

Mrs. Stanford To Sell Her Southern Pacific Stock.

It is Necessary for Her to Raise $5,000,000 by May 17.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The Chronicle prints a story to the effect that Mrs. Stanford is about to dispose of her large holdings in the Southern Pacific improvement company, to the great embarrassment of the Crocker, Huntington and Hopkins interests. The reason assigned is that under the terms of Senator Stanford's will it is necessary to raise, by May 17, 1895, the sum of $5,000,000, which represents in the aggregate the several bequests of the late senator, due and payable at that time, as well as various claims and promissory notes against the estate. The total appraisement of the Stanford estate is little over $17,000,000, and it is asserted it is possible to realize at this time, without great sacrifice, the sum of $5,000,000 only on the railroad properties.

The policy of the Southern Pacific has always been to maintain the proprietorship in a close corporation, and the interests of the three great owners has been always so closely related that it has not been possible to separate them without violent disturbance of this policy and probable depreciation of the value of that stock, and also the bonds of the railroad company. The Stanford interest is one-fourth, and it is said besides that a change of ownership will make a harmonious management more difficult. Mrs. Stanford, however, is alleged to be definitely determined upon this step, not only to comply with the terms of her husband's will, but to secure by ample provision the great Stanford university after her death.

His 90th Birthday.

PORTLAND, Me., March 20.—To day is the 90th birthday of Maine's celebrated apostle of prohibition, General Neal Dow. The veteran temperance advocate arose at an early hour and ate a hearty breakfast. Throughout the day he held an informal reception in his parlor, many of his friends and neighbors calling to present congratulations. He was in high spirits. The rooms were handsomely decorated with flowers. The reception was entirely informal. General Dow received a large number of birthday presents.

To night, in the city hall, a great meeting was held. Addresses were made by General Seldon Connor, Rev. Matt. S. Hughes, Mrs. Clara C. Hoffman, of Missouri, with a response by General Dow. Letters and telegrams were read and a presentation was made of a portrait of General Dow for the state house. A poem written for the occasion was read by Caroline Dana Howe.

Prominent Lawyer Dead.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., March 18.—This morning Hon. Washington Townsend, aged 62 years, an eminent lawyer and a prominent politician, died at his residence in this place of paralysis of the brain. He was president of the National bank of Chester county for many years and up to the time of his death. In 1852 he was elected to congress by the Whigs in one of the most remarkable and bitter political battles ever fought in this district. Among the candidates to be defeated at the time was Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, now United States ambassador to Italy. He was elected to the national Republican convention several times and distinguished himself by opposing the unit rule when Cameron was aspiring for the presidency and voted for Lincoln.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

—Get your job work done right at the WATCHMAN office.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Shartzler, of Smithtown, died at her home last Monday. She was the oldest resident of that vicinity, having attained her 81st year.

—There will be a shooting contest to-morrow afternoon between the Coburn and Rebersburg marksmen. The shoot will take place at the latter place.

—The order of Good Templars of the Centre-Clearfield district will meet in semi-annual convention at Glen Richey, Clearfield county, on April 17th and 18th.

—An old Grey mule that pulled a DuBois lumber car over a 15ft. trestle to a mill, tumbled off the other day and fell to the ground below. It wasn't hurt at all.

—Pleasant Valley castle, of Mill Hall, and Lamar castle K. G. E. will visit the Bellefonte castle at this place next Tuesday evening. Grand Chief, F. E. Harris, of the State, will be here.

—Another of those delightful excursions over the new Central railroad of Pa. was run to Williamsport on Tuesday evening to see Mr. and Mrs. Kendall, in the "Iron Master." Very few people took advantage of the opportunity, but those who did were highly pleased with the way the railroad authorities conducted it.

—The story and a half log house, near Kylertown, in which William Records, his wife and four children lived happily until last Saturday, burned to the ground and with it Orpha, the eight year old daughter, who had been left in bed until it was too late to rescue her. The flames started in an adjoining shanty and the miner and his family are now without a home and mourning the loss of a daughter.

—Mrs. Thomas Eisenhuth died at her home near Cherry Run, on Wednesday afternoon. She was only 28 years old when consumption claimed her a victim to its ravages. She will be buried at Aaronsburg Saturday morning.

—Walter Butts, whose hotel, the Arlington, burned down at Houtzdale last week, has rented the hotel Savage within two blocks of his former place and is doing a good business in the new house. An order of the court allowed him to transfer his license and he will entertain his guests at the Savage until the Arlington is rebuilt.

—Mrs. Amos Koch, who died at her home on Buffalo Run, about three miles above Bellefonte, on Tuesday of last week, was 67 years old and leaves a husband and six children to mourn her death. Deceased was a Miss Jane Shannon, a sister of Rev. S. G. Shannon, of Philadelphia. She died of a cancerous tumor.

—Mrs. Emery E. Herr died suddenly at her home in Indianapolis, Ind. last Tuesday evening, and will be buried at the home of her childhood, in Sunbury, to-day. It will be remembered that she lived with her husband in this place until recently. He was the district agent of the Penn Mutual life insurance company here.

—Mr. James S. Reish and Miss Sadie Heckman were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Heckman, in Potter township, Thursday evening of last week. None but immediate friends of the young people witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. S. H. Eisenburg, of the Centre Hall Reformed church.

—The late Joseph Hall, who died at his home, at Howard, recently, was one of Bald Eagle valley's well known men. He was born in this place in 1819 and died of paralysis. He was a brother of ex-County Commissioner J. Newlin Hall and also of Mrs. D. Z. Kline, of this place. A widow, with five children, mourns his death.

—Alfred Devine and Martin and Richard Riley, the three young men arrested on the charge of assaulting Constable William Benner, in Phillipsburg, several nights ago, were given a hearing Tuesday evening before Squire LaPorte. The facts warranted the justice in holding them for court, and they were accordingly each placed under bail.

—A little son of David Kennedy, of Tyrone, was playing in a piano box, last Friday afternoon, when he conceived the idea that it would be lots of fun to set fire to the excelsior in the box. He did it and then found he couldn't climb out. The timely appearance of the father saved the boy, but only after he was horribly burned. It was with considerable difficulty that an adjacent store building was kept from burning.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.—Issued during the past week.—Taken from the docket.

D. F. Houser and Sallie A. Wagner, both of Benner township.

L. R. Lingle, of Milesburg, and Jennie B. Boal, of Centre Hall.

Howard H. Goss, of Spring township, and Minnie M. Bortoff, of Ferguson township.

CENTRE COUNTY IS LEFT.—On Tuesday morning deputy revenue collector E. R. Chambers, of the Centre-Clinton district, received a letter from Collector Grant Herring in which he announced that ex-commissioner John F. Brosius, of Crawford township, Clinton-county, had been appointed to succeed Mr. Chambers. There were a number of gentlemen in this county who would have been pleased to serve in the capacity of deputy collector, but Mr. Brosius has secured the appointment. The candidates here were Jas. C. Noll, James R. Alexander, Wm. C. Dukeman and William Runkle all of this place, C. O. Mallory, of Miles township, and A. B. Herd, of Phillipsburg, and John F. Potter, of Milesburg. Clinton county had but one candidate and has succeeded in getting the office. There can be no doubt that this county was entitled to name the successor of the Republican incumbent, but owing to an impossibility of our people to get together Clinton stepped in, backed by the strong endorsement of Judge Mayer, and was successful.

Mr. Brosius will take charge on April 1st and Mr. Chambers has been asked to give him all the instructions needed. As Clinton county has secured the stamp office also Centre is left out in the cold so far as recognition is concerned. The appointment of a stamp agent in this location would doubtless have been unsatisfactory, however, as most of the cigar and liquor traffic is carried on in Clinton county, hence the necessity of having the stamps within everyday reach of their consumers.

We are sorry that we have thus lost an office which we had every right to claim, but feel confident that the appointee will conduct it with credit to himself and our party.

MILES IN A CANVAS BOAT.—The Reynoldsville Volunteer states that in the Spring E. E. Richey, W. J. Weaver and G. J. Corwin will go from Reynoldsville to New Orleans by sail boat.

On their sail will be printed "from Reynoldsville, Jefferson county, Pa., to New Orleans, distance 1,830 miles." The boat will be launched in Sand Lick creek, at Reynoldsville, will sail into Red bank creek, then into the Allegheny river, then into the Ohio, and thence into the Mississippi to New Orleans. The party expect to use an some folding canvas boat 12 feet long, 44 inches wide and 15 inches deep, weight with sails being fifty-five pounds.

DEAL GENTLY BY THE TREE-TOPS.—This is what the Philadelphia Press says of tree trimming, and no where does it apply more forcibly than right here in Bellefonte where most of the trees, had they been left alone, would have been beautiful and systematical, have been backed and sawed by persons who knew nothing about what they were doing 'til they are of no more use or beauty than the telephone poles, which they resemble.

"The trees are having a hard time on our streets this season. They suffer every Spring from the irresponsible official tree-cutters. Tree-butcher and tree-mutilation go on all over the city each March by the rash, unskilled hands turned loose to cut and hack wherever ignorant laborers think that branches are too long, a top decayed or mere wanton caprice leads to cutting and trimming. The poor trees bleed. Gaping wounds are left which later rot and start the destruction of some tree which would have done well enough if properly trimmed. The trees themselves are robbed of their symmetrical growth.

Still worse has come this year. If the trolley wires had all been strung last Fall and Winter the trees would have been trimmed when the sap was "in the roots," and no such harm would have been done to the trees as is daily doing now. The mild Winter has set the sap moving early. It is now in full flow in every tree. Right and left, through all the streets, ax and saw are at work. Bleeding tree-limbs are to be seen on every street.

The misery of it is that nothing will be done. Every year, for years, we make our Spring plea for the poor trees. Once or twice we have checked the ravages of these tree-carpenters, but only here and there. The grim work goes on. One by one our streets grow treeless. Few trees are planted, many die and more are injured.

Yet how easily the whole aspect of our city could be altered if the host of people who can afford to plant trees would set them out, if a better and more lasting selection than swift-growing but short-lived poplar were made, and if our city authorities, as in Boston, would have a City Forester, a man of trained skill, under whose direction all tree-cutting, trimming and planting in our streets would be done.

Fine Grove Mentions.

Many of our farmers are about through plowing for spring crops and from present indications the mild Spring zephyrs are here to stay. Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Minnie Bortoff and Howard Goss which is to be celebrated at the home of the bride's father, F. Bortoff on the 21st inst at 4 o'clock P. M. Goss at excitement and great expectation are now rife in our town. Curstone committees are meeting every few hours and every day comes new reports of the railroad that is to make a metropolis out of our sleepy little village.

The Smith Bros. of our town are setting their business here preparatory to going to Rising Springs where they will conduct a furniture and undertaking establishment on quite an extensive scale. The citizens of that place will find them to be good jovial fellows with plenty of energy. The Watchman wishes them much success in their new enterprise.

The quiet peaceful village of Boalsburg which is noted for the longevity of its citizens has a number of men who lived in old Hickory's time and who still imagine they are voting for Jackson every time there is a general election. Among them are Jacob Weber, James Price, David Stewart, Daniel Bohn, W. H. Miller and David Keller whose aggregate years are 478 and who are all hale, hearty, well met men.

THE RAILROAD MEETING.—Pursuant to a call a public meeting was held in the Academy Hall last Tuesday evening the 20th. The sweet music of the Pine Grove Band early brought the crowd together and scarcely was there standing room for those who wished to hear the distinguished speakers of the evening. Mr. J. B. Mitchell called the house to order and the Rev. C. T. Alkena was escorted to the chair, which he accepted in a most enthusiastic manner for three quarters of an hour, recalling the old meeting of 39 years ago, when crowds gathered to hear General Buchanan and other old war heroes, who were at that time interested in the building of the Lewisburg and Tyrone road which was never completed although $20000 had been subscribed for it. He concluded by urging the citizens to grasp the opportunity which might never come in their way again. Editor Harter related from his own personal experience how he grasped the opportunity of "gang boss" on the Lewisburg branch and the out come was his present standing and position. The recitation of one of his own Dutch poems, brought down the house and many a hearty laugh was heard over Bonaestiel.

Ex-Governor Beaver was next, introduced amidst great applause. He is credited with being a moving factor in the building of the B. C. R. R. and from the tenor of his speech he is just as anxious for the continuation of the road to words without works, and his interest was to the extent of fifty dollars with a promise that he would make a personal appeal to the Board of directors at Philadelphia and use his influence for the construction of the road that is to open up one of the richest farming communities in the country and to bring in close contact with the outside world a people he had learned to respect and love years ago. He, like the first speaker, remembered the other railroad meeting which was held when he was a student and remarked that while the old stone school house had gone as most of the old residents had, the railroad was yet a thing of the future but with prospects so bright that the end could almost be seen. He graphically cited the advantages of a railroad to the community and advised the land owners to accept the offers that had been made, which interested or disinterested are generous and liberal.

Over five hundred dollars were raised and the citizens were so deeply interested that the committee, J. B. Mitchell, P. F. Bortoff, W. J. Meyers, J. B. Ard and W. H. Bloom was promised every help in securing the right of way from College Crossing to this place, a distance of three and a half miles. It was said that J. B. Ard would grant the right of way through his place and a site for the depot. A number of land owners of Stone Valley were present, who have great expectations that the road will be an outlet for their ore beds, which are said to be rich in quantity and quality, even if the road is not built beyond this point, it is within four miles of the richest deposits in the Valley.

Supt. Thomas of the R. C. R. R. was next introduced and he expressed himself as being well pleased with the meeting, and hoped they would be able to go on with the work without any delay. Mr. Harter closed the meeting with a very neat little speech in which he told what he knew of R. R. building and the following original poem.

Es is alles hentlich engerecht
In unsem goodtoot
Es bruch sich nemond bogla mae
Unles are is net geacheit
Der aethem doot alles fardeleit
Un des is was ich mane
Un wan mer aregets he gae will
