

Mgr. Satolli's Successor.

Archbishop Ireland Says He Will Be From Rome and Not an American.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 30.—When Archbishop Ireland was shown the St. Louis dispatch stating that he would succeed Mgr. Satolli as papal delegate to this country he was at first inclined to consider it as too improbable to deserve consideration, but being urged by the Associated Press representative that the general public would be interested in a definite statement of the subject, he said:

"When Mgr. Satolli shall be recalled he will have a successor, and that successor will come from home. It is decidedly the policy of the Pope that no Bishop occupying any see in the United States could be the delegate to this country.

"The reason is very plain. The Bishop himself—any Bishop—may have cases to be adjudicated upon and no member of the hierarchy could be presumed to be—as a delegate should be—absolutely above all bias and personal or local interest in the decisions which should come from the supreme court of the church. This is positive and final, no matter from where reports to the contrary may come.

We're all Right Now.

American Vessels Given Plenty of Room in Rio Harbor.

RIO JANEIRO, January 31.—American vessels that desire to come to the piers of this city can now do so without being interfered with by the insurgents. The negotiations to settle the troubles between the insurgents and the government by arbitration, in which Admiral Benham was acting as a private citizen are at present at a standstill. This is probably due to the fact that Admiral Da Gama's nephew was killed early Monday morning while engaged in a foray along the shore on a tug.

The American minister here, Mr. Thompson, today sent a long secret cable dispatch to the State department at Washington.

Objected to the Flag.

HIAWATHA, Kan., Jan. 31.—A sensation has been caused here by a few members of the local Grand Army of the Republic, tearing down the flags raised by the women of the Equal Suffrage association. Two flags had been hung across Main street to commemorate Kansas Day. The flags had the regulation strips, but with three yellow stars in the field, which is the adopted emblem of the National Suffrage association. A few local Grand Army men saw in this a desecration of the old flag, and proceeded to tear the offending emblem down. The better element of the Grand Army condemns the action of their comrades.

Secret State Compact.

Said to Exist Between Russia and China in Regard to the Pamirs.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 31.—There is reason to believe that a secret agreement between the Russian and Chinese Governments in regard to the Pamirs exists. According to this arrangement, Russia assumes a more placid attitude toward Korean affairs, and China promises to observe complete neutrality toward the Pamirs.

As to Assessors and Constables.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 30.—Judge McIlvaine, in answer to a request for information from the County Commissioners relating to the office of Assistant Assessor, today filed his opinion that the act of Assembly of 1891 created the office designated Assistant Assessor in election districts divided into two or more precincts, to be filled annually. This officer's duties relate solely to elections. He further states that as constables were elected in 1889 and 1892, under the act of 1889, no more shall be elected until 1895, vacancies to be filled by appointment by the court.

Work for 3,500 Men.

Cleveland Rolling Mill to Start in All Departments this Week.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 30.—For the first time in many months work in all departments of the big plant of the Cleveland Rolling Mill Company will be resumed this week. The company has just completed a new Bessemer steel plant at a cost of over $500,000, which will also be started.

Improved Condition of the Czar.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 31.—1.30 p. m.—A bulletin just issued states that the Czar's pulse is firm and regular. The inflammation of the right lung, which was the one affected, has entirely disappeared. His majesty has had a good sleep and his appetite has improved.

Naval Cadets Feel an Earthquake.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 31.—A distinct shock of earthquake, the second this season, was felt at the Naval Academy this morning. A rattling noise awoke a naval cadet, who reported to the officer in charge. Officers at the Academy corroborated the statement of the cadet.

Crushed the Rebellion.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 31.—The federal troops have crushed the insurrection in the northern part of the republic after eleven hours' fighting. The insurgents lost thirty men killed and the federal troops seven killed.

The New Minister to Sweden.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The President today sent the nomination to the Senate of Thomas B. Ferguson, of Maryland, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to Sweden and Norway.

Death as the Stakes.

While Playing Cards a Girl Sends a Bullet Into Her Lover's Brain.

DECATUR, Ill., Jan. 31.—Miss Magie Trus Lock and David Lambert were playing cards last night near Prairie Hall. In fun the young man said: "Now, the one that wins shoots the other."

He unloaded his revolver, as he thought, and laid it on the table. The girl won, snatched up the revolver and pulled the trigger. One cartridge had been left in the revolver, and the bullet entered Lambert's brain. He died instantly. The girl was almost crazed. The couple were engaged to be married.

Wrecked By Natural Gas.

A Schoolhouse and Other Buildings in West Virginia Town Demolished.

WHEELING, Jan. 31.—A series of natural gas explosions at Burton and many small towns on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, south of here, demolished three buildings and injured a number of people. Among the buildings wrecked was a schoolhouse, and the teacher and several pupils were hurt. A saloon and a dwelling occupied by the railroad freight agent were wrecked. None of the injured will die.

Germany Needs Her Army.

Bismarck's Statement of Its Necessity Quoted to the Reichstag.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—In the Reichstag, today, the debate on the financial reform bill was continued. Count Posadowski, Secretary of the Treasury, cited Prince Bismarck's argument to the effect that Germany could not be the first to disarm, and claimed that the sums asked for to be applied to military purposes were a necessity.

Faulkner for Chairman.

Likely to Lead the Democratic Congressional Committee Soon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia, is said to be the future Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, with Lawrence Gardner as Secretary. Mr. Faulkner is remembered in this connection for his compromise proposition during the debate over the silver repeal bill.

Additional Locals.

—The case of small-pox which scared Tyroners upon its development is well in hand and though the father and two children are quarantined in the house they show no signs of taking it.

—Two deaths occurred in Philadelphia on Sunday night. They were those of Mrs. Thomas Ashcroft, who died in her 28th year, of consumption; and Mr. Joseph H. Ferguson, aged 64, whose death was caused by cancer.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

—Issued during the past week—Taken from the docket.

Andrew Lorinjah and Annie Martz, both of Snow Shoe.

Jonas M. Stover, of Wolf's Store, and Lizzie C. Scholl, of Rebersburg.

Andrew Niemi and Annie Hanesch, both of Bellefonte.

Walter J. Tallhelm and Mary E. Alexander, both of Julian.

FISK JUBILEE SINGERS.

—The only and original "Fisk Jubilee Singers" will appear in Garman's opera house, next Monday evening, Feb. 5th, under the auspices of the ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. This company has a world wide reputation, having spent six years in the European countries, and nearly twenty years in this country.

GRAND FATHER OF HIS OWN WIFE.

—On last Monday night constable G. W. Curtin, of Tyrone, returned to that place, from Greenwood Furnace, with two prisoners. One of them was Daniel Hardy, aged 55 years, the other was Myrtle Butler, a twenty year old blind girl, whom Hardy had run off and gotten married to on January 5th. By the marriage which was performed at Lemont, this county, the groom became the grand-father of his wife since he was her step-grand-father before the ceremony. The couple were arrested because the bride had procured her license from Register Rumberger under false pretense and Hardy was charged with abduction, but now since the pair are caught both profess to be thoroughly in earnest and truly in love with each other.

Such a union is a veritable case of "December and May" and it was accomplished only after experiencing the greatest difficulties. The day they ran away they walked from Tyrone to Dix station and there took the morning train for this place. Upon arriving here they procured the license and journeyed on to Lemont, where the marriage was performed. Thence they went to visit Hardy's sister who is living at Greenwood furnace and 'twas there that the heartless constable ended their dreams of contentment.

The bride is well known in this county.

THE MINING BULLETIN.

The mining and engineering department of the Pennsylvania State College has issued the first of a series of bi-monthly publications to be known as The Mining Bulletin. The editor is M. C. Irlseng, professor of mining engineering, assisted by H. H. Stook and T. C. Hopkins, instructors in the same department.

Its object is to give a brief outline of current progress in mining and its allied professions and to serve as a bureau of information upon all matters of interest to producers and manufacturers of Pennsylvania and neighboring states. The bulletin, like those by the agricultural experiment station, will be sent to any desiring it.

DEATH OF MRS. H. H. HARSBERGER.

—On last Saturday morning, Julia Barnhart, wife of H. H. Harsberger, died of heart failure at her home, on Penn street. She had been sick for several years with Consumption, but no one had any idea the end would come so soon, as she had been up and about the house 'til the morning of her death.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Barnhart, of Boggs township, she was born at the old homestead, the 27th of May, 1852, and lived there until her marriage when she came with her husband to Bellefonte, and her death is particularly sad on account of her four little children, to whom she was devoted. Her husband, her aged father and mother, four sisters, Mrs. Howard Herd, of Cambria Co., Mrs. J. C. Weaver, Misses Lucy and Amanda Barnhart, and three brothers, J. L. of Renovo, Harry, of Punksutawney and James, of Bellefonte, mourn her death.

While a quiet, unassuming woman, she had qualities of superior merit and was most beloved by those who knew her best. She was a devoted and helpful wife, a loving and affectionate mother and a true friend. A member of the Methodist church, she was a genuine Christian, living a conscientious and consistent life.

Tuesday morning, after the services, which were conducted by her pastor, Rev. W. A. Honck, she was taken to Curtin's and laid to rest in the family burial ground.

THREE ORDINANCES THAT NEED ENFORCEMENT.

—It seems that the work of the Bellefonte officials is extremely spasmodic, especially in the enforcement of ordinances passed by council.

The first one that has come to our notice within the past few days has been that one regarding the cleaning of ice and snow off of side-walks. It is the duty of the street commissioner to see that it is rigidly enforced.

The second one relates to the cow ordinance, that was passed last fall, and was at the time of its enactment enforced to the letter, but of late it seems that the high constable is either too lazy or afraid of getting his feet cold for he does not do his duty. The cows are almost as bad as they ever were and unless the proper officials take immediate steps to enforce the ordinance there will be trouble after while when public sentiment will demand it.

The last violation to which we desire to call attention is that one which requires boys under sixteen years of age to keep off the streets after 8 o'clock in the evening. The police are responsible for negligence in enforcing it and they are justly censurable too. When the measure was first called to their notice they did very efficient work in enforcing it, but like everything else as time wears on they seem to have forgotten that they were ever instructed to keep the small boys off the streets at night.

THEY WILL STEER CLEAR OF PENNSYLVANIA.

—Auditor General McE. Gregg has sent the following instructions to the Treasurers of the various counties in the Commonwealth:

"In view of the decision of the Supreme Court in Coatesville Opera House, State Report No. 139, page 636, and the recent decision of Judge Doty, Westmoreland county, August term 1893, all theatrical companies are required to pay $50 for the privilege of performing in any counties of the Commonwealth (excepting the counties of Allegheny and Philadelphia) for the period of one year. It is now held that the company giving the performance in any county (except Allegheny and Philadelphia) is to be assessed with the above license of $50, and not the place at which the performance is given."

It will be seen from the above that a license of $50 can be lawfully collected from every theatrical company playing in Bellefonte. If such a thing is done it will speedily put an end to shows here, as many of them would have nothing left if they were to pay a license of $50 for the privilege of showing in this county. Heretofore it has been supposed that the license, which every play house is supposed to pay, covered all the obligations, but this recent decision of the Supreme Court has put quite a different aspect on the question. The enforcement of such a measure would be especially hard on companies visiting this county, since Bellefonte is the only town that has an opera house in condition to be used. In other counties where there are several large towns the $50 license would not be very severe.

DOES ADVERTISING PAY.

—Last week we inserted a seven line local to the effect that Wm. Doak is prepared to do all kinds of boots and shoe repairing at lower prices than any other place in town. The notice paid him as the following letter will explain:

Bellefonte Pa., Jan. 29, 1894
DEMOCRATIC WATCHMAN.—Last week I inserted a small local in your paper, about having a shoemaker shop. For much repairing to-do, and so I concluded to insert a small local in your paper of the 27th inst. and Saturday I was kept very busy until late at night. I think if the people would try your paper for advertising they would find that it would pay, for I have not had so much repairing to do in one week as I had last Saturday, for a long time and I made quite a snug sum. Please insert the same advertisement in this week's issue. Respectfully Yours,

WILLIAM DOAK.
Ridge St. near Bishop.

STATISTICS OF THE LUMBER TRADE.

—In its annual review of the lumber business done in that city the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin cites the following facts to substantiate its claim that the lumber business is not played out by any means.

The total shipments during the year were 288,650,000 feet, an increase of 20,505,000 over 1892. The output of the boom was 33,197,267 feet of pine and hard wood and 186,984,478 of hemlock. The lumber on hand is given as follows.

Pine, 19,828,656, a decrease of 1,532,775 from the figures of 1892; hemlock, 152,655,870, decrease 1,966,476; lath, 38,554,600, increase 3,643,000; pickets, 3,289,350, decrease 1,131,150. There were shipped during the year 1893, 19,810 cars loaded with the product of the mills here, an increase of 1,367 cars over 1892. The Gazette and Bulletin declares that these figures go to prove that lumber manufacture is not a dead industry in Williamsport, but that it is good for at least a quarter of a century, and that the output is more likely to increase than diminish.

As the Williamsport market is dependent upon the West Branch lumber fields it will be seen that this section of the State still has some business to look for in its lumber interests.

ETERNITY'S BRINK.

M. V. THOMAS.
Swiftly, the days are passing;
More slowly the years go by,
But while we are busily toiling,
Unheeded, the moment fly.
But rarely a moment, do we pause to think
How close we stand to Eternity's brink.

Pine Grove Mentions.

Miss Annie Wagner, one of Tyrone's most fashionable dressmakers, is the guest of H. E. Smith's family, forming new acquaintances that may prove lasting.

Mr. William Whitmer, one of Benner township's bonanza kings, spent the early part of the week looking after his broad and fertile acres in this township.

Rev. C. T. Aikens of the Lutheran church conducted communion services at Gatesburg last Sunday. Twenty persons were received into full communion of the church.

Last week Rev. A. A. Black, ably assisted by Rev. Brown, conducted a series of meetings in the Bethel church here, adding quite a number of members on profession of faith to the church.

A. G. Ewing Esq., one of our best known businessmen in mercantile circles, is seriously ill, at his home, from a complication of disease, the result of La Grippe and little hope of his life is entertained.

Some weeks ago our town was threatened with a scourge of scarlet fever. Two of J. D. Wagner's children took it in a mild form, but under the careful treatment of Dr. Woods, the malady was kept in bounds and the children are well.

Mr. Irwin Young, who was engaged as a chopper in A. M. Whipple's lumber camp, was brought home with a badly bruised leg, that was caught between two logs. We trust the injuries are not as serious as at first reported. No bones are broken.

Mr. Hewitt Meyers, one of our progressive young school teachers, left Monday last on the early train for the lower end of the county where he will finish a term for some gentleman who we failed to learn his name. Hewitt is one of our model young men and is bound to become known among men of his profession.

In order that there be no conflict in dates of public sales for this section. We announce that Mr. Lewis Krebs will offer his entire stock consisting of the finest Jersey and Holsteins cows, Percheron horses and colts, sheep and hogs, beside an excellent variety of farming implements on the 28th of March, near Pine Grove Mills.

The call, loud and strong, for practical charity has reached every door in this part of the county from the "city of Brotherly Love" whose poor need help so sadly. The good charitable people responded liberally and gave generously to the soliciting committee that called at every door. It is sincerely hoped that a judicious distribution of these gifts among the deserving poor will be made.

Last Saturday was a busy day among the stalwart Democrats. They had the largest caucus meeting that has been held in this district for many a year and placed in nomination the following ticket, which is bound to win: Judge of election for the West precinct Simon Ward; inspector, Jacob Harpster; registration assessor, Frank Davis. East precinct, Judge of election, G. W. McWilliams; inspector, John Snyder; registration assessor, N. T. Krebs; justice of the peace, Jacob Keller; tax collector, C. B. McCormick; poor overseer, Frank Miller; supervisor, D. L. Dennis, Henry Garner, auditor, G. W. Homan; Twp. clerk, Henry Krebs, Sr. The ticket is a good one and can't help but win. Get out the vote.

THE DEATH OF AN HONORED MAN.—On Saturday evening, the 27th inst., occurred the death of the venerable Robert Glenn, one of the best known men in this section of the State and one who always took an active part in the affairs of the county. It was however as a farmer that he made his greatest reputation. He was always most interested in every movement or plan to promote the farmer's advancement and was identified with every important enterprise in his community, where he was recognized as a leading spirit. By his indomitable perseverance and integrity he rose from a penniless boy to a man of affluence and influence. Yet with his superior intellect, good judgement, and vigorous character, he was a most pleasant man to know, genial, jolly and good natured, he always could tell a good story or relate a funny anecdote. Cheerfulness and hopefulness were strong traits of his character and no one ever approached him in need that they did not receive substantial help.

It was before and during the war 1861-65 that we learned to know his true worth. In his grove, near his home, the Scott Guards were organized, equipped and drilled ready for the front. Many were his kind admonitions to the boys as they took their last leave and in fact we felt that he was indeed a father to us all, afterward known as Co. E. of the 4th P. V.

Within sight of the old family's home at the Glades now occupied by W. J. Bell, where his father John Glenn of Revolutionary fame, was shot through the body Jan. 23rd, 1810, Robert Glenn lived for more than a half a century. At the foot of the hill at Baileyville, on the banks of Spruce Creek, still stands the Bailey homestead, that has been occupied and owned by the family for more than a century, where he married his wife Nancy Bailey, on the 23rd of January 1834. He was the father of nine children, four having died in childhood. William was a member of Co. E. 45th P. Vol., and died in Andersonville prison, Mrs. W. H. Bailey of this invalid wife and a host of friends mourn the death of one of God's noblest creatures, an honest man.

About 1825 he learned blacksmithing, serving his apprenticeship in Boalsburg with James and Robert Hewing, afterwards working at Birmingham, Warriors Mark and Rock Springs. In 1841 he moved to Clarion county where he engaged in farming until 1846 when he came back home.

Living more than four score years his mental and physical senses were well preserved until a year ago, when his mind began to fail and a recent attack of the grip resulted in softening of the brain, which was the cause of his death. Of his religious life much could be said. For many years he was a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church in this place and previous to that had been a prominent member of the Spruce Creek church which he left on account of the death of the old Psalmist question.

Our deepest sympathies go out to his bereaved family, not one of whom on account of sickness were able to attend his burial which took place in the midst of a terrible snow storm, on Tuesday the 30th, in the Graysville burial ground. His friend, the Rev. George Elliott, assisted by the Rev. Ermintrout, conducted the services which were a just tribute to the old patriarch.
