Paints.

IN paint the best is the cheapest. Don't be misled by trying what is said to be "just as good," but when you paint insist upon having a genuine brand of

STRICTLY PURE WHITE LEAD.

It costs no more per gallon than cheap paints, and lasts many times longer. Look out for the brands of White Lead offered you; any of the following are sure:

- "ARMSTRONG & McKELVY," "BEYMER-BAUMANN," "DAVIS-CHAMBERS," "FAHNESTOCK."

FOR COLORS.—National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

These colors are sold in one-pound cans, each can being sufficient to tint 25 pounds of strictly Pure White Lead the desired shade; they are a no-sense ready-mixed paint, but a combination of perfectly pure colors in the hands of men to tint strictly Pure White Lead.

A good many thousand dollars have been saved property-owners by having our book on painting and color card. Send us a postal card and get both free.

The Feeble-Minded Asylum.

Plans for a Set of Buildings to Cost $455,000 Approved by Commissioners. The State Board of Public Charities held a meeting recently at which the plans of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Feeble-minded were considered. They were very satisfactory to all the members of the board, who unanimously adopted them, with a reservation that the cost of the proposed building, including all incidental expenses, shall not exceed the appropriation of $500,000 made by the Legislature. E. J. Osterling, of Pittsburg, the architect employed by the commission, was present to explain the main features of the building.

The institution will accommodate about 800 people and will be divided into departments for educational, industrial and custodial purposes. Thirty-two groups of buildings will be connected by corridors, and the main group will cover an area of 1,200 by 1,000 feet. These groups will be in the cottage style. The architect estimates the cost of the hospital at $430,000, which, added to the price paid for the site on which it is to be erected, would involve an expenditure to the State of $455,000. Three springs on the ground (which comprises about 5,000 acres) are to be utilized for supplying water for ordinary purposes and in case of fire. When completed, it is expected to be rapidly filled with patients from Western Pennsylvania, over 200 of whom are inmates of the Institution for Feeble-Minded Children at Elwyn, Delaware county.

How Holland Treats Tramps.

Instead of Herding them Together, the Gentry are Scattered Over Farms. The growth of the tramp industry in this country, and the consequently increasing demand made upon the charities of our large cities, forces to the front the question of pauperism. What shall the country do with those who want work and cannot get, and with those who might get it and won't do it? These questions seem to be handled more successfully in Holland than in any other country of the civilized world. In most other countries these people are herded together in vast poor-houses, or fed in common soup kitchens; but the Holland idea is to scatter them as widely as possible and to make all who are able to do it earn their own living.

The State has a tract of land containing about 5,000 acres, divided into six farms, and every person applying for relief is sent to one of these. If he is willing to work and voluntarily serves until he has gained some idea of agriculture he is allowed to rent a small farm for himself, and to be what is called a "free farmer." If not, he is sent to a forced labor colony and compelled to work, whether he will or not. This is a very practical method of dealing with the vexed problem, and one that is especially adapted to this country.

The Tallest of the Races.

According to an investigation conducted under the auspices of the International Society of Anthropologists of London, which has just concluded a valuable inquiry respecting the average height of the various races and nationalities, English and American citizens average taller than any other representatives of the human family. The following has been gleaned from their 120 page report: The English professional classes, who head the list as the tallest of adults males, attain the high average of 5 feet 9, 1 4 inches. Next on the list come the males of all classes in the United States, and a minute fraction behind them come the English of all classes hence we may conclude that, taken as a whole, the British and their English speaking cousins in America are approximately of the same height. In other European countries the average for the male adult is but 5 feet 6 inches. The Austrians, the Portuguese and the Spaniards fall somewhat below the general European average as given in the foregoing.

Has Cost $11,000,000.

To Take Care of Soldiers' Orphans in the Republic State.

The annual report of the Soldiers' Orphan School Commission shows that at the close of the last year, May 31, there were 712 pupils in the three schools in which soldiers' orphans are being maintained at the expense of the State. Chester Springs school accommodated 296, Harford, in Susquehanna county, 142 and Uniontown 260. Of the aggregate number 437 were boys and 275 girls.

Four hundred and thirty were admitted under the act passed in 1893 providing for the erection of an industrial school not to exceed $150,000, and 282 were admitted prior to the law of June 1, 1887, and will be placed in the proposed school when completed. The cost of the soldiers' orphan school system to the State thus far has been over $11,000,000.

Odd Epitaphs.

In a certain cathedral city of Europe is a stone erected over the grave of a departed auctioneer on which "Gone" is inscribed. In a Sussex graveyard, in addition to the initials of the deceased and the date of death, a stone has been inscribed in large letters the words "He Was." Two of the strangest, as well as the shortest, epitaphs are "Asleep" (as usual), and "Left till called for"—the latter carved on a gravestone in Ireland. A photographer has this inscription over his grave: "Here I lie, taken from life."

It Seems Homelike.

"This," said the attendant in the insane asylum, "is the ward in which we keep our hopeless cases." "Seems natural and homelike," commented the visitor. "Homelike!" cried the attendant. "Where are you from?" "Kansas."

All Kinds of Demands.

[Whether the "citizens" of Ashcroft Precinct Clearfield county] intend firing all of the following questions at the public generally or whether they have prepared them solely for the candidates at the coming election to wrestle with we do not know. We have had a courteous request to give them a place in the WATCHMAN and we do so without endorsement or comment.—ED. WATCHMAN.]

PREAMBLE.

WHEREAS, The aggregate statistics of this nation indicate a condition of wonderful prosperity, but their details tell a story of unparalleled injustice, and by methods that are not a credit to us. As a nation, twenty-eight thousand of our people have gotten possession and control, in the past thirty years, of more than one-half the earnings and accumulations of sixty-five million.

WHEREAS, These things are not only a disgrace to our people, but they are a menace to our institutions, and we are to blame for permitting the vicious practices and the unfortunate legislation that has produced these conditions, and the sooner we realize this fact the better.

WHEREAS, Our people have endured these things to long already, they have no right to sit placidly down and permit the present oppression of our industrial classes to continue. If they do so it is because they have forfeited their right to the privileges and opportunities which a Republican government promises its citizens. Therefore we earnestly believe that the time has come when the progress of the age, and the changed relation between employers and employees, require that the constitution of our nation should conform to the progress and requirements of our age and allow under its organic provisions justice to labor, and protection against the encroachments of wealth and greed. Be it resolved that we adopt the following political program.

1. Will you favor a law that all children attend school until they are twelve years of age and pass the 4th reader. In case they do not pass the 4th reader on attaining that age, to attend school three days per week until they are fifteen years of age.

2. Will you favor a law for sanitary inspection of mines, mills, factories, workshops and homes.

3. Will you favor a law for liability of employers of labor in each and every branch of industry, for compensation for injury to health, body or life, of their workmen wherever employed, if such injury results from the incapability or negligence of their officials and employees. Also a clause in the same law, directing the officials, in case of serious accident to workmen, to select six experienced workmen from the immediate vicinity to investigate the cause of the accident before any traces of the cause of the accident be removed.

4. Will you favor a law for the abolition of contract system in all public works.

5. Will you favor a law for the abolition of the sweating system.

6. Will you favor a law for the municipal ownership of street cars, gas and electric plants for public distribution of light, heat, power and water works.

7. Will you favor a law for a graduated land tax, according to valuation for the first hundred acres, and for every additional one hundred acres, double the last tax on the total acreage.

8. Will you favor a constitutional convention to amend the constitution, so as to strike out the clause which says that no two parties shall be debarred from making a contract and also to revise the constitution so that capitalists and monopolies will not be permitted to prey on ignorant and uneducated people.

9. Will you favor a law to prohibit corporations, companies, or individuals from keeping a company store; or to sell their workmen food, clothing and domestic utensils, and stopping the cost of such articles from the workmen's wages. Will you favor a penalty of not less than three months or more than two years imprisonment without the option of a fine for any violation of such law.

10. Will you favor a proper constitutional law to prohibit the employment of coal and iron police, commonly called Pinkerton detectives, and any and all police agents hired by corporations or employers of labor.

11. Will you favor a law for payment of wages every week, with a clause imposing a penalty of imprisonment without the option of a fine of not less than three months nor more than two years.

12. Will you favor the following amendment to Section 3 of the Check-weight law: The checkweighman to be empowered to collect the scales when he has reason to think they are unjust, and that weights shall be furnished by the company for that purpose, and kept convenient to the scale house.

13. Will you favor a law for the appointment of a sealer or sealers of weights and measures who shall test at least once every six months, all the weights and measures in the Commonwealth, and if an offense is required, and any person, or persons, found using unjust weights to be fined ten dollars. The said fine to go to the school fund. The salary to be $1000 per year.

14. Will you favor a further amendment to the checkweighman law, to wit: The checkweighman or checkmeasurer at any mine after being duly elected at a regular convened meeting by the majority of the miners at that meeting shall be empowered to collect through the Courts the necessary per capita tax from each miner working in such mine to defray his wages.

15. Will you favor a law for the nationalization of telephones, telegraphs, railroad, mines and waterways.

16. Will you favor a law for the United States to own all the National Banks and to issue money direct to the people.

17. Will you favor a law for all public officers to be subject to recall by their respective constituencies.

18. To Sheriff—Will you refuse to grant any deputy sheriffs to any person, firm or corporation, for seeming protection until you have first inquired into the case from the citizens of locality wherein such deputies are applied for.

19. Will you refuse to be bound by any caucus in opposition to any of the above reforms. Committee on Resolutions: FRANCIS HENRY, Chairman. JOSEPH M. SMITH, Sec'y. ADAM BELL, ROBERT CRARE, JAMES KILLPATRICK, JOHN LAWREY, WILLIAM LOWE.

The Passion Flower.

A great many lovers of flowers who have not made botanical lore and legend a study often ask themselves or some friend why the "passion flower" is so called, and not one time in a dozen is the correct answer given. It was so named by the first Spanish settlers in the new world because they imagined that they saw in it a representation of our Lord's passion. The filamentous processes are taken to represent the crown of thorns; the styles, the nails used in fastening the Saviour to the cross; the anthers, the marks of the five wounds; the leaf, the spear that pierced his side; the tendrils, the cords or whips with which he was scourged; the column of the ovary, the upright of the cross; the stamens, the hammers; the calyx, the "glory" or halo; the white tint, purity; the blue tint, heaven.

"O my glory" is still more wonderful representation of the crucifixion. In that flower persons of vivid imagination can see in the meanderings of the colors of the petals the outlines of a cross with the figure of a man stretched prone upon it.

The cost of a barrel of flour produced in the United States laid down in Venezuela is about $10. Of this cost about $5.25 is tariff duty and internal tax. By the time that the flour reaches the consumer he must pay $12 or $13 per barrel for it. Only the well-to-do in Venezuela can eat bread made from wheat flour. The poor eat cake made from corn meal and cassava mixed together—a vile compound, the corn being first soaked and then ground to a paste. The American Consul at Lagayra thinks that the importation of American flour would double the duty but be reduced one-half, without injury to the Venezuelan revenue.

This country is the natural market for Venezuelan coffee; and if trade should be unembarrassed we should sell a very considerable quantity of bread stuffs there, as well as such manufactures as the people in that section of the world, with their primitive habits, have never yet known the value.

Stanley Brown, who was private Secretary to President Garfield and who married his only daughter, has resigned an $1800 clerkship in Washington to accept a position with the Seal Company on the Pacific coast. It is rarely the case that the daughter of a President is so utterly lost to sight in the social world as was the daughter of Mr. Garfield. Mrs. Brown lived in Washington for years so obscurely that her presence there was known to only a few personal friends. Her simple tastes and limited means doubtless combined to prompt her to a life of comparative seclusion.

A SERIOUS CONDITION—HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA SAVED HIS LIFE.

"I can honestly say, that I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla saved my life. I was in a serious condition with catarrh of the stomach, bowels and bladder. I suffered intensely from dyspepsia, and was a miserable wreck. For two years I was in this terrible condition, and one time had three physicians attending me. I not only grew no better, but seemed to go all the time. I really wished I was dead. I had no rest day or night. I didn't know what to do. I had taken so much medicine of the wrong kind that it had poisoned me, and my finger nails began to turn black and come off. When I was in this condition, I sent for a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The first bottle had no surprising effect, but I had faith in the medicine, and continued using it until I had taken fourteen bottles. It did more for me than all the medical attendance and prescriptions I ever had. I have gradually regained perfect health, am entirely free from the catarrh of the bowels, and do not suffer with the intense pain in my back as formerly. Annexation with the United States has been talked of in Canada for over a century.

"What a pity it is that his face is all pimples; he'd be very fine looking if 'twasn't for that."

Said pretty Miss Vere, with a smile at the dimples. Reflected from under the nobby spring hat—As she looked at herself in the glass, softly sighing. "That she had for the young man a tender regard. There wasn't the least need of denying—for every one knew it. "His beauty is marred by the frightful red blotches all over his face. I wonder if he couldn't take something to cleanse his blood, and drive them away?"

He heard what she said about his looks. It hurt his feelings, but he couldn't deny she told the truth. He remembered a friend whose face used to be as bad as his. It had become smooth and clear. He went to him and asked how the change had been brought about. "Simply" by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," was the reply. "Take that, and I'll warrant you to get rid of your pimples."

He did so. His face became healthy and clear, and next week he'll be married to pretty Miss Vere.

The California Indian's bow is made from the white or sap wood of cedar, the outside of the tree being also the queer side of the bow. The stick is scraped and polished with the sharp pieces of obsidian, roasted in ashes and bent into shape. Their arrows are made of button willow twigs, of the buckeye and canes.

It is good. The more Chamberlain's cough remedy is used the better it is liked. We know of no other remedy that always gives satisfaction. It is good when your cough is seated and your lungs are sore. It is good in every kind of a cough. We have sold twenty-five dozen of it and every bottle has given satisfaction. Stedman & Friedman, druggists, Minnesota Lake, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by F. Potts Green.

The average weight of the brain of an adult male is three pounds eight ounces; of a female, two pounds four ounces. The nerves are all connected with it directly or by the spinal marrow. These nerves, with their branches are minutes ramifications, probably exceed 10,000,000 in number.

It is a great mistake to suppose that a simple tonic gives strength; it only stimulates the stomach to renewed action. To impart real strength, the blood must be purified and enriched, and this can only be done by such a standard alternative as Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
