THINGS ABOUT TOWN & COUNTY

How dear to our hearts is Cash on subscription, When the generous subscriber Presents it to view; But the man who don't pay— We refrain from description, For perhaps, gentle reader, That man might be you! —Weekly Journalist.

—The grip is epidemic in Bellefonte.

—The new moon can now be seen in the southern sky. A sure indication of warm weather.

—Borough Treasurer Chas. F. Cooke is happy over the arrival of a new daughter at his home.

—A revival service is being conducted in the Methodist church under the guidance of Rev. Wm. H. Houck.

—Ed Atherton, a Philadelphia wrestler, was defeated by Joe Carroll, of Buffalo, last week. They wrestled for a purse of $600.

—M. I. Gardner is busy remodeling his recently purchased home on North Spring street. It is the late Ellen Harris property.

—Mr. H. I. Bouse, who had conducted a drug store at Snow Shoe, until recently has sold out and is now visiting his parents in Tyrone.

—A crowd of Philadelphia urubins stole a keg of beer last Sunday and got gloriously drunk. Some of the youngsters were as young as ten years.

—We regret to note the serious illness of the venerable James Hamilton and his most estimable wife, both of whom are ill at their home on Willowbank street.

—James Mackie, in "Grime's Cellar Door," is well known here. His appearance at Garman's opera house, next Tuesday night, January 16th, will be hailed with delight by his many admirers.

—A defective flue, on Tuesday afternoon, set fire to the house, in Central City, owned and occupied by Abraham McCollum and before the flames could be extinguished it was damaged to the extent of more than $100.

—A young Snow Shoe Hungarian, who started back to his native land was robbed in Williamsport last Thursday night. While waiting between trains in the Reading R. R. station he fell asleep and when he awoke he found a gold watch and $45 gone.

—According to the News, reading Mr. Bailey's temperance articles in the Magnet and setting them up are quite different in their effects. If reports be true about the compositor on the Magnet who got so full recently, then indeed are we led to believe that "familiarity breeds contempt."

—The advent of a healthy eight pound boy at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Hunter, in the Exchange, on Monday evening, brought down upon the young couple the congratulations of their many friends. Both the babe and his mother are getting along nicely and today Bob is the happiest man in town.

—Mr. Henry Wetzel has purchased the Olwene property, on Willowbank street, and will make Bellefonte his future home. He had been in the west for a number of years and returned last fall on a visit. Since then he has decided to practice law here and soon his shingle will be flapping in a Centre county breeze.

—Prof. and Mrs. Thayer, of State College are mourning the loss of their dear little daughter Sophia, who died of scarlet fever last Sunday morning. Although only four years old she was an exceptionally bright and lovable child, and her death is a sad affliction to her parents. She was buried Sunday afternoon in the Branch burial ground.

—Mrs. Henry P. Harris, of Howard street, gave a farewell tea, last Tuesday afternoon, for her daughter Miss Lydia, who is to be married on the 16th to Mr. William H. Galway, of Radford, Va. Miss Harris assisted her mother in receiving while Miss Sarah Malin, Miss Lulu Harper and Miss Emily Harris presided at the prettily appointed tables in the dining room. Flowers and growing plants made the house beautiful and the parlors were crowded with handsomely gowned guests.

—In our issue of last Friday we failed to mention the death of Mrs. Daniel Kreamer, which occurred at her home in Rebersburg the Tuesday evening previous. Deceased had been stricken with paralysis. An invalid husband four daughters, Mrs. A. Lukesch of this place, Mrs. John Wolf, and Mrs. Anna Wolf, of near Rebersburg, and Mrs. D. J. Meyer, of Centre Hall, with one son, W. H. Kreamer, of Centre Hall, survive. Funeral services were held last Friday.

GREGG POST G. A. R.—ITS OFFICERS. The one event dear to the life of the veteran, who is fortunate in being a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, aside from the annual encampments and observation of Memorial day, is the installation of the officers for the government of the particular Post to which he may belong.

In Bellefonte this grand organization of old soldiers has a branch that is particularly enthusiastic and flourishing. Gregg Post, No. 95, G. A. R. has on its rolls a number of men whose record in war times will be emblazoned on the history of the country for time immemorial. Around its camp fires can be seen groups of faces that have left their impress on the minds of the public. Officers and privates alike share the honor we accord them and sad be the day when the last of them, will have answered the final roll call and left naught but history to tell of their chivalry.

On Saturday night the public installation of the officers who are to serve Gregg Post for the ensuing year was made. Two score and more veterans sat about the assembly hall in the Post rooms, interested witnesses of the ceremony. The retiring Commander, J. C. Miller, called the meeting to order, but soon gave way to Capt. S. H. Williams, the installing officer. His duties were promptly executed and 'twas not long until the following men had taken the vows of their office: Commander—Thos. Donachy; S. V. C., Wm. T. Fitzgerald; J. V. C., Monroe Armour; Surgeon, D. C. Walters; O. of D., J. I. Curtin; Chaplain, David Bartley; Q. M., Wm. Jones; Officer of Guard John Bryan; Trustee, Wm. Maitland; Del. to Encampment, S. H. Williams; Alternate, W. T. Fitzgerald.

After the installation the meeting was declared open and a reminiscent program was gone through with. Ex-Governor Curtin, Hon. John G. Love, Rev. Geo. H. Zehner, Commander Donachy, and comrades Williams, Dunham and the two Millers all told stirring war time tales until the women of the Post invited them to a supper that had been spread in the Post mess hall. There the congenial spirits found more opportunity for letting themselves out and as the dainty dishes rapidly disappeared there was a general good time among them all.

The ladies of the auxiliary who prepared the supper were Mrs. S. H. Williams, Mrs. Henry Yeager, Mrs. W. H. Taylor, Mrs. J. C. Miller, Mrs. John Noll, Mrs. F. P. Greene, Mrs. E. H. Barry, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. G. Shrest, Mrs. E. Kenroth, and Miss Leona Maitland. Quarter Master William Jones was responsible for the excellence of the menu.

FOR USE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS ONLY.—State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Dr. Schaeffer, has rendered the following decision on the question of the usage of public school books which have been furnished by the State.

He is quoted in the Lock Haven Democrat as having said: "that directors have no right to furnish free text books to children attending private or subscription schools; that the books as furnished at the expense of the various school districts are to be given only to the children attending those schools. He further says, 'The law does not contemplate nor warrant the use of free books by schools not exclusively under the official jurisdiction of the directors. A board of directors cannot consistently nor lawfully discriminate in the use of books in favor of children whose parents may raise a fund for subscription schools for their benefit at the close of the regular public school term. The patrons of the school are to be commended for the progressive spirit shown in the desire expressed to have better educational advantages for their children than are offered by short terms of schools. The proper course, however, to pursue in all such cases is to extend the term of the public school and thus give all the advantage of longer annual terms and free books as well as free tuition.'

"This is the correct solution of the whole question and is in accordance with the spirit of the laws governing the operation of the public school system. Where free text books are in use the schools must be free also, open to all children alike without any conditions or restrictions which the law itself does not authorize."

MCCARGAR RETIRES.—CRAWFORD NOW OWNER.—The sale of the cigar and billiard room in the Conrad house, lately owned by Mr. J. S. McCargar, was consummated last Tuesday night and Ex-Deputy Sheriff George B. Crawford has become the owner of the establishment. Mr. McCargar had been desirous of selling his place for some time because his other business ventures demanded his undivided attention, so when Mr. Crawford found an opportunity to procure a paying business and thus secure a home in Bellefonte he was not long in seizing it. The many friends of the ex-Deputy will be glad to learn that he will make Bellefonte his future home.

—At a meeting of the directors in Tyrone, on Tuesday, S. S. Lyon, of this place, was elected president of the Tyrone Mining and M'fg. Co.

—Judge Mayer last week granted forty three out of sixty-eight applications for license in Clinton county. A decrease of fifteen from the number granted last year.

—Tyrone school directors have notified the tobacco dealers in that town that they will prosecute any person who sells cigars or cigarettes to children under sixteen years of age.

—The WATCHMAN sale bills will be better than ever this Spring. Get your work done where it will be the most satisfactory. Remember that the WATCHMAN sale register is the best advertising medium in the county.

—The newly elected Huntingdon county Commissioners have stirred up a fuss by cutting down the salary of their clerk from $1200 to $600 a year. They reduced the salary of the janitor also and are now trying to find a way of cutting the Treasurer's annual income down to $1500 per year, just half the amount he has made in the past.

—Under a recent act of the Legislature the office of Deputy to the Sheriff of a county has been clothed with far more authority than heretofore. Formerly he was sworn in by the Prothonotary and there were many functions about the office he could not perform, but under the enactment of May 1887, which is now a law, he is sworn in by the Recorder who makes a record of the appointment and is vested with all the powers held by the Sheriff.

—As "Grimesey Me Boy" in "A Bunch of Keys," James B. Mackie the accomplished young comedian was simply inevitable, but as "Billy Grimes," who owns the cellar door in the new and original musical comedy entitled "Grime's Cellar Door," he has a part that fits him to a nicety and one in which his many talents shine even brighter than in his former success. His supporting company is said to be an unusually strong one. Garman's opera house, Tuesday evening, January 16th.

—The marriage of Stella Marie Whittaker to William Edwin Dezenendorf was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage, in Lock Haven, last Friday evening, Rev. Charles S. Ling, officiating. The bride is the oldest daughter of Mr. James Whittaker of this place. The groom is a New Yorker by birth, but recently he came to Bellefonte to live and it did not take him long to find a charming life companion. The young people will go to house keeping in the Hale building, on west High street.

—Elsewhere in this issue of the WATCHMAN will be found a letter on the rapid disappearance of deer in this country that we feel will be of more than passing interest to hunters and sportsmen generally. It will be particularly interesting to the many readers of this paper who are personally acquainted with the writer, Judge John H. Keasley, who will be remembered as a boy at Boalsburg, a student at Pine Grove Academy, a law student in Gov. Curtin's office, along in '68-9 and '60, afterward District Attorney of Blair county, then United States Judge in Alaska and at the present time Commandant of the Iowa Soldiers Home at Marshalltown, Ia.

—A new enterprise which has just been granted a charter by the State is the Thermo Appliance Co., of Bellefonte. The officers of the company are James A. Beaver, president; J. M. Dale, secretary; J. Kyle McFarlane, treasurer; W. R. Jenkins, J. H. Lingle and William Grauer, directors. The Thermo Oil Gas burner, which this company will put on the market, is an appliance which will be manufactured at the Jenkin's & Lingle machine shops and is a very ingenious invention which converts common kerosene into a gas which is used in all kinds of heating and cooking stoves. Very little oil is required to generate gas sufficient for all purposes, the system is clean and entirely void of danger. It can be attached to any kind of a stove and is a great labor saver.

—The Spring elections this year will be held on the third Tuesday in February, the 19th of the month. The amended Baker law requires all nominations by certificates of party organization for city or ward officers shall be filed in the County Commissioner's office at least twenty-eight days before the election and nominations by nomination papers for the same offices must be filed twenty-one days before it, not counting the day on which it is filed. Nominations for township and borough offices and school directors must be filed with the County Commissioners eighteen days before the election and nominations for the same by nomination papers at least fifteen days before. The County Commissioners will furnish the tickets for the whole county this year and the township Auditors will not need to bother about getting them printed.

THE DEATH OF A. J. CRUSE.—After an illness which began on the Saturday evening previous A. J. Cruse expired at his home, No. 152 E. Linn street, on Tuesday evening. Congestion of the lungs superinduced by failure of proper action of the heart was the direct cause of death.

Deceased had been a constant sufferer from heart trouble and while sitting at the supper table, last Saturday evening, he was seized with a violent choking sensation and hurried from the table to get a breath of fresh air. A physician was hastily summoned and it appeared as though he would die then, but a hemorrhage of the lungs made respiration possible again and he rallied sufficiently to give hopes of his ultimate recovery.

He was convalescent until Tuesday evening and was feeling so much better during the afternoon that he expressed his intention of coming down to his place of business next day, but at 6:30 o'clock another hemorrhage came on and his weakened constitution was unable to survive it.

Andrew J. Cruse was born in 1842 in the city of Baltimore, Md., and came to this place from Bedford, in 1873. Having been a cigar maker by trade he worked at a table in the various factories that flourished here at that time and he continued in the employ of A. Sternberg, T. H. Akers and Wm. Agnew, respectively, until the cigar store in the Bush House, then operated by Orrie Kinslow, was offered for sale. He purchased it and began a small manufacturing business as well as that of retailing tobacco of all kinds. He was a skilled cigar maker which fact coupled with his exceptional judgment as to the blending of brands for the manufacture of cigars acquired for the product of his factory a reputation which found its reward in an excellent business. His favorite brands were always ready tobacconist will always be connected with the "Henry Clay" and "Our Dan" cigars. His business ventures were successful and he owned considerable property here at the time of his death.

Mr. Cruse was a man who gave his undivided attention to his business, he figured little outside of his family and his work, but with his naturally retiring disposition he won many friends and he can easily be said to have been one of the most popular men in town.

A widow and five children survive him. The children are Charles, Andrew, Temple, Mary and Wade, all of whom will miss a loving and indulgent father. Funeral services will be held at his late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MRS. J. H. SANDS' SUDDEN DEATH.—The sudden death of Maria F., wife of J. H. Sands, which occurred at her home, on north Allegheny street, on last Friday evening, ended a life the later years of which have been ones of almost continued suffering. She had suffered a stroke of paralysis some time ago, but had partially recovered from it and her physicians entertained no fears for her condition until Friday evening, when a hemorrhage of the brain caused death in about two hours.

Deceased was 74 years of age having been born in Wurtemberg, Germany, in 1819. In 1858 she, with her husband, came to this country and located in Bellefonte. For years they conducted the bakery and confectionery on Allegheny street, now owned by Joseph Cedars, and while in that business amassed a fortune which enabled them to retire from active business life about ten years ago. Unfortunately Mr. Sands was away from home at the time of his wife's death, he having been called to White Haven on the Wednesday previous to attend the funeral of a sister. The only child, Mrs. John N. Lane, was at her mother's bedside when death ended her suffering.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon.

RAVAGES OF THE GRIP.—On Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock all that was mortal of Susanna Brower a beloved resident of Unionville passed into immortality. She was a woman of most exemplary character and her gentle loving disposition will be missed in that community.

Deceased had lived with the family of Mr. Riley Pratt for years and was in her usual health until Wednesday evening when she was taken with the grip. The disease developed with alarming severity and her death resulted. She was 33 years of age and her interment was made from the home of her sister, Mrs. Arista Lucas, in Bush's Hollow, on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

—Mrs. Mary Johnson, colored, widow of the late Washington Johnson, died at her home in this place on Sunday evening. Deceased was about sixty years of age and was an estimable woman. Her death was caused by pneumonia brought on by a severe attack of grip. A large cortege followed her remains to the grave on Wednesday afternoon.

—Mrs. Susan Geiswhite, wife of John Geiswhite of Aaronsburg, died on last Sunday at the age of 66 years. A husband and four children survive her.

—389 births and 161 deaths is the record of Clinton county for six months ending December 31st, 1893.

—In February 1853 a child of Jas. M. Calderwood was buried in the Tyrone cemetery. It was the first interment made there, and there have been 1488 since.

SO MUCH FOR OUR SHERIFF.—Sheriff Condo made his first official visit to Phillipsburg on Tuesday. He is a tall, fine looking man, of very pleasant address.—Phillipsburg Ledger.

FIRE AT MADISONBURG.—On last Friday the first disastrous fire that has occurred at Madisonburg for years was discovered in the combined store building and residence owned by Mrs. Luther Stover. The store was occupied by Hasel and Gramley who conducted a general merchandise business there. The fire originated in the ware-room of the store, where a lamp exploded and the town being without any organized means of fighting it the buildings were destroyed.

WEDDING.—Mr. James O. Hoover and Miss Stella Reese, both of "Wallace Run," near Milesburg, were married at Millheim, December 20th 1893 by Rev. C. C. Miller, pastor of the U. B. Church at that place. Mr. Hoover is a young man, a christian, and well qualified for the duties of a kind and loving husband. And his better half is also a christian lady, and a promising companion for life. Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have a host of friends who will wish them peace and prosperity.

OUT OF SIGHT FOUR TIMES.—During the year 1894 there will be four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon. An annual eclipse of the sun will occur April 5th, and a total eclipse September 28th, but both will be invisible in any part of America. A partial eclipse of the moon will occur March 21st, but will not be generally visible in the United States. Another partial eclipse of the moon will take place on September 14th and 15th and will be visible in all parts of America.

TROUT FRY FOR DISTRIBUTION.—The Pennsylvania Commissioners of Fisheries, will have on hand for distribution, after March 1st, about 2,500,000 trout fry, and announcement is made that applications for this species of fish for planting in suitable waters will now be received. These applications should be made to the following commissioners, who will furnish blanks for filling out: Henry C. Ford, 1823 Vine street, Philadelphia; H. C. Demaph, Lancaster; John Gay, 1020 Vine street, Philadelphia; (for the western part of the state); S. B. Sullwell, Scranton; Louis Streuber, Erie; F. W. Ewel, Harrisburg. Heretofore the applications for fish fry, only required the signature of the commissioner to whom they were made, but in the future, under a rider to an act of the last legislature, they must be endorsed by the senator or representative of the district in which the application is made.

News Purely Personal.

—Lee B. Woodcock spent Sunday with his uncle W. L. Woodcock in Altoona.

—Miss Grace Lukensbach, of Willowbank street, is visiting Rebecca Whittaker, in Curwensville.

—Miss Mame Cedars, of south Allegheny street, left on Monday morning to resume her studies at a school in West Chester.

—Edwin J. Haley, a chemist at the Pennsylvania State College Agricultural Experiment Station, spent Sunday in this place, the guest of Mr. George T. Bush.

—Mr. D. P. McKinney, an esteemed subscriber of the WATCHMAN and one of Howard's leading citizens was in town on Monday looking after some business interest at the county seat.

—Mr. and Mrs. I. Newton Gibson, returned from their bridal tour on Saturday evening. While away they took in Philadelphia, Washington, Frederickburg and other points of interest.

—Dr. Roland Curtin, an eminent Philadelphia physician, and a nephew of Ex-Gov. Curtin is now called to this place on Monday to consult with Dr. George F. Harris on the case of M. S. Edward Cooke, he arrived on a morning train and made five professional calls while here.

—Miss Sarah Bullock has resigned her position as cashier in Joseph Bros. & Co's store in this place and has gone to Blockley Alshouse, just outside of Philadelphia, to study for a position as a trained nurse. Miss Carrie Gross, lately a compositor in the Republican office, is her successor at Joseph's.

—Mr. Benjamin B. Jamison, of Philadelphia, who had spent a pleasant vacation visiting friends in this place, departed for his home in the Quaker city on Monday morning. While here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Williams, on east High street, and he made many friends during his brief sojourn.

—Mr. P. McCaffrey, of Lock Haven, who twenty years ago called Bellefonte his home stopped off here on Wednesday on his way home from a business trip to Ironia, Clearfield Co. During his stay here he visited his sister Miss Annie McCaffrey, on the corner of Logan and Allegheny streets, and met many of his old time friends. He is a gentleman of whose citizenship any town may well boast.

—Mr. J. Henry Meyer, of Centre Hall, was in town on Monday settling up his business preparatory to moving to Virginia where he intends making his future home. He has purchased a fine farm in the "Old Dominion" and sometime during the latter part of this month he will say good bye to his life time friends in Centre county and take his family South to help him raise sweet potatoes, melons and peanuts. Mr. Meyer has been one of the county's respected residents and while his many friends here will be sorry to learn of his intended departure they will join in a hearty "God speed" and a life of contentment in his new home.

A SLIGHT DIFFERENCE IN THE COATS.—One day last week Burdine Butler, of Howard, who had but recently been married to Miss Annie McCaleb, of Nittany, got into quite a scrape.

While on his wedding tour he and his wife stopped at the home of James Craig, in Birmingham, and while there he and his host had their coats off for some purpose. The coats were both lying on a table when the train, on which the bridal couple intended departing, suddenly whistled. Mr. Butler grabbed what he thought to be his coat and ran. They caught the train and came on to their home in Howard. The next day the benedict was feeling in his pocket for some papers when his hand fell on a strange wallet. Upon opening it it was found to contain $2700. Mr. Butler at once became excited, but discovered that he had some one else's coat on. He did not have a long time to wonder whose clothes, so rich with money, he was wearing for just then the down train pulled into Howard and Mr. Craig stepped off wearing the groom's coat. An exchange was made and now both are happy again.

DON'T LET THEM WORK YOU.—An exchange tells of the following slick swindle that is catching farmers in other parts of the State.

"Here is the latest swindle. It has been practiced in a neighboring county. A man, representing himself as advance agent for a show, drives up to a farm house and agrees to pay the farmer two dollars for the privilege of pasting bills on his barn. The bargain is made, the two dollars paid over and the sharper asks the farmer to sign a receipt for the money. He does so and in a few days finds he has signed a note for $200, which a third party asks him to pay. He says he won't, but he does all the same. He can't get out of it. The note is in the hands of an 'innocent' purchaser and the maker of the note can put in no defense."

FAST FREIGHT MOVEMENT.—The general freight department of the Central Railroad Company of Pennsylvania gives out the following: Hereafter the through Philadelphia & Reading Railroad freight car from Willow and Noble streets station, Philadelphia, will be closed and sent forward promptly each day at four o'clock p. m. It has been found necessary to take this action that the car may be forwarded in time to make all connections and reach Bellefonte early the following afternoon. If this is made known to shippers in Philadelphia, patrons of the Central Railroad of Penna., will find their goods promptly delivered as scheduled.

—Thomas Caldwell and Miss Mary Mushaw were married, on Monday night, at the home of Father McArdle, on Bishop street. A reception was afterwards held at the groom's home. Both young people are well known in Bellefonte and a host of friends unite in wishing them joy.

—G. A. Walther, a former Phillipsburger, has purchased the Mansion house property, in Clearfield, for $27000 and will build a handsome four story brick hotel on the site of the old frame structure.
