

Will They Re-elect Him.

Judge CLAYTON, who has been accused of conduct and characteristics that should not belong to a judge, and who in his judicial office, particularly in maintaining a mill for the grinding out of improper naturalization, has done more than enough to disgrace the ermine, has been renominated by a large majority for another term by the Republicans of Delaware county.

Now what will the people of Delaware county do in this case? It is said that the Democrats will have a good chance of electing a judge if they put up a good man. But the Republican majority is large, and when it comes to voting, the members of that party have a habit of overlooking fitness, honesty and decency and voting for candidates without regard to the absence of those essential qualifications.

Deserving Severe Punishment.

Merely trespassing upon the grass in the capitol grounds, for which COXEY has been arraigned before a magistrate, is but a slight offense compared with that with which some of his followers have been committing in the West.

By such high-handed proceedings a stoppage of all traffic was brought about on the roads thus taken possession of, including the transportation of the mails, inter-state commerce and everything else. The laws of both the States and the nation have thus been violated.

On Tuesday morning the Congressional Record was burdened with 112 columns of a speech which Senator QUAY has started to read in the Senate in the hope of delaying Democratic legislation on the WILSON bill.

The burning of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, Dr. TALMAGE'S church, makes the third destruction of that edifice by fire. It seems almost remarkable that his congregation should be called upon so often to repair losses by fire.

If you want printing of any description the WATCHMAN office is the place to have it done.

Unjust Blame.

The tariff bill in the shape in which it will sooner or later pass the Senate, will not be satisfactory to the Democratic party. It will not be the measure of tariff reform which they expected to secure.

Nothing could be more absurd or unjust than to hold Mr. CLEVELAND responsible for the effects of the treason of half a dozen Democratic Senators. How could he be expected to control them when the motive of some of them for opposing the WILSON bill is the personal grudge which they hold toward him.

Over Forty Thousand Persons Saw the Great Race.

Dr. Rice won in Fast Time—It Was an Exciting Struggle from Start to Finish and Thousands of Dollars Changed Hands on the Result of the Uncertain Contest—The Scenes After the Race.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Brooklyn handicap, the first big turf event of the season, was won by Dr. Rice in the fast time of 2:07. Over 40,000 people saw the race. It was an ideal day for the race. The track was in perfect condition and there was every prospect of the record of 2:07 flat, made by Dry Monopole, getting lowered.

The big event was the fourth race on the card. It was scheduled to take place at 4 o'clock, but it was nearly 4.48 when the flag fell. The horses were at the post nearly forty minutes. Break after break occurred, but not one was even enough to warrant their getting the word. Copyright, Herald, Ajax and Comanche came out to the furlong post fully half a dozen times.

The Tabernacle Burned.

Dr. Talmage's Church Destroyed For the Third Time—Electric Light Wires Back of the Organ Start It and a Million Dollars Worth of Property Goes Up in Smoke.

NEW YORK, May 13.—Fire seems to be the nemesis of Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage and the members of his congregation. Their beautiful new tabernacle at the corner of Clinton and Greene avenues, Brooklyn, was destroyed by fire this afternoon.

Everything in the tabernacle to-day was destroyed with the building. Perhaps the loss which will grieve Dr. Talmage most is that of the memorial stones which he brought from the East and which were set in the wall at the right of the organ, encased in stereorelief work. They were four in number.

The fire was discovered shortly after 12 o'clock, just after the congregation had been dismissed from the morning service.

A small boy rushed in from the street and told James Day the sexton that smoke was coming out of the windows. Dr. Talmage was still in the building shaking hands with some people. After some search it was discovered that the smoke proceeded from behind the big organ.

Almost at the same time the fire was located flames burst from the top. In the meantime, ex-supervisor Reed, who was in the Summerfield Methodist Episcopal church directly opposite from the tabernacle had also seen the smoke coming from the window and sent in an alarm of fire.

By the time the firemen arrived the flames were bursting from all the church windows. Two extra alarms, and finally a special call were sent in, bringing all the engines in Brooklyn and Williamsburg to the fire.

The interior of the church was a seething, roaring mass of flames inside of thirty minutes after the fire was discovered and by 1 o'clock the roof and the handsome steeple had fallen in.

Great jets of flames shot across the open space, between the Tabernacle and the Hotel Regent, which is next to the church on Clinton avenue, and in a short space of time that portion of the hotel nearest the church was burning fiercely.

The Regent is a family hotel. The guests fled in dismay. At the time of the fire there were eighty five guests and ninety servants in the house. Two sick women had to be carried out of the place in the building.

The flames spread rapidly through the hotel, and it too was soon afire from cellar to roof.

The Tabernacle and hotel Regent were completely gutted. Nothing remains but the walls.

The total loss is estimated at a little over a million dollars. The loss on the hotel Regent, will amount to about $600,000. The loss on the Tabernacle is about $400,000 and the adjoining buildings are reported to be damaged to the extent of $50,000.

Four firemen were overcome by the heat during the progress of the flames and had to be removed from the scene. All subsequently recovered.

It was supposed the fire was caused by a spark from one of the electric wires behind the organ in the Tabernacle.

Coxey's Camp Broken.

The Army of Commonwealers Leaves Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Tents were struck at "Camp Tyranny" before 9 this morning and an hour later the army was on the march for the new camp near Hyattsville, in Maryland. Carl Brown made a parting speech, in which he told the men that it would be impossible for him and Coxey to accompany them on account of their engagements in the Police Court; so the command was turned over to young Jesse Coxey.

The three convicted leaders cannot leave the District until their sentences have been imposed and served, since the terms of their bail bonds forbid them to depart the jurisdiction of the court.

Comparatively few people witnessed the departure of the army as it marched through the side streets, with the bass drum pounding and all the banners displayed, and it evidently has become an exploded sensation in this city. The men were pleased at the prospect of another change and talked hilariously of the country fare they expected to get.

Hyattsville, where the army camps to-day in a small suburban village in Maryland. Most of its men are engaged in business or in the government departments in Washington during the day, so that the population during business hours consists mostly of women and children.

The new camp is about three miles from the District, a pleasant spot, well wooded and well watered. There Coxey expects to maintain headquarters for the army all summer if need be, or, as he says, until Congress takes action on his bills.

INSUBORDINATION MEANS DEATH.

An exchange publishes the following account of how an unruly inmate of the Huntingdon reformatory met a sudden death at the hands of a cell keeper last Friday.

Thursday was the first time that insubordination at the Pennsylvania Industrial reformatory was properly dealt with, according to general opinion expressed at Huntingdon. It involved the life of a prisoner, but the occasion called for his death or that of defenseless Mr. J. L. Bookhamer, keeper of the solitary cells.

Edward Wood and a fellow prisoner named Waldon conspired to kill Mr. Bookhamer, keeper of the solitary cells of the Huntingdon reformatory Thursday. Armed with iron bars, secreted in their pants legs, they made the attack in one of the cell houses.

Wood struck the guard several terrific blows, and in warding off a perhaps fatal one, Mr. Bookhamer sustained a fracture to his right hand. To him it was a fight for life and his courage never left him. Just as Wood and Waldon were about to make another revengeful attack, Bookhamer came in possession of a 38 calibre revolver through the assistance of Guard Matthew McAteer, and with this pointed directly at them held both at bay for a moment.

Several times he asked them to surrender, but Wood's only reply was something like "You're afraid to shoot—" and then another attack was attempted. But it was brought to a sudden ending. Bookhamer fired and Wood fell to the floor and expired in a moment. The bullet entered the left side of his body under the arm and lodged near the heart. Waldon fled to another part of the institution.

Bookhamer's act is commended, as it was necessary. He was encountering desperate men and was compelled to employ desperate measures.

Coroner Harmon summoned a jury and viewed the body and heard considerable testimony. At the conclusion of the hearing the jury rendered a verdict exonerating Mr. Bookhamer, on the ground that he acted in self defense.

To TROUT FISHERMEN. — Several weeks ago we published a decision rendered by Judge Serrett, of Luzerne county, in which he ruled that no stream which had been stocked with small trout fry could be protected under the law as a "stocked stream" unless the required screens were in use in the stream to keep the growing fish in separations of the water.

Now Judge Serrett's ruling only holds in cases where a stream is protected by the caution notices, but has no screens. No matter how many notices may be tacked up along such a stream it will be lawful for you to fish in it, provided the owner of the property through which the stream flows does not prohibit you from trespassing. If he should have trespass notices posted, however, then you will be liable to arrest, and a fine, or imprisonment, or both, may follow.

So after all the ruling of the Luzerne county judge has very little bearing on the question of liberties in trout fishing for men who go to the trouble of stocking a stream and try to propagate trout will not be likely to leave you fish on their property, so even if they do not have screens in the water, a simple trespass notice will warn you to stay off and you must heed it or abide the consequences.
