Irishman's Luck” will make you laugh. At the opera house, Wednesday evening, Dec. 6th.

—Revival services are being conducted in the Methodist churches at Coleville and Rock Forge.

—The Undine Steam Fire Engine Company's grand Thanksgiving ball in the Arcade Wednesday evening was a decided success.

—Mr. Victor Gray, of Philipsburg, led a very interesting Thanksgiving service for young men in the Y. M. C. A. rooms last evening.

—B. C. Achenbach, our popular Bishop street baker, distributed one hundred loaves of bread among the poor of the town yesterday.

—Because the loss of an eye is not considered a disability by the Bureau W. H. Taylor, of Spring township, was recently refused a pension.

—The Philipsburg papers are still trying to make their readers believe that Lewis and Connelly's treasure is hidden in a cave on Wolf's Run.

—The choristers of St. John's Episcopal church were entertained by the ladies of that congregation, in the rectory, last Thursday evening.

—Memorial services to the late James Laurie and John Rankin were held in the Presbyterian chapel on Sunday evening by the Y. P. S. C. E.

—Bare footed youngsters still continue to fish with loops in the clear waters of Spring Creek, notwithstanding there is ice all along the shores.

—Mail carrier John Wagner is happy because of his thirteenth child. It is a little daughter and came Monday night. He is afraid he has struck his “hoo-doo” number.

—The widow of the late John Odenkirk will continue as proprietor of the famous Old Fort hotel, in Potter township. Frank Bradford will manage the business for her.

—Lee B. Woodcock is teaching Principal J. P. Hughes' classes in the Academy in the absence of the well known old instructor who still enjoys and must have his annual deer hunt.

—The union Thanksgiving service for Bellefonte was held in the new Lutheran church, at 10:30 yesterday morning. Rev. Miles O. Noll, of the Reformed church, preached the sermon.

—The people of Bellefonte should begin to think of the cantata of “Jephtha and his daughter” which will soon be given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. It will be a grand entertainment.

—A new style of money order is about to be adopted by the post office department. It will be under a form in which the payee's name is introduced and it will be made negotiable like a bank check.

—Rev. J. C. Young performed the ceremony, last evening, which made Miss Rena Johnston the wife of Calvin Lose. The happy event was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents at Pleasant Gap.

—Curtin township has not had a tax collector for over a year. The regularly elected officer would not file a bond to serve and a number of men were appointed, by the Commissioners, all of whom refused.

—Tomorrow John D. Sourbeck the High street grocer, will give away four hundred loaves of bread to the deserving poor of Bellefonte. On Christmas day he proposes increasing the donation to six hundred.

—Sheriff Isler and officers Gares and Foulk went out into the Ridges the other night with the hope of surprising Watkins and Meese, two escaped prisoners, who were said to have been hiding in a wild goose chase, however.

—Every body should save up their spare change so as to be ready to purchase one or more tickets to the cantata of “Jephtha and his daughter” which will be given in Garman's opera house soon. It will be a fine production and when it is known that the benefit will be for the Y. M. C. A. every one should turn out and help the thing along.

THE NOVEMBER TERM OF QUARTER SESSIONS.

—The regular November term of quarter sessions court convened Monday morning with judges Furst, Riley and Faulkner on the bench and an unusually large attendance. The most of the morning session was taken up in hearing constable's returns and transacting the business of the court. This being done a long criminal list was taken up and hustled through by Wednesday afternoon when the civil cases were taken up. Court adjourned at noon yesterday until this morning to give all an opportunity of having a little Thanksgiving. Below is a list of the cases in order as taken up, but sentences are not appended because they have not yet been pronounced.

Commonwealth vs Gottlieb Haag for selling liquor to minors. Prosecutor John Bowers, of Julian. True bill but case continued. This suit was brought by a young man who was a defendant at the August term for having disturbed a festival near his home. At the time he was drunk on whiskey said to have been bought at Haag's.

Commonwealth vs Al. S. Garman for selling liquor to minors. Prosecutor John Bowers, of Julian. Case very much same as above and continued after a true bill was found.

Commonwealth vs Ralph Hartsock. F. and B., Jennie Clark, prosecutrix. Nolle Pros entered and defendant gave bond for $500.

Commonwealth vs R. H. Houser; false pretense. True bill and case continued until next term.

Commonwealth vs Harry Gehret; F. and B. Prosecutrix, Mary Ashman. True bill and defendant entered into recognizance for his appearance at the next term.

Commonwealth vs George Winslow; F. and B. Prosecutrix, Lydia Kirchoff. Case settled.

Commonwealth vs Samuel Immel; assault and threats. Daniel Baney prosecutor. Not guilty. Prosecutor pays $ and defendant balance of costs and entered into his recognizance for $300 to keep the peace for one year.

Commonwealth vs John Burns; F. and B. Jennie Biddle prosecutrix. True bill.

Commonwealth vs Geo. Drury; felonious assault. Verdict not guilty and county to pay costs.

Commonwealth vs R. S. Walk; F. and B. Prosecutrix Grace Simler. True bill and defendant entered recognizance in the sum of $500 for his appearance at next term.

Commonwealth vs Charles Johnson; larceny. There were several counts against Johnson and he was only found guilty of stealing a razor. This is the prisoner who broke jail and was recaptured at Kane.

Commonwealth vs Harvey Baird; aggravated assault and battery. Prosecutor Samuel Page. Bill ignored and prosecutor pays costs.

Commonwealth vs Wm. Meese, John Freeman and Robert Watkins; breaking jail. True bills were found against all of them, but as they are still at large nothing more could be done.

Commonwealth vs Albert Kuhns; assault, battery and threats. D. B. Kuhns prosecutor. Defendant plead guilty and gave bail for payment of costs and surety of the peace for one year.

Commonwealth vs Wm. Walker; catching trout on outlines. This case was held over from last term when a true bill was found. Sentenced to pay costs and a fine of $25. Defendant went to jail in default of same.

Commonwealth vs Henry Benner; F. and B. Catharine Boyer prosecutrix. True bill. Defendant gave bail for fulfillment of usual sentence.

Commonwealth vs Andrew Tims; assault with intent to commit rape. G. W. Potter prosecutor. This case was on the calendar for the April session of 1891 but as Tims broke jail before his trial he was at liberty until two weeks ago, when officer Gares recaptured him on a train at Osoeolo. The jury found him guilty in form and manner as indicted. The rape was attempted near the home of Mr. Potter, in Patton township, on his daughter a child of ten years of age at that time. According to the evidence Tims spent Sunday at the Potter home and staid there until Monday morning. The parents being away from home the children all started to school the next morning, leaving Nancy at home to do some ironing. She started about half an hour later and Tims following tried to accomplish his hellish designs.

Commonwealth vs Christ Miller; furnishing liquor to persons of impenitent habits. Verdict of guilty of furnishing liquor to Briany Morrison.

Samuel and Jesse Long vs Daniel Long. This case was an appeal from the decision of the justice of the peace regarding the amount of hay the defendant should have taken away from a farm of the prosecutor's upon which he had lived.

Daniel Butler vs Henry Vanderpool. An appeal. Verdict for plaintiff in the amount of $70.

Susan Erle vs Howard Twp., Supervisors. Case concerning tax on a watering trough is now being tried.

TO THE HONORABLE THE JUDGES OF QUARTER SESSION OF THE PEACE IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF CENTRE.

The Grand Inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania inquiring for the County of Centre in all matters relating to the source, do respectfully report.

That they have acted upon twenty-eight Bills of Indictment of which twenty-one are found True Bills and one ignored and prosecutor to pay the costs excepting the four dollars for the county. Six were withdrawn, because the prosecutors did not appear. In addition a petition from, and the report of views appointed in a matter for the erection of a bridge to span Spring Creek in the borough of Milesburg, Centre county, was before the Grand Inquest represented by Wm. F. Reeder Esq. for the petitioners and the County Commissioners with D. C. Fortney Esq. their attorney. The report was approved. We beg leave further to report that we have visited and inspected the County Buildings and find the jail building in our judgment should have the following repairs and additions: The sash in residence portion need replacing, walls painted fresh and cornice and wood work painted. The inside portion of the jail yard wall proper should be faced up a smooth surface of a hard material so as to preserve the wall and make it more difficult to scale over. That a sufficient number of the cells be lined with steel plate in such manner as to protect sides, tops and ends against the escape of any of the imprisoned.

We further report that we find the office and vault of the Register and Recorder Offices in a crowded condition and it should have additional facilities.

We respectfully tender our thanks to the Honorable Judges and District Attorney for their courtesy and assistance rendered us during our deliberations.

C. T. FRYBERGER, Foreman.

Dated Nov. 29, 1893.

Altoona's small pox cases have turned out to have been nothing more than chicken pox.

A regular meeting of Gregg Post No. 95, G. A. R., for the election of officers to serve during the year 1894 will be held in the Post rooms, tomorrow, Saturday, night, Dec. 2nd, at 7:30 o'clock.

It is reported that Joe W. Furey, of Lock Haven, has had a relapse and is again very near death's door. We had hoped that our old friend's road to recovery was to be smooth but fate seems to have willed it otherwise.

The Board of Trade met on Tuesday evening in regular session and aside from transacting business of a routine nature decided to banquet the officials of the new Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, on Thursday evening, December 21st at the Bush House.

The introductory number of the Patton Courier, the first newspaper to be published in Clearfield county's new coal town, has reached our desk. It has an air of being a well established journal instead of being one week old and would be a credit to a much larger town than Patton.

Rev. Hugh Strain, a young minister on the Morris circuit, surprised his congregation and distinguished himself the other evening by throwing a ruffian out of church with as much ease as if he had been a baby. The braggart was disturbing the meeting, and the minister, growing tired of asking the man to be quiet, took the only alternative and threw him out the door. All sit up straight “at meem” in our all new.

An exchange says. For some time past an expert on forestry employed by a big land company, has been examining the barren hills of Cameron, Clinton, Elk and Clearfield counties as to the feasibility of reforesting them with pine from the seed. According to the expert it will take 100 years from the time the seed were planted before the timber would be of marketable size. Figuring on this basis the expert declares that the scheme would be profitable but for one thing—forest fires. There is no way to prevent the latter, and so the project is declared impracticable.

A benevolent society that gives promise of doing great good both to the giver and the receiver is the “Needle-work Guild,” which was organized some weeks ago by the women of the town for the purpose of thoroughly investigating and systematically helping the deserving poor. In behalf of the Guild Miss Mary Thomas will be at the W. C. T. U. rooms, Crider's Exchange, every Saturday afternoon, from four to six, to receive contributions of clothing or unsewed materials for the poor of Bellefonte. The women who are interested in the good work will meet at the same place Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to sew. All are cordially invited.

What poor deluded wretches those burglars must have been who went hunting for valuables in the sanctum of the Philipsburg Journal office, last Monday night. They did, however, find some treasures of editor Bair which while of little value to any one else were of exceptional value to him. They were a goodly number of copper and silver coins of rare denominations, saved from his early boyhood years. The silver coins were all taken and the copper left in the safe. Some of the missing coins were over one hundred years old, and were chiefly foreign. The only thing that seems to grieve him was the loss of a silver dollar dated 1720, making it 175 years old, brought to this country by ancestors and handed down from generation to generation.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.

—On Saturday morning, the 25th inst., at 4 o'clock, Mrs. John Morgan, of east Howard street, passed peacefully into the great beyond. Mrs. Morgan has been in feeble health for a number of years, but notwithstanding her bodily ailments was always cheerful and pleasant, casting a ray of sunshine wherever she went, and the bereaved family, while they will miss the presence of her whose gentle voice is stilled forever, have that blessed assurance of one day joining hands in that better land. She was a member St. John's Episcopal church and faithful in the discharge of christian duties, always attending services when health permitted. But her life was ended, and she has left behind her sweet, sad memories. A few evenings before her death she summoned the family to her bedside, bidding each member goodbye, and clasping her two daughters to her heart in an affectionate embrace which brought tears to all eyes within the room, she informed them that the end was near, and said she would enjoy remaining with them longer but God had called and she was ready to obey. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the community in this their great grief.

Mrs. Morgan was 65 years old, she leaves a husband and two daughters, Mrs. R. L. Erhard, of St. Marys, and Mrs. Ben. Shaffer, of this place. One daughter, Mrs. Lutz, having preceded her to the grave some years ago.

The funeral services were held in the Episcopal church, on Monday afternoon, at two o'clock. Interment in the Union cemetery.

“Tis thus our departed remember us still, And wait on the beautiful shore, To welcome us home with a rapturous thrill, When Jesus shall carry us o'er! All why should we speak of them only as dead? Why miss them despairingly so? Unseen may they often not silently tread Much closer to us than we know? We know not the mystery lying between This life and the life of a soul; We see not its visions, nor know what they mean; We hear not its anthems that roll; Yet one thing we know that our loved one we shall meet, When done with our sorrows and cares— Bless thought!—on that shore where no tears can be cast, They joyfully wait for us there.”

DOESN'T THINK IT WILL BE COLD.—“I notice that some wise men in various parts of the country are predicting an uncommonly severe winter,” said an old Westmoreland county weather prophet, “but they are all wrong.” All the signs point to a mild and open winter.” The old man continued: “When you see caterpillars crawling on the ground all through October, as they did last month, you may set it down as a fact that the temperature will be unreasonably throughout the winter. Caterpillars don't crawl up to election time when a cold winter is ahead. Robins were thick in the sunsets and laurels on the hillsides on All Saints' Day, and that is a sure sign that there will be no real cold weather until the second or third month next year. On November 2nd I picked a basketful of dandelion crows foot blossoms on the highest hill in Westmoreland county. I never saw the like of it before, although I have searched for such indications of a mild winter at about that time in the year every fall since 1837. I also ran across some honest and found it hadn't been touched by frost, and that is another good sign of a mild winter. So in all, I have never seen in 60 years so many favorable indications.” —Brookville Democrat.

A NEW AND CLEVER SWINDLE.—The story is going the rounds of a new and clever swindle that has recently been introduced. A well-dressed man walks up to a fruit stand and examines the stock with a great deal of attention. Suddenly he utters an exclamation of astonishment, and informs the man who runs the stand that he has just missed his diamond ring, and that he probably lost it among the fruit. After searching vainly for a few minutes he gives it up, and tells the man that he must have been mistaken and lost it somewhere else. He informs him, however, that it was a ring of value, and if the dealer should happen to find it he would pay $50 reward for it, and walks away. He has hardly disappeared before another comes along to buy fruit. In looking over the stock he suddenly makes a quick motion, as if to put something in his pocket. Mr. Dealer asks about it, and is shown what appears to be a diamond ring. With the vision of the $50 reward before his eyes, the dealer makes an offer for the ring, and finally secures it for about $30, and is out of pocket just $29.75 on the transaction. This game is a new one, and it is certainly original.

The above slick game has been successfully worked in various parts of the country and just to warn our readers we clip it from an exchange.

The district teachers institute held at Beech Creek last Friday and Saturday was so successful that another will be held at Blanchard on the first Saturday in January 1894.

There is still an Uncle Tom's Cabin

in show on the road: DuBoise had one the other night.

—Storm serges in all the new colors. Lyon & Co.

—Rev. A. S. Woodie, of Altoona, officiated in the pulpit of St. John's Episcopal church in this place last Sunday evening.

—Have you seen the great holiday display of everything in men's and boy's wear except shoes, as shown by Montgomery & Co.

—The best mackintoshes in navy blue for ladies at $4. The best we have ever seen for the money. Lyon & Co.

—The Salem Evangelical Lutheran church, at Aaronburg, will be rededicated to the worship of God on Sunday, December 3rd.

—Come and see the largest line of ladies coats and jackets in this part of the State. Just get them in—the latest styles. Lyon & Co.

—If you want to enjoy an all-around funny Irish comedy go to the opera house next Wednesday night, December 6th, to see “An Irishman's Luck.”

—A cross cow tossed little Charley McGhee, a four old Lock Haven boy, on Monday afternoon. He narrowly escaped death. A reason why Lock Haven should pen the cows up.

—While Joseph Bitner was driving across the railroad tracks, at Beech Creek, a few days ago an engine struck his wagon and smashed it all to pieces. Neither the driver nor horses were hurt.

—Two little children of Emil and Maggie Mignot, of Covington, Clearfield county, have died from diphtheria within the past month. Hyacinth Augustus, aged 10, and his little brother Francis Lucien, aged 9, died with that dread disease on the 12th and 25th insts.

—Cap't Reber, Co. B., 5th Reg., N. G. P., has been directed by the Adjutant General of the State to sell all the light blue overcoats worn by the militia men at this place at whatever price can be had for them. The garments are all in good condition and would make a serviceable skuff coat for any one.

—Mifflin county is all wrought up over the appearance of a mysterious man and woman who are busy digging for a pot of gold which they claim is hidden near the foundation of an old log tenement house, on the farm of Joseph Kyle, ten miles distant from Lewistown. The stranger says he dreamed, three consecutive nights, that a crime had been committed in that house and that the pot of gold which caused it is still there. Mr. Kyle has concluded to let him dig until he is tired, though he is altogether unknown in that community.

News Purely Personal.

—Thos. Orbison, of New York, is visiting his mother in this place.

—H. U. Tibbens, a writer on the staff of the Johnstown Democrat Sundayed with friends here.

—Hon. S. R. Peale, of Lock Haven, had business in court here during the fore part of week.

—Miss Lillian Barrett entertained her friend Miss Ada Dolin, of Philipsburg, on Sunday.

—Mrs. Frank Montgomery and son Hassell spent Thanksgiving with relatives in the Quaker city.

—Robert Miller and wife, of Carlisle, arrived in town yesterday morning and ate their Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Robert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Miller, of Reynolds' Ave.

THE FORMAL OPENING NEXT MONDAY.

—According to a general notice which was sent out by the Central Railroad Co., of Pennsylvania, on Tuesday, that road will be opened for the handling of all kinds of freight traffic on Monday, Dec. 4th. It was thought that the passenger trains would begin running on Monday also, but unforeseen difficulties have delayed the inauguration of a passenger service until two weeks later, when trains will begin running regularly on the schedule of which we gave an idea several weeks ago.

In order that our readers may have knowledge of all the stations for freight and passenger traffic along the line we append the official list of the same. *Cedar Springs, Mackeyville, *Kridersiding, Clintondale, Lamar, Huston, Nittany, *Snydertown, Hublersburg, *Hecla Furnace, Zion, *Nigh, *Central Junction, *Nittany Valley Jct, *Valentine's, *Milesburg, Bellefonte, *Gatesburg, *Taylor.

*No Agent. Freight charges must be prepaid. †Freight stations only. No passenger train service at this point. All of above named stations have freight sidings.

—Mens new fall and winter suits double breasted, black cut chevrot and serge chevrots, square, navy blue, brown and mixed at all prices. Lyon & Co.

—Council met, on Monday evening, to decide who should lay a board walk along Water street. After about two hours quibbling it adjourned with out coming to any definite conclusion on the matter. The councilmen all seemed satisfied that a walk should be laid in and in as much as the borough engineer and Street committee recommended it on the petition of many citizens it was hardly thought that the fact that one member would be forced to bear his share of the expense would cause council to hesitate in the matter, but it did. If Water street is a street, then why should there be special action on the part of council to discuss the question of laying a board walk. Enforce the borough statute and that is all that is necessary.

—Clothing, hats, trunks, umbrellas, suit cases, silk handkerchiefs with initials, underwear, traveling bags—telescopes, neckwear—gloves—prices right—styles correct. Montgomery & Co.

Promptness and Equity.

The following letter will explain itself.

J. A. Woodcock, Esq., District Agent Mutual Life Insurance company, Bellefonte Pa.

Dear Sir:—Both as executor of my father's will and on behalf of my mother I desire to acknowledge through you the surprisingly prompt payment to us of $35,000, the full amount of the insurance carried by my dear father.

This is the first payment made by any company and if I am not mistaken was made within six days after receipt of proofs of his death.

On account of an absence of the late Judge Orvis followed on his return home by sickness and unexpected death. An overdue premium on one of his policies had been neglected and actually unpaid to the company. The Mutual Life Insurance Co., generously refused to take any advantage of a technical defense such as this but paid us the full amount of that policy as well as the others.

This action justifies the admiration and high trust that my dear father always expressed for and in your company, and proves it to be what it always claimed to be a company managed exclusively in the interest of the policy holders.

I therefore take pleasure in recommending your company to all who wish insurance in a company whose management, while conservative and wise is the master of such vast resources and maintains a policy so just, prompt and friendly to the estate of the policy holders.

I remain very Respectfully,
ELLIS L. ORVIS.
