THE SPRING ELECTIONS .-- We presume the chairman of the Democratic county committee has instructed the committeemen, for each district, as to the necessity of calling the caucuses to nominate their township tickets at an early date. The election takes place on the 20th of February. All certificates of nominations made by party organizations must be filed with the commissoners eighteen days, and those nominated by nomination papers must be filed fifte en days before the election, As mistakes may be made in making out papers and certifying, that will require time to correct, it would be wel to make the nomination at a date early enough to give ample time to correct any mistakes, accidents or oversights that may occur.

The law authorizes any convention of delegates, or primary meeting of electors or caucus held under the rules of a political party, or any board authorized to certify nominations representing a political party, (which, at the election next preceding, polled at least two per centum of the largest entire vote for any office cast in the electoral district or division which the certificates represents, meaning townships, borough or cities) to nominate one candidate for each office to be filled.

Every certificate shall be signed by the presiding officer and the secretary or secretaries of the convention, meeting or caucus, who shall add thereto their places of residence, and shall be sworn or affirmed to them before some officer qualified to administer oaths, to be true to the best of their knowledge and belief, and a certificate of the oath shall be attached to the certificate of nomina-

Where it is desired to vote for an independent ticket, or where there is no party organization, then citizens and independent candidates can have their names put on the regular ticket, by what is known as nomination papers, in this way: In any district desiring such, at least two per centum of the largest entire vote for an officer elected at the last preceding election in the said district must sign such nominations papers, giving their residence and oceupation, and no person is permitted to subscribe to more than one nomination for each office to be filled. All the signatures and qualifications of the signers shall be vouched for by the affidavit of at least five of the signers and must accompany the nomination papers.

There are also other requisites which must be observed: First, the name of the party or policy must be expressed in not more than three words; second, the name of the candidate, his profession, business, or occupation, if any, and his place of residence, with street and number; third, the office for which he is nominated, and the name of the party or policy must not have the identical or similar words to express it that are continued in a party nomination made by certificate of nomination.

We are not advised that the county commissioners will furnish the proper blanks but we assume that they will do it so as to avoid errors and to have the work done uniformly. The county commissioners are required to have all borough and township tickets printed and arrange to have them delivered. Heretofore this duty devolved upon borough and township auditors.

THE WOUNDED HEART.

M. V. THOMAS. O, cruel tongue; O, unkind Heart! To wound a fellow-man Who may have deeper feelings, far, Than mortal eye can scan.

You may heal up the bleeding wound. Made by the thrust you gave; But scars of wounds, received in life, Are carried to the grave.

You may indulge in bitter tears And prayers to ease the pain; But do whate'er howe'er you will, The scars will still remain.

The unkind look, the angry word, Spoken so oft' in haste, Though, they may be forgiven now, Can never be erased.

The heart-strings, you have torn, may heal, The wounds you may not see; Know that within that silent heart The scars will always be

Think of the pain that you have caused, Boast of it if you will. Thoughts, deeper than you understand, May there be lurking still.

But stay! When life has passed away, Wrapped in the last long sleep, You see the sufferer rest in peace,

Is it well, then, to weep? Oh! see "what fools we mortals be" Thus bending o'er the biers, Of those we've punished all through life,

Resolved, that while we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well, and deplore the loss of one so good and true, we mourn not as those who have no hope, for we believe our loss to be her eternal gain.

Resolved, that as an Epworth League we tender our united sympathy and prayers to the afflicted family and friends, in this sad hour of sorrow, and point them for comfort to Him who said "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted."

Resolved, That our Sec. be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to the bereaved family to the brothers and sisters of the deceased to place a copy upon the minutes of the Epworth League, and have the county papers publish a copy of same.

The February Century will contain an article on "The Tramp at Home," by the young man who writes under the name of "Josiah Flynt." and who has already contributed several articles on tramp-life to The Century. In the prese ent paper he describes his own experience with tramps during a ten days' trip from New York to Buffalo and return, at an expenditure of one dollar. The article will be especially interesting reading to the people living on the line of the New York Central Railroad, who will here learn that tramps have a high regard for the cities of Syracuse, Utica, Rome, etc. The Central road is said to be a very easy one to "beat," and tramps can be sure of three meals a day and a comfortable place to sleep anywhere along its line.
