

Pine Grove Mentions

Mrs. Clayton Corl is confined to bed with inflammatory rheumatism, a distressingly painful disease.

Mr. J. G. Heberling and wife have returned home, after a pleasant visit with Mr. Henry Stover and family of Bellefonte.

Landlord Decker is rejoicing over a twelve pound boy who came down in the flood and who says he is going to join the J. O. U. A. M.

Hexter Lytle found, on his return home from the Odd Fellows celebration at Altoona, a bit bran new girl at his home that had come to stay and weighed ten pounds.

Mr. Cooper Miller came up from the State Normal at Lock Haven and Charley Brett is home from Boliver for a few days visit to friends, on account of the flood they were obliged to prolong their stay.

Our agricultural friend J. Fred Meyers is laid up with a sore eye, which Doctor Woods is afraid will result in the loss of its sight. The accident happened while he was breaking stone on a lime pit and as the particle of stone hit him fair and square in the sight it is not only a painful but a serious injury.

Mrs. William Garner, who about a year ago was stricken with paralysis was so much better lately that her family had hopes of her recovery until one day last week, when after being unusually well and talkative she had another stroke from which she has never recovered consciousness and is at this writing in a very critical condition.

That genial good fellow Capt. J. M. Kepler is taking a week off to visit his Tionesta home where he is attending court this week. Having spent most of the winter at the Hot Springs in Ark. his health is greatly improved. His son J. Wm. will have charge of his broad and fertile acres during his absence and as he is a chip of the old block the mantle of authority and command fits gracefully his shoulders.

A festival will be held under the auspices of the Ladies Mite society on the evening of the 30th at Pine Hall after Memorial services are concluded and as the success of our annual tribute to the defenders of the stars and stripes whose memories we cherish so dearly depends so largely on the ladies. We bespeak a good attendance, and lay out your cash liberally as the cause is a good one.

A good deal more water fell here last Friday, Saturday and Sunday and much more damage was done to fields, roads and bridges than in the flood of 1889. Saturday night the breast works of the dam gave way flooding the town below and filling many of the cellars. Indeed half the church goers were late Sunday morning on account of having to fish their breakfasts out of the raging waters.

And now we are to have mud roads knee deep, our supervisors having invested in a Climax road scraper very much to the disgust of everybody. A large majority of our heaviest taxpayers favored a stone crusher while others thought best not to invest in any machinery this year which in all probability would have been the wisest course as our people are already burdened with enormous taxes. But if a purchase was to be made, nine tenths of the taxpayers wanted a stone crusher instead of a mud machine which might fill the bill in General Coxeys district but on our stony narrow roads it will be a failure and the tax payers of Ferguson township will realize that they have a white elephant on their hands.

Memorial services will be held in the Lutheran church next Sunday at 10 o'clock a. m. according to previous arrangements this is a Union service to which everybody is cordially invited, especially the old soldiers whether G. A. R. members or not, and as the following Wednesday will be Decoration day the usual memorial services will be carried out by the Grand Army Veterans who are soliciting the co-operation of the Sunday school scholars on whom depends very largely the gathering of flowers to decorate the graves of the heroic dead. The various cemeteries in the township will be decorated in the forenoon, by members of Capt. Campbell Post 272. The usual decoration service will be held at Pine Grove cemetery at 2 o'clock and at Pine Hall at 6 o'clock p. m. prominent speakers have been invited. Everybody is requested to bring flowers, and it is hoped all will make an effort to be present and do honor to the heroic dead in the various cemeteries. Vocal and band music have been secured.

News Purely Personal.

Joseph McClellan, of Tusseyville, is in Philadelphia under a surgeon's care. He will have a tumor removed from the right side of his face.

Charles H. Heustis, managing editor of the Inquirer, Director of Public Safety Law Beiter, Wm. Hastings Esq. all of Philadelphia and Lawrence L. Brown, of Hastings, were all Sunday visitors in town.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Showalter, and Misses Annie and Minnie Harmon, all of Philadelphia, were in attendance at the Stoner-Krapp wedding at Salona, on Thursday evening, Miss Esther Gray, of Buffalo Run, was present at the ceremony.

Among the representative Bellefonters who journeyed to Harrisburg to see General Hastings honored by the Republican State convention was banker Geo. W. Jackson, senior member of the firm of Jackson, Corrier & Hastings of this place.

Mrs. Orbeson, who has rented her house on Spring street to Mr. George Valentine, sells for Islay, from New York tomorrow, she is going to visit her aunt, Mrs. Harris, who has lived for years in Florence and who is too feeble in health to return to her native country.

Mr. H. T. McDowell, one of Marion township's hustling young farmers, was in town on Monday attending to some business. He furnished us with the information about the finding of little Patsy Delany and himself was one of the great army of men who scoured Nittany Valley so thoroughly on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Church Convention at Pleasant Gap.

The Convention of church workers that was held in the Methodist church at Pleasant Gap last Wednesday and Thursday attracted quite a number of active Christians to the pretty little village lying at the foot of Nittany mountain. The sessions were all instructive and the various subjects taken up were discussed with an earnestness that showed very clearly a sincerity in the work.

The program at every meeting was interspersed with music and the subjects were taken up as follows: "How to be a model Sunday school superintendent."—Rev. G. P. Sarvis, H. G. Mease, and Rev. J. C. Young.

"How to be a successful Sunday school teacher."—T. L. Crust, J. H. Corl, J. M. Furey, Revs. G. P. Sarvis, and J. C. Young.

"The relation of the Sunday school to the church."—Rev. J. C. Young.

Essay—"How to teach the infant class."—Miss Mary Noll.

"The missionary work of the Sunday school."—Rev. J. P. Sarvis.

Essay—"How to make the Sunday school attractive."—Miss Jennie Twitmyer.

"Has the class meeting outlived its usefulness."—Rev. Geo. Warren.

"How to have a good class meeting."—Revs. G. P. Sarvis, J. C. Young, J. M. Furey, and Rev. Geo. Warren.

"Should the probationers be put in a class by themselves."—Revs. Young and Warren.

"How to have a revival of religion in every church."—Was very ably discussed by Revs. G. P. Sarvis and Geo. Warren who are well known as revivalists.

"What is the best method for the raising preachers salary."—Mr. Mifford, Revs. Young and Warren, Wm. Bilger and Mrs. Martha S. Thomas.

THURSDAY EVENING. Devoted to the Epworth League, of which J. H. Corl is President.

An original poem, "The Sunday school Loafers," by Mrs. Martha S. Thomas.

"Utility of the Epworth League," by Rev. R. H. Gilbert.

Much credit is due Rev. Young for his earnest efforts to make the convention a success, and to Rev. Gilbert for his excellent talk on the History and Utility of the Epworth League, and to Mrs. Thomas for her witty poem. A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker who so ably assisted in the work.

T. L. CRUST, Secretary.
