

REDUCED FARE TO PHILA.—On March 5th, the Central Railroad of Penna., reduced their mileage ticket rate from a basis of 254 miles to 235 miles from Bellefonte. Those traveling to Philadelphia or New York will find the train leaving this point at 5.25 p. m. makes close connections at Mill Hall with the Beech Creek train and at Williamsport, the sleeping car is accessible at 10 p. m. to any desiring to retire early. Sleeping car berths are sold at $1.50 each. Passengers taking this train are landed in Philadelphia at 7:12 and New York at 9:30 a. m.

INCREASE THE POST-OFFICE RECEIPTS.—As this is the last computing month of the year for the Bellefonte post-office it is very desirable, and we may say necessary, that the receipts of the office be swelled as much as possible in order to hold the year's business well up to the $10,000.00 mark necessary for free delivery.

There is little danger of Bellefonte losing this valuable arm of the postal service, but it is none the less better to remove all chances of it. About half of the month remains, so make all the purchase of stamps you possibly can.

PATRON'S PICNIC 1894.—The Committee on Patrons picnic of Central Pa., appointed at the late meeting of the Centre county Pomona grange, met at Centre Hall on Saturday the 3rd Inst., and organized by electing Leonard Rhone, chairman; George Dale, secretary; and J. J. Arny, treasurer. The chairman appointed the following chiefs of departments, John Dauberman, superintendent of grounds; George Dale, superintendent of exhibits; George Gingsrich, superintendent of the live stock department. The committee not all being present the chairman was authorized to appoint the remaining heads of departments at his earliest convenience.

The committee agreed on the week of the 17th of Sept. as the time of holding the next annual encampment and exhibition. The committee has already had overtures for the exhibition of live stock from eminent breeders in the State. The auditorium is to be completed in the early part of the Summer and other improvements were placed in the hands of the chairman and superintendent of the grounds. Dr. Hollingsworth, of Hagerstown, Md. waited upon the committee and offered to open a school of instruction in the care and management of horses free to all who may have horses to train.

The committee has already agreed upon other improvements in the exhibition, giving daily stock parades and other entertainments. The entertainments in the auditorium which are to be arranged for by the chairman will be, it is promised, of the highest order.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.—This evening the Presbyterian church will be the scene of one of the most interesting musical entertainments this town has ever known. A long array of Philadelphia and New York talent will appear, the names of whom we published last week. The concert will be varied in as much as the artists who will appear are talented in so many different ways. The fact that very little home talent will appear will make it all the more interesting, as those who attend will be able to pass a fair judgment on the numbers as they are rendered.

The program will be as follows:

FIRST PART.
Concerto (No. 29) Adagio Allegro Aria Handel	E. Tudor Strang.
"Flower Song".....	Osgood
Mr. George Ford.....	Selected.
Viola Solo.....	Miss Jennie Gillan.

Miss Mamie Keim with quartet.....	Gonnard
Song—Sing, Smile, Stammer.....	Gonnard
Miss Julia A. Doran.....	Selected.
Viola Solo.....	Miss Jennie Gillan.
Armores Song from Robin Hood.....	Kever
George Ford.....	Selected.
"For All Eternity".....	Mascherano
Miss Mamie Keim.....	Selected.
Funeral March and Hymn of the Seraphs.....	Gailoune.

The doors will open promptly at 7.15 o'clock and the entertainment will begin at 8.

Another word in regard to the special arrangements made with the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and the Bellefonte Central railroad company. Tickets of admission can be purchased of the ticket agents at all stations, as well as on the trains. The rate on the Bellefonte Central will be from State College, 80 cents; Waddle, 75; Fillmore, 70; Hunter, 65, the above prices including fare for the round trip. Don't miss this opportunity to enjoy an evening of rare musical entertainment, but come everybody, and fill the church to overflowing. It is a church benefit and everyone who can possibly do so should attend.

OUR BUTCHERED TREES.—It is coming Spring and our people will soon have an opportunity of seeing the effect of the indiscriminate whacking off of the tops of maple shade trees, along the streets, that has been followed for the past few years and so universally resorted to last Fall. Not a street in town but will have living examples, in the scrubby, ill shaped, unnatural looking trees, the growth of which has been put back a half a dozen years or more, by the ignorance that calls cutting off the trees, tree trimming. With a few exceptions, Bellefonte's maples, many of which in a few years would have been tall, stately shade trees, will present the appearance of stunted knotted, scrub oaks. Just high enough to obscure the light, and air, and view from second story windows, and without either shape, beauty or statelyness about them. We regret that such is the case, but regrets will not shape up the shade trees that have been so ruthlessly butchered, but an observance of the effects of that butchery may, in the future, prevent the same senseless operation being applied to the few promising trees that are left.

THE RECENT MUSICAL CONVENTION AT BOALSBURG.—The little town of Boalsburg once a year comes to the front with a grand musical convention and it is conceded that the recent convention held there was one of the best ever held in that town. Lovers of music who were in attendance all unite in saying that the high class of music rendered at this convention, and the excellent manner in which Prof. P. H. Meyer handled his large class of over one hundred voices can not easily be surpassed.

Much of its success is due to the efforts put forth by the committee which had the arrangements in charge, to complete every detail, to leave nothing undone within their power that might go to make their efforts a success. Those gentlemen can now look with pleasure at the result of their labors. But without the well known Prof. P. H. Meyer at its head these results could not have been reached and to him most of the credit must be given. He was ably assisted by Miss Annie Miller, of Bellefonte, who presided at the organ, also by Miss Myton, of Huntingdon, Pa., and by Prof. Lowell Meyer who, with his fine voice, added much to the enjoyment of those in attendance. Special mention should also be made of the fine singing of Miss Rupley, from Mercersburg.

As was announced the convention began on Monday evening, the 26th., and continued through the week with three sessions daily, closing on Friday evening. Two concerts were given and one "Old Peoples' Matinee," the former on Thursday and Friday evenings the latter on Friday afternoon. On Wednesday all present had the pleasure of listening to an able address on music by Dr. Bowman, of Lancaster. The proceeds amounted to nearly $200.

When it comes to anything of this kind the people of Boalsburg can always be relied on to throw open their doors and to do their best to entertain the strangers that such an occasion as this brings and to one and all a cordial invitation is given to come again. Following are the names of the entire class:

THE OLD RETIRES.—THE NEW SUCCEEDS.—On Monday morning at 9 o'clock council convened in the chamber, on Spring street, with all the members present but two. The meeting was called to order by president Potter and as speedily as possible all the unfinished business on the table was hurried through with. The Water committee reported many leaks in all parts of town, the Street committee reported the collection of $25.85 for shoveling snow, all bills were read and approved and ordered paid. The old council then felt that nothing remained for it to do but adjourn sine die. The only business of an unfinished nature that was forced to hold over for the new council was the adjustment of the street line in front of the Reeder and Hayes homes, on north Allegheny street, the Deihl property case, the McCalmont & Co. water trouble and the suit which James Solt has instituted against the borough for injuries sustained on a bad Logan street bad walk.

Immediately upon the adjournment of the old council, new members Gen. Beaver and Henry Brockerhoff, and S. H. Williams re-elected, were sworn in to office by Hon. John B. Linn. Chief Justice W. E. Gray and poor overseer, Isaac Miller, borough treasurer, Chas. Cook, and auditor Thomas Mitchell were also present and sworn in. The new council was thereupon organized with the following members: Beaver, Miller, Dart, North ward; Garman, Bush, Brockerhoff, South ward; Williams, Hillibish, Gerberich, West ward. Upon motion of Mr. Garman, John C. Miller was elected president for the ensuing year and Mr. Isaac Mitchell, was re-elected clerk. Council then adjourned until evening.

The evening session was called to order by president Miller, who immediately announced the appointment of his committees as follows:

Finance.—Gerberich, Dart and Bush. Street.—Williams, Beaver and Brockerhoff. Water.—Hillibish, Gerberich and Garman. Market.—Dart, Williams and Brockerhoff. Nuisance.—Bush, Hillibish and Beaver. Fire and Police.—Dart, Hillibish and Garman. Village Improvement.—Beaver, Gerberich and Garman. Officers Montgomery and Gares were reappointed to the police force. Samuel Ryan will succeed himself as engineer at the water works. Clement Dale, Esq. was re-elected solicitor and Thomas Shaughensy was re-elected Street commissioner. The bonds of Isaac Miller, overseer of the poor, and Michael Berger, high constable, were presented and approved. A comparative statement of the receipts and expenditures for 1892 and 1893 was presented by clerk Mitchell which showed the average expenses to have been $10,400.31. Some important business was transacted and the meeting adjourned.

Following is a statement of the borough finances for the year just closed:

AS BAD AS THE SMALL-POX ITSELF.—A singular case of how a young Williamsporter is suffering with a species of small pox is told in the following from the Republican of that place.

"There is a young man in town who has discovered a new method of vaccination and of the four physicians who have attended him not one will deny the efficacy of the method. The young fellow's name is Werts and his home is on Mulberry street. The account of how he was vaccinated without the aid of a physician is curious as well as interesting.

Previous to the closing of the schools to children not vaccinated Dr. P. C. Reilly, was called in and vaccinated a little sister of Werts' on the arm. The vaccination "took" in first class style and the little girl endured all stages of the effect. At last she reached the itching one, and after trying finger nails and rubbing to allay the itching she hit upon the brilliant idea of using the hair brush, which proved a very fair scratcher. She brushed over the vaccination once or twice, and was so delighted with the result that she used the brush several different times.

Now her brother had purchased a new shirt. It was a woolen shirt and if Republican readers have ever worn woolen shirts next to the skin they will appreciate the young man's endeavors to find someone who would scratch his back. Finally getting desperate he took off the shirt and called his little sister to do the scratch act. Remembering the delightful results that had accompanied her use of the hair brush she alleviated her brother's suffering with that same article. He said it felt good and as he expected to receive some pecuniary reward for her services she brushed his back well.

The next day Dr. Klump was summoned to the house for some sickness and was told that the boy's back was broken out. He examined it and as it looked a little like small pox he summoned Dr. Reilly, and they intently set for Dr. Youngman and health officer Richter. They came near getting up a good case of small pox out of it, but the hair brush incident happened to be recounted and gave away the secret of the trouble. An examination disclosed the fact that the young man had been vaccinated on the back in forty-seven different and distinct places, and Job and all his boys won't be "in it" with that man when those forty-seven vaccinations get in good working order. He is 17 years old but his never having been vaccinated before will be more than made up for by this exciting plantation of vaccinations. The fact that no new sores have appeared since the first examination proves conclusively the hair brush theory and that it is not small pox."

Pine Grove Mentions. Little George, son of Wm. Eckley is carrying his left arm in a brace because of a fall which resulted in a broken bone. Jeff D. Hubler an expert in the use of hammer and tongs, is now located at the Erbtown shop, where all work in his line will be done neatly and quickly. Jeff is one of the rising young mechanics, and is worthy of a fair share of patronage. Over one hundred invitations were issued to the marriage of Newton Dreiblebs and Miss Annie McWilliams, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McWilliams, which was solemnized yesterday the 5th, at the residence of the bride's parents. Public sales are on the way, and so far as heard from, farm implements are selling at good prices, while hogs and sheep are below last year's prices. Cows are selling high while good horses are commanding prices from a $130 to $150 a head. On Monday of this week a number of relatives and friends journeyed to Altoona to attend the 20th marriage anniversary of Rev. John Housman. The WATCHMAN hopes the Reverend and his wife will be able to celebrate many more happy anniversaries. The oldest lady in this locality, Aunt Hannah Glenn, has for the last ten days been quite ill, yet she suffers no pain and her mental faculties are unimpaired. During the last few days the relatives from a distance have been summoned to her bedside. Wm. E. Meek and daughter are again comfortably located at their county home anxiously awaiting the return of Spring. It is prophesied that they will soon tire of farming and come back to their home on Main street, but we do know they are able to make a success of both farming and stock raising as they have demonstrated. Wm. F. Tibbens Esq., one of College township's Democratic pillars, spent a few hours on our streets interviewing in his happy way his friends: Just the way his hat was tilted on his cranium, we imagined a sheriff's beak was buzzing in the balmy March air, or possibly it meant the associate Judge-ship, of course Judge Tibbens would have a gratifying sound to his hosts of friends. On Tuesday of this week Messrs Levi and O. B. Krebs of this place attended the funeral of Mr. Jefferson Gates, at Curwensville, Clearfield county. Mr. Gates was formerly a Centre county; but settled in Clearfield county away back in the fifties, he was a very nice looking man and had a most friendly disposition, while he was highly respected at his home he always enjoyed a visit to his old friends here. He was extremely fond of old life and having gone some distance from home to fish he did not return as soon as he was expected, and when found was paralyzed so that he died in a few days. He was about 70 years old. Rev. Illingworth in all probability preached his last sermon to a Pine Grove audience last Sunday. During his stay the young Reverend was many friends regardless of denominations for he extended the right hand of fellowship to all, in the work of the Master in whose cause he labored so faithfully. As he thanked the people for their kindness, they realized that they had received more than they gave, for Mr. Illingworth was a most talented speaker, a popular pastor and was liked so well by all, that no difference where he preached the house was always crowded with people who were never disappointed in his theology, delivery or interpretation of the Scriptures.

The death of Samuel J. Atlee, which occurred at the home of his son John, in Sinking Valley, Blair county on last Thursday, was not unexpected, for like a shock of grain ready for the harvest he gathered by his Master at the ripe old age of four score years. Mr. Atlee lived most of his life near Fairbrook where at one time the family owned hundreds of acres. He was a consistent member of the M. E. church, and a kind affable man. His home here was for years head quarters for young and old, who were always made welcome and although it is fifteen years since he moved to Tyrone, he is still remembered as a Ferguson-on township man. He was buried Saturday the 3rd in the Tyrone cemetery.

Books, Magazines Etc.

In addition to the color plates for the March Art Interchange which include a superb character study entitled, "An Old Salt," and a Summer landscape of the "Woods at Stockbridge," both unusually good and supplemented by a group of Notable Pictures from the New York Water Color Exhibition, now open, as well as various designs for amateur workers with brush and needle, in painting and embroidery. There is a description of The Vanderbilt Palace, its interior and fittings; an account of The National Sculpture Society by its Secretary, Mr. F. Wellington Ruckstuhl; some excellent hints on Color Decorations in our Houses; while Miss Norchhoff writes on Leather Work, and Miss Hurll furnishes a paper suitable to the Lenten season accompanied by a full page engraving of this beautiful marble. The Countess di Brasi tells of the revival of Lace Making in Venice, and Mr. Wendell Stanton Howard's paper on Russian Art deals with the movements in modern art and literature in Russia. The Observer talks of St. Gaudens and the Senate Committee Zorn, Murphy and the Evans Prize, and Miller's Book of the Fair, while the Society, Water Color, Mysak, Meave, and other exhibitions, are reviewed. The third of Mr. La Farge's Lectures on Art is reported, as well as the New Additions to the Luxembourg in Paris, and some account is given of the French Tapestry that were burned at the Exposition. Various instructive papers with notes and comments of value to all students, artists, and laymen, fill out its pages which are fully and handsomely illustrated. The Art Interchange Co., New York. 35 cents.

A NEW VOLUME OF THE FORUM.

The Forum for March begins its seventeenth volume, and has therefore reached a period when it may be classified among the older group of our periodicals. The reduction of its price has proved more rapidly successful than its publishers expected, so that it starts into this new volume with a larger circle of readers, and correspondingly with a wider influence, than any Review of the English language. The number for March contains discussion of the Income Tax; and the great Railroad failures; of colonization as a remedy for city poverty; of the stability of the great religious sects; of the Nationalists' program for reforming society; of the Gothenburg system of regulating liquor traffic as applied to the United States; of Lowell, the man, as revealed in his letters; of the duty of educated men in a democracy; of the significance of six hundred hospital cases of children—this wide range of current topics each discussed by a writer of authority.

Three Wise Men.

"As soon as my vessel reaches port,"
Said the skipper, with a wall,
"As soon as my vessel reaches port
I am going to set my sail."
"As soon as my trade picks up a bit,"
Said the merchant, looking wise,
"As soon as my trade picks up a bit
I am going to advertise."
"As soon as my field of grain is grown,"
Said the farmer, sore in need,
"As soon as my field of grain is grown
I am going to sow the seed."
